UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

CHRISTIAN CAMPOS, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

FINEST VITAMINS, LLC,

Defendant.

CASE NO.

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT
DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff Christian Campos (“Plaintiff”), through his undersigned attorneys,
2 files this Class Action Complaint against Defendant Finest Vitamins, LLC (“FV” or 3 “Defendant”), individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, and 4 complains and alleges upon personal knowledge as to himself and his own acts and 5 experience, and as to all other matters, upon information and belief, including 6 investigation conducted by his attorneys.

7 NATURE OF THE CASE

8 1. This class action challenges Defendant’s false and deceptive practices in 9 the marketing and sale of its Nutriflair Premium Berberine+ with Ceylon Cinnamon
10 (1200 MG per serving) (the “Product”).

11 2. Specifically, the principal display panel of the Product prominently
12 promises “1200 MG PER SERVING” (see Paragraph 17). Immediately above this 13 representation, the Product also states, “BERBERINE” in the same white font.
14 Together, these representations lead reasonable consumers to believe the Product 15 contains 1200 milligrams of berberine per serving.

16 3. However, unbeknownst to consumers, the Product does not contain 1200
17 milligrams of berberine per serving. Indeed, multiple laboratory tests confirm the 18 Product contains significantly less berberine per serving.

19 4. Plaintiff and other consumers reasonably relied on Defendant’s
20 deceptive labeling and marketing of the Product, reasonably believing it contains 21 1200 milligrams of berberine per serving.

22 5. Had Plaintiff and Class members been aware that the Product does not 23 contain 1200 milligrams of berberine per serving, Plaintiff and Class members would 24 not have purchased the Product or would have paid significantly less for it.
25 Accordingly, Plaintiff and Class members were financially injured by Defendant’s 26 deceptive business practices, and paid a price premium based upon their reliance on 27 Defendant’s front label representations.

1 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

2 6. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction under the Class Action
3 Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A), because there are 100 or more Class
4 members; at least one Class member is a citizen of a state that is diverse from 5 Defendant's citizenship; the matter in controversy exceeds $5 million, exclusive of 6 interest and costs; and none of the exceptions under that subsection apply to this 7 action.

8 7. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Defendant
9 operates, conducts and engages in substantial business in this judicial district;
10 Defendant caused injury to persons within this state; and a substantial portion of the 11 actions giving rise to the claims took place in this judicial district.

12 8. Venue is appropriate in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2)
13 because this is a judicial district in which a substantial part of the events giving rise
14 to the claims occurred and Plaintiff resides in this judicial district.

15 PARTIES

16 Plaintiff Christian Campos

17 9. Plaintiff is a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of 18 California. On or around April 7, 2025, Plaintiff purchased the Product from 19 Amazon.com while residing in Pico Rivera, California. Based on the "1200 mg per 20 serving" and "Berberine" representations on the front label of the Product, Plaintiff 21 reasonably believed the Product contained 1200 mg of berberine per serving. Had 22 Plaintiff known that this was not the case, he would not have purchased the Product,
23 or would have paid significantly less for it. Therefore, Plaintiff suffered injury in fact
24 and lost money as a result of Defendant's misleading, false, unfair and deceptive
25 practices, as described herein.

26 10. Despite Defendant's misrepresentations, Plaintiff would purchase the 27 Product, as labeled, if it contained the represented 1200mg of berberine per serving.
28 Although Plaintiff regularly shops at retailers that carry the Product, absent an

1 injunction of Defendant's deceptive labeling and marketing, he will be unable to rely
 2 with confidence on Defendant's labeling and marketing of the Product in the future.
 3 Furthermore, while Plaintiff currently believes the Product's labeling and marketing
 4 is inaccurate, he lacks personal knowledge as to Defendant's specific business
 5 practices, and thus, he will not be able to determine whether the Product truly contains 6 1200mg of berberine per serving in the future. This is particularly true because 7 Plaintiff has no way of confirming how much berberine the Product actually contains.
 8 This leaves doubt in his mind as to the possibility that at some point in the future the 9 Product could be made in accordance with its representations. This uncertainty, 10 coupled with his desire to purchase the Product, is an ongoing injury that can and 11 would be rectified by an injunction enjoining Defendant from making the alleged 12 misleading representations. In addition, other Class members will continue to 13 purchase the Product, reasonably but incorrectly, believing that it contains 1200 mg 14 of berberine per serving.

15 Defendant Finest Vitamins, LLC

16 11. Defendant is a Washington corporation with its principal place of 17 business in Seattle, Washington. Defendant, itself and through its agents, 18 manufacturers, markets, labels, packages, distributes and sells various supplements,
 19 including the Nutriflair berberine supplement at issue in this Complaint in the State
 20 of California.

21 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

22 12. Berberine is a compound that has been used for thousands of years as a 23 holistic medicine to treat infections, promote wound healing and to remedy
 24 gastrointestinal disorders.<sup>1</sup>

25 13. Today, berberine is sold in herbal dietary supplement form and is 26

27 <sup>1</sup> In the News: Berberine, Nat. Center for Complementary Integrative Health
 28 ("NIH") (June, 2023), <https://www.nccih.nih.gov/health/in-the-news-berberine>.

1 associated with numerous health benefits including as “a remedy for diabetes, high
2 cholesterol levels, high blood pressure, and canker sores, and most recently as a 3 weight loss aid.”<sup>2</sup>

4 14. In fact, “[m]any studies show that berberine can significantly lower 5 blood sugar levels in people with type 2 diabetes.”<sup>3</sup> This reduction in blood sugar is 6 attributed to berberine’s ability to decrease insulin resistance, increase glycolysis,
7 decrease sugar production in the liver, slow down the breakdown of carbohydrates
8 and increase beneficial bacteria in your gut.<sup>4</sup>

9 15. On social media many consumers share their experiences with berberine 10 supplements as a part of their weight loss journey, which has led to a spike in the 11 popularity of berberine supplements.<sup>5</sup>

12 16. The Product at issue in the Complaint is the Nutriflair Premium
13 Berberine+ with Ceylon Cinnamon (1200 MG per serving).

14 17. On the front and center of the Product’s label, Defendant prominently
15 states “1200 MG PER SERVING.” Immediately above this representation, the 16 Product’s label also states, “BERBERINE” in the same white font. Together, these 17 front-label representations lead reasonable consumers to believe the Product contains 18 1200 mg of berberine per serving.

28 <sup>5</sup> NIH supra note 1.

18. Consumers reasonably rely on this dosage information provided on the Product's labeling and marketing, reasonably believing that the Product contains the promised 1200 mg of berberine per serving.

