	DEFENDANT WALMART INC.'	S NOTICE O	F REMOVAI	Case No. 2:21-cv-00015

TO THE CLERK OF THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA AND TO PLAINTIFFS AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT, pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(d), 1453, 1711, Defendant Walmart Inc. formerly known as Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. ("Walmart" or Defendant") hereby removes this action, originally filed as Case No. 20STCV37527 in the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Los Angeles, to the United States District Court for the Central District of California. Removal is proper for the reasons explained below.

TIMELINESS OF REMOVAL

1. Plaintiffs Lerna Mays and Larry Roach (together, "Plaintiffs") filed a 11 12 putative Class Action Complaint against Walmart Inc. on September 30, 2020 in the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Los Angeles. (See 13 Declaration of Mitchell Wrosch ("Wrosch Decl."), ¶ 2.) Plaintiffs filed a First 14 15 Amended Complaint ("FAC") on November 25, 2020 and served the FAC on December 2, 2020. (Id. at ¶ 3.) Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446(a), a true and correct 16 17 copy of any and all process, pleadings and orders served upon Walmart are attached as Exhibit A to the Wrosch Declaration, filed concurrently herewith. This notice of 18 removal is timely pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446(b) because Defendant has removed 19 20 this action within 30 days of being served.

GROUNDS FOR REMOVAL

22 2. Defendant is authorized to remove this action to this Court pursuant to 23 the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(d), 1453, and 1711 24 ("CAFA") and since Plaintiffs have filed a class action complaint where the amount 25 in controversy exceeds five million dollars and Defendant is a citizen of a state 26 different from Plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs Bring This Case As A Class Action Against Defendant A.

3. Plaintiffs' FAC is titled "FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT [Class-Action and PAGA Complaint]." (See FAC, Caption) (emphasis in original).

12

4. Plaintiffs' FAC alleges that "Plaintiff Mays is bringing this action against Defendants on behalf of Walmart non-exempt employees who, during the relevant period, at any time during the period of one year prior to the filing of her December 18, 2017 original Complaint, to January 31, 2018, the date before Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. effectively changed its name to Walmart, Inc., have worked at one or more of the following Walmart retail facilities in California: the Walmart Supercenter #3522 at 3250 Big Dalton Avenue, Baldwin Park, CA 91706; the Walmart Supercenter at 1231 10 S. Sanderson Avenue, Hemet, CA 92545; the Walmart Supercenter at S. San Jacinto Ave., San Jacinto, CA 92583; or the Walmart Supercenter at 1800 N. Perris Blvd, Perris, CA 92571 ("Mays Class")." (FAC ¶ 3.)

13 14

5. Plaintiffs' FAC further alleges that "Plaintiff Roach is bringing this action 15 against Defendants on behalf of Walmart non-exempt employees who, during the relevant period, from February 1, 2018, the effective date of Defendant's name change 16 from Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. to Walmart, Inc., to the mailing of the class notice, have 17 worked at one or more of the following Walmart retail facilities in California: the 18 Walmart Supercenter #3522 at 3250 Big Dalton Avenue, Baldwin Park, CA 91706; 19 the Walmart Supercenter at 1231 S. Sanderson Avenue, Hemet, CA 92545; the 20Walmart Supercenter at S. San Jacinto Ave., San Jacinto, CA 92583; or the Walmart 21 22 Supercenter at 1800 N. Perris Blvd, Perris, CA 92571 ("Roach Class")." (FAC ¶ 4.)

23

6. Plaintiffs identify the two putative classes they seek to represent as the "Mays Class" and the "Roach Class." The class definitions of both classes are nearly identical, with substantive differences only in the relevant time periods for each class based upon Walmart's name change. The time periods are consecutive when combined (December 18, 2016 to January 31, 2018 and February 1, 2018 to the present). Therefore, for purposes of this Notice of Removal, Defendant will refer to the Mays and Roach Classes collectively (the "Mays/Roach Class") and use a combined relevant time period from December 18, 2016 to present.

7. On behalf of Mays/Roach Class, the Complaint alleges one cause of action for Failure to Provide Adequate Pay Stubs [Cal. Lab. Code § 226(a)]. (FAC ¶¶ 39-43.)¹

6 8. Defendant denies any liability in this case, as to Plaintiffs' individual, 7 class, and representative claims, and will present compelling defenses to these claims 8 on the merits. Defendant intends to oppose class certification. Defendant expressly 9 reserves all rights in this regard. However, for purposes of the jurisdictional requirements for removal only, Defendant states that, as set forth in more detail below, 10 11 the allegations in Plaintiffs' FAC that they seek to represent Walmart non-exempt 12 employees who, at any time during the period of one year prior to the filing of December 18, 2017 to the mailing of the class notice, have worked at one or more of 13 14 the following Walmart retail facilities in California: the Walmart Supercenter #3522 15 at 3250 Big Dalton Avenue, Baldwin Park, CA 91706; the Walmart Supercenter at 1231 S. Sanderson Avenue, Hemet, CA 92545; the Walmart Supercenter at S. San 16 17 Jacinto Ave., San Jacinto, CA 92583; or the Walmart Supercenter at 1800 N. Perris Blvd, Perris, CA 92571, puts in controversy an amount that exceeds $5 million. See 18 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(6). 19

20

B. There Are More than 100 Members In The Proposed Class

9. This Court has original jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d) if, in addition to the other requirements of § 1332(d), the action involves a putative class of at least 100 persons. Plaintiffs allege that this action is brought on behalf of all Walmart non-exempt employees who, at any time during the period of one year prior to December 18, 2017 to the mailing of the class notice, have worked at one or more of the following Walmart retail facilities in California: "the Walmart Supercenter 1 2 #3522 at 3250 Big Dalton Avenue, Baldwin Park, CA 91706; the Walmart Supercenter 3 at 1231 S. Sanderson Avenue, Hemet, CA 92545; the Walmart Supercenter at S. San Jacinto Ave., San Jacinto, CA 92583; or the Walmart Supercenter at 1800 N. Perris 4 Blvd, Perris, CA 92571." (FAC ¶¶ 26-27.) 5

6

10. There are approximately 4,916 current and former non-exempt 7 employees who worked at one or more of the following Walmart retail facilities in 8 California during the relevant time period: the Walmart Supercenter #3522 at 3250 9 Big Dalton Avenue, Baldwin Park, CA 91706; the Walmart Supercenter at 1231 S. Sanderson Avenue, Hemet, CA 92545; the Walmart Supercenter at 1861 S. San 10 Jacinto Ave., San Jacinto, CA 92583; or the Walmart Supercenter at 1800 N. Perris 11 Blvd, Perris, CA 92571 anytime from December 18, 2016 to the present.² (Declaration 12 of Laura Kish ("Kish Decl.") ¶ 6.) Although Defendant denies that class treatment is 13 appropriate, Plaintiff's proposed class, if certified, would consist of more than 100 14 15 members.

C. Defendant Is A Citizen Of A Different State Than Plaintiff

17 11. This Court has original jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d) if, in addition to the other requirements of § 1332(d), a member of the class is a citizen of a 18 state different from any defendant. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A). 19 20 12. A person is a "citizen" of the state in which he/she is domiciled. Kantor v. Wellesley Galleries, Ltd., 704 F. 2d 1088, 1090 (9th Cir. 1983). A person's domicile 21 22 is the place she resides with the intention to remain or to which she intends to return. 23 Kanter v. Warner-Lambert Co., 265 F.3d 853, 857 (9th Cir. 2001).

24 13. Plaintiff Mays began her Walmart employment on September 11, 2007 25 and ended her Walmart employment on or about February 10, 2017. (FAC ¶18; Kish

45358042_1.docx

² The Complaint alleges that "Wal-Mart has and continues to employ tens of thousands of non-exempt employees who perform a variety of duties throughout California." (Complaint ¶ 3.) For purposes of this Notice of Removal, Defendant focuses only on the Mays/Roach Class alleged to have worked at the four specifically identified stores. 27 28

Decl. ¶ 4.) Throughout her employment, Plaintiff Mays worked at Walmart in Los Angeles County, California. (Kish Decl. ¶ 4.) Furthermore, Plaintiff Mays is now and/or at all times relevant to the Complaint was a citizen of the State of California.
(FAC ¶ 14; Kish Decl. ¶ 4.) As such, Plaintiff Mays is a citizen of California.³

14. Plaintiff Roach began his Walmart employment on March 30, 2018 and ended his Walmart employment on November 17, 2018. (FAC ¶ 18; Kish Decl. ¶ 5.)
Throughout his employment, Plaintiff Roach worked at Walmart in Riverside County, California. (Kish Decl. ¶ 5.) Furthermore, Plaintiff Roach is now and/or at all times relevant to the Complaint was a citizen of the State of California. (FAC ¶ 14; Kish Decl. ¶ 5.) As such, Plaintiff Roach is a citizen of California.⁴

11 15. Additionally, the Mays/Roach Class is defined to include only nonexempt employees who worked at four California Walmart stores." (FAC ¶¶ 26-27.) Indeed, the FAC makes clear that Plaintiffs "are individuals who, during the time periods relevant to this Complaint, was employed by Wal-Mart within the State of California."
(Id. ¶ 26-27.)

