CASE NO.: '21CV128 JM KSC
CLASS ACTION

COMPLAINT FOR DAMAGES,
EQUITABLE, DECLARATORY, AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff Jimmy Ruiz (“Plaintiff”), individually and on behalf of himself and all
2 others similarly situated, brings this class action against Defendant Celsius Holdings
3 Inc. (“Celsius” or “Defendant”) and on the basis of personal knowledge, information
4 and belief, and the investigation of counsel, alleges as follows:

5
6 INTRODUCTION

8 “The difference between a product that contains a characterizing food ingredient 9 and a product that contains no such ingredient.... is very important to the value of 10 the product and thus to the consuming public.”<sup>1</sup>

11 1. This is a proposed class action on behalf of a nationwide class and a 12 California sub-class (collectively, “Class”) of consumers seeking redress for 13 Defendant’s deceptive practices associated with the advertising, labeling and sale of 14 its fitness beverages.

15 2. Defendant Celsius manufactures, markets, advertises, and sells a line of 16 fitness beverages that are touted as “healthy energy” drinks with “no preservatives 17 artificial colors or flavors.” The beverages are based on a proprietary formulation that 18 provides a number of vitamins, minerals and other healthful ingredients such as 19 guarana, ginger root and green tea (“Beverages” or “Products”).

20 3. Although the beverage market is highly competitive, Celsius successfully 21 markets its Products as being “healthier” and “as natural as possible” as compared to 22 other energy drinks.

23 4. The success of this marketing campaign is undeniable, and has resulted in 24 massive year to year revenue growth. In the third quarter of 2020 alone, Celsius 25 reported $36.84 million in revenue, representing an 80.4% increase over revenue for 26 the same period a year earlier.

27 _____
28 <sup>1</sup> Federal Register Vol. 38, No. 231, December 3, 1973.

1           5. Plaintiff was a frequent purchaser of Celsius Beverages including one
2 characterized as Sparkling Orange. The front label (aka “principal display panel”) of 3 the Beverage container characterizes it as “orange” by both name (set off in the color
4 orange) and by a large vignette of a sliced orange.

5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20           6. Despite being characterized as an “orange” beverage, however, the 21 Product does not contain its characterizing ingredient (i.e., orange), but rather derives 22 its taste from a lab synthesized ingredient defined obtusely as “natural flavor.” By 23 characterizing the Product in this manner – failing to either include its characterizing
24 ingredient, or alternatively, clearly indicating on the Product’s principal display panel
25 that it is a “flavored” beverage, Celsius has falsely and misleadingly labeled its 26 Products, deceived its consumers, and violated the law.

27           7. Throughout the applicable class period, Defendant falsely represented the 28 nature of its fitness beverages and as a result of this false and misleading labeling, was

1 able to sell these Products to tens of thousands of unsuspecting consumers throughout 2 California and the United States, and to profit thereby.

3 8. Plaintiff alleges Defendant's conduct is in breach of warranty, violates
4 California's Business and Professions Code § 17200, et. seq., California's Business &
5 Professions Code § 17500, et. seq., California Civil Code § 1750, et seq., and is 6 otherwise grounds for restitution on the basis of quasi-contract/unjust enrichment.

7
8 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

9 9. Jurisdiction of this Court is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2).
10 Diversity jurisdiction exists as Plaintiff Ruiz is a resident of Chula Vista, California
11 and Defendant Celsius is a Nevada corporation with its principal place of business in 12 Boca Raton Florida. The amount in controversy exceeds $5,000,000 for the Plaintiff 13 and members of the Class collectively, exclusive of interest and costs, by virtue of the 14 combined purchase prices paid by Plaintiff and members of the putative Class, and the 15 profits reaped by Defendant from its transactions with Plaintiff and the Class, as a 16 direct and proximate result of the wrongful conduct alleged herein, and by virtue of 17 the injunctive and equitable relief sought.

18 10. Venue is proper within this judicial district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391 19 because a substantial portion of the underlying transactions and events complained of 20 occurred and affected persons and entities located in this judicial district, and 21 Defendant has received substantial compensation from such transactions and business 22 activity in this judicial district.

23 PARTIES

24
25 11. Plaintiff Jimmy Ruiz is a resident of Chula Vista, California.

26 12. Mr. Ruiz purchased a variety of Celsius Drink Products throughout the 27 applicable class period, including but not limited to Sparkling Orange, Peach Mango
28

1 Green Tea, and Sparkling Grape Rush. The purchases were made at several stores in 2 his surrounding area including, but not limited to, Walmart, Target, CVS and 7-11.

3 13. Mr. Ruiz believed the representations on the Products' principal display
4 panels -- that he was consuming beverages that contained the fruits depicted by name
5 and vignette.

6 14. He believed that Defendant lawfully marketed and sold the Products.

7 15. Mr. Ruiz relied on Defendant's labeling and was misled thereby.

8 16. Mr. Ruiz would not have purchased the Products, or would have 9 purchased the Products on different terms had he known the truth.

10 17. Mr. Ruiz was injured in fact and lost money as a result of Defendant's 11 improper conduct.

12 18. If Mr. Ruiz has occasion to believe that Defendant's marketing and 13 labeling is truthful, non-misleading, and lawful, he would purchase Celsius beverages 14 in the future.