19. However, unbeknownst to consumers, the Product does not contain the promised dosage of berberine per serving.

20. Instead, multiple laboratory analyses revealed that each serving of the Product provides significantly less berberine than advertised. For example, independent testing conducted in 2023 found each capsule contains only 85 to 111 mg of berberine HCl, meaning each serving contains between 170 and 222 mg of berberine HCL.<sup>6</sup> Plaintiff performed his own testing, which confirmed this gross deficiency, finding that each serving of the Product contained only 129.06 mg of berberine per serving. Consumers therefore receive significantly less berberine than advertised.

21. Thus, reasonable consumers are grossly misled by Defendant's front-label representations, believing the Product contains 1200 mg of berberine, when that is simply not the case.

22. For dietary ingredients specifically added to products, such as berberine, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") explicitly requires that the product "must contain 100% of the volume or weight . . . declared on the label."<sup>7</sup>

23. Any shortfall renders a product "misbranded and in violation of the law."<sup>8</sup> Under California's Sherman Food, Drug and Cosmetic Law (the "Sherman Law"), all federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act ("FDCA") are incorporated as state regulations.<sup>9</sup> Therefore, this dietary <sup>6</sup> In November 2023, the Product was tested by both NOW Foods and the independent laboratory Alkemist Labs using high-performance liquid chromatography (HPLC) to measure the actual amount of berberine hydrochloride. HPLC is a precise method that can detect the potency of dietary ingredients. NOW's Testing Results of Berberine Products, nowfoods.com (Dec. 2023), <https://www.nowfoods.com/healthy-living/articles/nows-testing-results-berberine-products-december-2023>. These results were corroborated by Plaintiff's testing.

<sup>7</sup> "For dietary ingredients that are specifically added, your product must contain 100% of the volume or weight that you have declared on the label, with the exception of a deviation that is attributable to the analytical method. Products that contain less than this amount of such a dietary ingredient would be misbranded and in violation of the law." 21 C.F.R. §§ 101.9(g)(3)-(4); see also FDA Dietary Supplement Labeling Guide, IV: Nutrition Labeling. <sup>9</sup> "All food labeling regulations and any amendments to those regulations adopted pursuant to the federal act, in effect on January 1, 1993, or adopted on or after that date, are the food labeling regulations of this state." Cal. Health & Safety Code § 110100(a).

1 supplement misbranding is also a violation of California state law.

2 24. Thus, Defendant was required by the FDA and California law to 3 accurately represent the amount of berberine present in the Product.

4 25. While Plaintiff is not bringing claims to enforce the FDA's rules and 5 regulations, the fact that the FDA requires that supplement products must contain 6 "100% of the volume or weight . . . declared on the label" demonstrates that 7 reasonable consumers can be misled by the challenged representations here.

8 26. This is because consumers reasonably trust and rely on a supplement's
9 front label representations to accurately state the amount of the desired nutrient
10 present in supplement products.

11 27. Because the Product does not contain the represented 1200 mg of 12 berberine per serving, reasonable consumers are misled by the Product's labeling and 13 marketing.

14 28. Defendant also knew, or should have known, that Plaintiff and other 15 consumers, in purchasing the Product, rely on Defendant's labeling and marketing.
16 Nonetheless, Defendant deceptively labels and markets the Product in order to 17 deceive consumers into believing that they are getting considerably more berberine 18 per serving than they really are.

19 29. Plaintiff and other consumers purchased the Product and paid a premium 20 price as a result of their reliance on the false and deceptive labeling and marketing of 21 the Product.

22 30. Had Plaintiff and other consumers been aware that the Product does not 23 contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving, they would not have purchased the Product
24 or would have paid significantly less for it.

25 31. Accordingly, Plaintiff and Class members were injured by Defendant's 26 deceptive business practices.

27 TOLLING AND ESTOPPEL OF STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

28 32. For years Defendant had actual knowledge that the Product does not

1 contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving.

2 33. Defendant has a duty to accurately disclose the amount of berberine per
3 serving in its Product. Yet despite its duty and knowledge, Defendant misrepresented 4 that fact.

5 34. Defendant made, and continues to make, affirmative misrepresentations
6 to consumers to promote the sale of the Product, including that the Product contains 7 1200 mg of berberine per serving.

8 35. Defendant misrepresented material facts that are important to Plaintiff
9 and Class members in deciding whether to purchase the Product. Defendant's
10 misrepresentation was knowing, and it intended to, and did, deceive reasonable
11 consumers, including Plaintiff and Class members.

12 36. As a result, Plaintiff and Class members reasonably relied upon 13 Defendant's affirmative misrepresentations of these material facts and suffered injury 14 as a proximate result of that justifiable reliance.

15 37. The amount of berberine per serving in the formulation, design and/or 16 manufacture of the Product was not reasonably detectible to Plaintiff and Class 17 members.

18 38. At all times, Defendant actively and intentionally misrepresented the 19 berberine content per serving in its Product and failed to inform Plaintiff and Class
20 members of the actual amount it contains per serving. Plaintiff's and Class members' 21 lack of awareness was thus not attributable to a lack of diligence on their part.

22 39. The statements, words and acts by Defendant were made for the purpose
23 of misrepresenting the truth that the Product does not contain 1200 mg of berberine 24 per serving.

25 40. Defendant misrepresented the accurate amount of berberine per serving 26 for the purpose of delaying Plaintiff and Class members from filing a complaint on 27 their causes of action.

28 41. Due to Defendant's active misrepresentation to Plaintiff and Class

1 members of the true amount of berberine contained in its Product per serving, any and 2 all applicable statutes of limitations that may otherwise be applicable to the 3 allegations are tolled. Moreover, Defendant is estopped from relying on any statute of 4 limitations in light of its active misrepresentation regarding the berberine content per 5 serving in its Product.

6 42. Furthermore, the causes of action alleged herein did not occur until 7 Plaintiff and Class members discovered the Product indeed did not contain 1200 mg
8 of berberine per serving. Plaintiff and Class members had no realistic ability to discern 9 that the Product did not possess the alleged berberine content per serving until they 10 learned the Product did not actually contain the represented amount. In either event, 11 Plaintiff and Class members were hampered in their ability to discover their causes of 12 action because of Defendant's active misrepresentation regarding the true nature of 13 its Product.

14 FED. R. CIV. P. 9(b) ALLEGATIONS

15 43. Although Defendant is in the best position to know what content it placed 16 on its Product packaging, on Amazon.com and on its website(s) during the relevant
17 timeframe, and the knowledge it had regarding the berberine content in the Product
18 per serving, to the extent necessary, Plaintiff satisfies the requirements of Rule 9(b)
19 by alleging the following facts with particularity:

20 44. WHO: Defendant made material misrepresentations of fact through its 21 Product packaging, on Amazon.com and on its website(s) regarding the amount of 22 berberine in the Product per serving.

