VII. PRAYER FOR RELIEF.....35

1 Plaintiffs Jessica Fuller, Alexander Goncalves, Brett McAdams, and Quinn Molina
2 (“Plaintiffs”), by and through their attorneys, allege as follows:

3 I. SUMMARY OF THE CASE

4 1. Bloom Institute of Technology, formerly known as Lambda School (“Lambda”), is a for-5 profit, unaccredited computer coding bootcamp that opened in 2017, audaciously promising to 6 revolutionize higher education. Unlike traditional higher education, with its high debt load, uncertain
7 job prospects, and structural indifference to job outcomes, Lambda claimed its approach would be 8 different. By its telling, Lambda would not only teach students coding, but would connect students with 9 tech jobs, and require tuition payments only after students got qualifying jobs—accomplished by 10 having them sign Income Share Agreements (“ISAs”) before enrolling. Lambda and its CEO, Austen
11 Allred, trumpeted ISAs as a disruptive, revolutionary approach to education financing, promising 12 students that, because they paid nothing until they found a job, Lambda was equally invested in 13 students’ ultimate job market success.

14 2. As evidence that Lambda’s model worked, it promoted lofty job placement rates. For the 15 last several years, Lambda has prominently displayed job placement rates of 74 to 90 percent across its 16 website, social media pages, and online advertisements. In time, Lambda’s aggressive marketing, 17 touting that the vast majority of its students get well-paying tech jobs, swelled its enrollment to 18 thousands of students.

19 3. But Lambda’s entire marketing pitch was based on a series of misrepresentations. While 20 Lambda publicly flaunted job placement rates of 74 to 90 percent, it revealed to its private investors
21 that the true rates were far lower, ranging from 27 to 50 percent. While Lambda’s public marketing
22 emphasized how the school was invested in students’ success, claiming that Lambda wouldn’t get paid
23 unless students did, in reality Lambda sold off the rights to collect on students’ future income to private 24 investors. Lambda even misrepresented that it had state approval to operate when, in fact, it did not.
25 Through these misrepresentations, Lambda ensnared thousands of students in its scheme to extract (or 26 sell off the rights to extract) up to $30,000 from each students’ future earnings.

27 4. Plaintiffs, four such students, bring this class action complaint, on behalf of themselves
28 and a class of similarly situated persons, against Lambda, Lambda’s co-founder and CEO, Austin

1 Allred, in his personal capacity, and John Does 1–9 for violations of the California Consumer Legal
2 Remedies Act (“CLRA”), California Civil Code § 1750, et seq., Unfair Competition Law (“UCL”),
3 California Business and Professional Code §17200, et seq., and False Advertising Law (“FAL”), 4 California Business and Professional Code § 17500, et seq.

5 5. Plaintiffs bring this action to hold Defendants accountable for: (i) falsifying and 6 misrepresenting Lambda’s job placement rates, and misrepresenting and concealing the true nature of 7 Lambda’s financial interest in students’ success, including by falsely representing that Lambda only got 8 paid after students found employment and got paid; (ii) misrepresenting and concealing from students
9 that, until August 17, 2020, Lambda did not have the necessary approval from the California Bureau for 10 Postsecondary Education (“BPPE”) to operate as a school, and was under order by the BPPE to cease 11 operations, stop enrolling students, cease all instructional services, and submit a closure plan; (iii) in 12 violation of California law, enrolling, signing ISAs or other tuition payment plans with and providing 13 educational services to students before Lambda obtained the BPPE’s approval to operate; and (iv) in 14 violation of California law, engaging in the unlawful business practice of unlicensed lending.

15 6. Plaintiffs and members of the proposed class are current and former Lambda students
16 who either (1) entered into ISAs, retail installment contracts, deferred tuition plans, or other tuition
17 plans (hereinafter “ISAs” or “tuition payment plans”) with an arbitration clause that contains a carve-18 out for proceedings “commenced by either party seeking an injunction . . . or any other equitable 19 remedy,” or (2) enrolled at Lambda without signing (or opting out of) an arbitration clause and class 20 action waiver. On information and belief, this includes students who enrolled at Lambda from on or 21 around March of 2020 to the present.¹

22 7. Plaintiffs and members of the proposed class enrolled at Lambda under false pretenses.
23 Plaintiffs seek declaratory and injunctive relief to cancel their ISAs and the ISAs/tuition payment plans
24 of all class-members, to declare the ISAs/tuition payment plans null and void, to require equitable
25 restitution of all payments made to Lambda, and for additional relief. They also seek public injunctive

27 _____
28 ¹ While the ISAs and other tuition payment plans from March 2020 to the present contain arbitration clauses and class action waivers, neither apply to this proceeding.

1 relief, including enjoining Defendants from misrepresenting job placement rates, and collecting on any
2 ISA or other tuition payment plan entered into while Defendants engaged in such misrepresentations.

3 II. THE PARTIES

4 8. Plaintiff Jessica Fuller is a resident of Lakewood, Pierce County, Washington. She 5 signed her ISA on April 22, 2020. She was enrolled as a student at Lambda from June 2020 until 6 September 2020, at which point she withdrew from her program. Plaintiff Fuller's ISA is attached as 7 Exhibit A.

8 9. Plaintiff Alexander Goncalves is a resident of Philadelphia, Philadelphia County,
9 Pennsylvania. He signed his ISA on May 20, 2020. He was enrolled as a student at Lambda from June 10 2020 until January 2021, at which point he graduated from his program. Plaintiff Goncalves's ISA is 11 attached as Exhibit B.

12 10. Plaintiff Brett McAdams is a resident of Apopka, Orange County, Florida. He signed his 13 ISA on June 15, 2020. He was enrolled as a student at Lambda from July 2020 until March 2021, at 14 which point he graduated from his program. Plaintiff McAdams's ISA is attached as Exhibit C.

15 11. Plaintiff Quinn Molina is a resident of Olympia, Thurston County, Washington. He 16 signed his ISA on January 8, 2021. He was enrolled as a student at Lambda from January 2021 to May 17 2022, at which point he graduated from his program. Plaintiff Molina's ISA is attached as Exhibit D.

18 12. Defendant Lambda is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of 19 Delaware, having its principal place of business at 250 Montgomery Street, Floor 16, San Francisco, 20 California 94104.

21 13. Defendant Austen Allred is Lambda's founder and CEO. Upon information and belief, 22 Mr. Allred resides in San Francisco, California.

23 14. Defendants John Does 1-9 are officers and/or directors of Lambda as well as individuals,
24 corporations, or other entities who may own all or a portion of Plaintiffs' and class members' ISAs or 25 other tuition payment plans or another financial interest in such ISAs or tuition payment plans.

26 III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

27 15. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction because each cause of action asserted herein
28 arises under the laws of the State of California.

1 16. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants because Defendant Lambda’s
2 principal place of business is in the County of San Francisco, California; Defendant Allred, upon
3 information and belief, resides in the County of San Francisco, California; and Defendants have caused 4 injuries in the County of San Francisco and the State of California through their acts, and by their 5 violation of the UCL, FAL, and CLRA.

6 17. Venue is proper in the County of San Francisco pursuant to Cal. Civ. Proc. Code §§
7 395(a) and 395.5.

8 IV. FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CLAIMS

9 A. LAMBDA BACKGROUND

10 18. Lambda is a private, for-profit online coding school founded in 2017 by its current CEO,
11 Austen Allred. Lambda provides online six and twelve-month computer science courses. It is not a 12 degree-granting institution, and is not accredited. Students cannot take out federal student loans to 13 attend Lambda.

14 19. At all times relevant to this complaint, Lambda charged between $21,000 and $30,000
15 for its program, more than double the reported average price of online coding bootcamps.²

16 20. As Lambda’s CEO, Mr. Allred was the company’s primary decisionmaker, in a position 17 of control over daily operations and aware of the company’s public representations and status with the 18 BPPE.

19 21. As Lambda’s CEO, Mr. Allred also benefited personally from the tuition paid by 20 Plaintiffs and members of the class.

21 22. Lambda marketed itself prominently as a place where students learn the skills necessary
22 to obtain employment in the competitive computer technology job market. In Mr. Allred’s words, most 23 students come to Lambda with “no network” and are “from either inner cities or rural areas.”³

28 School, YouTube (Apr. 3, 2019) at 9:10 (hereinafter “Y Combinator Interview”),

1 23. Lambda has long touted “experienced industry expert” instructors and a top-of-the-line
2 curriculum that is “designed to get you hired.” On April 3, 2019, Mr. Allred stated that Lambda’s
3 “educational experience is, I think, among the best in the world.”⁴

4 24. Lambda’s business model is predicated on convincing prospective students to pay a large
5 amount of tuition by promising them that they will not owe anything unless and until they find a job
6 that pays $50,000 or more per year.

7 25. Lambda carries out this model by entering into ISAs with students. As Lambda describes 8 it: “A Lambda School ISA is a contract under which you agree to pay 17% of your post-Lambda School 9 salary for 24 months, but only once you’re making more than $50,000 per year (or the equivalent of 10 $4,166.67 per month). The ISA is capped at a maximum repayment of $30,000, so you won’t pay more 11 than $30,000 under any circumstances.”⁵

12 26. Lambda ISAs are managed by third-party servicers who handle ISA origination and 13 payment processing.⁶ The ISAs at issue in this case are serviced by Meratas, a loan-servicing company
14 headquartered in Stamford, Connecticut.

15 27. By April 2019, Lambda was growing at “an insane pace.” As Mr. Allred explained:

16 We agreed as a team to no longer share the number of students that we have enrolled, but 17 it is not a small number and it is growing at an insane pace. We’ll soon be measuring 18 Lambda School scale by percentage of the overall number of students learning to program
19 every year, to give you some context. And being able to support that kind of scale effectively is what keeps me up at night. Mostly specifically hiring, mostly hiring executives right now who can build out 100, 150 person teams beneath them . . . and we need like 5 of them yesterday.⁷

20 28. Although Lambda may not have wanted to share its enrollment data publicly, in a May 21 2019 memorandum to its investor Y Combinator, Lambda executives stated:

22 When a Lambda School student is hired for $75k/yr, they pay us back approximately $25k.
23 At 4,000 placed software engineers/year we’ll hit a $100mm/yr run rate. In 2019 we’ll

1 enroll over 3,000 students. In May 2019 well [sic] enroll over 500. We plan on enrolling
2 more than 10,000 students in 2020.

3 29. Mr. Allred attributed Lambda’s growth in part to his active personal Twitter account,
4 stating in January 2020 that his frequent tweets have “certainly helped Lambda school grow.”⁸

5 30. Mr. Allred also stated: “If there’s one thing I’m good at in life, it’s growing something
6 quickly, building hype for something quickly. That’s kind of my superpower.”⁹

7 B. UNTIL AUGUST 17, 2020, LAMBDA OPERATED WITHOUT STATE
8 APPROVAL, IN VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA LAW

9 31. As a California company with its headquarters and principal place of business in San
10 Francisco, Lambda is subject to the laws of the state of California. One of those laws, California 11 Education Code § 94886, bars private postsecondary educational institutions from doing business without 12 “approval to operate.”

13 32. Another, Section 94917, provides that when educational institutions violate this law, any 14 “note, instrument, or other evidence of indebtedness relating to payment” for its programs is “not 15 enforceable.”

16 33. All Lambda tuition payment plans, including ISAs, are a “note, instrument, or other 17 evidence of indebtedness relating to payment for educational program[s],” under the California
18 Education Code.

19 34. On March 20, 2019, the BPPE issued a “Citation: Assessment of Fine and Order of 20 Abatement” (“Citation”) to Lambda. The Citation found that Lambda was “operating without Bureau 21 approval,” in violation of the California Education Code. A copy of the Citation is attached hereto as 22 Exhibit E.

23 35. In the Citation, the BPPE ordered that Lambda “cease to operate as a private 24 postsecondary educational institution” and “submit a school closure plan.” The Citation further required 25 Lambda to “discontinue recruiting or enrolling students and cease all instructional services and 26 advertising in any form or type of media, including the <https://lambdaschool.com> and any other

1 websites not identified here that are associated with the Institution, until such time as an approval to
2 operate is obtained from the Bureau.”

3 36. On May 14, 2019, Lambda submitted its application to the BPPE seeking approval to 4 operate.

5 37. Lambda appealed the Citation and, on July 24, 2019, the BPPE issued an “Appeal of 6 Citation Informal Conference Decision: Citation Affirmed” (the “Citation Affirmance”). The BPPE
7 affirmed the Citation because “[n]o new substantive facts were presented,” and thus, Lambda was 8 required to “comply with the orders described in the ‘Violation Code Sections’ of this document and 9 submit evidence of compliance within 30 days from the date of this decision.” Citation Affirmance at 10 1–3. A copy of the Citation Affirmance is attached hereto as Exhibit F.

11 38. In direct violation of California law, the Citation, and the Citation Affirmance, Lambda 12 continued to operate, advertise its educational services to the public, and enroll students.

13 39. On August 21, 2019, the BPPE denied Lambda’s May 14, 2019 application, stating in a 14 letter to Lambda that it was “unable to grant approval.” A copy of the August 21 order is attached
15 hereto as Exhibit G.

16 40. On November 25, 2019, the BPPE issued an order denying Lambda’s updated
17 application for approval, explaining that “at this time the Bureau is unable to grant approval, based on 18 the requirements of the California Education Code.” A copy of the November 25 order is attached
19 hereto as Exhibit H.

20 41. On June 22, 2020, the BPPE issued yet another order denying Lambda’s further updated
21 application for approval to operate, stating that “the Bureau cannot at this time approve Lambda’s 22 application.” A copy of the June 22 order is attached hereto as Exhibit I.

23 42. The June 22, 2020 order also found that Lambda’s ISAs constitute “an instrument or 24 evidence of indebtedness” under the California Education Code. Id. at 5.

25 43. On August 17, 2020, the BPPE issued an order approving Lambda’s application. The 26 approval letter stated that the BPPE had completed its review of Lambda’s “Application for Approval
27 to Operate,” including “supplemental documentation” received on August 14, 2020. The BPPE found 28

1 that “[a]pproval to operate is granted effective August 17, 2020.” (emphasis added). A copy of the 2 August 17 order is attached hereto as Exhibit J.

3 44. From at least May 2019 until Lambda was approved on August 17, 2020, Lambda’s
4 course catalogs falsely stated that Lambda was approved by the BPPE. In at least three versions of the 5 2019 and 2020 catalogs—revised in May 2019, September 2019, and July 2020 (all prior to Lambda’s
6 approval)—Lambda falsely stated the following:

7 APPROVALS

8 Lambda School is a private institution approved to operate by the California Bureau for 9 Private Postsecondary Education. Approval to operate means the institution is compliant
10 with the minimum standards contained in the California Private Postsecondary Education 11 Act of 2009 (as amended) and Division 7.5 of Title 5 of the California Code of 12 Regulations.

13 See Exhibit K (Excerpts of Three Versions of Lambda Course Catalogs for 2019 and 2020 at 5) 14 (emphasis added)).

15 45. During the time Lambda was seeking the BPPE’s approval, Mr. Allred engaged in a 16 public misinformation campaign about Lambda’s legal status. For example, in August 2019, Mr. Allred
17 told Business Insider that Lambda was working with the BPPE to obtain approval and that the order had 18 been stayed while the application was pending. Mr. Allred stated that “[b]ecause we’re talking with 19 BPPE, it doesn’t affect students at all.”¹⁰ This was false.

20 46. In truth, the Citation and Citation Affirmance were not stayed, multiple of Lambda’s
21 applications had been denied, and Lambda’s future was uncertain. In August 2020, a public information
22 officer with California’s Department of Consumer Affairs told Business Insider “that there is no stay on 23 the order, and that if Lambda School is still operating while its registration is pending, it would be in 24 violation of state law.”¹¹

1 47. Had the plaintiffs who signed their ISAs prior to August 17, 2020, been aware that
2 Lambda was operating without a license, and that its future legal status was uncertain, they would not
3 have signed an ISA that indebted them for up to $30,000 of tuition at Lambda.

4 48. As set forth herein, Plaintiffs seek to represent a BPPE Subclass, comprising students
5 who entered into an ISA or other tuition payment plan prior to the BPPE's August 17, 2020, approval,
6 whose ISAs contain an arbitration clause with a carve-out for any proceeding commenced by either
7 party seeking an injunction or any other equitable remedy.

8 49. All such tuition payment plans, including ISAs, constitute a "note, instrument, or other
9 evidence of indebtedness relating to payment for [students'] educational program," under the California
10 Education Code, and therefore, as a matter of law, are "not enforceable." California Education Code §

12 C. LAMBDA'S FALSE AND MISLEADING JOB PLACEMENT RATES

13 50. Mr. Allred describes Lambda as "entirely vocational, we're a trade school basically, and 14 we want to help you make as much money as you can."¹²

15 51. One of the most important statistics for prospective students was Lambda's purported
16 record of successfully placing students in computer technology careers. Defendants understood that 17 students would only enroll if Lambda would help them secure a job. As Lambda describes it, job
18 placement is "the most critical component of Lambda's operations, not only in the School's obligation 19 to its students, but to the prosperity of the company as a whole."

20 52. Lambda prominently displays its purported record of job placement on its website, in 21 marketing materials and outcomes reports, and on social media, including Mr. Allred's personal Twitter 22 account.

23 1. False and misleading job placement rates on Lambda's website and 24 outcomes reports

25 53. Throughout at least 2018 and 2019, Lambda's website advertised job placement rates of 26 over 80%. Lambda's executive leadership, including Mr. Allred, knew that these widely disseminated 27 rates were false and misleading.

28 ¹² Y Combinator Interview at 13:00.

