21 AJAY KIRPEKAR, individually and on behalf
22 of all others similarly situated,

23 Plaintiff,

24 vs.

25 ZOOM VIDEO COMMUNICATIONS, INC.
26 a Delaware corporation,

27 Defendant

Case No.: 5:20-cv-03042

COMPLAINT FOR DAMAGES AND EQUITABLE RELIEF

CLASS ACTION

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

28 Plaintiff Ajay Kirpekar (“Plaintiff”) brings this class action complaint against Defendant
Zoom Video Communications, Inc. (“Zoom” or “Defendant”), on behalf of himself, and all others similarly situated, and alleges, upon personal knowledge as to his own actions and his

1 counsel's investigations, and upon information and belief as to all others matters, as follows:

2 NATURE OF ACTION

3 1. Zoom provides an overwhelmingly popular online video conferencing platform,
4 which includes remote conferencing services, online meetings, chat, and mobile collaboration.
5 Zoom's chief product is "Zoom Meetings." Its use by consumers and businesses has exploded in 6 the face of the current COVID-19 virus pandemic that is impacting the world and while a
7 majority of American are currently under "stay home" or "shelter in place" directives. Naturally,
8 consumers have flooded to Zoom, and other web conferencing vendors, as a means to more
9 safely maintain closeness with friends and loved ones and conduct business. Not surprisingly,
10 Zoom's stock price has skyrocketed, up over 115% in the last two months (since late January 11 2020).

14 2. Zoom, however, has failed to properly safeguard the personal information of the 15 increasing millions of users of its software application ("Zoom App") and video conferencing
16 platform. Upon installing or upon each opening of the Zoom App, Zoom collects the personal 17 information of its users and discloses, without adequate notice or authorization, this personal 18 information to third parties, including Facebook, Inc. ("Facebook"), invading the privacy of 19 millions of users.
20

21 3. By this action, Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and the members of the Class
22 defined below, seeks damages and equitable relief to remedy Defendant's violations of 23 California's Unfair Competition Law, Consumers Legal Remedies Act, and Consumer Privacy
24 Act.
25

26 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

27 4. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over the claims alleged in this 28

1 Complaint pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. §1332(d)(2)(A) because: (a) this
2 is a class action in which the matter or controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5,000,000,
3 exclusive of interest and costs; and (b) a significant portion of members of the proposed Class
4 are citizens of a state that is different from the citizenship of Defendant.
5

6 5. The Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Plaintiff’s claims
7 arise out of the business activities conducted by Defendant in California.

8 6. Venue is proper in the Northern District of California under 27 U.S.C. § 1391(b), 9 (c), and (d) because: Defendant transacts business in this District; a substantial portion of the 10 affected commerce described herein was carried out in this District; and because some of the 11 members of the Class reside in this District.

13 INTRADISTRICT ASSIGNMENT

14 7. Under Local Rule 3-2, this civil action should be assigned to the San Jose
15 Division, because a substantial part of the events or omissions which give rise to the claim
16 occurred in Santa Clara County.
17

18 PARTIES

19 8. Plaintiff Ajay Kirpekar (“Kirpekar”) is an individual citizen and resident of 20 Irvine, CA. Kirpekar has downloaded, installed, and opened the Zoom App.
21

22 9. Defendant Zoom Video Communications, Inc. is a Delaware corporation
23 headquartered in San Jose, California.

24 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

25 10. Zoom provides video communications products and services to companies and 26 individuals throughout California and the United States. Zoom users can host or participate in a
27 Zoom videoconference through several means, including the use of the Zoom App for iOS
28

1 (Apple) devices, an app for Android devices, an app for MacOS, or through a web browser.