15 19. Defendant Celsius Holdings Inc. manufactures, markets and sells a 16 variety of functional fitness beverages under the brand name Celsius. The Beverages
17 are sold across a variety of retail segments including supermarkets, convenience
18 stores, drug stores, nutritional stores, and mass merchants. Celsius is a Nevada
19 corporation that maintains its principal place of business at 2424 N Federal Highway, 20 Suite 208, Boca Raton, Florida 33431.

21
22 GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

23 20. Celsius develops, markets, sells and distributes a line of "functional 24 calorie burning fitness beverages" under the Celsius brand name.<sup>2</sup> The brand consists

Form 10-K ("Form 10-K").

1 of four product lines each of which offers several “fruit” beverages affected by the 2 same labeling infirmity described herein.<sup>3</sup>

3 21. Defendant operates in a crowded beverage space among a number of 4 well-established and well-funded competitors.

5 22. Over the last several years, consumers have increasingly moved towards 6 clean label products, abandoning beverages laden with sugars, flavorings and empty
7 calories in exchange for beverages that provide a range of health benefits.

8 23. To that end, Celsius created a niche within the fitness beverage
9 marketplace imbuing its Products with a health-halo based on a series of structure 10 function claims (e.g. “healthy energy” and “accelerates metabolism”), inclusion of 11 healthful ingredients (e.g. green team guarana, ginger root, vitamins and minerals), 12 and free-from claims (e.g. “no preservatives artificial colors or flavors”).<sup>4</sup> “We seek 13 to combine nutritional science with mainstream beverages by using our proprietary 14 thermogenic (calorie-burning) MetaPlus ® formulation, while fostering the goal of 15 healthier everyday refreshment by being as natural as possible without the artificial 16 preservatives often found in many energy drinks and sodas.”<sup>5</sup>

17 24. Celsius subsequently undertook significant marketing efforts aimed at 18 building brand awareness and promoting its Beverages.

1           25. Celsius’ efforts paid off handsomely as single year revenues grew from 2 $38,905,235 in 2018 to $59,659,320 in 2019.<sup>6</sup> In the third quarter of 2020 alone, the 3 company reported $36.84 million in revenue, representing an 80.4% increase over 4 revenue for the same period a year earlier.<sup>7</sup>

5           26. Significantly, Celsius is keenly aware of its labeling obligations noting 6 that, “[t]he production, distribution and sale of our products in the United States is 7 subject to the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, the Dietary Supplement Health
8 and Education Act of 1994, various environmental statutes and various other federal,
9 state and local statutes and regulations applicable to the production, transportation,
10 sale, safety, advertising, labeling and ingredients of such products.”<sup>8</sup>

11           27. Despite its legal obligations, however, Celsius chose to deceptively label 12 its beverages, obfuscating the material fact that they did not contain real fruit, but 13 instead derived their flavor from highly processed, lab-synthesized flavoring packets.

14           28. By way of example, the Sparkling Orange Product’s principal display 15 panel undeniably presents “orange” as the beverage’s characterizing flavor by both 16 name and vignette.

29. Despite being labeled and characterized as an orange beverage, however, the Product contains no orange. Instead, it is flavored by an ingredient described only as “Natural Flavor,” and derives its orange color from a pigment (beta-carotene).

30. Failing to indicate, on the front label, that a product does not contain its characterizing ingredient, but rather, is flavored by lab synthesized chemicals, is deceptive, misleading and in violation of state and common laws designed to protect consumers and to promote consist, honest and transparent labeling.

2 A. Flavoring in a Product is a Material Consideration to a Reasonable
3 Consumer

4 31. Over the last decade, “Natural Flavors” have become ubiquitous 5 ingredients in food and beverage formulations. According to the Environmental 6 Working Group, which rates more than 80,000 foods on their degree of nutrition,
7 ingredient and processing concerns, “Natural Flavor” is the fourth most common
8 ingredient on food labels with only salt, water and sugar mentioned more frequently.<sup>9</sup>

9 32. The FDCA defines “natural flavor” as the “essential oil, oleoresin, 10 essence or extractive, protein hydrolysate, distillate, or any product of roasting,
11 heating or enzymolysis, which contains the flavoring constituents derived from a 12 spice, fruit or fruit juice, vegetable or vegetable juice, edible yeast, herb, bark, bud, 13 root, leaf or similar plant material, meat, seafood, poultry, eggs, dairy products, or 14 fermentation products thereof, whose significant function in food is flavoring rather 15 than nutritional.” 21 C.F.R. § 101.22(a)(3).

16 33. In elemental terms, a natural flavor is anything that can be extracted from 17 an animal or plant source. It is called “natural” because the original source of the 18 flavor additive is not man-made.<sup>10</sup> Unfortunately, despite their name, natural flavors 19 are complex, highly processed, amalgams of chemicals, carrier solvents, and 20 preservatives.<sup>11</sup> Despite originating from a single natural source, the finalized flavor

1 ingredient was never intended to be in the formulation, and is therefore wholly absent,
2 flavors not only provide a taste and smell profile, but are specifically designed to 3 entice and addict the consumer to the product.<sup>15</sup>

4 36. “How a food tastes is largely determined by the volatile chemicals in the 5 food. Chemicals that give food a specific smell are extremely important because smell
6 makes up 80 to 90 percent of the sense of taste.”<sup>16</sup> “A great deal of scientific

8 specialized work is done by just 500 professional flavorists who are responsible for 9 the majority of flavors in nearly all food processed in the U.S.”<sup>17</sup>

10 37. As made plain in a 60 Minutes expose on food flavorists, one of their 11 primary goals is to create flavors that make foods and beverages addictive.<sup>18</sup>