1 54. On August 2, 2018, Mr. Allred, Ben Nelson (co-founder and CTO), and Ryan Holdaway
2 (VP of Outcomes), stated the following in a post on the Lambda School Blog: “[E]very single Lambda 3 School graduate who has been on the job market for six months is either employed in a full-time role as 4 a software engineer or has joined an early startup working for equity.”¹³

5 55. Yet on August 3, 2018—the very next day—Lambda’s executive leadership team
6 reprimanded Lambda’s Director of Career Readiness for poor job placement rate performance, sending 7 her an “Employee Corrective Action Form.” The form stated that the employee’s “performance in 8 recent months has not met the expectations for the Career Coach/Director of Career Readiness role at 9 Lambda School. Overall placement numbers are low and the time to placement is much higher than

12 Placements are the most critical component of Lambda’s operations, not only in the 13 School’s obligation to its students, but to the prosperity of the company as a whole. A 14 common discussion point in regards to Outcomes is that current placement rates are too
15 low and time to placement is too high. Creative tactics and adjustments to current careers
16 processes as well as follow through are needed to improve both of these measurements. .

18 CS1 students graduated on 1/19/18. Since then we’ve had a new class graduate
19 approximately every five weeks. As of 8/1/18, only 16 students of the 48 graduated 20 students assigned to [the Lambda career placement employee] have been placed.

21 57. Two months later, on October 8, 2018, Lambda continued to tout its high job placement
22 rates, announcing on its website: “Since Lambda School’s inception in April 2017, over 75 Lambda 23 School graduates have been hired, including 83% of early cohorts, with an average salary increase of 24 over $47,000 per hired graduate.”

25 58. Lambda’s homepage contained the following statement across the top of the page:

1 Screenshot from Lambda's website on December 13, 2018.

8 59. The representation of an 83% job placement rate remained on the Lambda website until 9 on or about February 2019.

10 60. The disparity between Lambda's public representations and private statements would 11 only grow. From on or about April 2019 until at least December 2019, Lambda's website advertised a 12 job placement rate of over 85%. For example, on April 18, 2019, Lambda's homepage contained the 13 following statement across the top of the page:

14 Screenshot from Lambda's website on April 18, 2019.

20 61. On March 5, 2019, Lambda's official Twitter account provided a link to a report touting
21 the 85.9% job placement rate and stated: "Lambda only succeeds when our students succeed, and we're 22 committed to a transparent, no-surprises approach to education."¹⁴

23 62. In May of 2019—at the same time Lambda was advertising an 85.9% job placement rate
24 and touting its transparency—Lambda executives sent a private memorandum to investor Y
25 Combinator. See Lambda Memorandum to Investors, Human Capital: The Last Unoptimized Asset
26 Class at 10 (May 2019), attached hereto as Exhibit L. The May 2019 memo stated:

28 ¹⁴ Lambda School (@LambdaSchool), Twitter (Mar. 5, 2019, 7:02 PM), <https://twitter.com/bloomtech/status/1103083315945328640>.

We're unable to place students at scale

- We're at roughly 50% placement for cohorts that are 6 months graduated
- Placement to date has been manual and one-off, which isn't possible at scale

Ex. L at 10.

63. After the memorandum was published in news accounts two years later, Mr. Allred tweeted from his personal account that he was the one who made the 50% placement representation to investors, stating: “The 50% came from me telling investors about what % of enrolled students get jobs that require repayment.”

64. Despite Mr. Allred’s contrary statement to investors, Lambda’s website continued to represent an 85.9% or 86% placement rate through the end of 2019. These rates were false and misleading.

65. On December 14, 2019, Lambda’s homepage stated:

Screenshot from Lambda’s website on December 14, 2019.

66. This statement was false and directly contrary to the true facts known to Lambda and Mr. Allred, which had privately been disclosed to investors, as described above.

67. When asked in an interview to explain the discrepancy between the representations on Lambda’s website and representations to its investors, Mr. Allred explained: “I mean you’re literally looking at what are the risks, right? Like, we’re going to pick our lowest number for that – there are cohorts that have been at 50% placed within 6 months, yes.”¹⁵

¹⁵ Woo Interview at 13:00-14:30.

1 68. When asked whether the advertised 86% job placement rate was accurate, he stated: “the 2 way that that number was measured was an average across cohorts at a specific time. I don’t know what
3 it is right now, but that’s directionally correct.”¹⁶

4 69. On February 19, 2020, New York Magazine published an article titled “Lambda
5 School’s Misleading Promises,” in which the writer concluded that Lambda was “selling unprepared
6 students an incomplete education, fueled by overpromising marketing and misleading, if not downright
7 fraudulent, figures.”¹⁷ The story described Lambda’s job placement rate misrepresentations and also 8 recounted an interview with a former employee who “confirmed . . . that the company’s own internal 9 numbers, which the interviewee was provided as part of their interview process, seem to indicate a 10 roughly 50 percent or lower placement rate.”¹⁸

11 70. Lambda nonetheless persisted in promoting false and misleading job placement statistics 12 on its website and elsewhere.

13 71. In 2020, Lambda started to promote its placement rates through “outcomes reports”
14 published on its website and shared through social media. The first outcomes report, titled “H1 2019
15 Outcomes Report,” was published on March 27, 2020¹⁹, and reported a 79% placement rate.²⁰

Job placement rate for BloomTech graduates

BloomTech 2021 Outcomes Report

*Screenshot from Lambda's homepage on November 27, 2022.*²⁵

76. In a "Letter from the CEO" dated November 2, 2022, Mr. Allred wrote: "In this independently examined report, you'll gain a transparent view of how our learners and graduates fared in 2021. Our biggest takeaway: A full 90% of our 2021 graduates have landed jobs, which is the highest rate in our company's history."²⁶

77. *Lambda's website still advertises a 90% placement rate. As of March 14, 2023, Lambda's homepage touts a "90% job placement rate for 2021 job-seeking graduates."*²⁷

78. Like the earlier rates from 2018 and 2019, the published rates from 2020 to the present were, and continue to be, false and misleading.

79. Business Insider reported in October 2021 that documents from a Lambda "all-hands" meeting in January 2021 "showed that Lambda School placed only around 30% of its 2020 graduates in qualifying jobs during the first half of 2020. This figure is in stark contrast to the 74% placement rate it advertised for its 2019 graduates, the latest figure the school has made publicly available. . . ."²⁸

80. This "all hands" meeting took place one month after Lambda published the 74% placement rate in the H2 2019 Outcomes Report.

1 81. A slide prepared by Lambda reveals that the H1 2020 placement rate was only 33% and
2 the H2 2020 rate was 40%, a far cry from the 74% listed on the Lambda website until November 2, 3 2022. According to the same slide, Lambda’s H1 2021 goal was 60% placement and H2 2021 goal was 4 80%:

16 On information and belief, a Lambda executive presented the slide at the “all-hands” meeting.

17 82. Another slide, titled “Lambda H1 Company OKRs,” provided that the “actual”
18 placement rate for H1 2020 was 33% of graduates placed within 180 days, and the actual rate for H2
19 2020 (as of October 2020) was 27% of graduates placed within 180 days. This slide also listed the H1
20 2021 goal as 60%:

83. Another slide, reportedly used at another all-hands meeting in February 2021, broke out the 180-day placement rates by month, from February to July 2020, as follows:

Graduation Month	Qualified Placed % (days elapsed since graduation)
	Month	+90d	+180d	QP Now

84. In yet another slide, reportedly also used at the “all hands” meeting on January 28, 2021, Lambda’s H1 2021 “goal” was to enroll 500 students a month and place 50% to 70% in qualifying jobs. The graph also shows that, if Lambda enrolled 2,000 students per month, it could become profitable even if fewer than half of its students found jobs:

85. Prior to signing their ISAs, Plaintiffs read Defendants’ representations that Lambda’s job placement rate was above 70%. Lambda’s purported record of successfully placing students was critical to their decision to enroll.

2. Mr. Allred’s false and misleading statements about job placement on Twitter

86. In conjunction with these high rates, Mr. Allred has long painted a misleading picture of Lambda’s success on Twitter. For example, on November 16, 2019, he tweeted: “First track just graduated. Hit 100% hired but was VERY small sample size.” Subsequent reporting revealed that this small sample size consisted of a single student.²⁹

²⁹ See Zoe Schiffer & Megan Farokhmanesh, The High Cost of a Free Coding Bootcamp, The Verge (Feb. 11, 2020, 11:15 EST), <https://www.theverge.com/2020/2/11/21131848/lambda-school-coding-bootcamp-isa-tuition-cost-free>; Ryan Mac (@RMac18), Twitter (Feb. 11, 2020, 1:59 PM), <https://twitter.com/RMac18/status/1227306243733295108>.

1 87. Other examples of false, misleading, and exaggerated claims on Mr. Allred’s Twitter
2 account include:

- 3 a) January 24, 2021: “I think we’re like 2-3 solvable problems being solved away from 4 100% of Lambda School grads being hired. Still a lot of unknowns, but I think it will be 5 possible.” When a commenter asked what the problems were, Mr. Allred responded:
6 “Boring stuff.”³⁰
8 b) April 22, 2021: “When I started Lambda School early detractors gave me hell because I
9 said that Lambda School would cause thousands of people to become millionaires who 10 wouldn’t have otherwise been. It’s now pretty clear that was very conservative.”³¹
12 c) May 4, 2021: “I get to watch a bunch of people double their income (or more) every 13 single day. Even the worst days are punctuated by a bunch of people changing their 14 lives and the lives of their families forever.”³²
16 d) May 4, 2021: “You can go from near poverty to huge future wealth in just a few 17 months.”³³
19 e) November 24, 2022: “Thankful today for all those who have worked so hard for 20 BloomTech (by current name or by Lambda School). So many people working so
21 diligently. Thousands of lives changed, billions in increased earnings.”³⁴

22 88. Mr. Allred and members of his executive leadership team acted willfully and knowingly 23 to disseminate Lambda’s job placement representations to the public—including applicants to their 24 school such as Plaintiffs—with knowledge that they were, and continue to be, false and misleading.

25 3. While inflating its job placement rates, Lambda misrepresents that it only 26 gets paid once students do

27 89. In addition to the placement rates, Lambda and Mr. Allred misled the public with the 28 frequently repeated declaration that: “We don’t get paid until you do, so we’re in this together, from your first day of classes to your first day on the job.”³⁵ For example, on June 27, 2019, Lambda’s homepage stated:

Screenshot from Lambda's homepage on June 27, 2019.

90. In reality, Lambda packaged and sold its ISAs to investors long before students obtained employment. As early as May 2019, Lambda privately told investor Y Combinator: “Currently we sell some income share agreements to hedge funds.” Ex. L at 2.

91. To facilitate the sale of ISAs, Lambda partnered with Edly, a digital marketplace that helps schools sell ISAs to third-party investors. On December 11, 2019, Edly tweeted: “Pleased to announce our latest offering [–] a Lambda School ISA Pool. We @edlyISA are excited to work with the amazing team @LambdaSchool[], one of the most impactful ISA programs in the country.”³⁶ To learn how to participate, Edly invited interested investors to join a webinar that night with Mr. Allred.³⁷

92. Lambda did not disclose this fact to students until public reporting exposed it, and for many months Mr. Allred flatly denied it, stating in October 2019 on Twitter that “We never, ever get paid up front for ISAs.”³⁸

D. LAMBDA ENGAGED—AND STILL ENGAGES—IN THE UNLAWFUL BUSINESS PRACTICE OF UNLICENSED LENDING

93. The California Financing Law “shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes and policies,” which include “protect[ing] borrowers against unfair practices by some lenders, having due regard for the interests of legitimate and scrupulous lenders.” Cal. Fin. Code § 22001(a)(4).

³⁸ Woo Interview at 6:30 (wherein Mr. Allred confirms that this tweet was “totally correct”).

1 94. Pursuant to the California Financing Law: “No person shall engage in the business of a
2 finance lender or broker without obtaining a license from the commissioner.” Cal. Fin. Code §
3 22100(a).

4 95. Lambda is not and never has been registered in California as a finance lender or broker
5 under the Financing Law.

6 96. Since its inception, Lambda has operated as a “finance lender” because both its ISAs and 7 other tuition payment plans qualify as either consumer or commercial loans under the Financing Law.
8 See generally Cal. Fin. Code § 22203-04 (defining consumer loans); Cal. Fin. Code § 22502 (defining 9 commercial loans).

10 97. Lambda’s Meratas ISA provides:

11 THIS IS NOT A LOAN

12 In making monthly payments to Lambda School, you will not be repaying
13 a student loan. In the case of a student loan, a student borrows a set amount 14 and repays the principal amount of the loan plus interest or a finance charge, or both. Under this agreement, you will instead pay a fixed percentage of your income each month for up to a maximum number of payments.

15 98. Contrary to this representation, ISAs are a form of student loan.

16 99. According to the United States Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (“CFPB”), a 17 representation that an ISA is “not a loan” is deceptive and misleading under the Consumer Financial 18 Protection Act because “ISAs are loans and do create debt.”³⁹

19 100. The California Department of Financial Protection and Innovation (“DFPI”) agrees, 20 holding that ISAs are student loans: “ISAs made solely for use to finance a postsecondary education are 21 ‘student loans’ for the purposes of the SLSA [California Student Loan Servicing Act].”⁴⁰

1 101. The United States Department of Education concurs, finding that ISAs “used to finance
2 expenses for postsecondary education are private education loans under 34 C.F.R. 601.2(b).”⁴¹

3 102. The BPPE also found in its June 22, 2020, order denying Lambda approval to operate
4 that Lambda’s ISA is “an instrument or evidence of indebtedness” under the California Education
5 Code. See June 22, 2020 Letter from BPPE to Lambda at 5, attached hereto as Exhibit I.

6 103. Because Lambda is in the business of making ISAs and other tuition payment plans, it is 7 operating as a finance lender under the California Financing Law.

8 104. Lambda’s failure to register as a finance lender deprived Plaintiffs and the class of the 9 borrower protections provided by the California Financing Law.

10 105. Lambda has therefore engaged in the unlawful business practice of making a loan
11 without a license in violation of California Financial Code § 22100, and, in turn, in violation of the 12 unlawful prong of the UCL.

13 E. PLAINTIFFS ATTEND LAMBDA, ATTRACTED BY HIGH JOB PLACEMENT
14 RATES

15 1. Plaintiff Jessica Fuller

16 106. Ms. Fuller has long been interested in coding, back to when she learned website design
17 as a hobby as a kid. She aspired to eventually turn her hobby into a career, but the time commitment 18 and expense of college curricula made them a nonstarter.

19 107. Once Ms. Fuller experienced a lull in her work as a fitness trainer during the onset of the 20 COVID-19 pandemic, she thought she had an opportunity to revisit a tech career. Lambda was 21 immediately appealing, with a slew of Facebook ads promising a career without college. After seeing 22 the ads, she visited Lambda’s website and watched YouTube videos about the program to learn more.
23 She was immediately drawn to the job placement rate of approximately 80% featured prominently on 24 the Lambda website.

also 87 Fed. Reg. 65,453 (“[T]he Department clarifies that ISAs and other alternative financing products should be treated like institutional loans.”).

1 108. This record of successfully placing students was critical to her decision to enroll, and led
2 her to believe that her enrollment would result in being hired for a tech position.

3 109. Swayed by Defendants' advertised job placement rates and representations, Ms. Fuller
4 signed an ISA with Lambda on April 22, 2020. A copy of Ms. Fuller's ISA is attached hereto as Exhibit
5 A.

6 110. Had Defendants truthfully represented their job placement rates, Ms. Fuller would not 7 have signed an ISA that indebted her up to $30,000 of tuition to Lambda.

8 111. Ms. Fuller began attending Lambda part-time in June 2020 and immediately found the 9 instruction confusing. Recognizing that she could not rely on Lambda exclusively, she resorted to 10 buying supplemental YouTube courses.

11 112. Soon thereafter, in early September 2020, Lambda made a surprise announcement that it
12 was restructuring Ms. Fuller's program. Lambda would no longer take attendance, provide grading, or 13 offer one-on-one team leads. Feeling like Lambda was eliminating the program she originally enrolled
14 in, and with her ISA tuition amount of $30,000 still partially refundable, Ms. Fuller took a hiatus for the 15 rest of 2020. With no sign that Lambda would improve its program, she permanently withdrew in 16 January 2021.

17 113. Following her withdrawal, Ms. Fuller researched other avenues for obtaining a job in the 18 tech field. She eventually found a free coding bootcamp called #100Devs, designed for students without 19 degrees or coding experience. She felt like the program was the right fit for her, and could provide her 20 with the skills, experience, and opportunities Lambda did not.

21 114. Indeed, the #100Devs program taught Ms. Fuller what she needed to ultimately get a job.
22 Her new coding skills enabled her to apply for and accept a position as Director of Software
23 Development with ThriveDX.

24 115. Lambda played no role in her success in the #100Devs program, finding out about 25 ThriveDX, or ultimately getting hired there.

26 116. Ms. Fuller is interested in increasing her hours, but worries that doing so could cause
27 Lambda or Meratas to pursue ISA payments, even though Lambda did not have approval to operate
28

1 when she signed her ISA, she would not have signed her ISA had Lambda truthfully represented its job
2 placement rates, and Lambda played no role in her employment with ThriveDX.

3 2. Plaintiff Alexander Goncalves

4 117. Mr. Goncalves has long had an interest in working in the tech field. During college he 5 completed coding coursework, on top of additional self-taught software development skills. After he
6 was let go from his sales job at a tech startup during the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic in the spring
7 of 2020, Mr. Goncalves began researching Lambda based on a friend's recommendation. The friend
8 was optimistic about Lambda landing students jobs, based on Lambda's marketed job placement rates
9 and job readiness curriculum. (The friend later became disillusioned with Lambda after learning the job 10 placement rates were inflated.)