16 16. A corporation is a citizen of its state of incorporation and the state of its 17 principal place of business. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1). Defendant Walmart Inc. is 18 incorporated in the State of Delaware has its principal place of business in Bentonville, 19 Arkansas. (Kish Decl. ¶ 3.)

17. Defendant's "principal place of business," which the Supreme Court has interpreted to mean "the place where a corporation's officers direct, control, and coordinate the corporation's activities" (Hertz Corp. v. Friend, 130 S. Ct. 1181, 1192 (2010); 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1)) is Bentonville, Arkansas. Thus, Defendant is a citizen

DEFENDANT WALMART INC.'S NOTICE OF REMOVAL OF CIVIL ACTION

 ²⁵

⁴ Both Mays and Roach admit that they are citizens of California. See Larry Roach v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., et al., No. 5:18-CV-02536-AB-KK, (ECF No. 16 ¶ 5) ("Plaintiff is a citizen of California"); and Lerna Mays v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., et al., No. 2:18-cv-02318-AB-KK, (ECF No. 64 ¶ 6) ("Plaintiff is a citizen of California").

of Delaware and Arkansas – not California, and there is accordingly minimal 1 2 jurisdiction under CAFA. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A); Hertz, 130 S. Ct. at 1192; 3 Carijano v. Occidential Petroleum Corp., 643 F.3d 1216, 1230 n.2 (9th Cir. 2011).

The Amount in Controversy Exceeds $5 Million D.

5 18. This Court has original jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d) because, in addition to the other requirements of § 1332(d), the amount in controversy 6 7 exceeds $5 million, exclusive of interest and costs. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2).

Wage Statements 1.

9 19. California Labor Code section 226(a) states that every employer shall furnish his or her employees an accurate itemized wage statement in writing showing 10 nine specific categories of information. Plaintiffs allege that Defendant has "a 11 12 consistent policy and/or practice of knowingly and intentionally failing to furnish timely the proper itemized wage statements to Aggrieved Employees." (FAC ¶ 10.) 13 The FAC also alleges that "Plaintiffs' pay stubs demonstrate that Wal-Mart fails to 14 15 include the data required by section 226(a), including but not limited to the 'inclusive 16 dates of the period for which the employee is paid,' all accumulated vacation pay 17 earned in the employee's final pay statement, and the name and address of the entity that is the employer." (FAC ¶ 22.) The FAC further states that "Plaintiffs' claims are 18 typical of the claims of Class Members, which all arise out of the same general 19 operative facts, namely, that Wal-Mart's pay stubs fail to include all of the information 20required by the Labor Code." (FAC ¶ 32.) 21

22

20. The FAC additionally states that "with respect to Defendant's violations" 23 of section 226(a)(8) of the California Labor Code, the damages owing to each Class Member equals the sum of $50 (for the initial wage statement issued to the employee 24 during the period commencing one year prior to the filing of the Complaint) and the 25 product of the number of further wage statements issued to the employee and $100, 26 with a per employee cap of 4,000." (FAC 929.) 27

28

45358042 1.docx

1 21. The FAC also states that "Mays and the Mays Class Members are entitled 2 to damages, to costs, and to reasonable attorney's fees in accordance with the 3 provisions of Labor Code section 226(e)" and that "Roach and the Roach Class 4 Members are entitled to damages, costs, and reasonable attorney's fees in accordance 5 with the provisions of Labor Code section 226(e)." (FAC ¶¶ 42-43.)

22. California Labor Code section 226(e) provides for the greater of all actual damages or fifty dollars ($50) for the initial pay period in which a violation occurred and one hundred dollars ($100) for each subsequent pay period. The applicable statute of limitations is one year. See Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 340(a).

10 23. In light of Plaintiff's unqualified allegation that Walmart failed to provide accurate wage statements as a "consistent policy and/or practice" and that the wage 11 12 statements are inaccurate, in part, because of the failure to include the inclusive dates of the pay period, all accumulated pay in the employee's final pay statement, and the 13 14 name and legal address of the employer, suggests conduct that applies uniformly to 15 every wage statement issued during this time period. In Altamirano v. Shaw Industries, Inc., 2013 WL 2950600, *11 (N.D. Cal. June 14, 2013), the district court held that it 16 17 was "reasonable to assume that each putative class member suffered at least one violation during any given pay period, resulting in an inaccurate wage statement," in 18 light of the plaintiff's allegations "about the pervasiveness of the policies that are the 19 subject of the first three causes of actions." Id. Thus, "it is reasonable to assume a 20100% violation rate in calculating the amount in controversy for this cause of action." 21 22 Id.

23 24. Therefore, Defendant could properly utilize an alleged violation rate of 24 100%, as Plaintiffs have alleged a section 226 violation that occurred on every wage 25 statement.

26 25. For purposes of removal, however, Walmart will conservatively apply 27 wage statement penalties just for the years 2018, 2019, and 2020, representing just 28 72% of the wage statements alleged to be at issue.

45358042_1.docx

DEFENDANT WALMART INC.'S NOTICE OF REMOVAL OF CIVIL ACTION

In 2018, 2019, and 2020, Walmart issued 111,726 wage statements to putative class members. (Kish Decl. ¶ 8.)

27. Applying the initial violation rate of $50 penalty per wage statement to the wage statements issued from 2018, 2019, and 2020 results in an amount in controversy for this claim of $5,586,300 ($50 x 111,726 wage statements issued).⁵

6

2. Attorney's Fees

7 28. Plaintiffs' Complaint requests attorneys' fees pursuant to California
8 Labor Code Section 226 (Complaint, Prayer for Relief; see also Complaint ¶¶ 1, 11, 9 42, 43.)

29. Under Ninth Circuit precedent, 25% of the common fund is generally 10 used as a benchmark for an award of attorney fees. See Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 11 12 F.3d 1011, 1029 (9th Cir. 1998); Barcia v. Contain-A-Way, Inc., 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17119, at *15 (S.D. Cal., Mar. 6, 2009) ("In wage and hour cases, '[t]wenty-13 five percent is considered a benchmark for attorneys' fees in common fund cases."") 14 15 (citations omitted). Here, Defendant has shown that the claimed amount in controversy is in excess of $5,586,300, and Plaintiffs have not indicated that they will 16 17 seek less than 25% of a common fund in attorneys' fees. (See generally Complaint, Prayer for Relief.) Although Defendant has shown that the amount in controversy 18 absent attorneys' fees surpasses the jurisdictional threshold, this Court should 19 nevertheless include the potential attorneys' fees in evaluating jurisdiction. 20Gugielmino v. McKee Foods Corp., 506 F.3d 696, 700 (9th Cir. 2007); see also 21 22 Giannini v. Nw. Mut. Life Ins. Co., 2012 WL 1535196, at *4 (N.D. Cal. 2012) (holding 23 that defendants' inclusion of attorneys' fees to satisfy amount in controversy was reasonable where defendants "base this amount by multiplying by twenty-five percent 24 25 the sum of the amounts placed in controversy by the four claims" asserted by

26

- 45358042_1.docx
 - 28

⁵ If Defendant were to include violations from 2016 and 2017, the amount in controversy for this claim rises to $7,689,350 ($$5,586,300 + [$50 \times 42,061$ wage statements issued in 2016 and 2017]). (Kish Decl. ¶ 9.)

plaintiff.); Jasso v. Money Mart Express, Inc., 2012 WL 699465, at *6-7 (N.D. Cal.
2012) (holding that "it was not unreasonable for [Defendant] to rely on" an "assumption about the attorneys' fees recovery as a percentage of the total amount in controversy" and noting that "it is well established that the Ninth Circuit 'has established 25% of the common fund as a benchmark award for attorney fees."").