23 45. WHAT: Defendant's conduct was, and continues to be, fraudulent
24 because it misrepresented the amount of berberine in the Product per serving, a fact
25 that Defendant knew, or should have known, to be true, but nonetheless marketed, 26 and continues to market, the Product as containing 1200 mg of berberine per serving.
27 Thus, Defendant's conduct deceived Plaintiff and Class members into believing that 28 the Product contained 1200 mg of berberine per serving. Defendant knew, or should

1 have known, this information is material to reasonable consumers—including
2 Plaintiff and Class members—in making their purchasing decisions, yet it continued
3 to pervasively market and label its Product as containing 1200 mg of berberine per 4 serving.

5 46. WHEN: Defendant made material misrepresentations during the 6 putative class periods and at the time Plaintiff and Class members purchased the 7 Product, prior to and at the time Plaintiff and Class members made claims after 8 realizing the Product did not contain 1200 mg per serving and continuously 9 throughout the applicable class periods.

10 47. WHERE: Defendant's marketing message was uniform and pervasive,
11 carried through material misrepresentations on the Product's labeling and packaging,
12 its website(s) and the websites of retailers like Amazon.com.

13 48. HOW: Defendant made material misrepresentations of material facts
14 regarding the Product, including, but not limited to, the amount of berberine per 15 serving in the Product.

16 49. WHY: Defendant made the material misrepresentations detailed herein
17 for the express purpose of inducing Plaintiff, Class members and all reasonable 18 consumers to purchase and/or pay a premium price for the Product, the effect of which 19 was Defendant profited by selling the Product to many thousands of consumers.

20 50. INJURY: Plaintiff and Class members purchased, paid a premium or 21 otherwise paid more for the Product when they otherwise would not have absent
22 Defendant's misrepresentations.

23 CLASS DEFINITIONS AND ALLEGATIONS

24 51. Plaintiff brings this action individually and as a representative of all 25 those similarly situated, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a), 23(b)(2) and 23(b)(3), on 26 behalf of himself and the members of the following proposed multi-state class
27
28

1 (“Multi-State Consumer Protection Class”):<sup>10</sup>

2 During the fullest period allowed by law, all persons who
3 purchased the Product in the state of California or any state with 4 similar laws,<sup>11</sup> within the applicable statute of limitations for personal use and not resale, until the date notice is disseminated.

5 52. Plaintiff further brings this action individually and as a representative of 6 all those similarly situated, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a), 23(b)(2) and 23(b)(3)
7 on behalf of himself and the members of the following class (“California Class”):

8 During the fullest period allowed by law, all persons who 9 purchased the Product in the State of California, within the 10 applicable statute of limitations for personal use and not resale,
11 until the date notice is disseminated.

12 53. Members of the Multi-State Consumer Protection Class and California
13 Class are referred to collectively as the “Class members.” Specifically excluded from 15 <sup>10</sup> Unless otherwise specified, all references in this Complaint to “Classes” or the 16 “Class” refer collectively to the Multi-State Consumer Protection Class and California Class.

17 <sup>11</sup> While discovery may alter the following, Plaintiff asserts that the other states
18 with similar consumer fraud laws under the facts of this case include, but are not 19 limited to: Alaska (AS §§ 45.50.471, et seq.), Arkansas (Ark. Code §§ 4-88-101, et 20 seq.), California (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, et seq.), Connecticut (Conn. Gen.
21 Stat. §§ 42-110, et seq.), Delaware (Del. Code tit. 6, §§ 2511, et seq.), District of 22 Columbia (D.C. Code §§ 28-3901, et seq.), Florida (Fla. Stat. §§ 501.201, et seq.),
23 Hawaii (Haw. Rev. Stat. §§ 480-1, et seq.), Illinois (815 ICLS §§ 501/1, et seq.),
24 Massachusetts (Mass. Gen. Laws Ch. 93A, et seq.), Michigan (Mich. Comp. Law §§

26 Stat. §§ 407.010, et seq.), New Jersey (N.J. Stat. §§ 56:8-1, et seq.), New York (N.Y.
27 Gen. Bus. Law. §§ 349, et seq. and §§ 350, et seq.), Rhode Island (R.I. Gen. Laws §§
28 6-13.1-1, et seq.), Vermont (Vt. Stat. tit. 9, §§ 2451, et seq.), Washington (Wash. Rev.
Code §§ 19.86.010, et seq.), and Wisconsin (Wis. Stat. §§ 100.18, et seq.). See Langan
v. Johnson & Johnson Consumer Companies, Inc., 897 F.3d 88, 96 (2d Cir. 2018);
Mancuso v. RFA Brands, LLC, 454 F. Supp. 3d 197, 201, 204 (W.D.N.Y. 2020); see also Benson v. Newell Brands, Inc., No. 19 C 6836, 2021 WL 5321510, *9-10 (N.D.
Ill. Nov. 16, 2021) (certifying a similar multi-state consumer protection class).

1 these definitions are: (1) Defendant, any entity in which Defendant has a controlling 2 interest, and its legal representatives, officers, directors, employees, assigns and
3 successors; (2) the Judge to whom this case is assigned and any member of the Judge's
4 staff or immediate family; and (3) Class Counsel. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend
5 the Class definition, as necessary.

6 54. Certification of Plaintiff's claims for class-wide treatment is appropriate
7 because Plaintiff can prove the elements of the claims on a class-wide basis using the 8 same evidence that individual Class members would use to prove those elements in 9 individual actions alleging the same claims.

10 55. Numerosity: The Class members are so numerous that joinder of all 11 members is impracticable given their numbers and geographic diversity. While the 12 exact number of Class members is presently unknown, it likely consists of thousands 13 of consumers. Nonetheless, the Class is readily identifiable from information and 14 records in the possession of Defendant and the number of Class members can be 15 determined by sales information and other records.

16 56. Typicality: The claims are typical in that Plaintiff, like all Class
17 members, purchased the Product that was manufactured, marketed, advertised,
18 distributed and sold by Defendant. Furthermore, the factual basis of Defendant's 19 misconduct is common to all Class members because Defendant engaged in 20 systematic behavior that was deliberate, resulting in the same injury to all Class 21 members.

22 57. Commonality: Common questions of law and fact exist as to all Class
23 members and these questions predominate over questions that may affect only 24 individual Class members. Defendant acted on grounds generally applicable to the 25 Class and such common legal and/or factual questions include, inter alia:

- 26 (a) Whether the Product is mislabeled with representations
27 that the Product contains 1200 mg of berberine per serving 28 when, in fact, the Product does not deliver the promised amount;

- (b) Whether Defendant's practices in labeling and marketing the Product tend to mislead reasonable consumers into believing the Product does contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving;
- (c) Whether Defendant misrepresented material information to Plaintiff and Class members regarding the Product;
- (d) Whether Defendant breached the implied warranty of merchantability relating to the Product;
- (e) Whether Defendant breached express warranties relating to the Product;
- (f) Whether Defendant engaged in unfair, unconscionable or deceptive trade practices by selling and/or marketing the Product with representations that it contains 1200 mg of berberine per serving;
- (g) Whether Defendant engaged in false or misleading advertising by selling and/or marketing the Product with representations that it contains 1200 mg of berberine per serving;
- (h) Whether Plaintiff and Class members are entitled to damages, including compensatory, exemplary and statutory damages, and the amount of such damages;
- (i) Whether Plaintiff and Class members paid a premium for the Product that they would not have paid, i.e., would have paid less for, but for the misleading labeling and marketing of the Product;
- (j) Whether Plaintiff and Class members would have purchased the Product at all but for the misleading labeling and marketing of the Product;
- (k) Whether Plaintiff and other Class members were injured and the proper measure of their losses as a result of those injuries; and
- (l) Whether Plaintiff and other Class members are entitled to injunctive, declaratory or other equitable relief.