11 118. When Mr. Goncalves reviewed Lambda's website and promotional materials for 12 himself, he was likewise attracted by Lambda's impressive—and prominently displayed—job
13 placement rate, as well as the ability to enroll without putting any money down. He corresponded and 14 talked on the phone with Lambda representative Tommy Collison who further touted high job
15 placement figures. Based on these representations, Mr. Goncalves felt confident Lambda would get him
16 a tech job. He signed an ISA with Lambda on May 20, 2020. A copy of Mr. Goncalves's ISA is 17 attached hereto as Exhibit B.

18 119. Had Defendants truthfully represented their job placement rates, Mr. Goncalves would 19 not have signed an ISA that indebted him for up to $30,000 of tuition to Lambda.

20 120. Mr. Goncalves began attending Lambda full-time in June 2020. As with Ms. Fuller, 21 Lambda soon restructured Mr. Goncalves's program in September 2020, shortening it from a total of 22 nine months to six months and eliminating team lead support. The loss of team leads was demoralizing.
23 They were the primary means of communicating with Lambda, asking questions, and getting essential
24 debugging help. Still, he persevered and completed his coursework in December and received a 25 certificate of completion in January 2021.

26 121. Mr. Goncalves immediately went to work trying to find a job. He used Lambda's job
27 portal, but its postings were either stale or for impractical positions. He ultimately found work through 28 a friend unassociated with Lambda. He first worked as a limited-term front-end developer during the

1 spring of 2021. The same friend then invited him to a different position with the organization Code
2 Ninjas in Boston. During his time with Code Ninjas, between June and December 2021, Mr. Goncalves
3 taught basic coding to kids and ran summer camps and day courses. Lambda played no role in Mr.
4 Goncalves finding either his front-end developer or Code Ninjas positions.

5 122. Mr. Goncalves then accepted a job as a software engineer for Virtually, an edtech
6 company, and worked there until June 2022. After Virtually let him go to look for a more senior
7 engineer, Mr. Goncalves found a tech position with design company MODerati. As with his prior jobs,
8 Lambda played no role in Mr. Goncalves finding either of these positions.

9 123. Mr. Goncalves started making payments on his ISA while working for Code Ninjas and 10 continued during his time with Virtually. In all, he has paid nearly $10,000 towards his ISA, even 11 though Lambda did not have approval to operate when he signed his ISA, Mr. Goncalves would not
12 have signed his ISA had Lambda truthfully represented its job placement rates, and Lambda played no
13 role in him finding any of his post-Lambda employment.

14 3. Plaintiff Brett McAdams

15 124. Mr. McAdams's interest in coding was pragmatic, believing that people who learn to 16 code get good-paying jobs. He first heard of Lambda while looking into coding programs in 2019. Soon
17 after starting his research, he received targeted ads on Google, YouTube, and social media from 18 Lambda. The ads touted a high job placement rate, how quickly students could get their certificate and a 19 high-paying job, and the lack of an up-front cost or any repayment obligation unless students ultimately 20 got a job. By the ads' telling, Lambda was a revolutionary alternative to college.

21 125. When Mr. McAdams was laid off from his job in the spring of 2020 at the onset of the 22 COVID-19 pandemic, he decided to consider attending a coding program to start a career in tech. He 23 researched Lambda's website, which prominently displayed a job placement rate approaching 80%, 24 convincing him that Lambda was the best path forward. After a call with a Lambda representative, he 25 signed an ISA on June 15, 2020. A copy of Mr. McAdams's ISA is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

26 126. Had Defendants truthfully represented their job placement rates, Mr. McAdams would 27 not have signed an ISA that indebted him up to $30,000 of tuition to Lambda.

1 127. Mr. McAdams began attending Lambda full-time in early July 2020. But as with Ms.
2 Fuller and Mr. Goncalves, Lambda quickly restructured Mr. McAdams's program in September 2020
3 by shortening it from nine to six months, removing the existing support structure for reviewing work,
4 and eliminating team lead support. Since the team leads had been an essential component of Lambda's
5 education up to that point, Mr. McAdams thought their elimination seemed troubling. He decided to 6 take a hiatus for the fall of 2020, picking up full-time hours as a bartender.

7 128. Mr. McAdams returned in late 2020 with ambivalence. While there was no sign Lambda
8 had improved its program, he had already invested significant time and expense. Already on the hook, 9 he resolved to learn as much as he could through Lambda.

10 129. To his surprise, immediately upon returning, Lambda assigned Mr. McAdams as an 11 unpaid team lead to fill the void left by their elimination. The assignment was not optional, Lambda 12 provided no support on how to serve as a team lead, and Mr. McAdams did not find any educational 13 value in the experience. After returning, he spent roughly a third of his Lambda education time
14 mentoring other students.

15 130. He finished the Lambda program in February 2021 and received his certificate of 16 completion.

17 131. Mr. McAdams immediately got to work trying to find a tech job, but Lambda's
18 resources were unhelpful—a job portal lacking useful leads, and resume reviewers with no useful
19 feedback. He continued bartending while looking for tech work and studying on his own what Lambda 20 failed to teach him.

21 132. After several months, Mr. McAdams was hired as a backend systems engineer
22 contracting with Florida Blue in August 2021. He eventually moved up the ranks to become senior 23 engineer. Lambda played no role in him finding out about the position, and played no role in ultimately 24 getting hired. As most of the skills and material discussed in Mr. McAdams's interview was self-taught
25 after he had finished with Lambda, it was his own studying that landed him the job.

26 133. Mr. McAdams made an ISA payment of approximately $1,000 in 2021, even though 27 Lambda did not have approval to operate when he signed his ISA, and even though he would not have 28 signed his ISA had Lambda truthfully represented its job placement rates.

1 4. Plaintiff Quinn Molina

2 134. Mr. Molina became interested in transitioning to programming work in 2020 while
3 working for a company doing wholesale shipping. To get his feet wet, he enrolled in short-term, free
4 coding camps while continuing his day job. As he searched for additional coding education
5 opportunities in November 2020, he noticed numerous ads on Google and social media touting
6 Lambda.

7 135. After some research, Mr. Molina was attracted to Lambda’s program based on promising
8 job placement rates of approximately 80%, and the ISA model that didn’t require him to put any money
9 down. He consulted with his brother, a self-taught coder and web developer, who was likewise
10 impressed by the high job placement rate. After significant research and consultation, and ultimately 11 swayed by the high placement rates, Mr. Molina signed an ISA on January 8, 2021. A copy of Mr.
12 Molina’s ISA is attached hereto as Exhibit D.

13 136. Had Defendants truthfully represented their job placements rates, Mr. Molina would not 14 have signed an ISA that indebted him up to $30,000 of tuition to Lambda.

15 137. Mr. Molina began attending Lambda part-time in January 2021. Lambda diluted the 16 program and made it far less rigorous soon after the refund period for Mr. Molina’s ISA had passed.
17 Lambda dropped the part-time program option, along with multiple project requirements, assessments,
18 and support staff. Mr. Molina had expected Lambda to help him build a portfolio of projects to show
19 off to prospective employers. Instead, with fewer projects and support staff, students were left with a 20 small number of incomplete, buggy projects that were not job market-ready. He also later learned that 21 the assessments Lambda dropped were important to prospective employers.

22 138. Many students dropped out in response to Lambda providing only a shell of the program
23 it originally promised. Mr. Molina considered following suit, but knowing he was on the hook for his 24 ISA, he resorted to grinding out the remainder of the coursework.

25 139. The Lambda education further deteriorated as Mr. Molina approached completion.
26 Instead of the world-class instructors Mr. Allred had promised, most were recent Lambda graduates
27 themselves. And instructors from earlier units were unexpectedly brought back as stopgaps later in the 28

1 program, with apparently no prior experience or planned curriculum from which to teach. By the time
2 Mr. Molina reached the final labs unit, his cohort had dwindled from dozens of peers to a handful.

3 140. Mr. Molina received his certificate of completion in May 2022. As he transitioned to 4 searching for a job, Lambda's only contribution was connecting him with a resume and LinkedIn
5 profile reviewer. They failed to provide him with any legitimate job leads.

6 141. Instead of moving onto a coding position, Mr. Molina continued working in wholesale 7 shipping, just as he had before attending Lambda, until he recently transitioned to the IT department at 8 his company.

9 V. CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

10 142. Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of themselves and as a class action on behalf of the 11 following Class:

12 All persons who enrolled at Lambda and: (i) entered into an ISA, retail installment contract, 13 deferred tuition plan, or any other tuition payment plan with an arbitration clause that contains 14 a carve-out for any proceeding commenced by either party seeking an injunction or any other 15 equitable remedy; or (ii) who otherwise did not sign any such agreements with an arbitration clause, or opted out of one; and (iii) who have not yet had their ISA, retail installment contract, deferred tuition plan, or other tuition payment plan cancelled and all payments made to Lambda refunded.

16 143. In addition, Plaintiffs Fuller, Goncalves, and McAdams seek to certify the following
17 subclass (hereinafter the "BPPE Subclass") within the Class:

18 All persons within the Class who enrolled at Lambda prior to August 17, 2020, the date that 19 Lambda obtained the BPPE's approval to operate.

20 144. Plaintiffs reserve the right to amend or modify the Class and BPPE Subclass
21 descriptions, or further divide them into subclasses or limitations as to particular issues.

22 145. This action has been brought and may properly be maintained as a class action under 23 California Code of Civil Procedure § 382 because there is a well-defined community of interest in the 24 litigation and the proposed class and subclass is easily ascertainable.

25 146. On information and belief, there are thousands of former Lambda students who are 26 members of the Class, and at least hundreds who are members of the BPPE Subclass. The potential
27 number of class members are therefore so numerous that joinder would be impracticable. The precise 28 number of class members, known only to Defendants, can easily be determined through discovery.

1 147. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the Class and BPPE Subclass. Plaintiffs
2 were subjected to the same violations of California law, and seek the same types of injunctive relief,
3 restitution, and other equitable relief on the same theories and legal grounds as the members of the class
4 they seek to represent.

5 148. Plaintiffs are adequate representatives of the classes because: (a) their interests do not
6 conflict with the interests of the individual class members they seek to represent; (b) they have retained
7 counsel who are competent and experienced in complex class action litigation; and (c) they intend to 8 prosecute this action vigorously. Plaintiffs and their counsel will fairly and adequately protect the 9 interests of the Class and BPPE Subclass.

10 149. Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Class and the BPPE
11 Subclass, and predominate over any questions solely affecting individual members of the two classes.

12 150. Among the questions of law and fact common to the Class are the following:

- 13 a) Whether Lambda's widely disseminated job placement rates were false and misleading,
14 in violation of the UCL, FAL, and CLRA;
- 15 b) Whether Lambda's false and misleading job placement rates are material to a 16 reasonable consumer's decision whether to enroll;
- 17 c) Whether members of the public were likely to be deceived by Lambda's job placement
18 misrepresentations under the UCL;
- 19 d) Whether Plaintiffs and the Class are "consumers" engaging in "transactions" under the 20 CLRA;
- 21 e) Whether Mr. Allred directly and actively participated in the unlawful conduct at issue;
- 22 f) Whether Mr. Allred, members of his executive leadership team, and other Lambda 23 employees or agents acted willfully and knowingly to disseminate Lambda's job 24 placement representations to the public with knowledge that they were—and continue 25 to be—false and misleading;
- 26 g) Whether Lambda qualifies as a "finance lender" under the California Financing Law, 27 Cal. Fin. Code § 22100(a); and

1 h) Whether Lambda’s ISAs and other tuition payment plans qualify as “consumer loans”
2 or “commercial loans” under the California Financing Law.

3 151. Among the questions of law and fact common to the BPPE Subclass are the following:

- 4 a) Whether Lambda had approval to operate prior to August 17, 2020;
5 b) Whether Lambda misrepresented whether it had approval to operate prior to August 17, 6 2020; and
7 c) Whether ISAs or other tuition payment plans entered into by Lambda prior to August 8 17, 2020, are enforceable.

9 152. Class action treatment is superior to any alternative to ensure the fair and efficient
10 adjudication of this controversy. Such treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons
11 to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and without duplication 12 of effort and expense that numerous individual actions would entail.

13 153. No difficulties are likely to be encountered in the management of this class action that 14 would preclude its maintenance as a class action, and no superior alternative exists for the fair and 15 efficient adjudication of this controversy.

16 154. Plaintiffs and each class member have been harmed by Defendants’ wrongful conduct.

17 155. The Class and BPPE Subclass are ascertainable because their members can be 18 determined from Lambda’s business records. On information and belief, the last-known residence
19 address and email address of each of the proposed class members is contained in Lambda’s books and 20 records.

21 156. Concentrating all the potential litigation concerning the claims of the proposed class
22 members in this Court will avoid a multiplicity of suits, will conserve judicial resources and the 23 resources of the parties, and is the most efficient means of resolving the claims of all the proposed class 24 members.

25 157. Absent a class action, Plaintiffs and the proposed class members likely will not obtain
26 redress of their injuries and Defendants will retain the proceeds of the violations of the California laws 27 cited herein.

1 VI. CAUSES OF ACTION

2 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
3 Violations of California’s Consumer Legal Remedies Act
4 Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1750, *et seq.
5 (All Defendants)

6 158. Plaintiffs hereby reincorporate the allegations in the foregoing paragraphs as though fully
7 set forth herein.

8 159. The CLRA makes unlawful “unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts
9 or practices undertaken by any person in a transaction intended to result or that results in the sale or 10 lease of goods or services to any consumer.” Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a).

11 160. The CLRA covers transactions involving the sale of services—such as education—to 12 consumers.

13 161. Plaintiffs are “consumers” within the meaning of Section 1761(d) of the CLRA, and they 14 engaged in “transactions” within the meaning of sections 1761(e) and 1770 of the CLRA.

15 162. The CLRA enumerates numerous unlawful acts or practices, including:

- 16 a) “Misrepresenting the source, sponsorship, approval, or certification of goods or 17 services.” Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(2).
18 b) “Representing that goods or services have sponsorship, approval, characteristics,
19 ingredients, uses, benefits, or quantities that they do not have or that a person has a 20 sponsorship, approval, status, affiliation, or connection that the person does not have.”
21 Id. § 1770(a)(5).
22 c) “Representing that goods or services are of a particular standard, quality, or grade”
23 when they are not. Id. § 1770(a)(7).
24 d) “Advertising goods or services with intent not to sell them as advertised.” Id. §
25 1770(a)(9).

26 163. In violation of these provisions, Lambda misrepresented to the public, prospective
27 students, and current students, including Plaintiffs, at least the following: (i) its job placement rates; and 28 (ii) to the Subclass, that it had approval to operate and enroll students.

1 164. Plaintiffs bring their claim under the CLRA for injunctive relief, namely to cancel their 2 ISAs and for restitution of payments made.

3 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
4 Violations of California's Unfair Competition Law
5 Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, *et seq.
6 (All Defendants)

7 165. Plaintiffs hereby reincorporate the allegations in the foregoing paragraphs as though fully
8 set forth herein.

9 166. Lambda has engaged in business acts or practices that constitute unfair competition as 10 defined in the UCL, in that such business acts and practices are unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent within 11 the meaning of that statute.

12 167. The business acts and practices include:

- 13 a) publishing and/or providing the public, prospective students, and current students, 14 including Plaintiffs, with false, misleading, unreliable, and/or inaccurate job placement
15 rate information;
- 16 b) omitting material facts from statements to the public, prospective students, and current 17 students, including Plaintiffs, related to job placement rates;
- 18 c) to the Subclass, conducting business without BPPE approval and in violation of 19 multiple BPPE orders requiring it to cease operations;
- 20 d) to the Subclass, knowingly operating a private postsecondary institution without 21 approval to do so;
- 22 e) to the Subclass, concealing from the public, prospective students, and current students
23 that in March and July of 2019, the BPPE ordered Lambda to cease operations, stop 24 enrolling students, cease all instructional services, and submit a closure plan, and 25 misrepresenting, concealing, and omitting material facts related to those BPPE orders, 26 including representing that they were stayed when they were not.

28 ///

1 Unlawful Prong

2 168. The UCL bars business practices that are forbidden by law. If a business practice
3 violates any law, it is per se a UCL violation.

4 169. The business acts and practices described above are unlawful because they violate 5 numerous state and federal laws, including but not limited to:

- 6 a) The Federal Trade Commission Act (“FTC Act”), which prohibits “unfair or deceptive
7 acts or practices.”⁴²
- 8 b) Cal Educ. Code § 94897(b), which provides that institutions shall not “[p]romise or 9 guarantee employment, or otherwise overstate the availability of jobs upon graduation.”
- 10 c) The CLRA, see supra ¶¶ 158–164;
- 11 d) The FAL, see infra ¶¶ 174–176;
- 12 e) Cal. Educ. Code § 94886, which provides in relevant part that “a person shall not open,
13 conduct, or do business as a private postsecondary educational institution in this state
14 without obtaining an approval to operate under this chapter.” Lambda violated this 15 provision, and therefore the UCL’s unlawful prong, when it enrolled Plaintiffs and 16 members of the Subclass without obtaining approval to operate.
- 17 f) Cal. Educ. Code § 94943, which provides that it is a crime to “[k]nowingly operat[e] a 18 private postsecondary institution without an approval to operate.” Lambda violated this 19 provision, and therefore the UCL’s unlawful prong, when it knowingly enrolled 20 Plaintiffs without approval by the BPPE to operate.
- 21 g) Cal. Educ. Code § 94917, which provides that “[a] note, instrument, or other evidence 22 of indebtedness relating to payment for an educational program is not enforceable by an 23 institution unless, at the time of execution of the note, instrument, or other evidence of 24 indebtedness, the institution held an approval to operate.”
- 25 h) Cal. Educ. Code § 94902(b)(2), which provides that an enrollment agreement is 26 enforceable only if “[a]t the time of the execution of the enrollment agreement, the 27 institution held a valid approval to operate.

28 ⁴² See U.S.C. § 45(a)(1); 15 U.S.C. § 52(a).