12 38. Unfortunately for the consuming public, manufacturers are not required 13 to list the sub-ingredients that constitute these flavors – a fact which results in the 14 ability of manufacturers to obfuscate dozens of chemicals from disclosure.<sup>19</sup>

15 39. “On an ingredient label, “natural flavor” can be a sort of black box, 16 enclosing dozens of components, including flavor chemicals, flavor modifiers, and

1 additives like propylene glycol when they can disguise them under the benign-

4 40. This has resulted in a growing distrust of natural flavors by the 5 consuming public.<sup>21</sup> A 2018 report from Label Insight and the Food Marketing
6 Institute found 93% of consumers find it important for brands and manufacturers “to 7 provide detailed information about what is in food and how it’s made” and “[t]hree
8 quarters of shoppers in 2018 would switch brands for transparency.”<sup>22</sup>

9 41. Indeed, the most significant trend driving change in the food and 10 beverage industry right now is transparency. Consumers want to know and understand 11 what ingredients are going into their products, which is why so many products are 12 simplifying and shortening ingredient lists.<sup>23</sup> “Clean labels with high ethical values 13 are more important than ever, particularly to a growing segment of consumers with

1 also questioning whether natural flavors, preservatives and sweetener are really 2 clean.<sup>25</sup>

3 42. In response, a number of food manufacturers have become more “honest 4 and real about what’s going into their food as consumers demand transparency and 5 clean labeling.”<sup>26</sup> Some Celsius competitors, such as Spindrift Seltzer, realized the 6 fallacy of natural flavors and changed their formulation to include real ingredients
7 (i.e., fruit). Prior to making the change, Spindrift CEO Bill Creelman had tried to get 8 to the bottom of what natural flavors were being used in his company’s drinks. “When 9 I asked our supplier, no one would tell me, he said. It was time to make a change.”<sup>27</sup>

10 43. Ultimately, manufacturers have a choice on how to flavor their 11 beverages. While some will use real ingredients in their product formulations, others
12 will choose a variety of flavorings. They all will compete for consumers on the basis 13 of those choices.

14 44. Recognizing that these choices (i.e., the difference between products with 15 real ingredients versus those that are flavored) are material to the reasonable 16 consumer, the law imposes strict rules regarding the labeling of products that have 17 been flavored. These laws ensure consistent labeling among competitive products and 18 are designed to clearly convey the nature of the product, minimize consumer 19 confusion, and enable informed purchasing decisions.

6 implemented through the creation of a uniform system of labeling on which 7 consumers could rely to make informed purchasing decisions.

8 46. By extensively regulating the labeling of foods and beverages, the FDCA 9 and its implementing regulations have identified the words and statements that must 10 or may be included on labeling and have specified how prominently and 11 conspicuously those words and statements must appear. These provisions ensure that 12 statements are presented on labels in such a way as to likely be read and understood
13 by the ordinary person. 21 U.S.C. §343(f). The FDCA consists of hundreds of sections 14 and subsections, the following of which bear direct relevance to the case at bar.

15 47. The FDCA prohibits the misbranding of any food. 21 U.S.C. §331(b).<sup>28</sup>
16 Generally, a food is misbranded if, among other things, its labeling is false or 17 misleading. 21 U.S.C. §343.<sup>29</sup> In addition to this general mandate, the FDCA
18 contains specific rules which manufacturers must follow to ensure their products are 19 properly labeled and understood by the reasonable consumer. Among them, 21 C.F.R.
20 §101.22, which provides:

21
23 <sup>28</sup> The term food broadly means “articles used for food or drink for man...” 21 U.S.C
24 §321(f) and incorporates beverages such as the Products which are the subject of this 25 litigation.

26 <sup>29</sup> California’s Sherman Food, Drug and Cosmetic Law (“Sherman Law”), which 27 adopts the FDCA in its entirety, identically provides that, “[a]ny food is misbranded if 28 its labeling is false or misleading in any particular.” California Health & Safety Code,
Article 6, §110660.

(i) If the label, labeling, or advertising of a food makes any direct or indirect representations with respect to the primary recognizable flavor(s), by word, vignette, e.g., depiction of a fruit, or other means, or if for any other reason the manufacturer or distributor of a food wishes to designate the type of flavor in the food other than through the statement of ingredients, such flavor shall be considered the characterizing flavor and shall be declared in the following way:

(1) If the food contains no artificial flavor which simulates, resembles or reinforces the characterizing flavor, the name of the food on the principal display panel or panels of the label shall be accompanied by the common or usual name of the characterizing flavor, e.g., "vanilla", in letters not less than one-half the height of the letters used in the name of the food, except that:

(i) If the food is one that is commonly expected to contain a characterizing food ingredient, e.g., strawberries in "strawberry shortcake", and the food contains natural flavor derived from such ingredient and an amount of characterizing ingredient insufficient to independently characterize the food, or the food contains no such ingredient, the name of the characterizing flavor may be immediately preceded by the word "natural" and shall be immediately followed by the word "flavored" in letters not less than one-half the height of the letters in the name of the characterizing flavor, e.g., "natural strawberry flavored shortcake," or "strawberry flavored shortcake."

(ii) If none of the natural flavor used in the food is derived from the product whose flavor is simulated, the food in which the flavor is used shall be labeled either with the flavor of the product from which the flavor is derived or as "artificially flavored."