58. Adequate Representation: Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class and has no interests antagonistic to those of any Class member. Plaintiff retained attorneys experienced in the prosecution of class actions, including consumer and false advertising class actions and Plaintiff intends to prosecute this action vigorously.

1           63. Plaintiff and the Multi-State Consumer Protection Class members were 2 injured as a result of Defendant's violations of the state consumer protection statutes
3 listed in paragraph 51, footnote 11, above. These state consumer protection statutes
4 provide a basis for redress to Plaintiff and the Multi-State Consumer Protection Class
5 based on Defendant's fraudulent, deceptive, unfair and unconscionable acts, practices
6 and conduct.

7           64. Defendant's conduct, as alleged herein, violates the consumer protection,
8 unfair trade practices and deceptive laws of each of the jurisdictions encompassing 9 the Multi-State Consumer Protection Class.

10           65. Defendant's marketing of the Product violates these prohibitions by 11 deceiving consumers into believing that the Product contains 1200 mg of berberine 12 per serving, when it does not.

13           66. Defendant engaged in fraudulent and/or deceptive conduct which creates 14 the likelihood of confusion or misunderstanding in violation of applicable law.

15           67. Specifically, Defendant advertised, in a misleading and deceptive
16 manner, that the Product contains 1200 mg of berberine per serving. Defendant chose 17 to package, label and market the Product in this way to impact consumer choices,
18 extract price premiums and gain market dominance, as it is aware that all reasonable
19 consumers who purchase the Product would be impacted by, and would reasonably 20 believe, its false and misleading representations.

21           68. Defendant intended for Plaintiff and Multi-State Consumer Protection
22 Class members to reasonably rely upon the material misrepresentations concerning 23 the true nature of the Product.

24           69. Defendant's misrepresentations and other deceptive conduct were likely 25 to deceive and cause misunderstanding and/or, in fact, did cause Plaintiff and Multi-26 State Consumer Protection Class members to be deceived about the true nature of the 27 Product.

28           70. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's misrepresentations,

1 Plaintiff and Multi-State Consumer Protection Class members suffered ascertainable 2 losses.

3 71. Had they been aware of the true nature of the Product, Plaintiff and 4 Multi-State Consumer Protection Class members either would have paid less for the 5 Product or would not have made the purchases at all.

6 72. Pursuant to the aforementioned states' unfair and deceptive practices
7 laws, Plaintiff and Multi-State Consumer Protection Class members are entitled to 8 recover compensatory, restitution, punitive and special damages, including, but not 9 limited to treble damages, reasonable attorneys' fees and costs and other injunctive or 10 declaratory relief as deemed appropriate or permitted by relevant law.

11 COUNT II

12 Unjust Enrichment/Quasi-Contract

13 (By Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class)

14 73. Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class, realleges
15 paragraphs 1 through 61 as if fully set forth herein.

16 74. As set forth in this Complaint, Defendant's unfair and unlawful conduct
17 includes, among other things, making materially false and misleading representations
18 about the amount of berberine per serving in its Product. Defendant's acts and business
19 practices offend the established public policy of California, as well as federal law, and 20 there is no public benefit that comes from such false labeling and advertising—only 21 harm.

22 75. While Plaintiff and Class members were harmed at the time of purchase,
23 Defendant was unjustly enriched by its misrepresentations. As a result of Defendant's
24 unlawful, unfair and fraudulent business practices, Plaintiff and Class members 25 suffered injury.

26 76. To Defendant's benefit and enrichment, it knowingly realized substantial
27 revenue from selling the Product at the expense of, and to the detriment of, Plaintiff
28 and Class members. Defendant's retention of these benefits violates fundamental

1 principles of justice, equity and good conscience.

2 77. Plaintiff and the Class members conferred significant financial benefits
3 and paid substantial compensation to Defendant for the Product, which is not as 4 Defendant represents.

5 78. Under common law principles of unjust enrichment and quasi-contract,
6 it is inequitable for Defendant to retain the benefits conferred by Plaintiff's and Class
7 members' overpayments.

8 79. As such, Plaintiff and Class members seek disgorgement of all profits 9 resulting from such overpayments and the establishment of a constructive trust from 10 which Plaintiff and Class members may seek restitution.

11 COUNT III

12 Breach of California's Implied Warranties Laws 13 (By Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class)

14 80. Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class, realleges
15 paragraphs 1 through 61 as if fully set forth herein.

16 I. Implied Warranty of Merchantability

17 81. California's implied warranty of merchantability statute states that "a 18 warranty that [] goods shall be merchantable is implied in a contract for their sale if 19 the seller is a merchant with respect to goods of that kind." Cal. Com. Code § 2314(1).
20 "Merchantable" goods must be "fit for the ordinary purposes for which the goods are 21 used." Cal. Com. Code § 2314(2)(c). Moreover, "Merchantable" goods must 22 "[c]onform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label[.]"
23 Cal. Com. Code § 2314(2)(f).

24 82. Defendant is, and was, at all relevant times, a merchant with respect to 25 the Product described herein. The Product constitutes a "good" under § 2314.

26 83. Plaintiff and Class members purchased the Product.

27 84. As the manufacturer of the Product, Defendant impliedly warranted to 28 Plaintiff and Class members that the Product was of merchantable quality.

1           85. However, when sold, and at all times thereafter, the Product was not in 2 merchantable condition and was not fit for its ordinary purpose. Moreover, the 3 Product did not conform to the promise and affirmation of fact on the label – that it
4 contained 1200 mg of berberine per serving. Specifically, as described in greater 5 detail herein, the Product does not contain the advertised 1200 mg of berberine per 6 serving. This makes the Product unfit for its ordinary use and purpose, and the Product 7 fails to conform to the promise and affirmation of fact on the label.

8           86. As a result, Defendant breached the implied warranty of merchantability
9 in connection with the sale and distribution of the Product.

10           87. Plaintiff’s counsel provided Defendant with notice of this breach by 11 mailing a notice letter to Defendant’s headquarters on October 23, 2024.