1 i) The California Financing Law, which provides that “[n]o person shall engage in the 2 business of a finance lender or broker without obtaining a license from the 3 commissioner.” Cal. Fin. Code § 22100(a).

4 j) The Consumer Financial Protection Act of 2010, 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531(a), 5536(a)(1)(B), 5 which prohibits covered persons from engaging in unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or 6 practices.

7 170. By violating these and other state and federal laws, Lambda violated the unlawful prong
8 of the UCL.

9 Fraud Prong

10 171. To show that a business practice is fraudulent, it is necessary only to show that members 11 of the public are likely to be deceived.

12 172. Lambda’s business acts and practices—including its false job placement rate
13 representations and false representations to the Subclass about BPPE approval—are fraudulent in that 14 they are likely to deceive the public.

15 173. Each of these false and misleading representations, all of which were material, were 16 substantial factors influencing Plaintiffs and members of the Class to attend Lambda and take out an 17 ISA or other tuition payment plan that indebted them to up to $30,000 of tuition at Lambda.

18 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
19 Violations of California’s False Advertising Law
20 Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17500, *et seq.
(All Defendants)

21 174. Plaintiffs hereby reincorporate the allegations in the foregoing paragraphs as though fully
22 set forth herein.

23 175. Lambda has also engaged in acts or practices that constitute violations of the FAL, 24 Business and Professions Code section 17500, et seq., by making or causing to be made untrue or 25 misleading statements with the intent to induce members of the public to purchase Lambda’s services.
26 Lambda’s untrue or misleading representations include, but are not limited to, the following:

27 a) Lambda’s statements regarding job placement rates, including but not limited to the 28 published job placement rates prominently displayed on its website; and

1 b) Failing to inform the public, prospective students, and current students, including the 2 Subclass, that it lacked approval from BPPE to operate, that its operations were 3 therefore unlawful, that BPPE ordered Lambda to cease advertising and instructional
4 activities, and that it could not lawfully enroll students. Instead, Lambda's
5 advertisements implicitly and explicitly misrepresented the lawfulness of its operations
6 by encouraging the public and prospective students to apply for enrollment.

7 176. At the time these representations were made, Lambda knew or by the exercise of 8 reasonable care should have known that the representations were untrue or misleading.

9 VII. PRAYER FOR RELIEF

10 WHEREFORE, in accordance with the above claims, Plaintiffs request judgment in their and 11 the Class's favor against Defendants as follows:

- 12 1. An Order certifying that Plaintiffs and the Class constitute a single class, that the BPPE
13 Subclass constitutes a single subclass, and designating the action as a Class Action
14 pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure § 382.
- 15 2. Appointment of the attorneys below as Class counsel.
- 16 3. Appointment of Plaintiffs as class representatives and payment of compensation as 17 representatives if the Court deems appropriate.
- 18 4. Declare that the ISAs or other tuition payment plans entered into by Plaintiffs, the 19 Class, and the BPPE Subclass are unlawful and unenforceable pursuant to Cal. Educ.
20 Code §§ 94886, 94917, and 94943.
- 21 5. Declare that Defendants conducted business as a private postsecondary educational 22 institution in California without obtaining approval to operate, in violation of Cal.
23 Educ. Code § 94886 and the UCL.
- 24 6. Declare that Defendants knowingly operated a private postsecondary institution without 25 approval to operate, in violation of Cal. Educ. Code § 94943 and the UCL.
- 26 7. Declare that Defendants' job placement rate representations at all times relevant to this 27 Complaint were fraudulent and misleading, in violation of the UCL, FAL, and CLRA.

8. Declare that Lambda “engage[d] in the business of a finance lender or broker without obtaining a license from the commissioner,” in violation of the California Financing Law, Cal. Fin. Code § 22100(a).
9. Order Defendants—including Lambda and any other owner of all or part of the ISAs or other tuition payment plans—to cancel the ISAs and other tuition payment plans for Plaintiffs and the Class and enjoin any effort to collect upon or otherwise enforce them.
10. Order Defendants to pay restitution in the form of refunds for all payments made.
11. Order prejudgment and post-judgment interest on any refunds for ISA and other tuition payment plan payments for the maximum extent allowed by law.
12. Order public injunctive relief, including enjoining Defendants from misrepresenting job placement rates, and collecting on any ISA or other tuition payment plan entered into while Defendants maintained such misrepresentations.
13. Order Defendants to pay reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs.
14. Order all such further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

INCOME SHARE AGREEMENT

This income share agreement is between Lambda Inc. ("Lambda School") and a student ("you"). You have previously completed an application to become a Lambda School student. Prior to or concurrently with signing this agreement, you and Lambda School are signing an enrollment agreement in which Lambda School accepts you as a student. Your entering into the enrollment agreement is a condition to Lambda School admitting you to the program of educational services outlined in your enrollment agreement. If you sign this agreement before signing an enrollment agreement, you are agreeing to Lambda School's standard enrollment agreement currently in effect until such time as you sign an enrollment agreement.

Lambda School charges tuition, but instead of paying tuition directly, a student may elect to have Lambda School provide tuition funding on behalf of that student. That student commits to paying Lambda School a fixed percentage of their income each month toward the cost of attending Lambda School, up to a maximum number of payments and a maximum amount, on condition that the student's income is above the monthly equivalent of $50,000.00 annually.

In this agreement, you commit to reporting your income and to making a number of monthly payments in return for Lambda School providing tuition funding on your behalf.

IF YOU CANCEL

If you terminate this agreement during the allowable full cancellation period specified in your enrollment agreement, you will not owe Lambda School anything under this agreement.

YOUR PAYMENTS

Here's a summary of the key details of your monthly payments under this agreement. More information is provided elsewhere in this agreement.

Tuition funding provided to Lambda School on your behalf	$30,000.00
Percentage of your monthly earned income you must pay Lambda School	17%
Minimum monthly earned income required for monthly payments	$4,166.67
Equivalent annual earned income	$50,000.00
Maximum number of monthly payments	24
Maximum term of this agreement	60 months
Maximum total amount you are required to pay (excluding fees for late or failed payments)	$30,000.00

FEES FOR LATE OR FAILED PAYMENTS

Here are the fees you might have to pay.

if Lambda School doesn't receive a monthly payment by the 15th of the month it is due	$50.00
if Lambda School receives a monthly payment but that payment fails because you don't have enough money in your account, or for any other reason	$35.00

THIS IS NOT A LOAN

In making monthly payments to Lambda School, you will not be repaying a student loan. In the case of a student loan, a student borrows a set amount and repays the principal amount of the loan plus interest or a finance charge, or both. Under this agreement, you will instead pay a fixed percentage of your income each month for up to a maximum number of payments.

You acknowledge that the income-tax consequences of this agreement are uncertain and that Lambda School has not provided you with any tax advice and has not assured you of specific tax consequences. You acknowledge that you have had an opportunity to consult with your own advisors about the tax implications of entering into this agreement.

EXAMPLES OF WHAT YOU MIGHT HAVE TO PAY

This table shows some examples of monthly and total payments under this agreement at different income levels.

Monthly Income	Equivalent Annual Income	Monthly Payment	Total Amount Paid	Number of Payments
Less than $4,166.67	Less than $50,000	Not applicable	$0	None

$5,000.00	$60,000	$850.00	$20,400	24
$5,833.33	$70,000	$991.67	$23,800	24

$7,500.00	$90,000	$1,275.00	$30,000	24
$8,333.33	$100,000	$1,416.67	$30,000	22
$10,000.00	$120,000	$1,700.00	$30,000	18

DETERMINING YOUR MONTHLY PAYMENTS

The amount of each of your monthly payments is equal to 17% of your earned income in the previous month from all your qualified positions, plus any fees you owe under this agreement. You are not required to make a monthly payment if your earned income for the previous month is less than $4,166.67.

What “Earned Income” Means

For purposes of this agreement, “earned income” means all you are paid or that you earn in all your qualified positions. Earned income is your gross income—your income before taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans). For example, the US Internal Revenue Service for the 2019 reporting year defines income to include on an annual basis (a) the sum of Line 1 (Wages, salaries, tips, etc.), Line 7a (Other income), and Line 8a (Business income or loss) of IRS Form 1040, as reported or required to be reported on U.S. federal income Tax returns. All of those are examples of “earned income.”

Earned Income does not include (1) income earned by your children or spouse (if any), (2) any money you inherit, (3) any amounts paid to you under the Social Security disability insurance program (title II of the Social Security Act) or the Supplemental Security Income program (title XVI of the Social Security Act), or (4) any amounts paid to you under the Child Nutrition Act of 1966.

For purposes of this agreement, “qualified position” means work as an employee, independent contractor, or business owner in a field related to, or position requiring knowledge of, one or more of software, data science, full-stack web, iOS/Android development, cybersecurity, information technology, UX, and web and app development and design and any other field or position for which you would not have been qualified, or not have been considered or promoted into, but for your participation in your Lambda School program or the job placement efforts of Lambda School.

If a position would otherwise be a qualified position, it will not be relevant that your Lambda School program was in a discipline not directly related to that position.

Examples of titles for positions that would qualify include software engineer, data scientist, web developer, and app developer. Positions in quality assurance, sales, product management, or other fields that may seem unrelated to your Lambda School program might nevertheless qualify if your work actually calls on skills related to your Lambda School program. A position at a company that doesn’t sell technology products or offer technology services might also qualify—for example, a web-developer position for any kind of company.

It will be up to Lambda School to decide whether income you earned can be attributed to a qualified position. You must provide Lambda School any information it asks for to allow it to decide whether income you earned should be attributed to a qualified position.

Establishing Your Earned Income

You must inform Lambda School no later than five days after starting work in a qualified position paying you at least the minimum amount required for you to be required to make monthly payments under this agreement. Every three months or as requested by Lambda School thereafter you must inform Lambda School of the name of your employer, your job title, and your earned income.

You must submit to Lambda School via Lambda School’s online portal the following documentation evidencing your earned income:

- before your first monthly payment and every time your earned income increases or decreases, a pay stub, letter from your employer, independent-contractor agreement, or other evidence of your monthly income
- by 30 April each year, a year-end pay stub, form W-2, form 1099, schedule K-1, or other official documentation showing your sources of earned income and the dates of your employment for the previous calendar year
- if Lambda School requests, it, a completed and signed IRS form 4506-T (or any successor form) designating Lambda School as the recipient of your tax return information for returns covering any months for which you are required to make a monthly payment, dated no earlier than 30 days before the date you provide it Lambda School

You authorize Lambda School to verify your earned income and your credit history by checking with your employer (for example through the employer's verification line), credit reporting agencies, payroll providers, or other services. You acknowledge that Lambda School may adjust your monthly payments to reflect any information so discovered. And Lambda School might review public information about your employment and income, such as your profile on social media or job sites. Lambda School will act reasonably in verifying your earned income but ultimately it will be up to Lambda School to decide whether your documentation or other materials sufficiently prove your earned income.

You must notify Lambda School no later than 30 days if you change your tax filing status from single filing to joint filing (or vice-versa), so Lambda School knows whether to exclude earnings of your spouse when calculating your earned income.

Setting Your Monthly Payments

Based on the information you provide, Lambda School will determine the amount of your monthly payments.

Lambda School may estimate one or more of your monthly payments for any period during which you fail to submit to Lambda School documentation evidencing your earned income as required under this agreement. In making such an estimate, Lambda school may assume that your earned income is equivalent to the average full-time income for occupations related to your Lambda School program.

At any time you may ask Lambda School to confirm the amount of your next monthly payment.

You may not pay more than your monthly payment without Lambda School's consent.

WHEN YOU MUST START MAKING MONTHLY PAYMENTS

After you have completed, withdraw from, or are withdrawn from (for any reason) your Lambda School program, you are required to begin making payments. You will have a one-month grace period before your first payment is due. The first month for which you are required to make a monthly payment is the second full month in which your earned income exceeds the minimum. Here are two examples:

- if you graduate from Lambda School on 15 May and on 5 June you start a job for which you are paid monthly $4,166.67 or more and in June you are paid $4,166.67 or more, the first month for which you must make a monthly payment is August
- if you graduate from Lambda School on 15 May and on 20 June you start a job for which you are paid monthly at least $4,166.67 but in June you are paid less than $4,166.67, the first month for which you must make a monthly payment is August

For purposes of this agreement only, you have completed your Lambda School program upon the earlier of (1) the date for completing your program specified in your enrollment agreement and (2) your accepting a qualified position after the date specified in your enrollment agreement on which you are responsible for the entire amount of tuition funding allocated to your program.

Your monthly payment for a given month is due on the first business day of the following month.

You will not be required to make further monthly payments under this agreement if (1) you have made 24 monthly payments, (2) you have paid the maximum amount of $30,000 (excluding fees), or (3) you have not been required to make a monthly payment for a total of 60 months, whichever is the earliest to occur. The maximum term of this agreement is 83 months. That would happen if you have made 24 monthly payments and you have not been required to make a monthly payment for a total of 59 months.

HOW TO MAKE MONTHLY PAYMENTS

Income-Sharing Manager and Other Lambda School Partners

Lambda School has appointed an income-sharing manager to administer students' monthly payments and this agreement generally. Lambda School might on one or more occasions replace the income-sharing manager, or itself act as or serve some functions of the income-sharing manager. You acknowledge that any income-sharing manager and its or Lambda School's partners will be authorized to act on behalf of Lambda School for all purposes relating to this agreement. You may also need to accept or be subject to terms, policies, or other practices of the income-sharing manager or other partners.

Payment Options

The income-sharing manager will offer you the option of making your monthly payments by automated clearing house (ACH) payment—you would authorize the income-sharing manager to deduct from the designated account, as it comes due, the amount of each monthly payment, until such time as you withdraw your authorization. Or you could instead elect to pay by another method approved by Lambda School or the income-sharing manager. Lambda School or the income-sharing manager might in the future provide additional payment options or programs, but you might not be eligible for any such programs.

Your Designated Bank Account

At the request of the income-sharing manager, you must establish and maintain through the online portal during the term of this agreement a bank account with a financial institution designated by the income-sharing manager. The income-sharing manager will be permitted to view your transactions on that account. That information will help determine the amount of your monthly payments. You may maintain other bank accounts too, but you must deposit all of your earned income after taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans) into your designated bank account. It would violate this agreement for you to deposit some of your earned income after taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans) in a bank account other than your designated bank account.

The income-sharing manager sends or calls with payment reminders and account statements by email, phone, or SMS, or all of these—do whatever is necessary to make sure you receive them. If you don't receive a reminder to make a monthly payment, that will not affect the due date of that monthly payment.

Online Portal

The income-sharing manager maintains an online portal that will allow you to access a copy of this agreement, documentation relating to your account, and information about your payment terms, including the amount of your next monthly payment and when it's due and any past due amounts. Through this portal you will be able to update your information, upload documents, and change how you authorize payment of monthly amounts.

Account Reconciliation

Lambda School might review your account at any time to ensure that your monthly payments accurately reflect your earned income.

If you underpaid or failed to pay one or more monthly payments, Lambda School will notify you in writing of what you owe and any late charges. At Lambda School's discretion, any amount you owe will be added to one of your future monthly payments, will be spread evenly over up to six future monthly payments, or, if you are not required to make a monthly payment or if this agreement has been terminated, will be billed to you separately.

If you overpaid, Lambda School will notify you of the overpayment and reduce your next one or more monthly payments by the amount of the overpayment. If Lambda School discovers an overpayment after this agreement has terminated, it will refund the excess amount to you.

CHANGE OF STATUS

Withdrawing Early

If after the cancellation period has passed you withdraw from your program or are dismissed from the program, under your enrollment agreement you might be required to pay Lambda School an amount up to the maximum total amount you are required to pay under this agreement. You must notify Lambda School if you wish to withdraw from the program.

Disability

If you die or become disabled, as determined by the U.S. Social Security Administration or any other federal or state government agency, due to a condition that began or deteriorated after the date of this agreement, you will no longer be required to pay Lambda School what you owe under this agreement, including any past due amounts and fees.

If you die or become disabled, as determined by the U.S. Social Security Administration or any other federal or state government agency, due to a condition that began or deteriorated after the date of this agreement, you will no longer be required to pay Lambda School what you owe under this agreement, including any past due amounts and fees.

DEFAULT

Except as provided by law, you will be in default under this agreement if any of the following occurs:

- you do not pay a monthly payment in full when due or otherwise don't do something you promise to do in this agreement or your enrollment agreement
- you make an inaccurate statement of fact in this agreement or your enrollment agreement
- you provide inaccurate or incomplete information in your Lambda School application, your enrollment agreement, or any other written communication with Lambda School
- you begin a voluntary bankruptcy case under title 11 of the United States Code
- anyone begins an involuntary bankruptcy case against you under title 11 of the United States Code and either (1) the case is not dismissed by midnight at the end of the 60th day after it is begun or (2) the court hearing the case issues an order approving the case
- you fail generally to pay your debts as they become due (other than any debts for which you dispute in good faith your liability or the amount) or you acknowledge in writing that you are unable to do so

Remedies

If you are in default under this agreement, at Lambda School's request you must pay Lambda School the entire amount you owe under this agreement. Lambda School will also have all other remedies available by law.

DISPUTES

Arbitration

As the exclusive means of initiating adversarial proceedings to resolve any dispute arising out of this agreement, your Lambda School tuition, or your payments to Lambda School (other than any proceeding commenced by either party seeking an injunction, a restraining order, or any other equitable remedy or a proceeding commenced by either party in small claims court), either party may demand that the dispute be resolved by binding arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its Consumer Arbitration Rules available at www.adr.org. If AAA is completely unavailable, and if you and Lambda School cannot agree on a substitute, then either you or Lambda School may request that a court appoint a substitute. The rules in this arbitration agreement will be followed if there is disagreement between the agreement and the arbitration forum's procedures. Judgment on any award rendered in any such arbitration may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. This arbitration agreement is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (FAA).