(iii) If the food contains both a characterizing flavor from the product whose flavor is simulated and other natural flavor which simulates, resembles or reinforces the characterizing flavor, the food shall be labeled in accordance with the introductory text and paragraph (i) (1)(i) of this section and the name of the food shall be immediately followed by the

1 words "with other natural flavor" in letters not less than one-
2 half the height of the letters used in the name of the 3 characterizing flavor.

4 48. Class Products each bear a label which by word and/or word and vignette
5 characterizes the Beverage's primary recognizable flavor as one derived from a single 6 or combination of fruits. Despite conveying to the reasonable consumer that the 7 beverage contains the ingredient (i.e., fruit) from which its primary characterizing
8 flavor is derived, in truth, the Beverages are entirely devoid of such ingredients.
9 Instead, the primary recognizable flavor is derived from a lab synthesized flavoring
10 packet consisting of potentially hundreds of undisclosed sub-ingredients.

11 49. By law, if a product does not contain its characterizing ingredient, that 12 fact must be stated on the principal display panel in order to properly inform 13 consumers that this is a flavored product. To the extent that the "Natural Flavor" in 14 Class Products originate from their characterizing ingredient (e.g., the natural flavor is 15 derived from an orange), the front label must indicate that it is "Orange Flavored" or 16 "Natural Orange Flavored." However, to the extent that the "Natural Flavor" is 17 derived from a natural ingredient other than a Product's charactering ingredient, (i.e., 18 something other than an orange), the front label must indicate that the product is 19 "Artificially Flavored." Finally, if the Product contains more than one 'natural 20 flavor,' then it must additionally indicate on the principal display panel that is has also 21 been flavored "with other natural flavors."

22 50. Under any scenario, Celsius has failed to indicate that its Products are 23 flavored – a failure that is in violation of the law and operates as deceit upon 24 consumers.

25 51. In January 1973, the FDA Commissioner published a proposal to revise 26 the requirements contained §1.12 of the FDCA (now §101.22) with respect to the 27 labeling of flavor contained in food. The FDA solicited public commentary, which it 28 subsequently summarized and responded to. Federal Register Vol. 38, No. 231,

1 December 3, 1973. Among other things, the FDA made clear that the purpose of these 2 regulations was to provide labeling uniformity among marketplace participants in 3 order to prevent consumer confusion and deception.

4 52. Setting forth the general standards applicable to the flavoring regulations,
5 the FDA recognized that although “[i]t is not possible to set out all the circumstances
6 under which a flavor representation is or is not implied, [a]ny use of a vignette
7 showing a fruit or vegetable clearly constitutes such a representation.... [Moreover,] 8 use of a specific fruit flavor in the food name, such as "orange soda," does constitute 9 such a representation and requires compliance with §1.12(i).” 38 Fed. Reg. at 33285.

10 53. Some stakeholders argued that flavor designations should not be required
11 on the front-of-package, but rather be limited to the statement of ingredients. While 12 the Commissioner agreed that in instances where the manufacturer makes no direct or 13 indirect representation with respect to the flavor of a product other than in the 14 ingredients statement, no designation was necessary on the principal display panel.
15 However, where flavor representations are made on the principal display panel “it is 16 necessary to establish a uniform system of flavor designation to dispel any 17 confusion or misrepresentation.” 38 Fed. Reg. at 33286. “The difference between a 18 product that contains a characterizing food ingredient and a product that contains 19 no such ingredient [] is not at all subtle, and is very important to the value of the 20 product and thus to the consuming public.” Id. at 33285 (emphasis added).

21 54. The Commissioner also confirmed that when an otherwise “natural flavor
22 [] is not derived from the product whose flavor is simulated...., the product is properly
23 labeled as artificially flavored.” Id. at 33285-6.

24 55. In 1993 the FDA once again considered amendments to certain
25 regulations of the FDCA. The FDA published the proposed amendments for public 26 comment and provided a similar commentary process as in 1973. While considering 27 the applicability of §101.22 in light of more specific regulations such as §102.3, the 28 FDA reconfirmed the function and importance of §101.22.

1 “Both §§ 101.22 and 102.33 are intended to ensure that the label communicates
 2 essential information to consumers. These provisions are intended to provide 3 manufacturers with flexibility for labeling products while providing consumers
 4 with information that they need to determine the nature of the product. The 5 agency concludes that both kinds of label information discussed here are 6 essential to adequately describe the nature of the product. One type of 7 information informs the consumer when flavoring substances have been added
 8 to the product. The other type describes other aspects of the basic nature of the 9 product.” 58 FR 2897, *2919. Ultimately, “....a consumer who wants the 10 food because of its particular.... flavor is entitled to examine a label that 11 reveals facts material in light of the representations made....” 58 Fed. Reg.
 12 2897 *2898 (emphasis added).

13 C. Product Labels Matter to Consumers

14
 15 56. “Food is the most advertised commodity in the United States and food 16 corporations spend on average over $36 billion a year on marketing and 17 advertising.”<sup>30</sup>

18 57. Front-of-Package marketing has become ubiquitous in recent years as 19 marketplace competitors vie for consumer attention. It has become the most important 20 part of the food label as consumers attempt to make quick, yet informed purchasing 21 decisions.<sup>31</sup> Indeed, a survey conducted by the FDA determined that 67% of

2 is confirmed by numerous studies which similarly found that consumers often rely on 3 Front-of-Package claims to inform their purchasing decisions, and that Front-of-
4 Package claims can have a “strong impact on their food purchases.”<sup>33</sup>

5 58. While manufacturers are generally free to add claims to the Front-of-
6 Package consistent with their obligations under the law, “[e]merging evidence 7 indicates that many labels are misleading in conveying properties of food products and 8 bear a wide array of confusing messages.”<sup>34</sup> This makes compliance with FDCA 9 labeling requirements even more critical in order to provide consumers with 10 recognizable standards and to prevent deception.