12           88. Plaintiff and Class members were foreseeable beneficiaries of 13 Defendant’s sale of the Product because it is sold to consumers, such as Plaintiff and
14 Class members, through retailers like Amazon.com.

15           89. Defendant’s breach directly caused Plaintiff and Class members harm.
16 Plaintiff and Class members were injured as a direct and proximate result of 17 Defendant’s conduct because: (1) they would not have purchased the Product if they
18 had known the truth; (2) they overpaid for the Product sold at a premium price based
19 on Defendant’s misrepresentations; and/or (3) the Product they received contained
20 significantly less berberine per serving than the advertised amount and thus worthless
21 for its intended purpose.

22 II. Implied Warranty of Fitness

23           90. California’s implied warranty of fitness statute states that where a seller 24 “has reason to know any particular purpose for which the goods are required and that 25 the buyer is relying on the seller’s skill or judgment to select or furnish suitable goods, 26 there is unless excluded or modified under the next section an implied warranty that 27 the goods shall be fit for such purpose.” Cal. Com. Code § 2315.

28           91. Plaintiff and Class members purchased the Product for its intended

1 purpose and use as a dietary supplement.

2 92. Defendant knew, or had reason to know, that Plaintiff and Class
3 members purchased the Product for this particular purpose. Defendant represents to 4 consumers on the Product's label and in its marketing that the Product is a dietary 5 supplement and is aware that consumers purchase the Product for that intended use.

6 93. Defendant further markets that the Product contains 1200 mg of 7 berberine per serving.

8 94. Defendant knew, or had reason to know, that Plaintiff and Class
9 members would justifiably rely on Defendant's marketed judgment and knowledge of 10 dietary supplements in selecting or purchasing products suitable for use as a dietary 11 supplement.

12 95. Plaintiff and Class members justifiably relied on Defendant's judgment
13 and skill, but the Product is not suitable for its intended purpose because it does not 14 contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving as labeled and advertised.

15 96. Therefore, Defendant breached its implied warranty of fitness 16 concerning the Product.

17 97. Plaintiff's counsel provided Defendant with notice of this breach by 18 mailing a notice letter to Defendant's headquarters on October 23, 2024.

19 98. Plaintiff and Class members were foreseeable beneficiaries of 20 Defendant's sale of the Product because it is sold to consumers, such as Plaintiff and
21 Class members, through retailers like Amazon.com.

22 99. Defendant's breach directly caused Plaintiff and Class members harm.
23 Plaintiff and Class members were injured as a direct and proximate result of 24 Defendant's conduct because: (1) they would not have purchased the Product if they
25 had known the truth; (2) they overpaid for the Product sold at a premium price based
26 on Defendant's misrepresentations; and/or (3) the Product they received contained
27 significantly less berberine per serving than the advertised amount and thus worthless
28 for its intended purpose.

COUNT IV

Breach of California’s Express Warranty Laws
(By Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class)

100. Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class, realleges paragraphs 1 through 61 as if fully set forth herein.

101. As alleged in detail above, Defendant makes, markets and sells the Product.

102. California’s express warranty statute provides that “(a) [a]ny affirmation of fact or promise made by the seller to the buyer which relates to the goods and becomes part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the affirmation or promise,” and “(b) [a]ny description of the goods which is made part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the description.” Cal. Com. Code § 2313.

103. Defendant markets the Product to consumers as a dietary supplement that contains 1200 mg of berberine per serving. Specifically, Defendant’s Product label represents that it contains 1200 mg of berberine per serving. These statements are an affirmation of fact about the Product, i.e., a representation that the Product contains 1200 mg of berberine per serving.

104. However, the Product does not conform to this express representation because the Product does not contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving.

105. Defendant’s warranty was part of the basis of the bargain, and Plaintiff and Class members saw and relied upon as a warranty.

106. Plaintiff’s counsel provided Defendant with notice of this breach by mailing a notice letter to Defendant’s headquarters on October 23, 2024.

107. Defendant’s breach directly caused Plaintiff and Class members harm. Plaintiff and Class members were injured as a direct and proximate result of Defendant’s conduct because: (1) they would not have purchased the Product if they had known the truth; (2) they overpaid for the Product sold at a premium price based on Defendant's misrepresentations; and/or (3) the Product they received contained significantly less berberine per serving than the advertised amount and thus less valuable than what they paid for.

COUNT V

Violation of the California Consumer Legal Remedies Act ("CLRA")

Civil Code §§ 1750, *et seq.

(By Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class)

(for injunctive relief only)

108. Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the California Class, realleges paragraphs 1 through 61 as if fully set forth herein.

109. The conduct described herein took place in the State of California and constitutes unfair methods of competition or deceptive acts or practices in violation of the CLRA, Civil Code §§ 1750, et seq.

110. The CLRA applies to all claims of all California Class members because the conduct, which constitutes violations of the CLRA by Defendant, occurred within the State of California.

111. Plaintiff and California Class members are "consumers" as defined by Civil Code § 1761(d).

112. Defendant is a "person" as defined by Civil Code § 1761(c).

113. The Product qualifies as "goods" as defined by Civil Code § 1761(a).

114. Plaintiff's and California Class members' purchases of the Product are "transactions" as defined by Civil Code § 1761(e).

115. As set forth below, the CLRA deems the following unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices undertaken by any person in a transaction intended to result or which does result in the sale or lease of goods or services to any consumer as unlawful:

- (a) "Representing that goods ... have sponsorship, approval, characteristics, ingredients, uses, benefits, or quantities that they do not have." Civil Code § 1770(a)(5);
- (b) "Representing that goods ... are of a particular standard,

- 1 quality, or grade, or that goods are of a particular style or 2 model, if they are of another.” Civil Code § 1770(a)(7);
3 (c) “Advertising goods or services with intent not to sell them
4 as advertised.” Civil Code § 1770(a)(9); and 5 (d) “Representing that the subject of a transaction has been
6 supplied in accordance with a previous representation
7 when it has not.” Civil Code § 1770(a)(16).

8 116. Defendant engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or 9 practices in violation of Civil Code §§ 1770(a)(5), (a)(7), (a)(9) and (a)(16) by 10 representing, through its Product labeling, advertising and other express
11 representations, that the Product has benefits or characteristics that it does not actually 12 have.

13 117. Defendant repeatedly engaged in conduct deemed a violation of the 14 CLRA and made misrepresentations regarding the Product’s benefits or 15 characteristics by advertising the Product to contain a false berberine content per 16 serving.

17 118. The Product does not contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving, yet
18 Defendant violated the CLRA by falsely representing that the Product does provide 19 that amount.

20 119. In addition, Defendant violated the CLRA when it advertised the Product
21 with the intent to sell, while knowing the Product does not possess the represented 22 berberine content per serving.

23 120. Defendant’s deceptive practices were particularly designed to induce 24 Plaintiff and California Class members to purchase, or otherwise acquire, the Product.