Any such arbitration must be conducted by one arbitrator and must be conducted in San Francisco, California, the county with a major commercial airport nearest to where you live, or another mutually agreed location. If the claim is for $25,000 or less, you may choose whether the arbitration will be conducted (1) solely on the basis of documents submitted to the arbitrator or (2) by means of a hearing conducted by telephone.

No Class Action

YOU AND LAMBDA SCHOOL MAY EACH BRING CLAIMS AGAINST THE OTHER ONLY IN AN INDIVIDUAL CAPACITY AND NOT AS A PLAINTIFF OR CLASS MEMBER IN ANY PURPORTED CLASS OR REPRESENTATIVE PROCEEDING. CLAIMS OF TWO OR MORE PERSONS MAY NOT BE JOINED OR CONSOLIDATED IN THE SAME ARBITRATION UNLESS THEY ARISE FROM THE SAME TRANSACTION.

Jury Trial

You and Lambda School hereby waive your respective right to a trial by jury in any proceedings arising out of this agreement, your Lambda School tuition, or your payments to Lambda School.

YOUR INFORMATION AND YOUR PRIVACY

Lambda School may use information you provide Lambda School under this agreement to improve its administration of income share agreements with its students and for its other operations, including working with its partners in performing under this agreement. Otherwise, Lambda School may disclose information you provide Lambda School under this agreement only if it is aggregated with information from other students or has removed from it all information that identifies it as originating with you. Lambda School owns any information derived from or based on the information you provide Lambda School. Lambda School maintains a privacy notice at www.lambdaschool.com/privacy. If you have any concerns about how Lambda School treats your information, please contact Lambda School through its website.

Valid Notice

For a notice under this agreement to be valid, it must be in writing and delivered by email to the email address stated at the top of this agreement (in the case of an email message from you to Lambda School) or to the most current email address in Lambda School's records (in the case of an email message from Lambda School to you), or submitted to the income-sharing manager's online portal (in the case of an email to the income-sharing manager). It will be deemed to have been received when sent, even if the sender receives a machine-generated message that delivery has failed.

If a party sending an email notice under this agreement receives a machine-generated message that delivery has failed, for that notice to be valid the sender must deliver to the intended recipient a tangible copy of that notice with end-to-end tracking and all fees prepaid to the address stated at the top of this agreement (in the case of delivery by you to Lambda School) or to the most current address in Lambda School's records (in the case of notice from Lambda School to you).

Other Communications

For any reason related to this agreement, including any amounts you owe, Lambda School may contact you at any physical or electronic addresses or numbers (including wireless cellular telephone numbers, ported landline numbers, VOIP, or other services) you have provided Lambda School or provide Lambda School in the future. Lambda School may use any means of communication, including postal mail, electronic mail, voice calls, text messaging, and recorded message using automatic-dialing devices. You may ask that Lambda School not contact you using one or more of these means of contacting you, and the law might impose restrictions on how Lambda School contacts you.

Changing Your Contact Information

You must notify Lambda School no later than 30 days after change in your primary residence, your phone number, email address, or any other contact information you previously provided Lambda School.

OTHER TERMS

Governing Law

New York law governs all adversarial proceedings arising out of this agreement, your Lambda School tuition, or your payments to Lambda School.

Transfers

You may not transfer (1) any discretion granted under this agreement, (2) any right to satisfy a condition under this agreement, (3) any remedy under this agreement, or (4) any obligation imposed under this agreement. Any purported transfer in violation of the previous sentence will be void.

Lambda School might transfer all or part of its interest in this agreement. If Lambda School transfers its entire interest in this agreement to someone else and by mistake you pay Lambda School or its income-sharing manager after that transfer, Lambda School has the choice of forwarding your payment to the transferee or its project manager, returning the payment to you, or handle it in any other way Lambda School thinks reasonable.

Your Application

You state that all information you provided in your Lambda School application was complete and accurate when you submitted your application.

Your Age

You state that you are the age of majority or older in the state where you currently reside. (The age of majority is the age at which you are considered an adult and responsible for your actions in the legal sense.)

No Other Income Share Agreements

You state that you are not currently party to any other income share agreements with Lambda School or anyone else. You must not enter into another income share agreement with anyone else during the term of this agreement.

Lambda School's Liability Is Limited

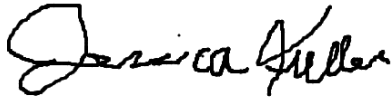

The liability of Lambda School under this agreement is limited to the aggregate of all payments you make to Lambda School under this agreement.

Modifying Unenforceable Provisions

You acknowledge that if a dispute between the parties arises out of this agreement, your Lambda School tuition, or your payments to Lambda School, you would want the court to interpret this agreement as follows:

- with respect to any provision that it holds to be unenforceable, by modifying that provision to the minimum extent necessary to make it enforceable or, if that modification is not permitted by law, by disregarding that provision
- if an unenforceable provision is modified or disregarded in accordance with this section, by holding that the rest of the agreement will remain in effect as written
- by holding that any unenforceable provision will remain as written in any circumstances other than those in which the provision is held to be unenforceable

Under this agreement, you will instead pay a fixed percentage of your income each month for up to a maximum number of payments.

You acknowledge that the income-tax consequences of this agreement are uncertain and that Lambda School has not provided you with any tax advice and has not assured you of specific tax consequences. You acknowledge that you have had an opportunity to consult with your own advisors about the tax implications of entering into this agreement.

DETERMINING YOUR MONTHLY PAYMENTS

The amount of each of your monthly payments is equal to 17% of your earned income in the previous month from all your qualified positions, plus any fees you owe under this agreement. You are not required to make a monthly payment if your earned income for the previous month is less than $4,166.67.

What “Earned Income” Means

For purposes of this agreement, “earned income” means all you are paid or that you earn in all your qualified positions. Earned income is your gross income—your income before taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans). For example, the US Internal Revenue Service for the 2019 reporting year defines income to include on an annual basis (a) the sum of Line 1 (Wages, salaries, tips, etc.), Line 7a (Other income), and Line 8a (Business income or loss) of IRS Form 1040, as reported or required to be reported on U.S. federal income Tax returns. All of those are examples of “earned income.”

Earned Income does not include (1) income earned by your children or spouse (if any), (2) any money you inherit, (3) any amounts paid to you under the Social Security disability insurance program (title II of the Social Security Act) or the Supplemental Security Income program (title XVI of the Social Security Act), or (4) any amounts paid to you under the Child Nutrition Act of 1966.

For purposes of this agreement, “qualified position” means work as an employee, independent contractor, or business owner in a field related to, or position requiring knowledge of, one or more of software, data science, full-stack web, iOS/Android development, cybersecurity, information technology, UX, and web and app development and design and any other field or position for which you would not have been qualified, or not have been considered or promoted into, but for your participation in your Lambda School program or the job placement efforts of Lambda School.

If a position would otherwise be a qualified position, it will not be relevant that your Lambda School program was in a discipline not directly related to that position.

Examples of titles for positions that would qualify include software engineer, data scientist, web developer, and app developer. Positions in quality assurance, sales, product management, or other fields that may seem unrelated to your Lambda School program might nevertheless qualify if your work actually calls on skills related to your Lambda School program. A position at a company that doesn’t sell technology products or offer technology services might also qualify—for example, a web-developer position for any kind of company.

It will be up to Lambda School to decide whether income you earned can be attributed to a qualified position. You must provide Lambda School any information it asks for to allow it to decide whether income you earned should be attributed to a qualified position.

Establishing Your Earned Income

You must inform Lambda School no later than five days after starting work in a qualified position paying you at least the minimum amount required for you to be required to make monthly payments under this agreement. Every three months or as requested by Lambda School thereafter you must inform Lambda

School of the name of your employer, your job title, and your earned income.

You must submit to Lambda School via Lambda School's online portal the following documentation evidencing your earned income:

- before your first monthly payment and every time your earned income increases or decreases, a pay stub, letter from your employer, independent-contractor agreement, or other evidence of your monthly income
- by 30 April each year, a year-end pay stub, form W-2, form 1099, schedule K-1, or other official documentation showing your sources of earned income and the dates of your employment for the previous calendar year
- if Lambda School requests, it, a completed and signed IRS form 4506-T (or any successor form) designating Lambda School as the recipient of your tax return information for returns covering any months for which you are required to make a monthly payment, dated no earlier than 30 days before the date you provide it Lambda School

You authorize Lambda School to verify your earned income and your credit history by checking with your employer (for example through the employer's verification line), credit reporting agencies, payroll providers, or other services. You acknowledge that Lambda School may adjust your monthly payments to reflect any information so discovered. And Lambda School might review public information about your employment and income, such as your profile on social media or job sites. Lambda School will act reasonably in verifying your earned income but ultimately it will be up to Lambda School to decide whether your documentation or other materials sufficiently prove your earned income.

You must notify Lambda School no later than 30 days if you change your tax filing status from single filing to joint filing (or vice-versa), so Lambda School knows whether to exclude earnings of your spouse when calculating your earned income.

Setting Your Monthly Payments

Based on the information you provide, Lambda School will determine the amount of your monthly payments.

Lambda School may estimate one or more of your monthly payments for any period during which you fail to submit to Lambda School documentation evidencing your earned income as required under this agreement. In making such an estimate, Lambda school may assume that your earned income is equivalent to the average full-time income for occupations related to your Lambda School program.

At any time you may ask Lambda School to confirm the amount of your next monthly payment.

WHEN YOU MUST START MAKING MONTHLY PAYMENTS

After you have completed, withdraw from, or are withdrawn from (for any reason) your Lambda School program, you are required to begin making payments. You will have a one-month grace period before your first payment is due. The first month for which you are required to make a monthly payment is the second full month in which your earned income exceeds the minimum. Here are two examples:

- if you graduate from Lambda School on 15 May and on 5 June you start a job for which you are paid monthly $4,166.67 or more and in June you are paid $4,166.67 or more, the first month for which you must make a monthly payment is August
- if you graduate from Lambda School on 15 May and on 20 June you start a job for which you are paid monthly at least $4,166.67 but in June you are paid less than $4,166.67, the first month for which you must make a monthly payment is August

For purposes of this agreement only, you have completed your Lambda School program upon the earlier of (1) the date for completing your program specified in your enrollment agreement and (2) your accepting a qualified position after the date specified in your enrollment agreement on which you are responsible for the entire amount of tuition funding allocated to your program.

Your monthly payment for a given month is due on the first business day of the following month.

You will not be required to make further monthly payments under this agreement if (1) you have made 24 monthly payments, (2) you have paid the maximum amount of $30,000 (excluding fees), or (3) you have not been required to make a monthly payment for a total of 60 months, whichever is the earliest to occur. The maximum term of this agreement is 83 months. That would happen if you have made 24 monthly payments and you have not been required to make a monthly payment for a total of 59 months.

HOW TO MAKE MONTHLY PAYMENTS

Income-Sharing Manager and Other Lambda School Partners

Lambda School has appointed an income-sharing manager to administer students' monthly payments and this agreement generally. Lambda School might on one or more occasions replace the income-sharing manager, or itself act as or serve some functions of the income-sharing manager. You acknowledge that any income-sharing manager and its or Lambda School's partners will be authorized to act on behalf of Lambda School for all purposes relating to this agreement. You may also need to accept or be subject to terms, policies, or other practices of the income-sharing manager or other partners.

Payment Options

The income-sharing manager will offer you the option of making your monthly payments by automated clearing house (ACH) payment—you would authorize the income-sharing manager to deduct from the designated account, as it comes due, the amount of each monthly payment, until such time as you withdraw your authorization. Or you could instead elect to pay by another method approved by Lambda School or the income-sharing manager. Lambda School or the income-sharing manager might in the future provide additional payment options or programs, but you might not be eligible for any such programs.

Your Designated Bank Account

At the request of the income-sharing manager, you must establish and maintain through the online portal during the term of this agreement a bank account with a financial institution designated by the income-sharing manager. The income-sharing manager will be permitted to view your transactions on that account. That information will help determine the amount of your monthly payments. You may maintain other bank accounts too, but you must deposit all of your earned income after taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans) into your designated bank account. It would violate this agreement for you to deposit some of your earned income after taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans) in a bank account other than your designated bank account.

The income-sharing manager sends or calls with payment reminders and account statements by email, phone, or SMS, or all of these—do whatever is necessary to make sure you receive them. If you don't receive a reminder to make a monthly payment, that will not affect the due date of that monthly payment.

Online Portal

The income-sharing manager maintains an online portal that will allow you to access a copy of this agreement, documentation relating to your account, and information about your payment terms, including the amount of your next monthly payment and when it's due and any past due amounts. Through this portal you will be able to update your information, upload documents, and change how you authorize payment of monthly amounts.

Account Reconciliation

Lambda School might review your account at any time to ensure that your monthly payments accurately reflect your earned income.

If you underpaid or failed to pay one or more monthly payments, Lambda School will notify you in writing of what you owe and any late charges. At Lambda School's discretion, any amount you owe will be added to one of your future monthly payments, will be spread evenly over up to six future monthly payments, or, if you are not required to make a monthly payment or if this agreement has been terminated, will be billed to you separately.

If you overpaid, Lambda School will notify you of the overpayment and reduce your next one or more monthly payments by the amount of the overpayment. If Lambda School discovers an overpayment after this agreement has terminated, it will refund the excess amount to you.

CHANGE OF STATUS

Withdrawing Early

If after the cancellation period has passed you withdraw from your program or are dismissed from the program, under your enrollment agreement you might be required to pay Lambda School an amount up to the maximum total amount you are required to pay under this agreement. You must notify Lambda School if you wish to withdraw from the program.

Disability

If you die or become disabled, as determined by the U.S. Social Security Administration or any other federal or state government agency, due to a condition that began or deteriorated after the date of this agreement, you will no longer be required to pay Lambda School what you owe under this agreement, including any past due amounts and fees.

If you die or become disabled, as determined by the U.S. Social Security Administration or any other federal or state government agency, due to a condition that began or deteriorated after the date of this agreement, you will no longer be required to pay Lambda School what you owe under this agreement, including any past due amounts and fees.

DEFAULT

Except as provided by law, you will be in default under this agreement if any of the following occurs:

- you do not pay a monthly payment in full when due or otherwise don't do something you promise to do in this agreement or your enrollment agreement
- you make an inaccurate statement of fact in this agreement or your enrollment agreement
- you provide inaccurate or incomplete information in your Lambda School application, your enrollment agreement, or any other written communication with Lambda School
- you begin a voluntary bankruptcy case under title 11 of the United States Code
- anyone begins an involuntary bankruptcy case against you under title 11 of the United States Code and either (1) the case is not dismissed by midnight at the end of the 60th day after it is begun or (2) the court hearing the case issues an order approving the case

- you fail generally to pay your debts as they become due (other than any debts for which you dispute in good faith your liability or the amount) or you acknowledge in writing that you are unable to do so

Remedies

If you are in default under this agreement, at Lambda School's request you must pay Lambda School the entire amount you owe under this agreement. Lambda School will also have all other remedies available by law.

DISPUTES

Arbitration

As the exclusive means of initiating adversarial proceedings to resolve any dispute arising out of this agreement, your Lambda School tuition, or your payments to Lambda School (other than any proceeding commenced by either party seeking an injunction, a restraining order, or any other equitable remedy or a proceeding commenced by either party in small claims court), either party may demand that the dispute be resolved by binding arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its Consumer Arbitration Rules available at www.adr.org. If AAA is completely unavailable, and if you and Lambda School cannot agree on a substitute, then either you or Lambda School may request that a court appoint a substitute. The rules in this arbitration agreement will be followed if there is disagreement between the agreement and the arbitration forum's procedures. Judgment on any award rendered in any such arbitration may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. This arbitration agreement is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (FAA).

Any such arbitration must be conducted by one arbitrator and must be conducted in San Francisco, California, the county with a major commercial airport nearest to where you live, or another mutually agreed location. If the claim is for $25,000 or less, you may choose whether the arbitration will be conducted (1) solely on the basis of documents submitted to the arbitrator or (2) by means of a hearing conducted by telephone.

No Class Action

YOU AND LAMBDA SCHOOL MAY EACH BRING CLAIMS AGAINST THE OTHER ONLY IN AN INDIVIDUAL CAPACITY AND NOT AS A PLAINTIFF OR CLASS MEMBER IN ANY PURPORTED CLASS OR REPRESENTATIVE PROCEEDING. CLAIMS OF TWO OR MORE PERSONS MAY NOT BE JOINED OR CONSOLIDATED IN THE SAME ARBITRATION UNLESS THEY ARISE FROM THE SAME TRANSACTION.

Jury Trial

You and Lambda School hereby waive your respective right to a trial by jury in any proceedings arising

YOUR INFORMATION AND YOUR PRIVACY

Lambda School may use information you provide Lambda School under this agreement to improve its administration of income share agreements with its students and for its other operations, including working with its partners in performing under this agreement. Otherwise, Lambda School may disclose information you provide Lambda School under this agreement only if it is aggregated with information from other students or has removed from it all information that identifies it as originating with you. Lambda School owns any information derived from or based on the information you provide Lambda School. Lambda School maintains a privacy notice at www.lambdaschool.com/privacy. If you have any concerns about how Lambda School treats your information, please contact Lambda School through its website.

For a notice under this agreement to be valid, it must be in writing and delivered by email to the email address stated at the top of this agreement (in the case of an email message from you to Lambda School) or to the most current email address in Lambda School's records (in the case of an email message from Lambda School to you), or submitted to the income-sharing manager's online portal (in the case of an email to the income-sharing manager). It will be deemed to have been received when sent, even if the sender receives a machine-generated message that delivery has failed.