11 59. Not only has Defendant violated the clear letter of the FDCA, but it has 12 separately acted to deceive and mislead consumers into purchasing products with 13 qualities and attributes that they simply did not have in violation of the laws alleged 14 herein.

D. Competitor Products

1
2 60. Celsius is fully aware of its labeling obligations under state and federal 3 laws as well as its overarching duty to honestly inform consumers about the products
4 it is selling.

5 61. It is axiomatic that “the marketing industry is based on the premise 6 that labels matter—that consumers will choose one product over another similar 7 product based on its label and various tangible and intangible qualities they may come
8 to associate with a particular source.”<sup>35</sup> The FDCA was promulgated in part to prevent 9 consumer deception by creating a uniform system of labeling on which consumers can 10 rely in comparing similar products and thereafter make informed purchasing 11 decisions. This is especially important with respect to the use of flavorings which have 12 rapidly become ubiquitous in food formulations. It is critical, therefore, that 13 manufacturers label their products consistently as prescribed law. A review of some 14 competitive product labels illustrates this clearly. By way of example, Gatorade Zero 15 (Fig. 1) and Powerade (Fig. 2), like Celsius, are flavored with “natural flavors. Unlike 16 Celsius, however, they each clearly convey to consumers on the principal display
17 panel that their products are flavored. In contrast, Spindrift (Fig. 3), an orange 18 sparkling water which does not contain flavorings and therefore does not require a 19 qualification on its principal display panel, properly conveys to the consumer that 20 their product contains its characterizing ingredients.

62. By failing to properly label its products, Celsius has mislead and deceived consumers.

63. As a result of Defendant's unlawful and deceptive conduct, Plaintiff and members of the Class have been harmed.

ECONOMIC INJURY

64. Plaintiff sought to buy products that were lawfully labeled, marketed and sold.

65. Plaintiff saw and relied on Defendant's misleading labeling of its Products.

66. Plaintiff believed that the Products purchased contained real fruit.

67. Plaintiff believed that the Products were lawfully marketed and sold.

68. In reliance on the claims made by Defendant regarding the qualities of its Products, Plaintiff paid a price premium.

1 69. As a result of his reliance on Defendant’s misrepresentations, Plaintiff
2 received Products that lacked the promised ingredients which he reasonably believed 3 they contained.

4 70. Plaintiff received Products that were unlawfully marketed and sold.

5 71. Plaintiff lost money and thereby suffered injury as he would not have 6 purchased these Beverages and/or paid as much for them absent the misrepresentation.

7 72. Defendant knows that the inclusion of characterizing ingredients are 8 material to a consumer’s purchasing decision.

9 73. Plaintiff altered his position to his detriment and suffered damages in an 10 amount equal to the amounts he paid for the Beverages he purchased, and/or in 11 additional amounts attributable to the deception.

12 74. By engaging in the false and deceptive conduct alleged herein Defendant 13 reaped, and continues to reap financial benefits in the form of sales and profits from 14 its Products.

15 75. Plaintiff, however, would be willing to purchase Celsius Products again
16 in the future should he be able to rely on Defendant’s marketing as truthful and non-17 deceptive.

18
19 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

20 76. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of himself and on behalf of classes 21 of all others similarly situated consumers defined as follows:

- 22 a. National: All persons in the United States who purchased Class
23 Products in the United States during the Class Period.
24 b. California All persons in California who purchased the Class
25 Products in California during the Class Period.
26 c. Class Period is the maximum time allowable as determined by the 27 statute of limitation periods accompanying each cause of action.
28

1 77. Plaintiff brings this Class pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure
2 23(a), and 23(b)(1), 23(b)(2), 23(b)(3) and 23(c)(4).

3 78. Excluded from the Classes are: (i) Defendant and its employees, 4 principals, affiliated entities, legal representatives, successors and assigns; and (ii) the 5 judges to whom this action is assigned.

6 79. Upon information and belief, there are tens of thousands of members of 7 the Class. Therefore, individual joinder of all members of the Class would be 8 impracticable.

9 80. There is a well-defined community of interest in the questions of law and 10 fact affecting the parties represented in this action.

11 81. Common questions of law or fact exist as to all members of the Class.
12 These questions predominate over the questions affecting only individual Class 13 members. These common legal or factual questions include but are not limited to:

- 14 a. Whether Defendant marketed, packaged, or sold the Class
15 Products to Plaintiff and those similarly situated using false, 16 misleading, or deceptive statements or representations;
- 17 b. Whether Defendant omitted or misrepresented material facts
18 in connection with the sales of its Products;
- 19 c. Whether Defendant participated in and pursued the common 20 course of conduct complained of herein;
- 21 d. Whether Defendant has been unjustly enriched as a result of 22 its unlawful business practices;
- 23 e. Whether Defendant's actions violate the Unfair Competition 24 Law, Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§17200, et seq. (the "UCL");
- 25 f. Whether Defendant's actions violate the False Advertising
26 Law, Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§17500, et seq. (the "FAL");
- 27 g. Whether Defendant's actions violate the Consumers Legal 28 Remedies Act, Cal. Civ. Code §§1750, et seq. (the "CLRA");

- 1 h. Whether Defendant should be enjoined from continuing the
- 2 above-described practices;
- 3 i. Whether Plaintiff and members of the Class are entitled to
- 4 declaratory relief; and
- 5 j. Whether Defendant should be required to make restitution,
- 6 disgorge profits, reimburse losses, and pay damages as a
- 7 result of the above-described practices.