30. Defendant denies that attorneys' fees are owed to Plaintiffs or putative class members, and Defendant further reserves the right to contest the application of the 25% benchmark in this case. However, for purposes of this jurisdictional analysis only, Defendant relies on Plaintiffs' allegations that attorneys' fees are owed. Guglielmino, 506 F.3d at 700; Lowdermilk v. U.S. Bank Nat'l Ass'n, 579 F.3d 994, 1000 (9th Cir. 2007), overruled on other grounds by Standard Fire Ins. Co. v. Knowles, 133 S. Ct. 1345 (2013).

31. Using a 25% benchmark figure for attorneys' fees for Plaintiffs allegations results in estimated attorneys' fees of $1,396,575.

15

E. Summary Of Amount In Controversy

32. Defendant denies any liability in this case, as to Plaintiffs' individual, 16 17 class, and representative claims, and will present compelling defenses to these claims on the merits. Defendant intends to oppose class certification. Accordingly, as set forth 18 19 above, the FAC places in actual controversy more than the required $5 million for purposes of removal under CAFA, even without considering the amounts placed in 20controversy by attorney fees. See Galt G/S v. JSS Scandinavia, 142 F.3d 1150, 1156 21 22 (9th Cir. 1998) (attorneys' fees may properly be included in calculation of the amount 23 of controversy where an underlying statute authorizes an award of attorneys' fees). This calculation is a conservative estimate of the wage statement violation rate that 24 25 excludes any wage statements issued during the relevant periods in 2016 and 2017. 26 /// 27 ///

Plaintiffs Lerna Mays ("Mays") and Larry Roach ("Roach") (collectively "Plaintiffs") on behalf of themselves as individuals, in their representative capacities on behalf of the State of California Labor & Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") under the Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 ("PAGA"), California Labor Code ("Labor Code") § 2698 et seq., and as proposed representatives of a putative class, alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

8 1. This is a PAGA law enforcement action and class action seeking damages,
9 penalties, civil penalties and attorneys' fees and costs, including such reasonable
10 reimbursement of fees and costs as may be authorized by Section 218.5 of the California
11 Labor Code or otherwise. The alleged violations include wage statement violations, and 12 associated penalties.

The California Labor Code requires employers to provide to its employees: 2. 13 among other things, itemized wage statements. Defendants Walmart, Inc., formerly 14 Ŀ. 15 known as Wal-Mart Stores. Inc. and Doe One through and including Doe One-Hundred ("Wal-Mart" or "Defendants") failed to comply with the California Labor Code 16 17 requirements.¹ Accordingly, Plaintiffs seeks civil penalties on behalf of the State of 18 California and the LWDA, to be shared with all impacted employees, all in accord with 19 the extant statutory scheme.

Wal-Mart has and continues to employ tens of thousands of non-exempt employees who perform a variety of duties throughout California. Plaintiff Mays is bringing this action against Defendants on behalf of all individuals who received a pay stub from Wal-Mart in the State of California at any time during the period of one year prior to the filing of her December 18, 2017 original Complaint, to January 31, 2018, the date before Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. effectively changed its name to Walmart, Inc.
 (collectively, these employees are the "Aggrieved Employees"). Plaintiff Roach is ¹ The legal name of the company Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. was changed to Walmart, Inc. effective February 1, 2018.

2 COMPLAINT

1 bringing this action against Defendants on behalf of Aggrieved Employees from the 2 period of February 1, 2018, the effective date of Defendant's name change from Wal-3 Mart Stores, Inc. to Walmart, Inc., to the mailing of the class notice. Plaintiff Roach is 4 also bringing this action under PAGA on behalf of all Aggrieved Employees from the 5 period of one year prior to his giving notice to the LWDA of Defendant's violations, 6 November 28, 2018, to date. The statutes of limitation applicable herein have been tolled 7 by the pendency of Mays v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., United States District Court for the 8 Central District of California Case No. Case No. 2:18-cv-02318-AB-KK and/or Roach v. 9 Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., United States District Court for the Central District of California Case No. 5:18-cv-02536-AB-KK. On April 10, 2020, pursuant to a mandate of the 10 Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal, the federal court dismissed Plaintiff Mays' wage 11 12 statement claim without prejudice following the Ninth Circuit's April 8, 2020 decision reversing the district court's class certification order as to the Wage Statement Class due 13 to lack of Article III standing. 14

Plaintiffs' tolling argument is supported by controlling decisions of the 15 4. United States Supreme Court. Crown, Cork & Seal v. Parker, 462 U.S. 345, 354 (1983) 16 ("We conclude, as did the Court in American Pipe, that 'the commencement of a class 17 18 action suspends the applicable statute of limitations as to all asserted members of the class who would have been parties had the suit been permitted to continue as a class 19 action.' Once the statute of limitations has been tolled, it remains tolled for all members 20 21 of the putative class until class certification is denied. At that point, class members may choose to file their own suits ") (quoting Am. Pipe & Const. Co. v. Utah, 414 U.S. 22 538, 554 (1974). 23

5. The pendency of the federal cases previously filed by Plaintiffs and effectively dismissed by the Ninth Circuit decision that they did not have federal Article III standing to pursue the matters in federal court has tolled all applicable statutes of limitations with respect to the claims articulated herein.

COMPLAINT

6. The Judicial Council of California (JCC)'s amended Emergency Rule 9 1 2 (Effective on May 29, 2020), provides: "Notwithstanding any other law, the statutes of 3 limitations and repose for civil causes of action that exceed 180 days are tolled from 4 April 6, 2020, until October 1, 2020." The Advisory Committee Comment notes 5 that: "Emergency rule 9 is intended to apply broadly to toll any statute of limitations on 6 the filing of a pleading in court asserting a civil cause of action. The term "civil causes of 7 action" includes special proceedings. (See Code Civ. Proc., §§ 312, 363 ["action," as used in title 2 of the code (Of the Time of Commencing Civil Actions], is construed "as 8 9 including a special proceeding of a civil nature").... The rule also applies to statutes of 10 limitations on filing of causes of action in court found in codes other than the Code of 11 Civil Procedure."

Due to the illegal employment practices as more fully described herein, 12 7. Plaintiffs, in their representative capacity, seeks civil penalties on behalf of themselves 13 and other Aggrieved Employees pursuant to PAGA, against all Defendants.

Defendants have had a consistent policy and/or practice of knowingly and 8. intentionally failing to furnish timely the proper itemized wage statements to Aggrieved Employees.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

9. This is a civil class action and representative action brought under the California Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA"), seeking damages, civil penalties, statutory penalties and attorneys' fees and costs. Venue as to Defendants is proper in this judicial district, pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure sections 395(a) and 395.5. Defendants maintain an office, transact business, have an agent, or are found in the County of Los Angeles and are within the jurisdiction of this Court for purposes of service of process. The violations of PAGA alleged herein had a direct effect on, and were committed within the State of California, impacting Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees.

15

10. Venue as to Defendants is proper in this judicial district. Wal-Mart maintains an office, transacts business, has an agent or is otherwise found in the State of California and the District and Division in which this case is filed and is within the jurisdiction of this court for the purpose of service of process. The unlawful acts alleged herein had a direct effect on and were committed within the State of California.

11. This Court has jurisdiction over Wal-Mart because, upon information and belief, Defendants are either residents of California, have minimum contacts in California, or otherwise intentionally avail themselves of the protections of California so as to render California's exercise of jurisdiction over Defendants consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

PARTIES

12. Lerna Mays and Larry Roach are individuals who, during the time periods relevant to this Complaint, was employed by Wal-Mart within the State of California.

13. Defendant Walmart, Inc., formerly Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., was and is a Delaware corporation doing business within the State of California and having a principal place of business within the State of California. Wal-Mart's corporate headquarters are located in Bentonville, Arkansas. Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. was and is a Delaware corporation doing business within the State of California and having a principal place of business in Bentonville, Arkansas. Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. is merely engaged in the business of processing payroll for Defendants.

14. Defendants Doe One through and including Doe One-Hundred are sued herein under the provisions of section 474 of the California Code of Civil Procedure.
Mays is unaware of the true names, identities, or capacities, whether corporate, individual, or otherwise, of said fictitiously named Defendants, but leave of Court will be prayed to amend this pleading to insert the same herein when finally ascertained. Mays is informed, believes, and thereupon alleges that each of the fictitiously named Defendants is an entity that, during the relevant time period, maintained a principal place of business in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and that each of the said fictitiously named Defendants is legally responsible for the damages hereinafter more particularly alleged.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

15. Defendants employed Mays as an hourly employee until her employment was terminated by Defendants. Defendants employed Roach as an hourly employee until his employment was terminated by Defendants.

