Notice of Data Breach

Dear [REDACTED]:

On behalf of Apollo, we are writing to notify you that the firm recently experienced a social engineering incident that may affect the security of some of your personal information.

We have no evidence that your information has been publicly posted or used for identity theft or fraud at this time. We take the confidentiality of the data entrusted to us very seriously and are therefore offering complimentary third-party identity protection and credit monitoring services. Our investigation remains ongoing, and you may receive additional updates from us. We are contacting you now to explain the circumstances of this incident and provide information on what steps you can take to help protect your information.

What Happened

Similar to other financial services firms, Apollo recently experienced a social engineering incident. Upon detecting the incident, we promptly notified law enforcement, engaged leading outside cybersecurity and forensic experts, enhanced our security protocols, and launched an investigation. Based on our investigation, we determined that there was unauthorized access to certain cloud platforms between July 6 and July 10, 2026.

What Information Was Involved

During our investigation, we learned on August 12, 2026 that the information potentially impacted by this incident included your name, date of birth, contact information, home address, and your Social Security Number (SSN).

What We Are Doing

To help relieve any potential concerns following this incident, we are providing you with complimentary access to Credit Monitoring and Identity Protection Services at no charge. These services provide you with alerts for twenty-four months from the date of enrollment when changes occur to your credit file. This notification is sent to you the same day that the change or update takes place with the bureau. In addition, we are providing you with proactive fraud assistance to help with any questions that you might have or in event that you become a victim of fraud. These services will be provided by Cyberscout, a TransUnion company specializing in fraud assistance and remediation services.

To enroll in Credit Monitoring services at no charge, please log on to <https://bfs.cyberscout.com/activate> and follow the instructions provided. When prompted please provide the following unique code to receive services: [REDACTED]. In order for you to receive the monitoring services described above, you must enroll within 90 days from the date of this letter. The enrollment requires an internet connection and e-mail account and may not be available to minors under the age of 18 years of age. Please note that when signing up for monitoring services, you may be asked to verify personal information for your own protection to confirm your identity.

What You Can Do

We encourage you to sign up for the complementary Credit Monitoring and Identity Protection Services being offered. Please also review the enclosed "Additional Resources," which describes steps you can take to help protect your personal information.

These steps include recommendations from the Federal Trade Commission regarding identity theft protection and details on how to place a fraud alert or a security freeze on your credit file. We also encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud, to review your account statements, and to monitor your credit reports for suspicious activity.

For More Information

Representatives are available for the next 90 days from the date of this letter, to assist you with questions regarding this incident, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Eastern time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. Please call the help line at 1-833-851-9983 and supply the fraud specialist with your unique code listed above.

Thank you for your patience and understanding as we continue our investigation.

Sincerely,

Matthew Breitfelder