8 82. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the Class, in that Plaintiff
9 was a consumer who purchased Defendant's Products. Plaintiff is no different in any 10 relevant respect from any other Class member who purchased the Products, and the 11 relief sought is common to the Class.

12 83. Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the Class because his interests
13 do not conflict with the interests of the members of the Class he seeks to represent,
14 and he has retained counsel competent and experienced in conducting complex class 15 action litigation. Plaintiff and his counsel will adequately protect the interests of the 16 Class.

17 84. A class action is superior to other available means for the fair and 18 efficient adjudication of this dispute. The damages suffered by each individual Class 19 member likely will be relatively small, especially given the relatively small cost of the 20 Products at issue and the burden and expense of individual prosecution of the complex
21 litigation necessitated by Defendant's conduct. Thus, it would be virtually impossible
22 for members of the Class individually to effectively redress the wrongs done to them.
23 Moreover, even if members of the Class could afford individual actions, it would still 24 not be preferable to class-wide litigation. Individualized actions present the potential
25 for inconsistent or contradictory judgments. By contrast, a class action presents far 26 fewer management difficulties and provides the benefits of single adjudication, 27 economies of scale, and comprehensive supervision by a single court.

28

1 85. In the alternative, the Class may be certified because Defendant has acted
2 or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the Class, thereby making
3 appropriate preliminary and final equitable relief with respect to each Class.

4 86. The requirements for maintaining a class action pursuant to Rule 23(b)(2)
5 are also met, as Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable
6 to the Class, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief or corresponding 7 declaratory relief with respect to the Class as a whole.

8
9 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Express Warranty, Cal. Com. Code §2313)

10 87. Plaintiff incorporates each and every allegation contained in the 11 paragraphs above as if restated herein.

12 88. Defendant made express warranties to Plaintiff and members of the Class
13 that the Products they purchased contained fruit characterized by name and vignette on 14 the Products' principal display panel.

15 89. The express warranties made to Plaintiff and members of the Class appear 16 on every Product label. This warranty regarding the nature of the Product marketed by 17 Defendant specifically relates to the goods being purchased and became the basis of the 18 bargain.

19 90. Plaintiff and the Class purchased the Products in the belief that they 20 conformed to the express warranties that were made on the Products' labels.

21 91. Defendant breached the express warranties made to Plaintiff and members
22 of the Class by failing to supply goods that conformed to the warranties it made. As a
23 result, Plaintiff and members of the Class suffered injury and deserve to be compensated 24 for the damages they suffered.

25 92. Plaintiff and the members of the Class paid money for the Products.
26 However, Plaintiff and the members of the Class did not obtain the full value of the 27 advertised Products. If Plaintiff and other members of the Class had known of the true 28

1 nature of the Products, they would not have purchased them or paid less for them.
2 Accordingly, Plaintiff and members of the Class have suffered injury in fact and lost
3 money or property as a result of Defendant’s wrongful conduct.

4 93. Plaintiff and the Class are therefore entitled to recover damages, punitive 5 damages, equitable relief such as restitution and disgorgement of profits, and 6 declaratory and injunctive relief.

7
8 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
9 (“Unlawful” Business Practices in Violation of 10 The Unfair Competition Law (“UCL”), Bus. & Prof. Code §§17200, et seq.)

11 94. Plaintiff incorporates each and every allegation contained in the 12 paragraphs above as if restated herein.

13 95. The UCL defines unfair business competition to include any “unlawful,
14 unfair or fraudulent” act or practice, as well as any “unfair, deceptive, untrue or 15 misleading” advertising. Cal. Bus. Prof. Code §17200.

16 96. A business act or practice is “unlawful” if it violates any established state 17 or federal law.

18 97. Defendant’s acts, omissions, misrepresentations, practices, and/or non-19 disclosures concerning the Products alleged herein, constitute “unlawful” business
20 acts and practices in that they violate the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, 21
21 U.S.C. §§301, et seq. and its implementing regulations, including, at least, the 22 following sections:

- 23 a. 21 U.S.C. §343(a), which deems food misbranded when its 24 labeling contains a statement that is false or misleading in any 25 particular;
26 b. 21 C.F.R. §102.5(a)-(d), which prohibits the naming of foods so as 27 to create an erroneous impression about the presence or absence of 28 ingredient(s) or component(s) therein;

1 c. 21 CFR §101.22 pertaining to the labeling requirements when
2 products do not contain their characterizing ingredients but instead
3 are flavored;

4 d. 21 U.S.C. §§331 and 333, which prohibits the introduction of 5 misbranded foods into interstate commerce.

6 98. California's Sherman Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Law (“Sherman Law”),
7 Cal. Health & Safety Code §109875 et seq., broadly prohibits the misbranding of food.
8 Cal. Health & Safety Code §110765; See, also Cal. Health & Safety Code §110660
9 (“Any food is misbranded if its labeling is false or misleading in any particular.”). The 10 Sherman Law incorporates all food labeling regulations and any amendments to those 11 regulations adopted pursuant to the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act of 1938 as the food
12 labeling regulations of California. Cal. Health & Safety Code §§110100(a), 110665, 13 110670.