2 11. The Zoom App may be identified as “ZOM Cloud Meetings” app on the iOS app
3 store. Zoom states that the Zoom App allows users to “Stay connected wherever you go—start
4 or join a meeting with flawless video, crystal clear audio, instant screen sharing, and cross-
5 platform instant messaging – for free!”
6

7 12. Zoom boasts its appreciation for the importance of maintaining its users’ privacy,
8 stating on its website “You trust us to connect you to the people that matter. We value that trust
9 more than anything else. We want you to know what data we collect and how we use it to 10 provide our service.” (<https://zoom.us/privacy-and-legal>). Zoom’s Privacy Policy purports to 11 identify and disclose to its users all the information Zoom automatically collects from its users
12 when they interact with Zoom’s products.
13

14 13. However, Defendant’s statements regarding the inviolability of its users’ privacy
15 and personal information are false because Defendant’s wholly inadequate program design and 16 security measures have resulted, and will continue to result, in unauthorized disclosure of its 17 users’ personal information to third parties, including Facebook.
18

19 14. Zoom represents in its Privacy Policy that it “utilize[s] a combination of industry-20 standard security technologies, procedures, and organizational measures to help protect your 21 Personal Data from unauthorized access, use, or disclosure.” Despite Zoom’s representations in 22 its posted Privacy Policy that it “utilize[s] a combination of industry-standard security
23 technologies, procedures, and organizational measures to help protect your Personal Data from 24 unauthorized access, use, or disclosure.” Zoom however included in the Zoom App, without any 25 adequate disclosure to users, code that made undisclosed disclosures of users’ personal 26 information to Facebook and possibly other third parties.
27
28

1 15. On March 26, 2020, Joseph Cox posted a report on Motherboard for the Vice
2 Media Group documenting the behavior of the Zoom App’s unauthorized disclosure of user
3 personal information to Facebook. ([https://www.vice.com/en_us/article/jged4x/envestnet-
4 yodlee-credit-card-card-bank-data-not-anonymous](https://www.vice.com/en_us/article/jged4x/envestnet-yodlee-credit-card-card-bank-data-not-anonymous)). The report states “The Zoom app notifies
5 Facebook when the user opens the app, details on the user’s device such as the model, the time
6 zone and city they are connecting from, which phone carrier they are using, and a unique 7 advertiser identifier created by the user’s device which companies can use to target a user with 8 advertisements.” As stated in the Motherboard report, the findings by Mr. Cox were verified by 9 Will Strafach, an iOS researcher and founder of the privacy-focused iOS app Guardian.
10

12 16. The unauthorized information is sent to Facebook when a user installs, and each
13 time a user opens, the Zoom App. This information includes, but is not limited to, the users’
14 mobile OS (operating system) type and version, the device time zone, the device model and the 15 device’s unique advertising identifier. The unique advertising identifier allows companies to 16 target the user with advertisements. This information is sent to Facebook by Zoom regardless of 17 whether the user has an account with Facebook.
18

19 17. The amount of money Zoom receives from Facebook, and possibly other third
20 parties, is unknown by Plaintiff.
21

22 18. Had Zoom informed its users that it would use inadequate security measures and 23 permit unauthorized third-party tracking of their personal information, users – like Plaintiff and 24 Class members – would not have been willing to use the Zoom App. Instead, Plaintiff and Class
25 members would have forgone using Zoom and/or chosen a different video conferencing product
26 that did not send their personal information to Facebook, or any other third party.
27

28 19. Zoom’s failure to implement adequate security protocols and failure to provide

1 accurate disclosures to its users violated those users' privacy and falls well short of Zoom's
2 promises.

3 20. On March 27, 2020, Zoom publicly admitted in a blog entry on its website that 4 the Zoom App was sending at least the following personal information to Facebook upon
5 installation and each open and close of the Zoom App: Application Bundle Identifier,
6 Application Instance ID, Application Version, Device Disk Space Available, iOS Device Disk
7 CPU Cores, iOS Device Disk Space Available, iOS Device Disk Space Remaining, iOS Device
8 Display Dimensions, iOS Device Model, iOS Language, iOS Timezone, iOS Version, and IP
9 Address. Zoom further admitted that these unauthorized disclosures for which no adequate notice
10 was provided to users began when Zoom implemented a "Login with Facebook" feature using 11 the Facebook's software development kit ("SDK") for iOS.