25 121. Defendant engaged in uniform marketing efforts to reach California
26 Class members to persuade them to purchase and use the Product. Defendant’s 27 labeling, packaging, advertising and marketing contain false and misleading
28 statements regarding the berberine content in the Product per serving.

122. In their purchase of the Product, Plaintiff and California Class members

1 relied on Defendant's representations of material facts.

2 123. Plaintiff and other California Class members were financially injured in 3 that they paid more for the Product than they otherwise would have had they known 4 the truth about it.

5 124. Accordingly, pursuant to Civil Code § 1780(a)(2), Plaintiff, on behalf of 6 himself and all other members of the subclass, seeks injunctive relief, including an 7 order to enjoin Defendant from continuing its deceptive advertising and sale practices.

8 125. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code § 1782, On July 8, 2025, Plaintiff notified
9 Defendant in writing by certified mail of its violations of § 1770 described above and 10 demanded that it rectify its conduct on a class-wide basis. If Defendant does not agree
11 to do so within 30 days of receiving that notice, Plaintiff will amend this Complaint 12 to seek actual, punitive, and statutory damages, as appropriate.

13 126. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code § 1780(d), a declaration of venue is attached
14 to this Complaint.

15 COUNT VI

16 Violations of the California Unfair Competition Law ("UCL") 17 Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, et seq. 18 (By Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class)

19 127. Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class, realleges
20 paragraphs 1 through 61 as if fully set forth herein.

21 128. Defendant is a "person" as defined by California Business and 22 Professions Code § 17201.

23 129. Plaintiff and California Class members suffered an injury by virtue of 24 buying a Product that Defendant misrepresented. Had Plaintiff and California Class
25 members known that Defendant materially misrepresented the true berberine content
26 contained in the Product per serving, they would not have purchased, or would have 27 paid less for, the Product.

28 130. Defendant's conduct, as alleged herein, violates the laws and public

1 polices of California and the federal government including the CLRA, the FAL, 21
2 C.F.R. § 101.9 and California's Sherman Law.

3 131. There is no benefit to consumers or competition in allowing Defendant
4 to deceptively label, market and advertise the Product.

5 132. Plaintiff and California Class members had no way of reasonably
6 knowing that the Product was deceptively packaged, marketed and advertised.
7 Therefore, Plaintiff and California Class members could not reasonably avoid the 8 harm they suffered.

9 133. Specifically, Defendant marketed, labeled and represented the Product 10 as containing 1200 mg of berberine per serving when, in fact, it does not.

11 134. The gravity of the harm suffered by Plaintiff and California Class 12 members outweighs any legitimate justification, motive or reason for packaging,
13 marketing, advertising and labeling the Product in a deceptive and misleading manner.
14 Accordingly, Defendant's actions not only offend the established public policies set 15 forth in federal regulations, but its conduct is also immoral, unethical and 16 unscrupulous.

17 135. Defendant's dissemination of misleading and deceptive statements to 18 consumers throughout the State of California did, and will continue to, deceive
19 reasonable consumers, like Plaintiff and California Class members, by obfuscating
20 the true nature of the Product. Defendant's conduct is thus a violation of Cal. Bus. &
21 Prof. Code §§ 17500, et seq.

22 136. Plaintiff and California Class members do not have an adequate remedy
23 at law because damages alone will not stop Defendant's unlawful sale of the Product,
24 or its misrepresentations. Damages will only address past injuries suffered by Plaintiff
25 and California Class members, but Defendant continues to market the Product without 26 disclosing the true nature and berberine content per serving. Therefore, only 27 injunctive relief can prevent future harm.

28 137. Additionally, Plaintiff seeks restitution if monetary damages are not

1 available. Restitution under the UCL can be awarded in situations where the 2 entitlement of damages may prove difficult. Cortez v. Purolator Air Filtration
 3 Products Co., 23 Cal.4th 163, 177 (2000) (Restitution under the UCL can be awarded 4 “even absent individualized proof that the claimant lacked knowledge of the 5 overcharge when the transaction occurred.”); Gutierrez v. Wells Fargo Bank, NA, 589
 6 F. App’x 824, 827 (9th Cir. 2014) (same); Caro v. Procter & Gamble Co., 18 Cal.
 7 App. 4th 644, 661 (1993) (“In a suit arising under Bus. & Prof. Code, §§ 17200, et
 8 seq. (unfair competition), the court is empowered to grant equitable relief, including 9 restitution in favor of absent persons, without certifying a class action.”).

10 138. But even if damages were available, such relief would not be adequate 11 to address the injury suffered by Plaintiff and California Class members. Unlike 12 damages, the Court’s discretion in fashioning equitable relief is very broad. Cortez,
 13 23 Cal.4th at 180. Thus, restitution would allow recovery even when normal
 14 consideration associated with damages would not. See, e.g., Fladeboe v. Am. Isuzu
 15 Motors Inc., 150 Cal. App. 4th 42, 68 (2007), as modified (Apr. 24, 2007) (noting that 16 restitution is available even in situations where damages may not be available).

17 139. Plaintiff and California Class members seek all monetary and
 18 nonmonetary relief allowed by law, including restitution stemming from Defendant’s
 19 unfair, unlawful and fraudulent business practices; declaratory relief; reasonable 20 attorneys’ fees and costs under California Code of Civil Procedure § 1021.5; 21 injunctive relief; and other appropriate equitable relief.

22 I. “Unfair” Prong

23 140. Unfair Standard. Under the UCL, a challenged activity is “unfair” 24 when “any injury it causes outweighs any benefits provided to consumers and the 25 injury is one that the consumers themselves could not reasonably avoid.” Camacho v.
 26 Auto Club of S. Cal., 142 Cal. App. 4th 1394, 1403 (2006).

27 141. Injury. Defendant’s practice of labeling the Product as containing 1200
 28 mg of berberine per serving, despite the Product containing much less berberine per

1 serving, provides no benefit to consumers; rather, it harms them. By misrepresenting
 2 this material information, Defendant causes consumers to purchase a Product that fails
 3 to meet their reasonable expectations, overpay for a Product they believed was fit for 4 its marketed use and receive a Product that contains less berberine than what they
 5 were led to believe. Consumers are deprived of the ability to make informed decisions
 6 and cannot avoid the injuries caused by Defendant's deceptive labeling and 7 advertising. Accordingly, the injuries resulting from Defendant's deceptive conduct 8 far outweigh any purported benefits.

9       142. Balancing Test. Some courts conduct a balancing test to decide if a 10 challenged activity amounts to unfair conduct under California Business and 11 Professions Code Section 17200. They "weigh the utility of the defendant's conduct 12 against the gravity of the harm to the alleged victim." Davis v. HSBC Bank Nevada, 13 N.A., 691 F.3d 1152, 1169 (9th Cir. 2012).