14 99. As described in detail above, by failing to label the Products in a manner
15 that accurately represents its contents, Defendant generally violates 21 U.S.C.
16 §343(a)(1) (“a food shall be deemed to be misbranded if its labeling is false or 17 misleading in any particular”) as incorporated by California’s Sherman Law.
18 Independently, by mislabeling the Products, Defendant violates Cal. Health & Safety 19 Code § 110660 (“any food is misbranded if its labeling is false or misleading in any 20 particular.”)

21 100. Defendant violated and continues to violate the Sherman Law, Article 6, 22 Section 110660 and hence has also violated and continues to violate the “unlawful”
23 prong of the UCL through the false labeling of its Product.

24 101. Defendant’s identical conduct that violates the Sherman Law, also violates 25 FDCA §403(a)(1), 21 U.S.C. §343(a)(1), which declares food misbranded under federal 26 law if its “labeling is false and misleading in any particular.” This identical conduct 27 serves as the sole factual basis of each cause of action brought by this Complaint, and 28

1 Plaintiff does not seek to enforce any of the state law claims to impose any standard of 2 conduct that exceeds that which would violate FDCA.

3 102. By committing the unlawful acts and practices alleged above, Defendant 4 has engaged, and continues to be engaged, in unlawful business practices within the 5 meaning of California Business and Professions Code §§17200, et seq.

6 103. Through its unlawful acts and practices, Defendant has obtained, and 7 continues to unfairly obtain, money from members of the Class. As such, Plaintiff
8 requests that this Court cause Defendant to restore this money to Plaintiff and all
9 members of the Class, to disgorge the profits Defendant made on these transactions,
10 and to enjoin Defendant from continuing to violate the Unfair Competition Law or 11 violating it in the same fashion in the future. Otherwise, the Class may be irreparably 12 harmed and denied an effective and complete remedy if such an order is not granted.

13
14 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
15 (“Unfair” Business Practices in Violation of 16 The Unfair Competition Law (“UCL”), Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, et seq.)

17 104. Plaintiff incorporates each and every allegation contained in the 18 paragraphs above as if restated herein.

19 105. The UCL defines unfair business competition to include any “unlawful,
20 unfair or fraudulent” act or practice, as well as any “unfair, deceptive, untrue or 21 misleading” advertising. Cal. Bus. Prof. Code §17200.

22 106. A business act or practice is “unfair” under the Unfair Competition Law if 23 the reasons, justifications and motives of the alleged wrongdoer are outweighed by the 24 gravity of the harm to the alleged victims.

25 107. Defendant has violated, and continues to violate, the “unfair” prong of the 26 UCL through its misleading description of the Products. The gravity of the harm to 27 members of the Class resulting from such unfair acts and practices outweighs any 28 conceivable reasons, justifications, or motives of Defendant for engaging in such

1 deceptive acts and practices. By committing the acts and practices alleged above,
2 Defendant had engaged, and continued to engage, in unfair business practices within 3 the meaning of California Business and Professions Code §§17200, et seq.

4 108. Through its unfair acts and practices, Defendant obtained, and continued
5 to unfairly obtain, money from members of the Class. As such, Plaintiff has been injured
6 and requests that this Court cause Defendant to restore this money to Plaintiff and the 7 members of the Class, to disgorge the profits Defendant had made on its Products, and 8 to enjoin Defendant from continuing to violate the Unfair Competition Law or violating 9 it in the same fashion in the future. Otherwise, the Class may be irreparably harmed and 10 denied an effective and complete remedy if such an Order is not granted.

11
12 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
13 (“Fraudulent” Business Practices in Violation of 14 The Unfair Competition Law (“UCL”), Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, et seq.)

15 109. Plaintiff incorporates each and every allegation contained in the 16 paragraphs above as if restated herein.

17 110. The UCL defines unfair business competition to include any “unlawful,
18 unfair or fraudulent” act or practice, as well as any “unfair, deceptive, untrue or 19 misleading” advertising. Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §17200.

20 111. A business act or practice is “fraudulent” under the Unfair Competition
21 Law if it actually deceives or is likely to deceive members of the consuming public.

22 112. Defendant’s acts and practices of mislabeling its Products in a manner to 23 suggest they principally contained their characterizing ingredients.

24 113. As a result of the conduct described above, Defendant has been, and will 25 continue to be, unjustly enriched at the expense of Plaintiff and members of the 26 proposed Class. Specifically, Defendant has been unjustly enriched by the profits they 27 have obtained from Plaintiff and the Class from the purchases of their Products.
28

1 114. Through its fraudulent acts and practices, Defendant has improperly
2 obtained, and continues to improperly obtain, money from members of the Class. As 3 such, Plaintiff requests that this Court cause Defendant to restore this money to Plaintiff
4 and the Class, to disgorge the profits Defendant has made, and to enjoin Defendant from 5 continuing to violate the Unfair Competition Law or violating it in the same fashion in 6 the future. Otherwise, the Class may be irreparably harmed and denied an effective and 7 complete remedy if such an Order is not granted.

8
9 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION
10 (False Advertising in Violation of 11 California Business & Professions Code §§ 17500, et seq.)

12 115. Plaintiff incorporates each and every allegation contained in the 13 paragraphs above as if restated herein.

14 116. Defendant uses advertising and packaging to sell its Products. Defendant
15 disseminates advertising regarding its Products which by its very nature is deceptive,
16 untrue, or misleading within the meaning of California Business & Professions Code 17 §§17500, et seq. because those advertising statements contained on the labels are 18 misleading and likely to deceive, and continue to deceive, members of the putative Class 19 and the general public.