If a party sending an email notice under this agreement receives a machine-generated message that delivery has failed, for that notice to be valid the sender must deliver to the intended recipient a tangible copy of that notice with end-to-end tracking and all fees prepaid to the address stated at the top of this agreement (in the case of delivery by you to Lambda School) or to the most current address in Lambda School's records (in the case of notice from Lambda School to you).

Other Communications

For any reason related to this agreement, including any amounts you owe, Lambda School may contact you at any physical or electronic addresses or numbers (including wireless cellular telephone numbers, ported landline numbers, VOIP, or other services) you have provided Lambda School or provide Lambda School in the future. Lambda School may use any means of communication, including postal mail, electronic mail, voice calls, text messaging, and recorded message using automatic-dialing devices. You may ask that Lambda School not contact you using one or more of these means of contacting you, and the law might impose restrictions on how Lambda School contacts you.

Changing Your Contact Information

You must notify Lambda School no later than 30 days after change in your primary residence, your phone number, email address, or any other contact information you previously provided Lambda School.

Governing Law

New York law governs all adversarial proceedings arising out of this agreement, your Lambda School tuition, or your payments to Lambda School.

Transfers

You may not transfer (1) any discretion granted under this agreement, (2) any right to satisfy a condition under this agreement, (3) any remedy under this agreement, or (4) any obligation imposed under this agreement. Any purported transfer in violation of the previous sentence will be void.

Lambda School might transfer all or part of its interest in this agreement. If Lambda School transfers its entire interest in this agreement to someone else and by mistake you pay Lambda School or its income-sharing manager after that transfer, Lambda School has the choice of forwarding your payment to the transferee or its project manager, returning the payment to you, or handle it in any other way Lambda School thinks reasonable.

Your Application

You state that all information you provided in your Lambda School application was complete and accurate when you submitted your application.

Your Age

You state that you are the age of majority or older in the state where you currently reside. (The age of majority is the age at which you are considered an adult and responsible for your actions in the legal sense.)

Citizenship

You state that you are a citizen of the United States, a permanent resident of the United States, or a Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) recipient.

No Other Income Share Agreements

You state that you are not currently party to any other income share agreements with Lambda School or anyone else. You must not enter into another income share agreement with anyone else during the term of this agreement.

Lambda School's Liability Is Limited

The liability of Lambda School under this agreement is limited to the aggregate of all payments you make to Lambda School under this agreement.

Modifying Unenforceable Provisions

You acknowledge that if a dispute between the parties arises out of this agreement, your Lambda School tuition, or your payments to Lambda School, you would want the court to interpret this agreement as follows:

- with respect to any provision that it holds to be unenforceable, by modifying that provision to the minimum extent necessary to make it enforceable or, if that modification is not permitted by law, by disregarding that provision
- if an unenforceable provision is modified or disregarded in accordance with this section, by holding that the rest of the agreement will remain in effect as written
- by holding that any unenforceable provision will remain as written in any circumstances other than those in which the provision is held to be unenforceable
- if modifying or disregarding the unenforceable provision would result in failure of an essential purpose of this agreement, by holding the entire agreement unenforceable

By signing below, you acknowledge that you have read all of this agreement carefully and agree to its terms.

INCOME SHARE AGREEMENT

This income share agreement is between Lambda Inc. ("Lambda School") and a student ("you"). You have previously completed an application to become a Lambda School student. Prior to or concurrently with signing this agreement, you and Lambda School are signing an enrollment agreement in which Lambda School accepts you as a student. Your entering into the enrollment agreement is a condition to Lambda School admitting you to the program of educational services outlined in your enrollment agreement. If you sign this agreement before signing an enrollment agreement, you are agreeing to Lambda School's standard enrollment agreement currently in effect until such time as you sign an enrollment agreement.

Lambda School charges tuition, but instead of paying tuition directly, a student may elect to have Lambda School provide tuition funding on behalf of that student. That student commits to paying Lambda School a fixed percentage of their income each month toward the cost of attending Lambda School, up to a maximum number of payments and a maximum amount, on condition that the student's income is above the monthly equivalent of $50,000.00 annually.

In this agreement, you commit to reporting your income and to making a number of monthly payments in return for Lambda School providing tuition funding on your behalf.

IF YOU CANCEL

If you terminate this agreement during the allowable full cancellation period specified in your enrollment agreement, you will not owe Lambda School anything under this agreement.

YOUR PAYMENTS

Here's a summary of the key details of your monthly payments under this agreement. More information is provided elsewhere in this agreement.

Tuition funding provided to Lambda School on your behalf	$30,000.00
Percentage of your monthly earned income you must pay Lambda School	17%
Minimum monthly earned income required for monthly payments	$4,166.67
Equivalent annual earned income	$50,000.00
Maximum number of monthly payments	24
Maximum term of this agreement	60 months
Maximum total amount you are required to pay (excluding fees for late or failed payments)	$30,000.00

FEES FOR LATE OR FAILED PAYMENTS

Here are the fees you might have to pay.

if Lambda School doesn't receive a monthly payment by the 15th of the month it is due	$50.00
if Lambda School receives a monthly payment but that payment fails because you don't have enough money in your account, or for any other reason

THIS IS NOT A LOAN

In making monthly payments to Lambda School, you will not be repaying a student loan. In the case of a student loan, a student borrows a set amount and repays the principal amount of the loan plus interest or a finance charge, or both. Under this agreement, you will instead pay a fixed percentage of your income each month for up to a maximum number of payments.

You acknowledge that the income-tax consequences of this agreement are uncertain and that Lambda School has not provided you with any tax advice and has not assured you of specific tax consequences. You acknowledge that you have had an opportunity to consult with your own advisors about the tax implications of entering into this agreement.

EXAMPLES OF WHAT YOU MIGHT HAVE TO PAY

This table shows some examples of monthly and total payments under this agreement at different income levels.

DETERMINING YOUR MONTHLY PAYMENTS

The amount of each of your monthly payments is equal to 17% of your earned income in the previous month from all your qualified positions, plus any fees you owe under this agreement. You are not required to make a monthly payment if your earned income for the previous month is less than $4,166.67.

What “Earned Income” Means

For purposes of this agreement, “earned income” means all you are paid or that you earn in all your qualified positions. Earned income is your gross income—your income before taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans). For example, the US Internal Revenue Service for the 2019 reporting year defines income to include on an annual basis (a) the sum of Line 1 (Wages, salaries, tips, etc.), Line 7a (Other income), and Line 8a (Business income or loss) of IRS Form 1040, as reported or required to be reported on U.S. federal income Tax returns. All of those are examples of “earned income.”

Earned Income does not include (1) income earned by your children or spouse (if any), (2) any money you inherit, (3) any amounts paid to you under the Social Security disability insurance program (title II of the Social Security Act) or the Supplemental Security Income program (title XVI of the Social Security Act), or (4) any amounts paid to you under the Child Nutrition Act of 1966.

For purposes of this agreement, “qualified position” means work as an employee, independent contractor, or business owner in a field related to, or position requiring knowledge of, one or more of software, data science, full-stack web, iOS/Android development, cybersecurity, information technology, UX, and web and app development and design and any other field or position for which you would not have been qualified, or not have been considered or promoted into, but for your participation in your Lambda School program or the job placement efforts of Lambda School.

If a position would otherwise be a qualified position, it will not be relevant that your Lambda School program was in a discipline not directly related to that position.

Examples of titles for positions that would qualify include software engineer, data scientist, web developer, and app developer. Positions in quality assurance, sales, product management, or other fields that may seem unrelated to your Lambda School program might nevertheless qualify if your work actually calls on skills related to your Lambda School program. A position at a company that doesn’t sell technology products or offer technology services might also qualify—for example, a web-developer position for any kind of company.

It will be up to Lambda School to decide whether income you earned can be attributed to a qualified position. You must provide Lambda School any information it asks for to allow it to decide whether income you earned should be attributed to a qualified position.

Establishing Your Earned Income

You must inform Lambda School no later than five days after starting work in a qualified position paying you at least the minimum amount required for you to be required to make monthly payments under this agreement. Every three months or as requested by Lambda School thereafter you must inform Lambda

School of the name of your employer, your job title, and your earned income.

You must submit to Lambda School via Lambda School's online portal the following documentation evidencing your earned income:

- before your first monthly payment and every time your earned income increases or decreases, a pay stub, letter from your employer, independent-contractor agreement, or other evidence of your monthly income
- by 30 April each year, a year-end pay stub, form W-2, form 1099, schedule K-1, or other official documentation showing your sources of earned income and the dates of your employment for the previous calendar year
- if Lambda School requests, it, a completed and signed IRS form 4506-T (or any successor form) designating Lambda School as the recipient of your tax return information for returns covering any months for which you are required to make a monthly payment, dated no earlier than 30 days before the date you provide it Lambda School

You authorize Lambda School to verify your earned income and your credit history by checking with your employer (for example through the employer's verification line), credit reporting agencies, payroll providers, or other services. You acknowledge that Lambda School may adjust your monthly payments to reflect any information so discovered. And Lambda School might review public information about your employment and income, such as your profile on social media or job sites. Lambda School will act reasonably in verifying your earned income but ultimately it will be up to Lambda School to decide whether your documentation or other materials sufficiently prove your earned income.

You must notify Lambda School no later than 30 days if you change your tax filing status from single filing to joint filing (or vice-versa), so Lambda School knows whether to exclude earnings of your spouse when calculating your earned income.

Setting Your Monthly Payments

Based on the information you provide, Lambda School will determine the amount of your monthly payments.

Lambda School may estimate one or more of your monthly payments for any period during which you fail to submit to Lambda School documentation evidencing your earned income as required under this agreement. In making such an estimate, Lambda school may assume that your earned income is equivalent to the average full-time income for occupations related to your Lambda School program.

At any time you may ask Lambda School to confirm the amount of your next monthly payment.

WHEN YOU MUST START MAKING MONTHLY PAYMENTS

After you have completed, withdraw from, or are withdrawn from (for any reason) your Lambda School program, you are required to begin making payments. You will have a one-month grace period before your first payment is due. For purposes of this agreement only, you have completed your Lambda School program upon the earlier of (1) the date for completing your program specified in your enrollment agreement and (2) your accepting a qualified position after the date specified in your enrollment agreement on which you are responsible for the entire amount of tuition funding allocated to your program.

Your monthly payment for a given month is due on the first business day of the following month.

You will not be required to make further monthly payments under this agreement if (1) you have made 24 monthly payments, (2) you have paid the maximum amount of $30,000 (excluding fees), or (3) you have not been required to make a monthly payment for a total of 60 months, whichever is the earliest to occur. As the exclusive means of initiating adversarial proceedings to resolve any dispute arising out of this agreement, your Lambda School tuition, or your payments to Lambda School (other than any proceeding commenced by either party seeking an injunction, a restraining order, or any other equitable remedy or a proceeding commenced by either party in small claims court), either party may demand that the dispute be resolved by binding arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its Consumer Arbitration Rules available at www.adr.org. If AAA is completely unavailable, and if you and Lambda School cannot agree on a substitute, then either you or Lambda School may request that a court appoint a substitute. The rules in this arbitration agreement will be followed if there is disagreement between the agreement and the arbitration forum's procedures. Judgment on any award rendered in any such arbitration may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. This arbitration agreement is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (FAA).

Any such arbitration must be conducted by one arbitrator and must be conducted in San Francisco, California, the county with a major commercial airport nearest to where you live, or another mutually agreed location. If the claim is for $25,000 or less, you may choose whether the arbitration will be conducted (1) solely on the basis of documents submitted to the arbitrator or (2) by means of a hearing conducted by telephone.

YOU AND LAMBDA SCHOOL MAY EACH BRING CLAIMS AGAINST THE OTHER ONLY IN AN INDIVIDUAL CAPACITY AND NOT AS A PLAINTIFF OR CLASS MEMBER IN ANY PURPORTED CLASS OR REPRESENTATIVE PROCEEDING. CLAIMS OF TWO OR MORE PERSONS MAY NOT BE JOINED OR CONSOLIDATED IN THE SAME ARBITRATION UNLESS THEY ARISE FROM THE SAME TRANSACTION.

Jury Trial

You and Lambda School hereby waive your respective right to a trial by jury in any proceedings arising

INCOME SHARE AGREEMENT

This income share agreement is between Lambda Inc. ("Lambda School") and a student ("you"). You have previously completed an application to become a Lambda School student. Prior to or concurrently with signing this agreement, you and Lambda School are signing an enrollment agreement in which Lambda School accepts you as a student. Your entering into the enrollment agreement is a condition to Lambda School admitting you to the program of educational services outlined in your enrollment agreement. If you sign this agreement before signing an enrollment agreement, you are agreeing to Lambda School's standard enrollment agreement currently in effect until such time as you sign an enrollment agreement.

Lambda School charges tuition, but instead of paying tuition directly, a student may elect to have Lambda School provide tuition funding on behalf of that student. That student commits to paying Lambda School a fixed percentage of their income each month toward the cost of attending Lambda School, up to a maximum number of payments and a maximum amount, on condition that the student's income is above the monthly equivalent of $50,000.00 annually.

In this agreement, you commit to reporting your income and to making a number of monthly payments in return for Lambda School providing tuition funding on your behalf.

IF YOU CANCEL

If you terminate this agreement during the allowable full cancellation period specified in your enrollment agreement, you will not owe Lambda School anything under this agreement.

YOUR PAYMENTS

Here's a summary of the key details of your monthly payments under this agreement. More information is provided elsewhere in this agreement.

Tuition funding provided to Lambda School on your behalf	$30,000.00
Percentage of your monthly earned income you must pay Lambda School	17%
Minimum monthly earned income required for monthly payments	$4,166.67
Equivalent annual earned income	$50,000.00
Maximum number of monthly payments	24
Maximum term of this agreement	60 months
Maximum total amount you are required to pay (excluding fees for late or failed payments)	$30,000.00

FEEES FOR LATE OR FAILED PAYMENTS

Here are the fees you might have to pay.

if Lambda School doesn't receive a monthly payment by the 15th of the month it is due	$50.00
if Lambda School receives a monthly payment but that payment fails because you don't have enough money in your account, or for any other reason

THIS IS NOT A LOAN

In making monthly payments to Lambda School, you will not be repaying a student loan. In the case of a student loan, a student borrows a set amount and repays the principal amount of the loan plus interest or a finance charge, or both. Under this agreement, you will instead pay a fixed percentage of your income each month for up to a maximum number of payments.

You acknowledge that the income-tax consequences of this agreement are uncertain and that Lambda School has not provided you with any tax advice and has not assured you of specific tax consequences. You acknowledge that you have had an opportunity to consult with your own advisors about the tax implications of entering into this agreement.

EXAMPLES OF WHAT YOU MIGHT HAVE TO PAY

This table shows some examples of monthly and total payments under this agreement at different income levels.

DETERMINING YOUR MONTHLY PAYMENTS

The amount of each of your monthly payments is equal to 17% of your earned income in the previous month from all your qualified positions, plus any fees you owe under this agreement. You are not required to make a monthly payment if your earned income for the previous month is less than $4,166.67.

What “Earned Income” Means

For purposes of this agreement, “earned income” means all you are paid or that you earn in all your qualified positions. Earned income is your gross income—your income before taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans). For example, the US Internal Revenue Service for the 2019 reporting year defines income to include on an annual basis (a) the sum of Line 1 (Wages, salaries, tips, etc.), Line 7a (Other income), and Line 8a (Business income or loss) of IRS Form 1040, as reported or required to be reported on U.S. federal income Tax returns. All of those are examples of “earned income.”

Earned Income does not include (1) income earned by your children or spouse (if any), (2) any money you inherit, (3) any amounts paid to you under the Social Security disability insurance program (title II of the Social Security Act) or the Supplemental Security Income program (title XVI of the Social Security Act), or (4) any amounts paid to you under the Child Nutrition Act of 1966.

For purposes of this agreement, “qualified position” means work as an employee, independent contractor, or business owner in a field related to, or position requiring knowledge of, one or more of software, data science, full-stack web, iOS/Android development, cybersecurity, information technology, UX, and web and app development and design and any other field or position for which you would not have been qualified, or not have been considered or promoted into, but for your participation in your Lambda School program or the job placement efforts of Lambda School.

If a position would otherwise be a qualified position, it will not be relevant that your Lambda School program was in a discipline not directly related to that position.

Examples of titles for positions that would qualify include software engineer, data scientist, web developer, and app developer. Positions in quality assurance, sales, product management, or other fields that may seem unrelated to your Lambda School program might nevertheless qualify if your work actually calls on skills related to your Lambda School program. A position at a company that doesn’t sell technology products or offer technology services might also qualify—for example, a web-developer position for any kind of company.

It will be up to Lambda School to decide whether income you earned can be attributed to a qualified position. You must provide Lambda School any information it asks for to allow it to decide whether income you earned should be attributed to a qualified position.

Establishing Your Earned Income

You must inform Lambda School no later than five days after starting work in a qualified position paying you at least the minimum amount required for you to be required to make monthly payments under this agreement. Every three months or as requested by Lambda School thereafter you must inform Lambda School of the name of your employer, your job title, and your earned income.

You must submit to Lambda School via Lambda School's online portal the following documentation evidencing your earned income:

- before your first monthly payment and every time your earned income increases or decreases, a pay stub, letter from your employer, independent-contractor agreement, or other evidence of your monthly income
- by 30 April each year, a year-end pay stub, form W-2, form 1099, schedule K-1, or other official documentation showing your sources of earned income and the dates of your employment for the previous calendar year
- if Lambda School requests, it, a completed and signed IRS form 4506-T (or any successor form) designating Lambda School as the recipient of your tax return information for returns covering any months for which you are required to make a monthly payment, dated no earlier than 30 days before the date you provide it Lambda School

You authorize Lambda School to verify your earned income and your credit history by checking with your employer (for example through the employer's verification line), credit reporting agencies, payroll providers, or other services. You acknowledge that Lambda School may adjust your monthly payments to reflect any information so discovered. And Lambda School might review public information about your employment and income, such as your profile on social media or job sites. Lambda School will act reasonably in verifying your earned income but ultimately it will be up to Lambda School to decide whether your documentation or other materials sufficiently prove your earned income.