14       143. No Utility. Here, Defendant's conduct of labeling the Product as 15 containing 1200 mg of berberine per serving, despite the Product containing much 16 less berberine per serving, has no legitimate utility and financially harms consumers.
 17 Any potential utility from Defendant's conduct is vastly outweighed by the gravity of 18 the harm caused to consumers, who are unknowingly receiving much less berberine
 19 per serving and unjustly pay a premium for Products that fail to meet their reasonable 20 expectations of berberine content.

21       144. Legislative Declared Policy. Some courts require that "unfairness must 22 be tethered to some legislative declared policy or proof of some actual or threatened
 23 impact on competition." Lozano v. AT&T Wireless Servs. Inc., 504 F.3d 718, 735 (9th
 24 Cir. 2007). Defendant's use of the 1200 mg of berberine per serving representation
 25 despite the fact that the Product contains much less berberine per serving, violates 26 California Civil Code sections 1572 (actual fraud), 1573 (constructive fraud), 1709-
 27 1710 (fraudulent deceit) and 1711 (deceit upon the public), as set forth herein.

28       145. Unfair Conduct. Defendant's labeling and advertising of the Product,

1 as alleged herein, is deceptive, misleading and unreasonable, and constitutes unfair
2 conduct. Defendant knew, or should have known, of its unfair conduct. Defendant
3 representation of the per serving berberine content of the Product despite the Product
4 containing much less than the marketed amount, constitutes an unfair business
5 practice within the meaning of California Business and Professions Code Section 6 17200.

7       146. Reasonably Available Alternatives. Reasonably available alternatives
8 existed that would have allowed Defendant to further its legitimate business interests
9 without engaging in the deceptive conduct described herein. Defendant could have 10 refrained from labeling the Product as containing 1200 mg of berberine per serving
11 and alternatively marketed the true berberine content per serving. This reasonable 12 alternative would allow Defendant to market its Product truthfully while protecting 13 consumers from consuming a product that has much less berberine per serving than 14 is marketed.

15       147. Defendant's Wrongful Conduct. All of the conduct alleged herein
16 occurs, and continues to occur, in Defendant's business. Defendant's wrongful 17 conduct is part of a pattern or generalized course of conduct repeated on thousands of 18 occasions daily.

19       148. Injunction. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code Section 17203,
20 Plaintiff and the California Class seek an order from this Court enjoining Defendant
21 from continuing its practice of labeling the Product as containing 1200 mg of 22 berberine per serving. Plaintiff and the California Class request that the Court prohibit 23 Defendant from engaging in these deceptive practices to prevent further harm to 24 consumers.

25       149. Causation/Damages. Plaintiff and the California Class suffered injury
26 in fact, lost money and purchased the Product that contains much less berberine per 27 serving than they paid for as a result of Defendant's unfair conduct. Plaintiff and the 28 California Class paid an unwarranted premium for the Product, believing it was fit for its marketed purpose and contained the advertised berberine content per serving. Specifically, Plaintiff and the California Class paid for a Product they reasonably believed contained 1200 mg of berberine per serving. Had they known the truth, that the Product contains much less than 1200 mg of berberine per serving, Plaintiff and the California Class would not have purchased the Product, or would have paid substantially less for it. Accordingly, Plaintiff and the California Class seek damages, restitution and/or disgorgement of ill-gotten gains pursuant to the UCL.

II. “Fraudulent” Prong

150. Fraud Standard. The UCL considers conduct fraudulent (and prohibits said conduct) if it is likely to deceive members of the public. Bank of the W. v. Superior Court, 2 Cal. 4th 1254, 1267 (1992).

151. Fraudulent Berberine Content Claim. Defendant employed the 1200 mg of berberine per serving claim, with the intent to sell the Product to consumers, including Plaintiff and the California Class. The 1200 mg of berberine per serving claim is deceptive, and Defendant knew, or should have known, of its deceptive nature. By affirmatively representing the Product as containing 1200 mg of berberine per serving, despite the fact the Product did not contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving, Defendant misleads consumers into believing the Product is fit for its intended use. The affirmative misrepresentations are likely to mislead reasonable consumers, as they pertain to fitness for the marketed use, which is material to the purchasing decisions of the average, ordinary and reasonable consumer.

152. Fraudulent Business Practice. As alleged herein, the misrepresentation by Defendant constitutes a fraudulent business practice in violation of California Business & Professions Code Section 17200.

153. Reasonable and Detrimental Reliance. Plaintiff and the California Class reasonably and detrimentally relied on Defendant’s representation that the Product contains 1200 mg of berberine per serving, despite the fact that the Product contains much less berberine per serving, to their detriment in that they purchased the

1 Product.

2 154. Reasonably Available Alternatives. Reasonably available alternatives
3 existed that allow Defendant to further its legitimate business interests without
4 engaging in the deceptive conduct described herein. Defendant could have refrained
5 from labeling the Product as containing 1200 mg of berberine per serving and
6 alternatively marketed the true berberine content per serving. This reasonable
7 alternative allows Defendant to market its Product truthfully while protecting
8 consumers from consuming a Product that has much less berberine per serving than 9 is marketed.

10 155. Business Practice. All of the conduct alleged herein occurs, and 11 continues to occur, in Defendant's business. Defendant's wrongful conduct is part of 12 a pattern or generalized course of conduct.

13 156. Injunction. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code Section 17203,
14 Plaintiff and the California Class seek an order from this Court enjoining Defendant
15 from continuing its practice of labeling the Product as containing 1200 mg of 16 berberine per serving. Plaintiff and the California Class request that the Court prohibit 17 Defendant from engaging in these deceptive practices to prevent further harm to 18 consumers.

19 157. Causation/Damages. Plaintiff and the California Class suffered injury
20 in fact, lost money and consumed much less berberine than they paid for as a result
21 of Defendant's fraudulent conduct. Plaintiff and the California Class paid an 22 unwarranted premium for the Product, believing it was fit for its marketed purpose
23 and contained the marketed berberine content per serving. Specifically, Plaintiff and 24 the California Class paid for a Product they reasonably believed contained 1200 mg
25 of berberine per serving. Had they known the truth, that the Product contains much
26 less than 1200 mg of berberine per serving, Plaintiff and the California Class would 27 not have purchased the Product, or would have paid substantially less for it.
28 Accordingly, Plaintiff and the California Class seek damages, restitution and/or

1 disgorgement of ill-gotten gains pursuant to the UCL.

2 III. “Unlawful” Prong

3 158. Unlawful Standard. The UCL identifies violations of other laws as 4 “unlawful practices that the unfair competition law makes independently actionable.”
 5 Velazquez v. GMAC Mortg. Corp., 605 F. Supp. 2d 1049, 1068 (C.D. Cal. 2008).