14 21. Also on March 27, 2020, Zoom released a new version of the Zoom App which 15 purports to no longer send unauthorized personal information of its users to Facebook. However,
16 even assuming this updated version works as described by Zoom, the harm to Plaintiff and the 17 Class members has been done and continues. Zoom appears to have taken no action to block any 18 of the prior versions of the Zoom App from operating. Thus, unless users affirmatively update
19 their Zoom App, they likely will continue to unknowingly send unauthorized personal
20 information to Facebook, and perhaps other third parties. Zoom could have forced all iOS users
21 to update to the new Zoom App to continue using Zoom but appears to have chosen not to.
22 Moreover, Zoom's making of an ostensibly corrected Zoom App does nothing to remedy the 23 unauthorized disclosures made by Zoom to date. Zoom has not ensured that Facebook (or anyone 24 else, including others with whom Facebook has shared this personal information) has deleted all 25 the personal information that it received from Zoom without adequate notice or authorization by 26
27
28

1 Zoom’s users. Finally, Zoom has not taken any actions to compensate its users for its failure to 2 properly safeguard their personal information in violation of their right of privacy and
3 California’s consumer protection laws.
4

5 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

6 22. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of himself, and as a class action under the 7 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 23(a), (b)(2) and (b)(3), seeking injunctive relief and 8 damages pursuant to federal law and California unfair competition, consumer protection, and 9 privacy laws on behalf of the members of the following class:
10

11 All persons and businesses in the United States whose personal or 12 private information was collected and/or disclosed by Zoom to a
13 third party upon installation or opening of the Zoom video
14 conferencing application (the “Class”).

15 23. Specifically excluded from the Class are the Defendant; the officers, directors or 16 employees of the Defendant; any entity in which the Defendant has a controlling interest; and 17 any affiliate, legal representative, heir or assign of the Defendant. Also excluded from the Class
18 are any federal, state or local governmental entities, any judicial officer presiding over this action
19 and the members of his/her immediate family and judicial staff, any juror assigned to this action.
20 Business entities are excluded from the Class for purposes of Plaintiff’s claim for relief under the 21 California Consumers Legal Remedies Act.

22 24. Members of the Class are readily identifiable from Defendant’s records.

23 25. Members of the Class are so numerous that individual joinder of all the members
24 is impracticable. Although the precise number and identification of Class members is unknown
25 to Plaintiff at this time and can be ascertained only through appropriate discovery of Defendant.
26 The Class is believed to comprise millions of individuals and businesses.
27

28 26. This action is brought and may properly be maintained as a class action pursuant

1 to the provision of Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(a)(1)-(4) and 23(b)(1)-(3). This action
2 satisfies the numerosity, commonality, typicality, adequacy, predominance, and superiority
3 requirements of those provisions. Common questions of fact and law exist as to all Class
4 members which predominate over all questions affecting only individual Class members. These 5 common legal and factual questions, which do not vary from Class member to Class member,
6 and which may be determined without reference to the individual circumstances of any Class
7 member, include the following:
8

- 9 a. Whether Defendant failed to adequately safeguard Plaintiff's and Class 10 members' property, including their personal information;
- 11 b. Whether Defendant's engaged in unfair or deceptive practices by failing to 12 properly safeguard Plaintiff's and Class members' personal information;
- 13 c. Whether Defendant violated the applicable consumer protection statutes,
14 including Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code section 17200, Civil Code section 1770, 15 and Civil Code section 1798 applicable to Plaintiff and members of the 16 Class;
17
- 18 d. Whether Defendant acted negligently in failing to properly safeguard
19 Plaintiff's and Class members' personal information;
- 20 e. Whether Zoom collected and disclosed personal information of Plaintiff and 21 the Class to third parties without first providing notice of such collection 22 and/or disclosure;
- 23 f. Whether Plaintiff and the other members of the Class are entitled to, among 24 other things, injunctive relief, and if so, the nature and extent of such 25 injunctive relief; and 26
27
28

1 g. The appropriate class-wide measure of damages.

2 These and other questions of law or fact, which are common to the members of the Class,
3 predominate over any questions affecting only individual Class members.
4

5 27. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the Class members. Plaintiff and 6 other Class members must prove the same facts in order to establish the same claims, described 7 herein, which similarly apply to all Class members.