16. Plaintiff Mays was terminated on or about February 10, 2017 but was not paid her full and final wages until many days later. Similarly, Plaintiff Roach was terminated on or about November 18, 2018, and not paid his full and final wages until a later date.

17. Wal-Mart's policy is to devote minimal resources to the payroll accounting function with the result that in practice its former employees are routinely not paid all final wages owing to them in proper fashion.

14 18. When Plaintiffs received their final wage statements, Wal-Mart failed to include certain required information, including but not limited to, the inclusive dates of 15 16 the pay period, all accumulated pay in the employee's final pay statement, which Wal-17 Mart calls a Final Statement of Wages, or the name and legal address of the employer, 18 Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. for Mays and Walmart, Inc. for Plaintiff Roach. On information and belief. Wal-Mart failed to include required information on the wage statements of 19 20 other Aggrieved Employees as well, both on the final pay statement and otherwise. 21 Defendant's failure to provide this statutorily required information on wage statements 22 has been deemed to cause injury under section 226(e)(2)(B) of the California Labor 23 Code. Further, Plaintiffs and other Aggrieved Employees were not provided compliant 24 wage statements when other tardy payments were made to them, after their employ with 25 Defendant had terminated. Wal-Mart also failed to provide the amount of net wages 26 earned in connection with post-termination, on-cycle pay stubs issued to Plaintiffs and Aggrieved Employees after the Final Statement of Wages. Defendant's post-termination 27 28 wage statements were confusing in that it was impossible to determine from the wage statements alone whether or not Plaintiff Mays was being paid wages or something else. 1 such as a stock purchase refund. The wage statement of February 23, 2017 claims that 2 3 she is being paid for "REGULAR EARNINGS," "OVERTIME EARN," and a "CA 4 MEAL PREM," along with some accrued, unused vacation and "PERS pay." The 5 deductions portion of the February 23, 2017 wage statement reflects typical Social 6 Security and SDI deductions associated with the payment of wages. The wage statement 7 of March 9, 2017 indicates that Plaintiff Mays was being paid for "OVERTIME/INCT," and her "MYSHARE INCT" bonus. The deductions portion of the March 9, 2017 wage 8 9 statement reflects typical Social Security and SDI deductions associated with the 10 payment of wages. Defendant's Senior Director of Payroll Services, Diana McChristian 11 has declared that Plaintiff May's wage statement dated February 23, 2017 included an, 12 "additional $100 reflecting a stock purchase withholding that she [Mays] had set up to be 13 regularly deducted from paychecks, including her final pay, but which was turned off 14 before the payroll run that held the February 23, 2017 pay date, resulting in a 15 "reimbursement" of the stock purchase withholding when her final pay was deducted 16 from the "true up" payment." Jul. 30, 2018 McChristian Decl. [ECF Doc. 56-1] ¶ 16.² 17 Despite the McChristian testimony, there is nothing on the wage statement that reflects 18 this payment. The statements made it impossible for Plaintiff to determine whether she 19 had being properly compensated for all hours worked. Further, Defendant disputes that 20 the post-termination payments made to Plaintiff are wages even though amounts are 21 listed for "Gross Pay" and "Net Pay" on the February 23, 2017 and March 9, 2017 wage 22 statements provided to Plaintiff Mays. Defendant's failure to provide accurate 23 information regarding gross and net wages earned has harmed Plaintiff Mays in that she 24 has been unable to determine whether or not she has been paid correctly by Defendants. 25 The fact that these errors appear on post-termination wage statements is especially egregious because Plaintiff has little recourse regarding obtaining accurate information since she no longer works for the company. Defendants' failure to provide the accurate name of the employer on wage statements has injured Plaintiff Mays by causing confusion as to who was her actual employer while Plaintiff Mays was working for Defendant. Defendant claims that Plaintiff Mays has "admitted" that Wal-Mart Associates, Inc., was her employer. However, this "admission" by Plaintiff Mays only 7 illustrates her confusion from Defendant's deceptive wage statements. During the course of Plaintiff May's employment with Defendant, wage statements provided to Plaintiff Mays previously listed "Wal-Mart Stores, Inc." on the statements. 10 Subsequently, Defendant made the decision to list "Wal-Mart Associates, Inc." on the statements. Obviously, this change caused confusion to Plaintiff Mays and Aggrieved Employees as to which was the entity that actually employed them, especially considering that other documents provided to Plaintiff Mays by Defendant clearly indicated that Plaintiff Mays was in fact employed by Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.

15 When Plaintiff Roach received his final wage statement, which Wal-Mart 19. 16 calls a Statement of Final Pay, Wal-Mart failed to include certain required information, 17 including, but not limited to, the inclusive dates of the pay period, all accumulated pay in 18 the employee's final pay statement, or the name and legal address of the employer, Wal-19 Mart Stores, Inc. On information and belief, Wal-Mart failed to include required 20 information on the wage statements of other Aggrieved Employees as well, both on the 21 Statement of Final Pay and otherwise. Defendants' failure to provide this statutorily 22 required information on wage statements has been deemed to cause injury under section 23 226(e)(2)(B) of the California Labor Code. Further, Aggrieved Employees were not 24 provided compliant wage statements when other tardy payments were made to them, after 25 their employ with Defendant had terminated. Wal-Mart also failed to provide the amount 26 of net wages earned in connection with post-termination, on-cycle pay stubs issued after the Statement of Final Pay. Defendants' post-termination wage statements were 27 28 confusing in that it was impossible to determine from the wage statements alone whether or not Aggrieved Employees were being paid wages or something else, such as a stock purchase refund. The statements made it impossible for Aggrieved Employees to 3 determine whether they had being properly compensated for all hours worked. 4 Defendants' failure to provide accurate information regarding gross and net wages earned 5 has harmed Aggrieved Employees in that they have been unable to determine whether or 6 not they have been paid correctly by Defendants. The fact that these errors appear on 7 post-termination wage statements is especially egregious because Aggrieved Employees 8 have little recourse regarding obtaining accurate information after they no longer work 9 for the company, many of the low-wage workers not having ready access to a computer, 10 printer, and the internet. Defendants' failure to provide the accurate name of the employer on wage statements has injured Plaintiff Roach and Aggrieved Employees by 12 causing confusion as to who was his actual employer while Plaintiff was working for 13 Defendants and after termination. Plaintiff Roach suffered confusion as to which was the entity that actually employed him, especially considering that other documents provided 14 to Plaintiff Roach by Defendants clearly indicated that Plaintiff was, in fact, employed by Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.

Wal-Mart failed to provide Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees pay 20: stubs that contain all of the information required by section 226 of the Labor Code. Section 226 states:

Every employer shall, semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, furnish each of his or her employees, either as a detachable part of the check, draft, or voucher paying the employee's wages, or separately when wages are paid by personal check or cash, an accurate itemized statement in writing showing (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked by the employee, except for any employee whose compensation is solely based on a salary and who is exempt from payment of overtime under subdivision (a) of Section 515 or any applicable order of the Industrial Welfare Commission, (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the employee is paid on a piece-rate basis, (4) all deductions, provided that all deductions made on written orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid, (7) the name of the employee and his or her social security number, except that by January 1, 2008, only the last four digits of his or her social security number or an employee identification number other than a social security number may be shown on the itemized statement, (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employee, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee.

Cal. Lab. Code § 226(a). Plaintiffs' pay stubs demonstrate that Wal-Mart fails to include the data required by section 226(a), including but not limited to the "inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid," all accumulated vacation pay earned in the employee's final pay statement, and the name and address of the entity that is the employee.

21. Mays's employer was Wal-Mart Stores, Inc, Nevertheless, her final wage statement and others issued to her incorrectly show Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. as the employer.

22. Similarly, Plaintiff Roach's employer was Walmart, Inc., formerly named Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. Nevertheless, his final wage statement, for example, and others issued to him incorrectly show Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. as the employer.

23. At all times relevant herein, sections 226 (b), (c), and (f) of the CaliforniaLabor Code further provided in part:

(b) An employer that is required by this code or any regulation adopted pursuant to this code to keep the information required by subdivision (a) shall afford current and former employees the right to inspect or copy records pertaining to their employment, upon reasonable request to the employer.

(c) An employer who receives a written or oral request to inspect or copy records pursuant to subdivision (b) pertaining to a current or former employee shall comply with the request as soon as practicable, but no later than 21 calendar days from the date of the request.