You must notify Lambda School no later than 30 days if you change your tax filing status from single filing to joint filing (or vice-versa), so Lambda School knows whether to exclude earnings of your spouse when calculating your earned income.

Setting Your Monthly Payments

Based on the information you provide, Lambda School will determine the amount of your monthly payments.

Lambda School may estimate one or more of your monthly payments for any period during which you fail to submit to Lambda School documentation evidencing your earned income as required under this agreement. In making such an estimate, Lambda school may assume that your earned income is equivalent to the average full-time income for occupations related to your Lambda School program.

At any time you may ask Lambda School to confirm the amount of your next monthly payment.

WHEN YOU MUST START MAKING MONTHLY PAYMENTS

After you have completed, withdraw from, or are withdrawn from (for any reason) your Lambda School program, you are required to begin making payments. You will have a one-month grace period before your first payment is due. The first month for which you are required to make a monthly payment is the second full month in which your earned income exceeds the minimum. Here are two examples:

- if you graduate from Lambda School on 15 May and on 5 June you start a job for which you are paid monthly $4,166.67 or more and in June you are paid $4,166.67 or more, the first month for which you must make a monthly payment is August
- if you graduate from Lambda School on 15 May and on 20 June you start a job for which you are paid monthly at least $4,166.67 but in June you are paid less than $4,166.67, the first month for which you must make a monthly payment is August

For purposes of this agreement only, you have completed your Lambda School program upon the earlier of (1) the date for completing your program specified in your enrollment agreement and (2) your accepting a qualified position after the date specified in your enrollment agreement on which you are responsible for the entire amount of tuition funding allocated to your program.

Your monthly payment for a given month is due on the first business day of the following month.

You will not be required to make further monthly payments under this agreement if (1) you have made 24 monthly payments, (2) you have paid the maximum amount of $30,000 (excluding fees), or (3) you have not been required to make a monthly payment for a total of 60 months, whichever is the earliest to occur. The maximum term of this agreement is 83 months. That would happen if you have made 24 monthly payments and you have not been required to make a monthly payment for a total of 59 months.

HOW TO MAKE MONTHLY PAYMENTS

Income-Sharing Manager and Other Lambda School Partners

Lambda School has appointed an income-sharing manager to administer students' monthly payments and this agreement generally. Lambda School might on one or more occasions replace the income-sharing manager, or itself act as or serve some functions of the income-sharing manager. You acknowledge that any income-sharing manager and its or Lambda School's partners will be authorized to act on behalf of Lambda School for all purposes relating to this agreement. You may also need to accept or be subject to terms, policies, or other practices of the income-sharing manager or other partners.

Payment Options

The income-sharing manager will offer you the option of making your monthly payments by automated clearing house (ACH) payment—you would authorize the income-sharing manager to deduct from the designated account, as it comes due, the amount of each monthly payment, until such time as you withdraw your authorization. Or you could instead elect to pay by another method approved by Lambda School or the income-sharing manager. Lambda School or the income-sharing manager might in the future provide additional payment options or programs, but you might not be eligible for any such programs.

Your Designated Bank Account

At the request of the income-sharing manager, you must establish and maintain through the online portal during the term of this agreement a bank account with a financial institution designated by the income-sharing manager. The income-sharing manager will be permitted to view your transactions on that account. That information will help determine the amount of your monthly payments. You may maintain other bank accounts too, but you must deposit all of your earned income after taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans) into your designated bank account. It would violate this agreement for you to deposit some of your earned income after taxes or any other withholdings (including contributions to retirement plans and savings plans) in a bank account other than your designated bank account.

The income-sharing manager sends or calls with payment reminders and account statements by email, phone, or SMS, or all of these—do whatever is necessary to make sure you receive them. If you don't receive a reminder to make a monthly payment, that will not affect the due date of that monthly payment.

Online Portal

The income-sharing manager maintains an online portal that will allow you to access a copy of this agreement, documentation relating to your account, and information about your payment terms, including the amount of your next monthly payment and when it's due and any past due amounts. Through this portal you will be able to update your information, upload documents, and change how you authorize payment of monthly amounts.

Account Reconciliation

Lambda School might review your account at any time to ensure that your monthly payments accurately reflect your earned income.

If you underpaid or failed to pay one or more monthly payments, Lambda School will notify you in writing of what you owe and any late charges. At Lambda School's discretion, any amount you owe will be added to one of your future monthly payments, will be spread evenly over up to six future monthly payments, or, if you are not required to make a monthly payment or if this agreement has been terminated, will be billed to you separately.

If you overpaid, Lambda School will notify you of the overpayment and reduce your next one or more monthly payments by the amount of the overpayment. If Lambda School discovers an overpayment after this agreement has terminated, it will refund the excess amount to you.

CHANGE OF STATUS

Withdrawing Early

If after the cancellation period has passed you withdraw from your program or are dismissed from the program, under your enrollment agreement you might be required to pay Lambda School an amount up to the maximum total amount you are required to pay under this agreement. You must notify Lambda School if you wish to withdraw from the program.

Disability

If you die or become disabled, as determined by the U.S. Social Security Administration or any other federal or state government agency, due to a condition that began or deteriorated after the date of this agreement, you will no longer be required to pay Lambda School what you owe under this agreement, including any past due amounts and fees.

If you die or become disabled, as determined by the U.S. Social Security Administration or any other federal or state government agency, due to a condition that began or deteriorated after the date of this agreement, you will no longer be required to pay Lambda School what you owe under this agreement, including any past due amounts and fees.

DEFAULT

Except as provided by law, you will be in default under this agreement if any of the following occurs:

- you do not pay a monthly payment in full when due or otherwise don't do something you promise to do in this agreement or your enrollment agreement
- you make an inaccurate statement of fact in this agreement or your enrollment agreement
- you provide inaccurate or incomplete information in your Lambda School application, your enrollment agreement, or any other written communication with Lambda School
- you begin a voluntary bankruptcy case under title 11 of the United States Code
- anyone begins an involuntary bankruptcy case against you under title 11 of the United States Code and either (1) the case is not dismissed by midnight at the end of the 60th day after it is begun or (2) the court hearing the case issues an order approving the case

- you fail generally to pay your debts as they become due (other than any debts for which you dispute in good faith your liability or the amount) or you acknowledge in writing that you are unable to do so

Remedies

If you are in default under this agreement, at Lambda School's request you must pay Lambda School the entire amount you owe under this agreement. Lambda School will also have all other remedies available by law.

DISPUTES

Arbitration

As the exclusive means of initiating adversarial proceedings to resolve any dispute arising out of this agreement, your Lambda School tuition, or your payments to Lambda School (other than any proceeding commenced by either party seeking an injunction, a restraining order, or any other equitable remedy or a proceeding commenced by either party in small claims court), either party may demand that the dispute be resolved by binding arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its Consumer Arbitration Rules available at www.adr.org. If AAA is completely unavailable, and if you and Lambda School cannot agree on a substitute, then either you or Lambda School may request that a court appoint a substitute. The rules in this arbitration agreement will be followed if there is disagreement between the agreement and the arbitration forum's procedures. Judgment on any award rendered in any such arbitration may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. This arbitration agreement is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (FAA).

Any such arbitration must be conducted by one arbitrator and must be conducted in San Francisco, California, the county with a major commercial airport nearest to where you live, or another mutually agreed location. If the claim is for $25,000 or less, you may choose whether the arbitration will be conducted (1) solely on the basis of documents submitted to the arbitrator or (2) by means of a hearing conducted by telephone.

No Class Action

YOU AND LAMBDA SCHOOL MAY EACH BRING CLAIMS AGAINST THE OTHER ONLY IN AN INDIVIDUAL CAPACITY AND NOT AS A PLAINTIFF OR CLASS MEMBER IN ANY PURPORTED CLASS OR REPRESENTATIVE PROCEEDING. CLAIMS OF TWO OR MORE PERSONS MAY NOT BE JOINED OR CONSOLIDATED IN THE SAME ARBITRATION UNLESS THEY ARISE FROM THE SAME TRANSACTION.

CEC Section 94869. To Operate

“To operate” means to establish, keep, or maintain any facility or location in this state where, or from which, or through which, postsecondary educational programs are provided.”

On December 5, 2018, Bureau staff investigated the complaint to determine if the Institution was operating as a private postsecondary educational institution. The Institution is listed as “Lambda School” on their website and is advertising to the public a set of introductory and immersive courses in Full Stack Web, iOS Development, Android Development, Data Science, and UX Design. Tuition costs are not listed as they offer Income Sharing Agreements (ISAs). The institution’s “How It Works” tab reads: “Lambda School trains people online to be software engineers at no up-front cost. Instead of paying tuition, students can agree to pay a percentage of their income after they’re employed, and only if they’re making more than $50k per year. If you don’t find a job, or don’t reach that level of income, you’ll never pay a cent.”

The Institution’s website indicates, as part of their FAQ tab, that students can pay an upfront tuition cost of $20,000 instead of signing an ISA. This evidence confirms that the Institution violated the requirement for an Approval to Operate, per CEC section 94886, as the Institution is operating unapproved and charging students over $2,500.00 in tuition and does not qualify for any of the exemptions under CEC section 94874.

On December 5, 2018, the Institution was contacted, via their website’s instant message option, requesting information regarding the function of their California campus location. A response was not received.

A business license listing was found for Lambda School with the City of Pleasanton.

Order of Abatement:

The Bureau orders that the Institution cease to operate as a private postsecondary educational institution, unless the Institution qualifies for an exemption under CEC section 94874. The Institution must discontinue recruiting or enrolling students and cease all instructional services and advertising in any form or type of media, including the <https://lambdaschool.com> and any other websites not identified here that are associated with the Institution, until such time as an approval to operate is obtained from the Bureau. The Institution must disconnect all telephone service numbers including but not limited to (800) 883-1943 that are associated with the Institution until such time as an approval to operate is obtained from the Bureau. The Institution must provide a roster of each student currently enrolled at the Institution. The roster must include the names of the students, their contact information (including

RE: Application for Approval to Operate for an Institution Not Accredited, #32274

Dear Ms. Tarca:

The Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education (Bureau) is in receipt of your Application for Approval to Operate for an Institution Non Accredited, received May 14, 2019. The Bureau makes every effort to be as complete and thorough as possible in our initial review of all documents.

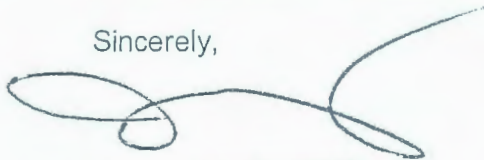

Unfortunately, at this time the Bureau is unable to grant approval, based on the requirements of the California Education Code (CEC) and Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations (CCR), in the Sections outlined below (The Educational Programs may be subject to a further in-depth review once we have corrected all of these deficiencies listed). Prior to approval, the Bureau must receive the following information:

Re: Lambda ISA in connection with Application for Approval to Operate for an Institution not Accredited, # 32274

Dear Ms. Ziniti:

This letter responds to your January 7, 2020 and February 27, 2020 letters, as well as the Gough & Hancock legal memorandum attached to your January 7 letter (the Lambda Memo), which evaluates generally the propriety of income sharing agreements (ISAs) under the California Private Postsecondary Education Act of 2009 (the Act), Education Code section 94800, et seq.

The Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education (the Bureau) is charged with interpreting and determining compliance with the Act, and in exercising its powers and performing its duties, the Bureau's priority is public protection. (Ed. Code, §§ 94875 & 94932.) The Bureau appreciates your helpful explanation of Lambda School's ISA, and your efforts to address the Bureau's previously-identified deficiencies about the school's application. As discussed below, however, the agreements do not comport with state disclosure and refunds laws and, for this reason, the Bureau cannot approve them.

As you know, in general, ISAs are educational program financing contracts between institutions and students, in which students agree to pay a percentage of their future income in exchange for an education. Depending on the terms of the ISA, it may cap the total amount a student owes under the agreement, charge interest, include varying income thresholds that trigger a student's obligation to pay, and defer payments at times when a student earns less than the income threshold.

Neither the Act nor its implementing regulations expressly contemplate ISAs as an educational program financing method. Generally speaking, the laws governing private postsecondary educational institutions are formed around educational programs with fixed up-front costs, rather than indeterminate and variable costs that only become clear upon obtaining work after the program is complete. Accordingly, the Act and its implementing regulations require institutions to make up-front disclosures to students regarding the true cost of their educational programs. Disclosures are required in the enrollment agreement, catalog, annual report, and the Student Performance Fact Sheets. (Ed. Code, §§ 94911, 94909, 94923; § 71800, subd. (e), 74112, subd. (f).) These costs include tuition and other fees, and they are used to calculate a student tuition recovery fund assessment and benefit, and refunds when a student withdraws or a school closes.

Under the Lambda ISA, students agree to pay Lambda a portion of their future income in return for receiving Lambda's educational program. (ISA at ¶ 2.) Your January 7, 2020, letter identified some of the key features of the Lambda ISA:

1. Payments are due when the student accepts a job making at least $50,000 annually in gross earned income.
2. The payments on the ISA are in the amount of 17% of that student's gross earned income, monthly. This percentage is fixed and cannot change.^[1]
3. After 24 payments or when payments made total more than the $30,000 tuition amount (whichever is sooner), payments stop.
4. For months during which earned income is less than the monthly amount equal to $50,000 annually, no payment is due.
5. If there are more than 60 total months where no payment is due, the ISA obligation terminates even if no payments have ever been made.

In addition, students must seek employment immediately following their completion of or withdrawal from the program, and any time thereafter that they make less than the minimum income threshold. (ISA at ¶¶ 4.a. & 10.e.) In the event of a withdrawal from the program, a student "may be entitled to a pro rata reduction" of the 17 percent income share amount, or the length of the payment term, at Lambda's sole discretion. (ISA at ¶ 7.d.) The ISA also includes detailed provisions governing student projected income and income reconciliation. (ISA at ¶¶ 4.c. & 5.) The ISA constitutes the entire agreement between Lambda and a student regarding payment for the educational program. (ISA at ¶ 23.a.)

Lambda's ISA financing model does not comport with the laws governing private postsecondary educational institutions because the inherent uncertainty in the actual program cost cannot be reconciled with the up-front disclosures that must be given to students.

Prior to enrollment, Lambda must provide prospective students with a school catalog, which must contain a “schedule of total charges for a period of attendance and an estimated schedule of total charges for the entire educational program.”² (Ed. Code, § 94909, subd. (a)(9).)

Students must also execute an enrollment agreement with Lambda to enroll at the school. (Ed. Code, § 94902, subd. (a).) Like the catalog, the enrollment agreement must include a “schedule of total charges,” “the total charges for the current period of attendance, the estimated total charges for the entire educational program, and the total charges the student is obligated to pay upon enrollment.” (Ed. Code, § 94911, subds. (b) & (c); see also Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 71800, subd. (e) [itemizing the charges that must be listed in an enrollment agreement, including the cost of tuition].)

“Total charges” is defined as “the sum of institutional and noninstitutional charges.” (Ed. Code, § 94870.) “Institutional charges” are “charges for an educational program paid directly to an institution.” (Ed. Code, § 94844.) “Noninstitutional charges” are “charges for an educational program paid to an entity other than an institution that are specifically required for participation in an educational program.” (Ed. Code, § 94850.) The term “charge” is not defined in the Act, but the dictionary defines “charge” as “the price set or asked for something” and “a debt or an entry in an account recording a debt.” (American Heritage Dict. (2d Collegeed. 1985), p. 260[.]) Tuition refers to the “cost for instruction normally charged on a per unit or per hour basis.” (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 70000, subd. (ab).)

Under the Lambda ISA, the amount students will eventually be charged to complete Lambda’s educational program is uncertain. Lambda’s enrollment agreement lists the tuition cost and total charges at $30,000, which is also the maximum amount charged under the ISA for completing the program. But the enrollment agreement also refers students to the ISA for additional “detailed disclosures and additional information about payment, deferrals, and other important items.” And under the ISA, as your letter acknowledges, the total cost “for a student electing an ISA will vary depending on the student. A student may end up paying less, but students would never pay more than what is disclosed.” Thus, while the enrollment agreement reflects a fixed $30,000 tuition cost, in actuality, the program costs somewhere between $0 and $30,000, depending on a student’s future income. Since the cost of tuition will vary by student, the disclosure of a fixed $30,000 cost neither accurately reflects the total program costs, nor does it comport with the requirement to disclose the cost “normally charged” for tuition.³

An example illustrates why the Lambda ISA financing model does not conform to the Act and regulations. Even though the enrollment agreement lists the tuition and total charges as fixed at $30,000, under the Lambda ISA, a student making $50,000 per year would actually pay just $17,000 for the educational program after 24 months. By contrast, a student earning $100,000 per year would pay the full $30,000 in less than 21 months for the same educational program. Other students who complete the program may each end up paying a different amount over a different duration. In all cases, at the point of initial disclosure, the total cost of the educational program is uncertain, because the amount each student will end up paying is uncertain. Because there is no true fixed cost for the program for students executing an ISA, Lambda cannot accurately disclose the total charges or tuition with certainty.

² With respect to Lambda’s program, the “period of attendance” and the “entire educational program” are the same. (See Ed. Code, § 94854.)

Lambda's ISA financing also does not comport with the laws governing cancellations, withdrawals and refunds. Institutions must have a refund policy for the return of unearned institutional charges if the student cancels an enrollment agreement or withdraws during a period of attendance. (Ed. Code, § 94920, subd. (d).) "The refund policy for students who have completed 60 percent or less of the period of attendance shall be a pro rata refund." (Ibid.) Likewise, when an institution defaults on the enrollment agreement, it must provide refunds to students on a pro rata basis if the school established a teach-out program. (Ed. Code, § 94927.) If no such teach-out is offered, the institution must provide a total refund. (Ibid.) Refunds must be paid within 45 days of cancelation or withdrawal, and the enrollment agreement must contain the institution's refund policy. (Ed. Code, §§ 94911, subd. (e)(2), 94920, subd. (e); Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 71750, subd. (e), 71800, subd. (d).)