8 28. Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the Class because he is a member of the 9 Class and his interests do not conflict with the interests of the Class members he seeks to 10 represent. Plaintiff has retained counsel competent and experienced in the prosecution of 11 complex class action litigation, and together Plaintiff and its counsel intend to prosecute this 12 action vigorously for the benefit of the Class. The interests of Class members will be fairly and 13 adequately protected by Plaintiff and his counsel.
14

15 29. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient
16 adjudication of this litigation since individual litigation of the claims of all Class members is 17 impracticable. Even if every Class member could afford individual litigation, the court system
18 could not. It would be unduly burdensome to the courts, in which individual litigation of 19 hundreds of cases would proceed. Individual litigation presents a potential for inconsistent or 20 contradictory judgments, the prospect of a race for the courthouse, and an inequitable allocation
21 of recovery among those with equally meritorious claims. Individual litigation increases the 22 expense and delay to all parties and the court system in resolving the legal and factual issues
23 common to all Class members' claims relating to Defendant's unlawful conduct. By contrast, the 24 class action device presents far fewer management difficulties and provides the benefit of a
25 single adjudication, economies of scale, and comprehensive supervision by a single court.
26
27
28

1 33. Through the above-detailed conduct, Defendant violated the CCPA by, among 2 other things, collecting and using personal information without providing consumers with 3 adequate notice consistent with the CCPA, in violation of Civil Code section 1798.100(b).
4

5 34. Defendant further violated Civil Code section 1798.150(a) of the CCPA by failing
6 to prevent Plaintiff's and the Class members' nonencrypted and nonredacted personal 7 information from unauthorized disclosure as a result of Defendant's violation of its duty to 8 implement and maintain reasonable security procedures and practices appropriate to the nature of 9 the information to protect the personal information of Plaintiff and Class members.
10

11 35. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendant's act, Plaintiff's and the Class 12 members' personal information was subjected to unauthorized disclosure as a result of 13 Defendant's violation of the duty; through the Zoom App where personal information was 14 regularly collected and sent to Facebook and possibly other third parties without authorization.
15

16 36. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's act, Plaintiff and the Class
17 members were injured and lost money or property, including but not limited to the price received
18 by Defendant for the services, the loss of the Class members' legally protected interest in the 19 confidentiality and privacy of their personal information, nominal damages, and additional losses
20 as described above.
21

22 37. Defendant knew or should have known that the Zoom App security practices were 23 inadequate to safeguard the Class members' personal information and that the risk of 24 unauthorized disclosure to at least Facebook was highly likely. Defendant failed to implement 25 and maintain reasonable security procedures and practices appropriate to the nature of the 26 information to protect the personal information of Plaintiff and the Class members.
27

28 38. Zoom is a corporation that is organized and operated for the profit or financial

1 benefit of its owners with a reported total third-quarter revenue for fiscal year 2020 of $166.6
2 million. Zoom collects users' personal information as defined in Civil Code section 1798.140.

3 39. In accordance with Civil Code section 1798.150(b), Plaintiff has served
4 Defendant with notice of these CCPA violations and a demand for relief by certified mail, return
5 receipt requested.
6

7 40. On behalf of Class members, Plaintiff seeks injunctive relief in the form of an 8 order enjoining Defendant from continuing to violate the CCPA. If Defendant fails to properly
9 respond to Plaintiff's notice letter or agree to timely and adequately rectify the violations detailed 10 above, Plaintiff also will seek actual, punitive, and statutory damages in an amount not less than 11 one hundred dollars ($100) and not greater than seven hundred and fifty ($750) per consumer per 12 incident, whichever is greater; restitution; attorneys' fees and costs (pursuant to Cal. Code Civ.
13 Proc. §1021.5); and any other relief the Court deems proper as a result of Defendant's CCPA 14 violations.
15

16 SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

17 Unlawful and Unfair Business Practices
18 In violation of Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, *et seq.

19 41. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth
20 herein.
21

22 42. California's Unfair Competition Law ("UCL") prohibits any "unlawful, unfair, or 23 fraudulent business act or practice and unfair, deceptive, untrue or misleading advertising." Cal.
24 Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200.
25

26 43. Defendant engaged in unlawful activity prohibited by the UCL. The actions of 27 Defendant as alleged within this Complaint constitute unlawful and unfair business practices
28 within the meaning of the UCL.