(f) A failure by an employer to permit a current or former employee to inspect or copy records within the time set forth in subdivision (c) entitles the current or former employee or the Labor Commissioner to recover a seven-hundred-fiftydollar ($750) penalty from the employer.

PLAINTIFF'S CLASS-ACTION ALLEGATIONS

24. The Class represented by Mays consists of all individuals who received a pay stub from Wal-Mart in the State of California at any time during the one year prior to the filing of her December 18, 2017 original Complaint, to January 31, 2018, the date before Defendant Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. effectively changed its name to Walmart, Inc. and the members are "Mays Class Members").

25. The Class represented by Roach consists of all individuals who received a pay stub from Wal-Mart in the State of California from the period of February 1, 2018, the effective date of Defendant's name change from Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. to Walmart, Inc. to the mailing of the class notice (the "Roach Class" and the members are the "Roach Class Members").

26. The number of persons within the Classes is great, believed to be in excess of ten thousand. It is therefore impractical to join each Class Member as a named plaintiff. Accordingly, the utilization of a class action is the most economically feasible means of determining the merits of this litigation.

27. Despite the numerosity of the Members of the Classes, membership within them is readily ascertainable through an examination of the records that Wal-Mart is required by law to keep and that it has kept. Likewise, the dollar amounts owed to Plaintiffs and Class Members are readily ascertainable by an examination of the same records. For example, with respect to Defendant's violations of section 226(a)(8) of the California Labor Code, the damages owing to each Class Member equals the sum of $50 (for the initial wage statement issued to the employee during the period commencing one year prior to the filing of the Complaint) and the product of the number of further wage statements issued to the employee and $100, with a per employee cap of $4,000.

28. The Class is proper insofar as common questions of fact and of law predominate over individual issues regarding the money owed to each Class Member.

29. There is a well-defined community of interest in the questions of law and fact common to the Class. The key questions are the same for each Class Member, namely, (a) Whether each Class Member received proper wage statements; and (e) Whether Wal-Mart's failure to show all accumulated vacation pay earned in the employee's final pay statement, failure to show the "inclusive dates of the of the period for which the employee is paid," or failure to list the legal name and address of the employer constitutes a violation of section 226.

30. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of Class Members, which all arise out of the same general operative facts, namely, that Wal-Mart's pay stubs fail to include all of the information required by the Labor Code. Plaintiffs have no conflict of interest with Class Members, and they are able to represent the interests of the Mays Class Members and Roach Class Members fairly and adequately.

31. A class action is a far-superior method for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy for a number of reasons. First, the persons within the Class are numerous, and joinder of all of them is impractical. Second, the disposition of all Class Members' claims in a single class action rather than in individual actions will benefit both the parties and the Court. In that regard, the claims of each individual Class Member are too small to litigate individually, and the commencement of thousands pf separate actions would lead to an undue burden on scarce judicial and administrative resources. The alternative of individual proceedings before California's Labor Commissioner is impractical inasmuch as that agency has insufficient resources to process such claims promptly, and, under the provisions of California Labor Code section 98.2, if the individual Class Members were to succeed in obtaining awards in their favor, such awards would be appealable as a matter of right for a de novo trial in Superior Court, leading to a multiplicity of such trials in that court. In addition, absent class treatment, employees will most likely be unable to secure redress given the time and expense necessary to pursue individual claims, and individual Class Members will likely be unable to retain counsel willing to prosecute their claims on an individual basis given the small amount of recovery. As a practical matter, denial of class treatment will lead to denial of recovery to the individual Class Members.

32. The interest of each Class Member in controlling the prosecution of his or her individual claim against Wal-Mart is small when compared with the efficiency of a class action.

PAGA REPRESENTATIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

33. On or about June 14, 2017, Plaintiff Mays gave written notice by certified mail and online filing of Defendant's violations of various provisions of the California Labor Code as alleged in this Complaint to the Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") and Defendant. On or about November 28, 2018, Plaintiff Roach gave written notice by certified mail and online filing of Defendants' violations of various provisions of the California Labor Code as alleged in this Complaint to the LWDA and Defendant.

More than sixty-five days have passed from the date of Plaintiffs' notices to 34. the LWDA and Plaintiffs have not been notified by the LWDA that it intends to investigate Plaintiffs' allegations. Therefore, pursuant to section 2699.3(a)(2)(A), Plaintiffs "may commence a civil action pursuant to Section 2699." Cal. Lab. Code § 2699.3(a)(2)(A).

40. According to Mays's employment records, the employer is Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. but her wage statements, and those issued to other Aggrieved Employees, incorrectly lists Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. as the employer. For example, see the document showing Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. as the employer in Mays's application in 2007; the document showing Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. as the employer in 2016 in her promotion papers; and the document showing Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. as the employer at the time she was terminated in February 2017. Accordingly, Mays and the Mays Class Members are entitled to damages, to costs, and to reasonable attorney's fees in accordance with the provisions of Labor Code section 226(e). Plaintiff Mays was not employed by Wal-Mart Associates, Inc., an entity which merely was engaged in the business of "Payroll Processing," as detailed by it on the Statement of Information filed by it with the Secretary of State of the State of California on September 8, 2017 and on August 30, 2016.

According to Plaintiff Roach's employment records, his employer is Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. and/or Walmart, Inc. but his wage statements, and those issued to other Aggrieved Employees, incorrectly lists Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. as the employer. Accordingly, Plaintiff Roach and the Roach Class Members are entitled to damages, costs, and reasonable attorney's fees in accordance with the provisions of Labor Code section 226(e). Accordingly, they seek to recover on behalf of themselves and all other current and former Aggrieved Employees of Defendant, the civil penalties for which provision is made by PAGA, as well as reasonable attorney's fees and costs.

44. Pursuant to section 2699.3(a)(1) of the Labor Code, on June 14, 2017, Plaintiff Mays gave written notice to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") of the specific provisions of the Labor Code alleged to have been violated by Defendants, including the theories set forth in this Complaint. Plaintiffs Lerna Mays ("Mays") and Larry Roach ("Roach") (collectively
 "Plaintiffs") on behalf of themselves as individuals, in their representative capacities on behalf of the State of California Labor & Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") under the Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 ("PAGA"), California Labor Code ("Labor Code") § 2698 et seq., and as proposed representatives of a putative class, alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

This is a PAGA law enforcement action and class action seeking damages, penalties, civil penalties and attorneys' fees and costs, including such reasonable
 reimbursement of fees and costs as may be authorized by Section 218.5 of the California Labor Code or otherwise. The alleged violations include wage statement violations, and associated penalties.

The California Labor Code requires employers to provide to its employees, among other things, itemized wage statements. Defendants Walmart, Inc., formerly known as Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. and Doe One through and including Doe One-Hundred ("Wal-Mart" or "Defendants") failed to comply with the California Labor Code requirements.¹ Accordingly, Plaintiffs seeks civil penalties on behalf of the State of California and the LWDA, to be shared with all impacted employees, all in accord with the extant statutory scheme.

Wal-Mart has and continues to employ tens of thousands of non-exempt employees who perform a variety of duties throughout California. Plaintiff Mays is bringing this action against Defendants on behalf of Walmart non-exempt employees who, during the relevant period, at any time during the period of one year prior to the filing of her December 18, 2017 original Complaint, to January 31, 2018, the date before Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. effectively changed its name to Walmart, Inc., have worked at one or more of the following Walmart retail facilities in California: the Walmart Supercenter # 3522 at Perris Blvd, Perris, CA 92571 (collectively, these employees are the "Aggrieved Employees") Plaintiff Mays is also bringing this action under PAGA on behalf of all Aggrieved Employees from the period of one year prior to her giving notice to the LWDA of Defendant's violations, June 14, 2017, to date.

8 4. Plaintiff Roach is bringing this action against Defendants on behalf of 9 Walmart non-exempt employees who, during the relevant period, from the period of 10 February 1, 2018, the effective date of Defendant's name change from Wal-Mart Stores, 11 Inc. to Walmart, Inc., to the mailing of the class notice, have worked at one or more of the following Walmart retail facilities in California: the Walmart Supercenter # 3522 at 12 13 3250 Big Dalton Avenue, Baldwin Park, CA 91706; the Walmart Supercenter at 1231 S. 14 Sanderson Avenue, Hemet, CA 92545; the Walmart Supercenter at S. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., United States District Court for the Central District of 20 California Case No. Case No. 2:18-cv-02318-AB-KK and/or Roach v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., United States District Court for the Central District of California Case No. 5:18-cv-02536-AB-KK. On April 10, 2020, pursuant to a mandate of the Ninth Circuit Court of 23 24 Appeal, the federal court dismissed Plaintiff Mays' wage statement claim without 25 prejudice following the Ninth Circuit's April 8, 2020 decision reversing the district 26 court's class certification order as to the Wage Statement Class due to lack of Article III 27 standing.