20 117. In making and disseminating the statements alleged herein, Defendant 21 knew or should have known that the statements were untrue or misleading, and acted in 22 violation of California Business & Professions Code §§17500, et seq.

23 118. The misrepresentations and non-disclosures by Defendant of the material 24 facts detailed above constitute false and misleading advertising and therefore constitute 25 a violation of California Business & Professions Code §§17500, et seq.

26 119. Through its deceptive acts and practices, Defendant has improperly and 27 illegally obtained money from Plaintiff and the members of the Class. As such, Plaintiff 28 requests that this Court cause Defendant to restore this money to Plaintiff and the

1 members of the Class, and to enjoin Defendant from continuing to violate California
2 Business & Professions Code §§17500, et seq., as discussed above. Otherwise, Plaintiff
3 and those similarly situated will continue to be harmed by Defendant’s false and/or 4 misleading advertising.

5 120. Pursuant to California Business & Professions Code §17535, Plaintiff
6 seeks an Order of this Court ordering Defendant to fully disclose the true nature of its 7 misrepresentations. Plaintiff additionally requests an Order: (1) requiring Defendant to 8 disgorge its ill-gotten gains, (2) award full restitution of all monies wrongfully acquired 9 by Defendant and (3), interest and attorneys’ fees. Plaintiff and the Class may be 10 irreparably harmed and denied an effective and complete remedy if such an Order is not 11 granted.

12
13 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

14 (Violation of the Consumers Legal Remedies Act, 15 California Civil Code §§ 1750, et seq.)

16 121. Plaintiff incorporates each and every allegation contained in the 17 paragraphs above as if restated herein.

18 122. This cause of action is brought pursuant to the Consumers Legal Remedies
19 Act, California Civil Code §§1750, et seq. (the “CLRA”).

20 123. Plaintiff and each member of the proposed Class are “consumers” within 21 the meaning of Civil Code §1761(d).

22 124. The purchases of the Products by consumers constitute “transactions”
23 within the meaning of Civil Code §1761(e) and the Products constitute “goods” within 24 the meaning of Civil Code §1761(a).

25 125. Defendant has violated, and continues to violate, the CLRA in at least the 26 following respects:
27
28

- 1 a. §1770(5) pertaining to misrepresentations regarding the
- 2 characteristics of goods sold—specifying that misleading
- 3 representations regarding ingredients violate the CLRA;
- 4 b. §1770(7) pertaining to misrepresentations regarding the standard,
- 5 quality, or grade of goods sold; and
- 6 c. § 1770(9) pertaining to goods advertised with the intent not to
- 7 provide what is advertised.

8 126. Defendant knew, or should have known, that the labeling of their Products 9 violated consumer protection laws, and that these statements would be relied upon by 10 Plaintiff and the members of the Class.

11 127. The representations were made to Plaintiff and all members of the Class.
12 Plaintiff relied on the accuracy of the representations on Defendant’s labels which 13 formed a material basis for his decision to purchase the Products. Moreover, based on 14 the very materiality of Defendant’s misrepresentations uniformly made on or omitted
15 from their Product labels, reliance may be presumed or inferred for all members of the 16 Class.

17 128. Defendant carried out the scheme set forth in this Complaint willfully, 18 wantonly, and with reckless disregard for the interests of Plaintiff and the Class, and as 19 a result, Plaintiff and the Class have suffered an ascertainable loss of money or property.

20 129. Plaintiff and the members of the Class request that this Court enjoin
21 Defendant from continuing to engage in the unlawful and deceptive methods, acts and 22 practices alleged above, pursuant to California Civil Code §1780(a)(2). Unless 23 Defendant is permanently enjoined from continuing to engage in such violations of the 24 CLRA, future consumers of Defendant’s Products will be damaged by their acts and 25 practices in the same way as have Plaintiff and the members of the proposed Class.

26 130. Plaintiff served a CLRA demand pursuant to Civil Code §1782, via U.S.
27 Certified Mail Return Receipt notifying Defendant of the conduct described herein and 28 that such conduct was in violation of particular provisions of Civil Code §1770. The

1 demand was received by Defendant on November 30, 2020. More than thirty days have 2 since elapsed without Defendant providing the requested relief thereby enabling 3 Plaintiff to properly seek damages as provided under Civil Code §1780.

4 131. Pursuant to Civil Code § 1780(a), Plaintiff and members of the class seek 5 compensatory damages, punitive damages, restitution, disgorgement of profits, and an 6 order enjoining Defendant from deceptively marketing the Products.

7
8 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION
9 (Restitution Based On Quasi-Contract/Unjust Enrichment)

10 132. Plaintiff incorporates each and every allegation contained in the 11 paragraphs above as if restated herein.

12 133. Defendant's conduct in enticing Plaintiff and the Class to purchase is 13 Products with false and misleading packaging is unlawful because the statements
14 contained on the Defendant's Product labels are untrue.

15 134. Defendant took monies from Plaintiff and the Class for these Products and 16 have been unjustly enriched at the expense of Plaintiff and the Class as result of their 17 unlawful conduct alleged herein, thereby creating a quasi-contractual obligation on 18 Defendant to restore these ill-gotten gains to Plaintiff and the Class.

19 135. It is against equity and good conscience to permit Defendant to retain the 20 ill-gotten benefits received from Plaintiff and Class members.

21 136. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's unjust enrichment, 22 Plaintiff and the Class are entitled to restitution or restitutionary disgorgement in an 23 amount to be proved at trial.