1 44. Defendant has conducted the following unlawful activities:

2 k. violations of the CLRA, Civil Code section 1770;

3 l. violations of the CCPA, Civil Code section 1798.100(b); and

4 m. invasion of Plaintiffs' and Class members rights of privacy under the 5 California Constitution.
6

7 45. With respect to Zoom's violation of the CLRA, Defendant's practices constitute 8 violations of California Civil Code section 1770 in at least the following respects:
9 misrepresenting that the Zoom App had characteristics, benefits, or uses that it does not have
10 (preventing unauthorized access and disclosure of users' personal information when in fact it
11 does not); misrepresented the Zoom App was of a particular standard, quality, or grade 12 (preventing unauthorized access and disclosure of users' personal information when in fact it
13 does not); advertising the Zoom App with an intent not to sell it as advertised (advertising it as 14 preventing unauthorized access and disclosure of users' personal information when in fact it does 15 not); and misrepresenting that the Zoom App was supplied in accordance with previous 16 representations when it was not (preventing unauthorized access and disclosure of users' 17 personal information when in fact it does not).
18

20 46. With respect to Zoom's violation of the CCPA, a "business that collects a 21 consumer's personal information shall, at or before the point of collection, inform consumers as 22 to the categories of personal information to be collected and the purposes for which the 23 categories of personal information shall be used." Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.100(b). "A business
24 shall not collect additional categories of personal information or use personal information
25 collected for additional purposes without providing the consumer with notice consistent with this 26 section." Id.
27
28

1 47. The CCPA defines “personal information” as any “information that identifies,
2 relates to, describes, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be
3 linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer or household.” Cal. Civ. Code § 4 1798.140(o)(1). Personal information includes, but is not limited to, “identifiers such 5 as . . .unique personal identifier, online identifier,. . ., or similar identifiers”, Cal. Civ. Code
6 §1798.140(o)(1)(A), “internet or other electronic network activity information, including but not 7 limit to . . .information regarding a consumer’s interaction with an internet website, application, or 8 advertisement”, Cal. Civ. Code §1798.140(o)(1)(F) and “geolocation data”, Cal. Civ. Code.
9 §1798.140(o)(1)(G).

10 48. As set forth in detail elsewhere in this Complaint, Zoom collected Plaintiff’s and 11 the Class’s “personal information” as defined in the CCPA and failed to inform Plaintiff and the 12 Class of the same at or before the point of collection. Accordingly, Zoom violated the CCPA.

13 49. In addition to constituting “unlawful conduct” in violation of the above-noted
14 laws, Zoom’s activities also constitute unfair practices in violation of the UCL because Zoom’s 15 practices violate an established public policy, and/or the practice is immoral, unethical,
16 oppressive, unscrupulous, and substantially injurious to Plaintiff and the Class. The harm caused
17 by Defendant’s conduct outweighs any potential benefits attributable to such conduct and there
18 were reasonably available alternatives to further Defendant’s legitimate business interests, other 19 than Defendant’s conduct described herein.

20 50. By exposing, compromising, and willfully sharing Plaintiff’s and Class members’
21 personal information without authorization, Defendant engaged in fraudulent business practice
22 that is likely to deceive a reasonable consumer.

23 51. A reasonable person would not have agreed to use the Zoom App had he or she 24
25
26
27
28

1 known the truth about Defendant’s practices alleged herein. By withholding material information
2 about its practices, Defendant was able to convince customers to use the Zoom App and to
3 entrust the safe keeping of their personal information to Defendant. Accordingly, Defendant’s
4 conduct also was “fraudulent” within the meaning of the UCL.
5

6 52. Because of Defendant’s violations of the UCL, Plaintiff and the Class have 7 suffered injury-in-fact and have lost money or property. Plaintiff and the Class are entitled to 8 restitution, disgorgement, an injunction, declaratory, and other equitable relief for such unlawful 9 practices to prevent future harm for which there is no adequate remedy at law.
10

11 THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

12 Violation of the California Consumers Legal Remedies Act
13 Cal. Civ. Code § 1750, *et seq.

14 53. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth
15 herein.
16

17 54. California’s Consumers Legal Remedies Act (“CLRA”) has adopted a 18 comprehensive statutory scheme prohibiting various deceptive practices in connection with the 19 conduct of a business providing goods, property, or services to consumers primarily for personal,
20 family, or household purposes. The self-declared purposes of the CLRA are to protect consumers
21 against unfair and deceptive business practices and to provide efficient and economical
22 procedures to secure such protection.
23

24 55. Defendant is a “person” as defined by Civil Code section 1761(c), because it is a
25 corporation, as set forth above.