6. Plaintiffs' tolling argument is supported by controlling decisions of the United States Supreme Court. Crown, Cork & Seal v. Parker, 462 U.S. 345, 354 (1983) ("We conclude, as did the Court in American Pipe, that 'the commencement of a class action suspends the applicable statute of limitations as to all asserted members of the class who would have been parties had the suit been permitted to continue as a class action.' Once the statute of limitations has been tolled, it remains tolled for all members of the putative class until class certification is denied. At that point, class members may choose to file their own suits ") (quoting Am. Pipe & Const. Co. v. Utah, 414 U.S. 538, 554 (1974).

10 The pendency of the federal cases previously filed by Plaintiffs and 7. effectively dismissed by the Ninth Circuit decision that they did not have federal Article III standing to pursue the matters in federal court has tolled all applicable statutes of limitations with respect to the claims articulated herein.

8. The Judicial Council of California (JCC)'s amended Emergency Rule 9 14 (Effective on May 29, 2020) also tolls the applicable time periods insofar as it 15 16 provides: "Notwithstanding any other law, the statutes of limitations and repose for civil 17 causes of action that exceed 180 days are tolled from April 6, 2020, until October 1, 18 2020." The Advisory Committee Comment notes that: "Emergency rule 9 is intended to apply broadly to toll any statute of limitations on the filing of a pleading in court 19 20 asserting a civil cause of action. The term "civil causes of action" includes special 21 proceedings. (See Code Civ. Proc., §§ 312, 363 ["action," as used in title 2 of the code 22 (Of the Time of Commencing Civil Actions], is construed "as including a special proceeding of a civil nature"). . . . The rule also applies to statutes of limitations on filing 23 of causes of action in court found in codes other than the Code of Civil Procedure." 24

25 9. Due to the illegal employment practices as more fully described herein, 26 Plaintiffs, in their representative capacity, seeks civil penalties on behalf of themselves 27 and other Aggrieved Employees pursuant to PAGA, against all Defendants.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

11. This is a civil class action and representative action brought under the California Labor Code Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA"), seeking damages, civil penalties, statutory penalties and attorneys' fees and costs. Venue as to Defendants is proper in this judicial district, pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure sections 395(a) and 395.5. Defendants maintain an office, transact business, have an agent, or are found in the County of Los Angeles and are within the jurisdiction of this Court for purposes of service of process. The violations of PAGA alleged herein had a direct effect on, and were committed within the State of California, impacting Plaintiffs and the . Aggrieved Employees.

12. Venue as to Defendants is proper in this judicial district. Wal-Mart 1 maintains an office, transacts business, has an agent or is otherwise found in the State of California and the District and Division in which this case is filed and is within the jurisdiction of this court for the purpose of service of process. The unlawful acts alleged herein had a direct effect on and were committed within the State of California.

19 This Court has jurisdiction over Wal-Mart because, upon information and 13. belief, Defendants are either residents of California, have minimum contacts in 20 California, or otherwise intentionally avail themselves of the protections of California so as to render California's exercise of jurisdiction over Defendants consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

PARTIES

14. Lerna Mays and Larry Roach are individuals who, during the time periods relevant to this Complaint, was employed by Wal-Mart within the State of California.

15. Defendant Walmart, Inc., formerly Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., was and is a Delaware corporation doing business within the State of California and having a principal place of business within the State of California. Wal-Mart's corporate headquarters are located in Bentonville, Arkansas. Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. was and is a Delaware corporation doing business within the State of California and having a principal place of business in Bentonville, Arkansas. Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. is merely engaged in the business of processing payroll for Defendants.

Defendants Doe One through and including Doe One-Hundred are sued 6 16. 7 herein under the provisions of section 474 of the California Code of Civil Procedure. 8 Mays is unaware of the true names, identities, or capacities, whether corporate, 9 individual, or otherwise, of said fictitiously named Defendants, but leave of Court will be 10 prayed to amend this pleading to insert the same herein when finally ascertained. Mays is 11 informed, believes, and thereupon alleges that each of the fictitiously named Defendants is an entity that, during the relevant time period, maintained a principal place of business 12 in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and that each of the said fictitiously 13 named Defendants is legally responsible for the damages hereinafter more particularly 14 15 alleged.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

17 17. Defendants employed Mays as an hourly employee until her employment 18 was terminated by Defendants. Defendants employed Roach as an hourly employee until 19 his employment was terminated by Defendants.

18. Plaintiff Mays was terminated on or about February 10, 2017 but was not paid her full and final wages until many days later. Similarly, Plaintiff Roach was terminated on or about November 18, 2018, and not paid his full and final wages until a later date.

19. Wal-Mart's policy is to devote minimal resources to the payroll accounting function with the result that in practice its former employees are routinely not paid all final wages owing to them in proper fashion.

27 20. When Plaintiffs received their final wage statements, Wal-Mart failed to 28 include certain required information, including but not limited to, the inclusive dates of

1 the pay period, all accumulated pay in the employee's final pay statement, which Wal-2 Mart calls a Final Statement of Wages, or the name and legal address of the employer. 3 Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. for Mays and Walmart, Inc. for Plaintiff Roach. On information 4 and belief, Wal-Mart failed to include required information on the wage statements of 5 other Aggrieved Employees as well, both on the final pay statement and otherwise. 6 Defendant's failure to provide this statutorily required information on wage statements 7 has been deemed to cause injury under section 226(e)(2)(B) of the California Labor 8 Code. Further, Plaintiffs and other Aggrieved Employees were not provided compliant 9 wage statements when other tardy payments were made to them, after their employ with 10 Defendant had terminated. Wal-Mart also failed to provide the amount of net wages 11 earned in connection with post-termination, on-cycle pay stubs issued to Plaintiffs and Aggrieved Employees after the Final Statement of Wages. Defendant's post-termination 12 13 wage statements were confusing in that it was impossible to determine from the wage 14 statements alone whether or not Plaintiff Mays was being paid wages or something else, 15 such as a stock purchase refund. The wage statement of February 23, 2017 claims that 16 she is being paid for "REGULAR EARNINGS," "OVERTIME EARN," and a "CA 17 MEAL PREM," along with some accrued, unused vacation and "PERS pay." The 18 deductions portion of the February 23, 2017 wage statement reflects typical Social 19 Security and SDI deductions associated with the payment of wages. The wage statement 20 of March 9, 2017 indicates that Plaintiff Mays was being paid for "OVERTIME/INCT," 21 and her "MYSHARE INCT" bonus. The deductions portion of the March 9, 2017 wage 22 statement reflects typical Social Security and SDI deductions associated with the 23 payment of wages. Defendant's Senior Director of Payroll Services, Diana McChristian has declared that Plaintiff May's wage statement dated February 23, 2017 included an, 24 25 "additional $100 reflecting a stock purchase withholding that she [Mays] had set up to be 26 regularly deducted from paychecks, including her final pay, but which was turned off 27 before the payroll run that held the February 23, 2017 pay date, resulting in a 28 "reimbursement" of the stock purchase withholding when her final pay was deducted from the "true up" payment." Jul. 30, 2018 McChristian Decl. [ECF Doc. 56-1] ¶ 16.² 1 2 Despite the McChristian testimony, there is nothing on the wage statement that reflects 3 this payment. The statements made it impossible for Plaintiff to determine whether she 4 had being properly compensated for all hours worked. Further, Defendant disputes that 5 the post-termination payments made to Plaintiff are wages even though amounts are 6 listed for "Gross Pay" and "Net Pay" on the February 23, 2017 and March 9, 2017 wage 7 statements provided to Plaintiff Mays. Defendant's failure to provide accurate 8 information regarding gross and net wages earned has harmed Plaintiff Mays in that she 9 has been unable to determine whether or not she has been paid correctly by Defendants. 10 The fact that these errors appear on post-termination wage statements is especially 11 egregious because Plaintiff has little recourse regarding obtaining accurate information 12 since she no longer works for the company. Defendants' failure to provide the accurate 13 name of the employer on wage statements has injured Plaintiff Mays by causing 14 confusion as to who was her actual employer while Plaintiff Mays was working for 15 Defendant. Defendant claims that Plaintiff Mays has "admitted" that Wal-Mart Associates, Inc., was her employer. However, this "admission" by Plaintiff Mays only 16 17 illustrates her confusion from Defendant's deceptive wage statements. During the course 18 of Plaintiff May's employment with Defendant, wage statements provided to Plaintiff 19 Mays previously listed "Wal-Mart Stores, Inc." on the statements. Subsequently, 20 Defendant made the decision to list "Wal-Mart Associates, Inc." on the statements. Obviously, this change caused confusion to Plaintiff Mays and Aggrieved Employees as 21 22 to which was the entity that actually employed them, especially considering that other 23 documents provided to Plaintiff Mays by Defendant clearly indicated that Plaintiff Mays 24 was in fact employed by Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.