The Bureau's regulations prescribe how pro rata refunds must be calculated. Such refunds "shall be no less than the total amount owed by the student for the portion of the educational program provided subtracted from the amount paid by the student" (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 71750, subd. (c).)

For students that execute Lambda's ISA, the amount owed to Lambda is uncertain, and no amounts are owed until after a student completes or withdraws from the program, and after a student earns income that exceeds the minimum income threshold. (ISA at ¶¶ 4.a.) Consequently, Lambda cannot comply with the law's refund requirements. Lambda must have a pro rata refund policy for students who completed 60 percent or less of their coursework, or in the event of a default. (Ed. Code, §§ 94920, subd. (d), 94927.) The refund policy cannot be less than the total amount owed by the student for the completed portion of the program, subtracted from any amount paid by the student. Since, however, it is not possible to accurately calculate in advance the amount a student owes for a portion of the program, Lambda cannot adopt a policy that conforms to the Act and regulations. Moreover, the Act and regulations contemplate a "refund" and "return" of monies already paid within 45 days of cancelation or withdrawal, not a future reduction in the amount eventually owed. Thus, the Lambda ISA financing model does not comport with the Act and regulations.

The Bureau may authorize an alternative method for calculating tuition refunds, but only in cases in which the prescribed refund calculations "cannot be utilized because of the unique way in which the educational program is structured" (Ed. Code, § 94921.)

Cecilia Ziniti

The enrollment agreement proposes an alternative pro rata refund policy, but Lambda's proposed alternative is a consequence of the unique way Lambda's financing is structured, and not the unique way its educational program is structured. For this reason, the Bureau may not approve the alternative refund calculation reflected in the enrollment agreement. (See Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 71800, subd. (d).)

In addition, the withdrawal and refund policies described in the enrollment agreement conflict with the ISA. The enrollment agreement provides that students may withdraw without owing any tuition or penalty before the last class of "Sprint 5"—i.e., week five or week 10 of the program, depending on whether the student attends full-time or part-time. Students who withdraw between Sprint 5 and Sprint 12 are responsible for a pro-rata portion of the total amount ($30,000) that may ultimately be paid to Lambda under the ISA. The enrollment agreement provides that the pro rata amount will be "communicated to your ISA service provider for adjustment." Although withdrawal relieves students of the enrollment agreement's obligations, it does not relieve them of their ISA obligations. The enrollment agreement provides that for students electing to finance their education via an ISA, "the terms of that agreement control your obligations under it."

Contrary to the enrollment agreement, which provides for a pro rata reduction in the total amount owed, the ISA provides little information about how withdrawals and refunds will be calculated. It provides that Lambda may reduce on a pro rata basis the income share percentage owed to Lambda under the agreement, or reduce the length of the payment term, at Lambda's "sole discretion." (ISA at ¶ 7.d.) Lambda is not bound under the ISA to the pro rata cost reduction that is specified in the enrollment agreement, nor is it required to make any reduction in the total amount charged to students. Thus, the enrollment agreement does not accurately reflect Lambda's refund policy, in view of the ISA.

Finally, we do not agree with the suggestion in the Lambda Memo that Lambda's ISA is not subject to Article 12 of the Act relating to consumer loans. In particular, Education Code section 94916 requires an institution extending credit or lending money for charges such as tuition to provide a specified notice to students on "any note, instrument, or other evidence of indebtedness taken in connection with that extension of credit or loan" The enrollment agreement denotes that the ISA is such a loan, and the Bureau concurs. The enrollment agreement incorporates the notice requirement specified in Education Code section 94916, signifying that Lambda is an institution that extends credit or lends money. Indeed, under the ISA, Lambda credits students up to $30,000 in tuition costs in exchange for a share of their future income. As an instrument or evidence of indebtedness, the ISA should also contain the consumer notice specified in section 94916, but it does not.

For these reasons, the Bureau cannot at this time approve Lambda's application. If you have any questions regarding this letter or would like to continue our discussion, please contact me at your convenience.

- Foster among students, faculty, and staff a commitment to life-long learning.
- Provide opportunities for students to exercise a positive influence and be productive in society.
- Prepare students for entry-level employment in the computer science field.

OBJECTIVES

In order to fulfill its mission, Lambda is committed to the following objectives for its educational and training programs:

- To provide the basic and prerequisite knowledge to specialize in the computer science field.
- To educate students to become well qualified professionals in their chosen field.
- To provide practical training to enhance students' capabilities in their chosen field.

GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORY

Founded in 2017, Lambda School ("Lambda") is a unique model of higher education in which the school invests in its students, instead of the other way around. Lambda offers no upfront tuition costs. Tuition payments do not have to begin until students find a job within field providing an annual salary of at least $50,000. This commitment from Lambda School supports its mission to find untapped or underutilized talent and train that talent for in-demand jobs in the computer science field. The school is headquartered in San Francisco, while students attend remotely. The school has raised funds previously from investors including Y Combinator, Google Ventures, Bedrock Capital, and Tandem. Given the no upfront cost tuition model of Lambda, our school demographics typically cater to minority and diverse students. Our student body is far more diverse than the general population.

Lambda School will provide an educational environment that respects the values of individual students and their intellectual, cultural, and social development. It is Lambda School's objective to:

- Foster among students, faculty, and staff a commitment to life-long learning.
- Provide opportunities for students to exercise a positive influence and be productive in society.
- Prepare students for entry-level employment in the computer science field.

OBJECTIVES

In order to fulfill its mission, Lambda is committed to the following objectives for its educational and training programs:

- To provide the basic and prerequisite knowledge to specialize in the computer science field.
- To educate students to become well qualified professionals in their chosen field.
- To provide practical training to enhance students' capabilities in their chosen field.

GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORY

Founded in 2017, Lambda School ("Lambda") is a unique model of higher education in which the school invests in its students, instead of the other way around. Lambda offers no upfront tuition costs. Tuition payments do not have to begin until students find a job within field providing an annual salary of at least $50,000. This commitment from Lambda School supports its mission to find untapped or underutilized talent and train that talent for in-demand jobs in the computer science field. The school is headquartered in San Francisco, while students attend remotely. The school has raised funds previously from investors including Y Combinator, Google Ventures, Bedrock Capital, and Tandem. Given the no upfront cost tuition model of Lambda, our school demographics typically cater to minority and diverse students. Our student body is far more diverse than the general population.

EXHIBIT L

Human Capital: The Last Unoptimized Asset Class

Lambda School is a full-stack solution that helps people get better jobs and earn more money.

Today, if a person is working in the wrong job or making less than they otherwise could, the only solution we have is encouraging them to go into student debt, spend several years in a university, and hope they figure it out on the other side. It's expensive, time consuming, and risky.

Lambda School, instead, identifies people who could be making more money, trains them for higher paying jobs at no upfront cost, helps them get those jobs, and takes a cut only when we're successful in doing so. It takes less time, is less expensive, and, most importantly, carries no financial risk for the customer.

We do so by means of a financial instrument called an "Income Share Agreement," which is a legally binding equity stake in a person's future earnings that only applies within certain thresholds. For example, today students only pay us back if they're making more than $50k/year. If they reach that rate they pay us 17% of salary for two years, capped at a maximum of $30k total.

Here's just a few categories of people who make more money via Lambda School

- 1. College Graduates with Low-Paying Degrees. Smart people who earned, say, an Arts History degree and now struggle to make decent money. These people also often have student loan balances which makes Lambda a great fit, since they don't take on additional financial risk.
- 2. People Who Didn't Finish College. The same as above except they didn't actually finish and therefore have no degree. They're often in worse jobs with even fewer options, and usually have student loans too.
- 3. Mid Lifers. People who've been working in the same field for 20+ years and know they need to change. This often comes from the self awareness that their current industry is dying, which can make them a smart choice for Lambda to bet on.
- 4. Never Went to College. Only 25% of American graduate from college, so this is a huge bucket. There are lots of smart, hard working people here who simply didn't have the opportunity to go to school.
- 5. High School Graduates. Recent grads who want a high-paying job without having to go through 4 years of irrelevant curriculum and take on 6 figures of student loans.

And there's enormous demand from employers. There were 3.7 million technology job postings in 2017 alone[1].

Full Stack

In order to make Lambda School work, we need to solve multiple problems at once:

1. Underwriting. Since we aren't paid upfront, we need to reliably identify people our programs can be successful for and match them to the correct programs.

We created a test that all students must pass to be admitted to Lambda. And

2. Successful, free upfront, online courses. Most schools will tell you fully online courses aren't successful. Most schools will tell you courses being entirely free upfront won't be successful. We do both at the same time.

85% of students that start Lambda, finish Lambda. That's 9 months of full time, remote instruction. We do it by building in social accountability. The school isn't just a bunch of videos that you watch on your own time. It's live, and every day students are interacting with their classmates, instructors, and other Lambda employees.

3. Placement that scales. Our students are in all 50 states and will be all over the world. We have to be able to reliably get them hired at scale wherever they are.

Employers are constantly pinging us to talk to our students. We just started an SDR program but otherwise all employer interest is inbound. While all the blue chips (Google, Amazon, Apple, Netflix, etc.) have hired our students, our bread and butter is all the non-sexy tech jobs in places and cities you've never heard of. Today "every company is a tech company" and they all need engineers.

We're already seeing employers hire 1 Lambda student, then come back and hire 20 more.

And the students we've placed at those employers help advocate for and bring on even more students. Our alumni network will be a powerful moat.

4. Finance. Since students pay monthly after they're hired, we have to fund them to get there. Currently we sell some income share agreements to hedge funds. Over time we'll raise our own capital and hold everything on our books.

Not surprisingly, it's difficult to get all of the pieces working in sync. It's taken us two years of experimentation and iteration, but we now have the model working and ready to optimize.

Flywheel

Once the process is working, each piece can be optimized in order to provide a durable sustainable advantage.

We started by eliminating the upfront cost and putting the program entirely online, opening up access to Lambda School to many students who wouldn't be able to afford the upfront cost or risk of moving to and/or attending universities or code schools.

We then had to figure out how to make a free upfront, fully online course work. Making it work gives us good data, which lowers our cost of capital, and as we scale our cost per student goes down and our hiring network grows.

One competitive advantage of being online is we have zero physical classrooms. This helps in multiple ways:

- Allows us to spin up “virtual classrooms” fast, grow more quickly, and adapt to where the actual student demand is (vs. being stuck with a building & location any time a new lease is signed)
- Allows us to meet employer demand everywhere we have students
- Eliminates leasing costs
- Our costs per student are amortized across many more students

Unit economics for our full-time 9 month course, per placed student

Instructor Cost	$1,882
TA Cost	$3,197
Career Coach Cost	$790
Student Success Cost	$168
Total Cost Per Placed Grad	$6,037

As the cost of capital goes down, we can either take on more risk (by offering living stipends) or decrease the price.

As we do so it becomes increasingly difficult for other schools to compete. It's a completely different model.

Product Overview

The core value Lambda offers is to get a job in a new field in the fastest time at the lowest risk.

This is possible because of the following:

- Live, online, remote instruction that lets anyone with an internet connection participate
- Our pedagogy and Flex instruction model, which enables students to repeat curriculum until they understand it
- Our ISA, which aligns the incentives of the institution with those of the student
- Student-facing proprietary infrastructure that enables a modern, world class educational experience
- Our placement partners, who actively come to Lambda to recruit new hires
- An organic community where alumni and students help each other

Lambda School offers multiple courses:

- Full Stack Web Development
- iOS Development
- Android Development
- Data Science Development
- UX Design

Each course can be taken full time over 9 months or part time (nights and weekends) over 18 months.

Our training is live and online, meaning we can reach students everywhere and aren't required to build out physical infrastructure. Students learn live from world class instructors and break out teams of 8.

The main building piece of our curriculum is the 5-week block. All courses are built of 5-week blocks, and every block at Lambda starts on the same date.

By running the entire school in sync, we get synergies around admissions, instruction, and placement. For example, students can work on group projects with students in other courses because their project time always falls on the same week in the 5-week block. This allows things like Full Stack Web Development students working with Data Science and UX students on different parts of the same project, which more closely resembles real world working conditions.

Each course includes an integrated jobs curriculum which is taught alongside the technical curriculum. The core value we deliver is a risk-free technical education combined with an integrated job placement program.

Competition

Relative to 4-year universities, Lambda offers students a faster, risk-free way of getting training and ultimately getting a job. 4 years is a long time that potential students are now beginning to recognize comes with significant opportunity costs. And the entire country is obsessing over the downsides of non-dischargeable student loans. We have a school wide NPS of 68, higher than many of the most famous consumer brands in the world (Netflix, Amazon). People trust their universities, but they don't love them. Our students love Lambda, and have even gotten tattoos of our logo.

Relative to trade schools, Lambda is faster and carries less risk. You're required to pay for the trade school regardless of whether you get a job. And it can take significant time (> 2 years) to get through a trade school. At Lambda our full-time class is 9 months, which means in less than a year a student can start, graduate, and get a job. 9 months is short enough to allow students from all backgrounds to join, but long enough to give students enough time to learn detailed, difficult curriculum.

Relative to non-accredited tech bootcamps our school is long enough so that you can actually learn the material. Most tech bootcamps are 3 months because their costs don't allow them to teach any longer. And their market is fundamentally limited to people who can afford upfront tuition of $20,000. And because all our training is remote, we can reach anybody. These are small, niche players who don't have significant impact beyond their local geography in big cities.

Performance

Concurrent Students	302	1,602	640%

Management Outlook

When a Lambda School student is hired for $75k/yr, they pay us back approximately $25k.

At 4,000 placed software engineers/year we'll hit a $100mm/yr run rate.

In 2019 we'll enroll over 3,000 students. In May 2019 well enroll over 500. We plan on enrolling more than 10,000 students in 2020.

International

In January of 2019 we launched in the European Union, we'll launch in Canada in Q2 of 2019, and we have pilots running in Africa and India. Once the entire engine is working it will scale internationally.

Other Fields

We recently launched programs for UX Design and Data Science, but this scales far beyond software.

Once the engine is working, it also scales to other verticals. Cyber security, product management, marketing to begin with, but after that job fields as disparate as Customer Service or Nursing are on our radar.

Strenghts

Alumni Community Creates a Powerful Moat

- Some partners have over 20 Lambda grads, triggered by their hiring of a single Lambda student
- Lambda graduates advocate for each other based on the school community alone.
- We're already seeing Lambda students promoted to positions of authority. With more time, we'll continue to see grads rise up the ranks and exert more influence on how their companies hire.

Higher NPS as Class Sizes Increase

- Our NPS score is higher by 20+% in our larger classes
 - Speaks to the power of the Lambda community, which is an important differentiator

Organic growth taking share from bootcamp competitors

- 314% increase in student starts from April'19 to April'18
- Competitors continue to market against Lambda (but not other schools) because students are moving away from the upfront tuition model

Retention

- 85% of students that start Lambda, finish Lambda. That's 9 months of full time, remote instruction. We do it by building in social accountability. The school isn't just a bunch of videos that you watch on your own time. It's live, and every day students are interacting with their classmates, instructors, and other Lambda employees.

Placement that Scales

- Inbound bluechip interest (Uber, Google, Amazon, etc.)
- "Every company is a tech company". Students getting hired in large batches in places like Minnesota.

- “Land and expand” strategy already working organically w/o additional effort from Lambda
- Can work with employers anywhere because we’re online

Market Leader in ISAs

- Largest originator of ISAs in the US
- “Lambda” name synonymous with ISAs

Unbundling Universities

- Colleges offer tons of services in 1 package: schooling, cultural learning, job placement help, sports, socializing, becoming an adult, etc.
- Lambda unbundles the university and offers what people are actually looking for: a high-paying job

Risks & Mitigants

We admit the wrong people (e.g. people who don’t want jobs, people who won’t succeed, etc.)

- Some students are “life long learners” and are genuinely interested in learning but don’t want a job
- Some students are unable to succeed in a technical career

Mitigants:

- Improving jobs curriculum so that students cannot proceed in their technical education if they’re not completing their jobs training and benchmarks
- Offering non-technical training + jobs (e.g. nursing) so that students can come to us, we offer them a test, and then recommend what we think they’d be best at

ISAs are made illegal or significantly limited

- Some political circles dislike ISAs and/or think they work against a “4 year free degree for everyone”
- Bad taste in their mouth from for-profit schools like Devry and University of Phoenix

Mitigants:

- Proactively lobbying in DC for ISA legislation that will create a framework that is reasonable
- Joined an ISA steering committee initiative to work with other companies in the ISA space to form ISA legislation

Collections could be too low

- Still unknown at scale what % of students will pay their ISAs

Mitigants:

- Working on legislation that allows for employers to make payments
- Legislation that allows credit reporting for ISA non-payment
- Legislation that creates better reporting mechanisms on student income

We're unable to place students at scale

- We're at roughly 50% placement for cohorts that are 6 months graduated
- Placement to date has been manual and one-off, which isn't possible at scale

Mitigants:

- Growing the alumni network.
- Building tools to help connect Lambda grads with current Lambda students
- Creating internal tools to make the job search as easy as possible for students
- Working with employment partners to get hiring and interview guarantees

Moving into new industries and geographies uses too few synergies from our US tech organization

- New geographies/industries require entirely new employer partnerships
- Management's network and expertise is in tech, how much will translate to industries like nursing?

Mitigants:

- Using our strong brand to hire world class general managers to run these new businesses
- Starting slow, growing purposefully when and where it makes sense