26 56. Plaintiff and Class members are “consumers” within the meaning of Civil Code
27 section 1761(d).
28

1 57. The Zoom App used by Plaintiff and the Class constitute “goods” and “services”
2 within the meaning of Civil Code section 1761(a).

3 58. Plaintiff and the Class’s download, installation and/or use of Defendant’s Zoom
4 App constitute “transactions,” as defined by Civil Code section 1761(e).

5 59. Plaintiff and Class members downloaded the Zoom App from Defendant for 6 personal, family, and household purposes, as defined by Civil Code section 1761(d).

7 60. Venue is proper under Civil Code section 1780(d) because a substantial portion of 8 the conduct at issue occurred in this District and Defendant resides in this District. A declaration
9 pursuant to Civil Code section 1780(d) is attached to this Complaint.
10

11 61. As described herein, Defendant’s practices constitute violations of California
12 Civil Code Section 1770 in at least the following respects:
13

14 n. In violation of section 1770(a)(5), Zoom misrepresented that the Zoom App
15 had characteristics, benefits, or uses that it does not have. Zoom represented it 16 was preventing unauthorized access and disclosure of users’ personal 17 information when in fact it does not;

18 o. In violation of section 1770(a)(7), Zoom misrepresented the Zoom App was of 19 a particular standard, quality, or grade. Zoom represented it was preventing 20 unauthorized access and disclosure of users’ personal information when in fact 21 it does not;

22 p. In violation of section 1770(a)(9), Zoom advertised the Zoom App with an 23 intent not to sell it as advertised. Zoom advertised its app as secure from 24 unauthorized disclosure users’ personal information, when in fact it is not; and 25

26 q. In violation of section 1770(a)(16), Zoom misrepresented that the Zoom App
27
28

1 was supplied in accordance with previous representations when it was not.
2 Zoom represented it was preventing unauthorized access and disclosure of 3 users' personal information when in fact it does not.
4

5 62. Defendant's misrepresentations regarding the Zoom App were material to 6 Plaintiff and Class members because a reasonable person would have considered them important
7 in deciding whether to download, install, open and/or use the Zoom App.

8 63. Plaintiff and Class members relied upon Defendant's material misrepresentations
9 and would have acted to protect their personal information had they known the truth.
10

11 64. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's material misrepresentations,
12 Plaintiff and Class members have been irreparably harmed.

13 65. In accordance with Civil Code section 1782(a), Plaintiff's counsel has served
14 Defendant with notice of these CLRA violations by certified mail, return receipt requested.
15

16 66. On behalf of Class members, Plaintiff seeks injunctive relief in the form of an 17 order enjoining Defendant from making such material misrepresentations and to engage in 18 corrective advertising to alert consumers of its prior misrepresentations. If Defendant fails to 19 respond to Plaintiff's notice letter, or fails to rectify the violations detailed above and to give 20 adequate notice to all affected consumers within 30 days of the date of written notice, Plaintiff 21 also will seek actual, punitive, and statutory damages, restitution, attorneys' fees and costs and 22 any other relief the Court deems proper as a result of Defendant's CLRA violations.
23

24 FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
25 Negligence

26 2. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth
27 herein.

28 67. Defendant developed, marketed, sold, and distributed the Zoom App to Plaintiff

1 and Class members with full awareness of the purpose for which the Zoom App was being used,
2 as well as its users' expectation that Zoom would protect its users' personal information in 3 accordance with its posted Privacy Policy.

