NOTICE OF [EXTRA1]

Dear Sample A. Sample:

OneDigital Investment Advisors LLC (“OneDigital”) is writing to inform you of an incident involving a third-party application utilized by OneDigital that may impact the privacy of some of your information. Please note this incident did not involve a compromise of OneDigital’s own internal network or systems. Although we have no evidence of misuse of your information at this time, we are notifying you in an abundance of caution to inform you of the incident, our response, and steps you can take to help protect against the possible misuse of your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On August 22, 2025, OneDigital was notified by Salesforce, our customer relationship management platform provider, of a possible data security event impacting Salesforce and Drift, an online chat agent tool managed by Salesloft, our former customer relationship management platform provider. OneDigital immediately launched a forensic investigation with the assistance of industry-leading cybersecurity specialists to determine the nature and scope of the incident. The investigation found that between August 12 - August 18, 2025, certain data of OneDigital’s stored in Salesforce was potentially accessed and copied by an unauthorized actor due to a compromise of the Drift application. We next undertook a thorough and time-intensive review of the potentially impacted data to determine what, if any, sensitive customer information was involved. Please note this incident did not involve a compromise of OneDigital’s own internal network or systems.

What Information Was Involved? We recently completed our review and determined that your name and the following types of information may have been impacted: [Extra2].

What We Are Doing. OneDigital takes this incident and the security of the information in our and our vendors’ care very seriously. Upon learning about this issue, we promptly took steps to confirm the security of OneDigital systems and investigate the incident. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy of information in our care, we are also reviewing our policies, procedures, and processes related to the storage of sensitive information to protect against incidents like this.

As an added precaution, we are offering you [Extra3] months of complimentary access to credit monitoring and identity monitoring services through Experian. If you wish to receive these services, you must enroll by following the below activation instructions, as we are unable to activate these services on your behalf.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your bank and credit card statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors over the next 12 to 24 months and consider notifying your financial institutions. Please also review the information contained in the enclosed Steps You Can Take To Protect Personal Information. There, you will also find more information on the complimentary credit monitoring services we are making available to you.

For More Information. We understand that you may have questions about this incident that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions, or need assistance, please call our assistance line at 833-549-2144, Monday through 8 am - 8 pm Central Time (excluding major U.S. holidays). You may also write to OneDigital at incident@onedigital.com or 300 Galleria Parkway, Suite 1100, Atlanta, GA 30339, ATTN: Privacy Officer.

Sincerely,

OneDigital Privacy Officer

Recommendations for Monitoring Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, or delete fraudulent transactions, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them and us. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint at www.usa.gov/identity-theft. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001; (202) 442-9828; and oag.dc.gov.

For Maryland residents, the Maryland Attorney General may be contacted at: 200 St. Paul Place, 16th Floor, Baltimore, MD 21202; 1-410-576-6300 or 1-888-743-0023; and <https://www.marylandattorneygeneral.gov/>.

For New Mexico residents, consumers have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in their credit file has been used against them, the right to know what is in their credit file, the right to ask for their credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to consumers' files is limited; consumers must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; consumers may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in their credit report; and consumers may seek damages from violators. Consumers may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage consumers to review their rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act by visiting www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504_cfpb_summary_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf, or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.

For New York residents, the New York Attorney General may be contacted at: Office of the Attorney General, The Capitol, Albany, NY 12224-0341; 1-800-771-7755; or <https://ag.ny.gov>.

For North Carolina residents, the North Carolina Attorney General may be contacted at: 9001 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-9001; 1-877-566-7226 or 1-919-716-6000; and www.ncdoj.gov.

For Rhode Island residents, the Rhode Island Attorney General may be reached at: 150 South Main Street, Providence, RI 02903; www.riag.ri.gov; and 1-401-274-4400. Under Rhode Island law, individuals have the right to obtain any police report filed in regard to this event. There are approximately 50 Rhode Island residents that may be impacted by this event.