6 159. Violations of CLRA and FAL. Defendant’s labeling of the Product, as 7 alleged herein, violates California Civil Code sections 1750, et seq. (the “CLRA”) and 8 California Business and Professions Code sections 17500, et seq. (the “FAL”) as 9 set forth in the sections regarding those causes of action.

10 160. Fraud. Additionally, Defendant’s use of the 1200 mg of berberine per 11 serving representation despite the fact that the Product contains much less berberine 12 per serving, to sell the Product violates California Civil Code sections 1572 (actual 13 fraud), 1573 (constructive fraud), 1709-1710 (fraudulent deceit) and 1711 (deceit 14 upon the public), as set forth herein.

15 161. Additional Violations. Defendant’s conduct in making the false 16 representations described herein constitutes a knowing failure to adopt policies in 17 accordance with and/or adherence to applicable laws, as set forth herein, all of which 18 are binding upon and burdensome to its competitors. This conduct engenders an unfair
 19 competitive advantage for Defendant, thereby constituting an unfair, fraudulent
 20 and/or unlawful business practice under California Business & Professions Code
 21 sections 17200-17208. Additionally, Defendant’s misrepresentation of material fact,
 22 as set forth herein, violates California Civil Code sections 1572, 1573, 1709, 1710, 23 1711 and 1770, as well as the common law.

24 162. Unlawful Conduct. Defendant’s packaging, labeling and advertising of 25 the Product, as alleged herein, is deceptive, misleading and unreasonable, and 26 constitutes unlawful conduct. Defendant knew, or should have known, of its unlawful 27 conduct.

28 163. Reasonably Available Alternatives. Reasonably available alternatives

1 existed that allow Defendant to further its legitimate business interests without
2 engaging in the deceptive conduct described herein. Defendant could have refrained
3 from labeling the Product as containing 1200 mg of berberine per serving and
4 alternatively marketed the true berberine content per serving. This reasonable
5 alternative allows Defendant to market its Product truthfully while protecting
6 consumers from consuming a Product that has much less berberine per serving than 7 is marketed.

8       164. Business Practice. All of the conduct alleged herein occurs, and
9 continues to occur, in Defendant's business. Defendant's wrongful conduct is part of 10 a pattern or generalized course of conduct.

11       165. Injunction. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code Section 17203,
12 Plaintiff and the California Class seek an order from this Court enjoining Defendant
13 from continuing its practice of labeling the Product as containing 1200 mg of 14 berberine per serving. Plaintiff and the California Class request that the Court prohibit 15 Defendant from engaging in these deceptive practices to prevent further harm to 16 consumers.

17       166. Causation/Damages. Plaintiff and the California Class suffered injury
18 in fact, lost money and consumed much less berberine than they paid for as a result
19 of Defendant's unlawful conduct. Plaintiff and the California Class paid an 20 unwarranted premium for the Product, believing it was fit for its marketed purpose
21 and contained the marketed berberine content per serving. Specifically, Plaintiff and
22 the California Class paid for a Product they reasonably believed contained 1200 mg
23 of berberine per serving. Had they known the truth, that the Product contains much
24 less than 1200 mg of berberine per serving, Plaintiff and the California Class would
25 not have purchased the Product, or would have paid substantially less for it.
26 Accordingly, Plaintiff and the California Class seek damages, restitution and/or 27 disgorgement of ill-gotten gains pursuant to the UCL.

COUNT VII

Violation of the California False Advertising Law (“FAL”)
Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17500, et seq.
(By Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class)

167. Plaintiff, individually, and on behalf of the California Class, realleges paragraphs 1 through 61 as if fully set forth herein.

168. Defendant’s conduct constitutes deceptive or false advertising in violation of California Business and Professions Code § 17500.

169. The FAL provides that “[i]t is unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or association, or any employee thereof with intent directly or indirectly to dispose of real or personal property or to perform services” to disseminate any statement “which is untrue or misleading, and which is known, or which by the exercise of reasonable care should be known, to be untrue or misleading.” Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17500.

170. Defendant marketed, labeled and represented the Product to contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving.

171. At the time of its misrepresentations, Defendant was either aware that the Product did not contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving, or was aware that it lacked the information and/or knowledge required to make such a representation truthfully.

172. Defendant’s descriptions of the Product are false, misleading and likely to deceive reasonable consumers, like Plaintiff and California Class members.

173. Defendant’s conduct therefore constitutes deceptive or misleading advertising.

174. Plaintiff has standing to pursue claims under the FAL because he reviewed and relied on Defendant’s packaging, labeling, advertising and representations regarding the Product when selecting and purchasing it.

175. In reliance on the statements made by Defendant through its labeling and advertising, as well as Defendant’s misrepresentation of material facts regarding the

1 Product, Plaintiff and California Class members purchased the Product.

2 176. Had Defendant disclosed the true nature of the Product (that it does not
3 contain 1200 mg of berberine per serving), Plaintiff and California Class members
4 would not have purchased the Product or would have paid substantially less for it.

5 177. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's actions, Defendant
6 received ill-gotten gains and/or profits, including but not limited to remuneration from 7 Plaintiff and California Class members for the Product.

8 178. Plaintiff and California Class members do not have an adequate remedy
9 at law because damages alone will not stop Defendant's unlawful sale of the Product,
10 or its misrepresentations. Damages will only address past injuries suffered by Plaintiff
11 and California Class members, but Defendant continues to market the Product without 12 disclosing the true nature and berberine content per serving. Therefore, only
13 injunctive relief can prevent future harm.

14 179. Plaintiff and California Class members seek all monetary and
15 nonmonetary relief allowed by law, including restitution stemming from Defendant's
16 fraudulent business practices; declaratory relief; reasonable attorneys' fees and costs
17 under California Code of Civil Procedure § 1021.5; injunctive relief; and other 18 appropriate equitable relief.

19 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

20 WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays that this case be certified and maintained as a 21 class action and for judgment to be entered against Defendant as follows:

22 A. Enter an order certifying the proposed Classes, designating
23 Plaintiff as Class representative and the undersigned as Class
24 counsel.

25 B. Enter an order awarding Plaintiff and Class members their actual 26 damages, statutory damages and/or any other form of monetary
27 relief provided by law;

28 C. Declare that Defendant is financially responsible for notifying all

1 Class members of the misbranding of its Product;

2 D. Declare that Defendant must disgorge, for the benefit of the 3 Class, all, or part of, the ill-gotten profits it received from the sale
4 of the Product, or order Defendant to make full restitution to 5 Plaintiff and Class members;

6 E. An order awarding Plaintiff and Class members pre-judgment
7 and post-judgment interest as allowed under the law;

8 F. Grant reasonable attorneys' fees and reimbursement of all costs
9 for the prosecution of this action, including expert witness fees;
10 and

11 G. Grant such other and further relief as this Court deems just and 12 appropriate.

13 JURY DEMAND

14 Plaintiff hereby respectfully demands a trial by jury on all issues so triable.