4
5 68. Defendant owed duties to Plaintiff and Class members arising from the sensitivity
6 of Plaintiff's and Class members' information and privacy rights the Zoom app was designed to 7 secure and protect, and to exercise reasonable care in safeguarding such information and privacy
8 rights. These duties include, but are not limited to: designing, maintaining, implementing, 9 monitoring, testing, and complying with reliable security systems, protocols, and practices to 10 ensure that Plaintiff's and Class members' Zoom App was adequately secured and not disclosing
11 their personal information to unauthorized parties without their informed and knowing consent.
12

13 69. Defendant breached its duties by, among other things, (1) failing to implement
14 and maintain reasonable security protections and protocols, and (2) knowingly disclosing users'
15 personal information to third parties for analytics and marketing purposes without adequate 16 disclosure to and consent from its customers.
17

18 70. But for Defendant's breaches of its duties, Plaintiff's and Class members' Zoom
19 App would be protected from unauthorized disclosures, and Plaintiff's and Class members'
20 personal information would not have been compromised and/or obtained by third parties without 21 consent.
22

23 71. Plaintiff and Class members were foreseeable victims of Defendant's wrongful 24 conduct complained of herein. Defendant knew or should have known that its failure to 25 implement reasonable protocols to adequately secure the Zoom App and restrict third-party
26 access to users' personal information would cause damages to Plaintiff and Class members.
27

28 72. As a result of Defendant's negligent failures, Plaintiff and Class members

1 suffered injury, which includes, but is not limited to exposure to heightened, imminent risk of 2 unauthorized access to their personal information. Plaintiff and Class members must more
3 closely monitor their personal information that Defendant caused to be compromised.
4

5 73. The damages to Plaintiff and Class members were a proximate, reasonably
6 foreseeable result of Defendant's breaches of its duties.

7 3. Plaintiff and Class members are entitled to damages in an amount to be proven at 8 trial.

11
12 74. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth
13 herein.

14 75. Plaintiff and class members have a legally protected privacy interest inn their 15 personal information that is transferred to or recorded by the Zoom App and are entitled to the 16 protection of their information against unauthorized access.
17

18 76. Plaintiff and Class members reasonably expected that the Zoom App would be 19 protected and secure from unauthorized parties and that their personal information would not be 20 disclosed to any unauthorized parties or disclosed for any improper purpose.

21 77. Defendant unlawfully invaded the privacy rights of Plaintiff and Class members
22 by (a) failing to adequately secure their personal information from disclosure to unauthorized 23 parties for improper purposes; (b) disclosing their personal information to unauthorized parties in 24 a matter that is highly offensive to a reasonable person; and (c) disclosing their personal
25 information to unauthorized parties without the informed and clear consent of Plaintiff and Class
26 members. This invasion into the privacy interest of Plaintiff and Class members is serious and 27
28

1 substantial.

2 78. In failing to adequately secure Plaintiff's and Class members' personal
3 information, Defendant acted in reckless disregard of their privacy rights. Defendant knew or 4 should have known that their substandard security measures are highly invasive and offensive to 5 a reasonable person in the same position as Plaintiff and Class members.
6

7 79. Defendant violated Plaintiff's and Class members' right to privacy under
8 California law, including, but not limited to, Article 1, Section 1 of the California Constitution
9 and the California Consumer Privacy Act.
10

11 80. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's unlawful invasions of privacy,
12 Plaintiff's and Class members' personal information has been disclosed and their reasonable
13 expectations of privacy have been intruded upon and frustrated. Plaintiff and proposed Class
14 members have suffered injuries as a result of Defendant's unlawful invasions of privacy and are 15 entitled to appropriate relief.
16

17 81. Plaintiff and Class members are entitled to injunctive relief as well as actual and 18 punitive damages.

19 SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
20 (Unjust Enrichment)

21 82. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth
22 herein.

24 services.

25 84. As a direct and proximate result of the unlawful conduct described above,
26 Defendant has been and will continue to be unjustly enriched. Defendant's unlawful acts include 27 the collection and unauthorized transfer of personal user data to third parties, including 28

1 Facebook, for economic gain.

2 85. Defendant has benefited from its unlawful acts and it would be inequitable for 3 Defendant to be permitted to retain any of the ill-gotten gains resulting from the functionalities
4 of its video conferencing application and platform.
5

6 86. Plaintiff and members of the Class are entitled to the amount of Defendant's ill-
7 gotten gains resulting from its unlawful, unjust and inequitable conduct. Plaintiff and members
8 of the Class are entitled to the establishment of a constructive trust consisting of Defendant's ill-
9 gotten gains.
10