25 26 21. When Plaintiff Roach received his final wage statement, which Wal-Mart

² The referenced McChristian Declaration was filed as Docket Entry 56-1 in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California, in Mays v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., C.D. Cal. Case No. 2:18-cv-02318-AB-KK.

calls a Statement of Final Pay, Wal-Mart failed to include certain required information, 1 2 including, but not limited to, the inclusive dates of the pay period, all accumulated pay in 3 the employee's final pay statement, or the name and legal address of the employer, Wal-4 Mart Stores, Inc. On information and belief, Wal-Mart failed to include required 5 information on the wage statements of other Aggrieved Employees as well, both on the 6 Statement of Final Pay and otherwise. Defendants' failure to provide this statutorily 7 required information on wage statements has been deemed to cause injury under section 8 226(e)(2)(B) of the California Labor Code. Further, Aggrieved Employees were not 9 provided compliant wage statements when other tardy payments were made to them, after their employ with Defendant had terminated. Wal-Mart also failed to provide the amount 10 of net wages earned in connection with post-termination, on-cycle pay stubs issued after 11 the Statement of Final Pay. Defendants' post-termination wage statements were 12 13 confusing in that it was impossible to determine from the wage statements alone whether 14 or not Aggrieved Employees were being paid wages or something else, such as a stock 15 purchase refund. The statements made it impossible for Aggrieved Employees to 16 determine whether they had being properly compensated for all hours worked. 17 Defendants' failure to provide accurate information regarding gross and net wages earned 18 has harmed Aggrieved Employees in that they have been unable to determine whether or not they have been paid correctly by Defendants. The fact that these errors appear on 19 20 post-termination wage statements is especially egregious because Aggrieved Employees 21 have little recourse regarding obtaining accurate information after they no longer work 22 for the company, many of the low-wage workers not having ready access to a computer, 23 printer, and the internet. Defendants' failure to provide the accurate name of the 24 employer on wage statements has injured Plaintiff Roach and Aggrieved Employees by 25 causing confusion as to who was his actual employer while Plaintiff was working for 26 Defendants and after termination. Plaintiff Roach suffered confusion as to which was the entity that actually employed him, especially considering that other documents provided 27 28 to Plaintiff Roach by Defendants clearly indicated that Plaintiff was, in fact, employed by

Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.

Wal-Mart failed to provide Plaintiffs and the Aggrieved Employees pay 22. stubs that contain all of the information required by section 226 of the Labor Code. Section 226 states:

Every employer shall, semimonthly or at the time of each payment of wages, furnish each of his or her employees, either as a detachable part of the check, draft, or voucher paying the employee's wages, or separately when wages are paid by personal check or cash, an accurate itemized statement in writing showing (1) gross wages earned, (2) total hours worked by the employee, except for any employee whose compensation is solely based on a salary and who is exempt from payment of overtime under subdivision (a) of Section 515 or any applicable order of the Industrial Welfare Commission, (3) the number of piece-rate units earned and any applicable piece rate if the employee is paid on a piece-rate basis, (4) all deductions, provided that all deductions made on written orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item, (5) net wages earned, (6) the inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid, (7) the name of the employee and his or her social security number, except that by January 1, 2008, only the last four digits of his or her social security number or an employee identification number other than a social security number may be shown on the itemized statement, (8) the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer, and (9) all applicable hourly rates in effect during the pay period and the corresponding number of hours worked at each hourly rate by the employee. Cal. Lab. Code § 226(a). Plaintiffs' pay stubs demonstrate that Wal-Mart fails to include the data required by section 226(a), including but not limited to the "inclusive dates of the 26 period for which the employee is paid," all accumulated vacation pay earned in the 27 employee's final pay statement, and the name and address of the entity that is the employer.

23. Mays's employer was Wal-Mart Stores, Inc, Nevertheless, her final wage statement and others issued to her incorrectly show Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. as the employer.

24. Similarly, Plaintiff Roach's employer was Walmart, Inc., formerly named Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. Nevertheless, his final wage statement, for example, and others issued to him incorrectly show Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. as the employer.

25. At all times relevant herein, sections 226 (b), (c), and (f) of the California Labor Code further provided in part:

(b) An employer that is required by this code or any regulation adopted pursuant to this code to keep the information required by subdivision (a) shall afford current and former employees the right to inspect or copy records pertaining to their employment, upon reasonable request to the employer.

(c) An employer who receives a written or oral request to inspect or copy records pursuant to subdivision (b) pertaining to a current or former employee shall comply with the request as soon as practicable, but no later than 21 calendar days from the date of the request.

(f) A failure by an employer to permit a current or former employee to inspect or copy records within the time set forth in subdivision (c) entitles the current or former employee or the Labor Commissioner to recover a seven-hundred-fiftydollar ($750) penalty from the employer.

PLAINTIFF'S CLASS-ACTION ALLEGATIONS

24 26. The Class represented by Mays consists of all Walmart non-exempt 25 employees who, at any time from December 18, 2016 to January 31, 2018, worked at one
26 or more of the following Walmart retail facilities in California: the Walmart Supercenter
27 # 3522 at 3250 Big Dalton Avenue, Baldwin Park, CA 91706; the Walmart Supercenter 28 at 1231 $. Sanderson Avenue, Hemet, CA 92545; the Walmart Supercenter at $. San Jacinto Ave., San Jacinto, CA 92583; or the Walmart Supercenter at 1800 N. Perris Blvd., Perris, CA 92571. (the "Mays Class" and the members are "Mays Class Members").

4 27. The Class represented by Roach consists of all Walmart non-exempt 5 employees who, at any time from February 1, 2018 to the mailing of the class notice, 6 worked at one or more of the following Walmart retail facilities in California: the 7 Walmart Supercenter # 3522 at 3250 Big Dalton Avenue, Baldwin Park, CA 91706; the 8 Walmart Supercenter at 1231 S. Sanderson Avenue, Hemet, CA 92545; the Walmart 9 Supercenter at S. San Jacinto Ave., San Jacinto, CA 92583; or the Walmart Supercenter 10 at 1800 N. Perris Blvd., Perris, CA 92571 (the "Roach Class" and the members are the 11 "Roach Class Members").

12 28. The number of persons within the Classes is great, believed to be in excess 13 of ten thousand. It is therefore impractical to join each Class Member as a named 14 plaintiff. Accordingly, the utilization of a class action is the most economically feasible 15 means of determining the merits of this litigation.

Despite the numerosity of the Members of the Classes, membership within 16 29. 17 them is readily ascertainable through an examination of the records that Wal-Mart is 18 required by law to keep and that it has kept. Likewise, the dollar amounts owed to 19 Plaintiffs and Class Members are readily ascertainable by an examination of the same 20 records. For example, with respect to Defendant's violations of section 226(a)(8) of the 21 California Labor Code, the damages owing to each Class Member equals the sum of $50 22 (for the initial wage statement issued to the employee during the period commencing one 23 year prior to the filing of the Complaint) and the product of the number of further wage 24 statements issued to the employee and $100, with a per employee cap of $4,000.

30. The Classes are proper insofar as common questions of fact and of law predominate over individual issues regarding the money owed to each Class Member.

27 31. There is a well-defined community of interest in the questions of law and 28 fact common to the Classes. The key questions are the same for each Class Member,

namely, (a) Whether each Class Member received proper wage statements; and (e) Whether Wal-Mart's failure to show all accumulated vacation pay earned in the employee's final pay statement, failure to show the "inclusive dates of the of the period for which the employee is paid," or failure to list the legal name and address of the employer constitutes a violation of section 226.

32. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of Class Members, which all arise out of the same general operative facts, namely, that Wal-Mart's pay stubs fail to include all of the information required by the Labor Code. Plaintiffs have no conflict of interest with Class Members, and they are able to represent the interests of the Mays Class Members and Roach Class Members fairly and adequately.

11 · 33. A class action is a far-superior method for the fair and efficient adjudication 12 of this controversy for a number of reasons. First, the persons within the Class are 13 numerous, and joinder of all of them is impractical. Second, the disposition of all Class 14 Members' claims in a single class action rather than in individual actions will benefit 15 both the parties and the Court. In that regard, the claims of each individual Class 16 Member are too small to litigate individually, and the commencement of thousands pf 17 separate actions would lead to an undue burden on scarce judicial and administrative 18 resources. The alternative of individual proceedings before California's Labor 19 Commissioner is impractical inasmuch as that agency has insufficient resources to 20 process such claims promptly, and, under the provisions of California Labor Code section 21 98.2, if the individual Class Members were to succeed in obtaining awards in their favor, 22 such awards would be appealable as a matter of right for a de novo trial in Superior 23 Court, leading to a multiplicity of such trials in that court. In addition, absent class 24 treatment, employees will most likely be unable to secure redress given the time and 25 expense necessary to pursue individual claims, and individual Class Members will likely 26 be unable to retain counsel willing to prosecute their claims on an individual basis given 27 the small amount of recovery. As a practical matter, denial of class treatment will lead to 28 denial of recovery to the individual Class Members.

34. The interest of each Class Member in controlling the prosecution of his or her individual claim against Wal-Mart is small when compared with the efficiency of a class action.

PAGA REPRESENTATIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

5 35. On or about June 14, 2017, Plaintiff Mays gave written notice by certified 6 mail and online filing of Defendant's violations of various provisions of the California 7 Labor Code as alleged in this Complaint to the Labor and Workforce Development 8 Agency ("LWDA") and Defendant. On or about November 28, 2018, Plaintiff Roach 9 gave written notice by certified mail and online filing of Defendants' violations of 10 various provisions of the California Labor Code as alleged in this Complaint to the 11 LWDA and Defendant.

36. More than sixty-five days have passed from the date of Plaintiffs' notices to the LWDA and Plaintiffs have not been notified by the LWDA that it intends to investigate Plaintiffs' allegations. Therefore, pursuant to section 2699.3(a)(2)(A), Plaintiffs "may commence a civil action pursuant to Section 2699." Cal. Lab. Code § 2699.3(a)(2)(A).

17 37. Plaintiffs are informed and believe and thereon alleges that Defendants have 18 routinely failed to provide Plaintiffs and other Aggrieved Employees with proper 19 itemized wage statements.

38. Plaintiffs allege that Defendant violated PAGA by willfully failing to provide Aggrieved Employees with proper itemized wage statements in violation of Labor Code § 226(a). "PAGA actions can serve to indirectly enforce certain wage order provisions by enforcing statutes that require compliance with wage orders (e.g., § 1198, which prohibits longer work hours than those fixed by wage order or employment under conditions prohibited by a wage order)." Thurman v. Bayshore Transit Mgmt., Inc., 203

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION Failure to Provide Adequate Pay Stubs, Cal. Lab. Code § 226(a) (On Behalf of Plaintiffs Individually, the Mays Class and the Roach Class Against All Defendants) 39. Plaintiffs re-plead, re-allege, and incorporate by reference each and every paragraph set forth in this Complaint. 40. Section 226 of the Labor Code states: An employee suffering injury as a result of a knowing and intentional failure by an employer to comply with subdivision (a) is entitled to recover the greater of all actual damages or fifty dollars ($50) for the initial pay period in which a violation occurs and one hundred dollars ($100) per employee for each violation in a subsequent pay period, not exceeding an aggregate penalty of four thousand dollars ($4,000), and is entitled to an award of costs and reasonable attorney's fees. Id. § 226(e). 41. Wal-Mart failed to provide Mays, Roach and Class Members with pay stubs

16 17 conforming to the requirements of section 226(a) of the Labor Code by failing to always 18 designate "inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid," failure to show 19 all accumulated vacation pay earned in the employee's final pay statement, failure to 20 accurately list the gross and net wages paid, or the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer. As described in this Complaint, Defendants' defective wage 22 statements injured Plaintiffs and Aggrieved Employees.

42. According to Mays's employment records, the employer is Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. but her wage statements, and those issued to other Aggrieved Employees, incorrectly lists Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. as the employer. For example, see the document showing Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. as the employer in Mays's application in 2007; the document showing Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. as the employer in 2016 in her promotion papers; and the document showing Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. as the employer at the time she was terminated in February 2017. Accordingly, Mays and the Mays Class Members are entitled to damages, to costs, and to reasonable attorney's fees in accordance with the provisions of Labor Code section 226(e). Plaintiff Mays was not employed by Wal-Mart Associates, Inc., an entity which merely was engaged in the business of "Payroll Processing," as detailed by it on the Statement of Information filed by it with the Secretary of State of the State of California on September 8, 2017 and on August 30, 2016.

7 43. According to Plaintiff Roach's employment records, his employer is Wal-8 Mart Stores, Inc. and/or Walmart, Inc. but his wage statements, and those issued to other 9 Aggrieved Employees, incorrectly lists Wal-Mart Associates, Inc. as the employer. 10 Accordingly, Plaintiff Roach and the Roach Class Members are entitled to damages, 11 costs, and reasonable attorney's fees in accordance with the provisions of Labor Code section 226(e). Plaintiff Roach was not employed by Wal-Mart Associates, Inc.--an 12 entity which merely was engaged in the business of "Payroll Processing," as detailed by 13 it on the Statement of Information filed by it with the Secretary of State of the State of 14 California on September 6, 2018. 15

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

Civil Penalties, Cal. Lab. Code §§ 2698 et seq. (On behalf of Plaintiffs, the State of California and on behalf of the Aggrieved Employees Against Defendants)

20 44. Plaintiffs replead, reallege, and incorporate by reference each and every21 allegation set forth in the Complaint.

45. Plaintiffs are "aggrieved employees" under PAGA, as they were employed by Defendant during the applicable statutory period and suffered one or more of the Labor Code Violations set forth herein. Accordingly, they seek to recover on behalf of themselves and all other current and former Aggrieved Employees of Defendant, the civil penalties for which provision is made by PAGA, as well as reasonable attorney's fees and costs.

28

16

17

46. Pursuant to section 2699.3(a)(1) of the Labor Code, on June 14, 2017, Plaintiff Mays gave written notice to the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") of the specific provisions of the Labor Code alleged to have been violated by Defendants, including the theories set forth in this Complaint. Also on that day, Plaintiff gave written notice by certified mail to Defendant Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. of the specific provisions of the Labor Code alleged to have been violated by Defendant Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. On or about November 28, 2018, Plaintiff Roach gave written notice by certified mail and online filing of Defendants' violations of various provisions of the California Labor Code as alleged in this Complaint to the LWDA and Defendants.

47. More than sixty-five days have passed from the date of Plaintiffs' notice to the LWDA and Plaintiffs have not been notified by the LWDA that it intends to investigate Plaintiffs' allegations. Therefore, Plaintiffs, pursuant to section 2699.3(a)(2)(A), "may commence a civil action pursuant to Section 2699." Cal. Lab. Code § 2699.3(a)(2)(A).

48. Plaintiffs seek to recover the PAGA civil penalties through a representative action permitted by PAGA and the California Supreme Court in Arias v. Superior Court, 46 Cal. 4th 969 (2009). Therefore, class certification of the PAGA claims is not required.

49. Plaintiffs seeks civil penalties pursuant to PAGA for violations of the following Labor Code provisions:

Failure to provide itemized wage statements to Aggrieved Employees in violation of Labor Code § 226(a), not even identifying the legal name and address of the employer;

50. Labor Code §§ 2699 et seq. imposes a civil penalty of one hundred dollars ($100) per pay period, per aggrieved employee for initial violations, and two hundred dollars ($200) per pay period, per aggrieved employee for subsequent violations for all Labor Code provisions for which a civil penalty is not specifically provided, including the applicable Wage Order.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment as follows:

4.

That the Court certify the proposed Classes.

2. With respect to the First Cause of Action, that it be adjudged that the Court enter judgment in favor of Plaintiffs and Class Members in an amount to be established by proof, in at least the amount of $250,000, as well as costs and attorney's fees, in accordance with section 226(e) of the Labor Code.

7 3. With respect to the Second Cause of Action, that this Court award Plaintiffs 8 and other Aggrieved Employees their civil penalties, attorneys' fees, and costs of suit, all
9 according to proof, in at least the amount of $250,000, pursuant to Labor Code Section 10 2698, et seq.
