Vs ("CR-V(s)"). As alleged herein, Defendant deceptively markets and advertises the CR-V as having a seating capacity of five and having, as one of its passive safety features, 3-point seat belts at all seating positions when, in fact, it does not, because the backseat seat belts are configured in such a way that only two backseat passengers can properly buckle their seat belts at any given time. This causes a safety issue as it prevents customers from safely seating five people in a CR-V at any given time.

- 2. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of himself and all other similarly-situated consumers to stop Defendant's false and misleading advertising relating to the sale of the CR-Vs and to obtain redress for those who have purchased CR-Vs across the United States. Plaintiff alleges violations of the California Consumers Legal Remedies Act, Civil Code § 1750, et seq. ("CLRA"); the Unfair Competition Law, California Business and Professions Code § 17200, et seq. ("UCL"); and the False Advertising Law, California Business and Professions Code § 17500, et seq. ("FAL"). In the alternative, Plaintiff alleges violations of the Illinois Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practice Act, 815 ILCS 505/1, et seq. ("ICFDBPA"); violations of the Illinois Uniform Deceptive Trade Practice Act, 815 ILCS 510/2, et seq. ("IUDTPA"); and for unjust enrichment on behalf of an alternative Illinois state class, defined below.
- 3. At all relevant times, Defendant has deceptively marketed, advertised, and sold the CR-Vs as vehicles with a seating capacity of five with 3-point seat belts at all seating positions, when, in fact, the three backseat seat belts cannot safely be used simultaneously.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

4. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A) because the claims relating to the matter in controversy exceed $5 million, exclusive of interest and costs, the proposed class has at least 100 2:18-cv-6043 Class Action Complaint 2 members, and this is a class action in which certain of the class members (including Plaintiff) and Defendant are citizens of different states.

- 5. Venue is proper in this judicial District under 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because Defendant is a resident of this judicial District and does business throughout this District and a substantial part of the acts and omissions giving rise to Plaintiff's claims occurred in or emanated from this District.
- 6. At all pertinent times, Defendant was engaged in the marketing, advertisement, and sale of CR-Vs, which are the subject of this lawsuit, in this District and throughout the United States.

PARTIES

- 7. Plaintiff is, and, at all times relevant to this action has been, a resident of Sycamore, Illinois, and, thus, is a citizen of Illinois.
- 8. Defendant is a North American subsidiary of the Honda Motor Company, Ltd., and was founded in 1959. Defendant is headquartered in Torrance, California, and, thus, is a citizen of California. Defendant markets and sells the CR-Vs throughout the United States, including in this District.

SUBSTANTIVE ALLEGATIONS

- 9. This is an action brought against Defendant on behalf of Plaintiff and all persons who purchased a CR-V in the United States, and, in the alternative, in Illinois.
- 10. The CR-V is a compact crossover SUV and is Defendant's midrange utility vehicle, originally introduced into the North American market in 1997.
- 11. Defendant deceptively markets and advertises the CR-V as having a seating capacity of five with 3-point seat belts at all seating positions.¹

- 12. On November 30, 2016, Defendant issued a press release regarding the specifications and features of the model year 2017 CR-V, which listed a seating capacity of five.²
- 13. The model year 2017 CR-V was substantially redesigned and reengineered from the previous model, but the model year 2018 CR-V was essentially unchanged from the 2017 model.³ The backseat seat belt buckle configuration was among the features that remained the same between the 2017 and 2018 models.

SAFETY

Seat Belt with Detachable Anchor

The seat belt for the rear center seat is located in the ceiling.

 Pull out the seat belt's small latch plate and the latch plate from each holding slot in the ceiling.

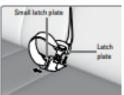

Line up the triangle marks on the small latch plate and anchor buckle. Make sure the seat belt is not twisted. Attach the belt to the anchor buckle.

Insert the latch plate into the buckle. Properly fasten the seat belt the same way you fasten the lap/shoulder seat belt.

To unlatch the detachable anchor, insert the latch plate into the slot on the side of the anchor buckle.

△WARNING

Using the seat belt with the detachable anchor unlatched increases the chance of serious injury or death in a crash.

Before using the seat belt, make sure the detachable anchor is correctly latched.

19. However, the configuration of the buckles is such that the middle passenger's anchor buckle is to the left of the rear driver's-side passenger's buckle, rendering it impossible for the anchor buckle and rear driver's-side passenger's buckle to be utilized at the same time, without both of the seat belts overlapping or twisting. As seen in the picture of Plaintiff's CR-V's backseat below, the rear driver's-side passenger's buckle is located closest to the middle seat passenger, while the middle seat passenger's anchor buckle is located closest to the rear driver's-side passenger:

- 20. Contrary to the instructions in the Manuals, the middle seat passenger is unable to secure the small latch plate in the anchor buckle without causing the seat belt to become twisted with the seat belt of the rear driver's-side passenger.
- 21. As a result, Plaintiff cannot safely transport three passengers in the backseat of his CR-V.
- 22. This configuration prevents CR-V passengers from complying with the safety warnings in the Manuals and presents a safety hazard to passengers in the backseat of the CR-Vs.

23. Accordingly, Defendant's advertised statements that the CR-V has a seating capacity of five with 3-point seat belts at all seating positions are deceptive.11

Plaintiff's Experience with his CR-V

- On or about December 19, 2017, Plaintiff purchased a model year 2018 CR-V from Brian Bemis Honda Mercedes Benz Volvo in Sycamore, Illinois, an authorized agent of Defendant (the "Dealership"). One of the reasons Plaintiff purchased the CR-V was the fact that he has three grandchildren and he wanted a vehicle with a seating capacity of five so that he and his wife could safely transport their grandchildren.
- Prior to purchase, Plaintiff reviewed a brochure published by 25. Defendant, which, among other things, represented that the CR-V had "spacious seating for five."
- 26. Additionally, while looking at the CR-V prior to purchase, it was clear to Plaintiff that it has seating capacity for five passengers.
- Soon after purchase, Plaintiff realized that the rear driver's-side 27. seat belt buckle was "backward" and that the rear driver's-side passenger could not buckle his or her seat belt without overlapping the middle passenger's anchor buckle.
- 28. Concerned for the safety of his backseat passengers, Plaintiff took his CR-V to the Dealership on May 10, 2018, for the Dealership's recommendation on how to address or repair the issue.
- 29. The Dealership photographed the buckle configuration and sent that picture to Defendant along with an explanation that the CR-V cannot have three rear passengers in the backseat at the same time because the seat belts overlap and twist, which poses a safety concern per the owner's Manual.

30. Defendant did not repair or otherwise correct the defect in the CR-V in order to permit Plaintiff to safely seat all three backseat passengers simultaneously and refuses to do so.

31. Plaintiff would not have purchased the CR-V, or would not have paid the purchase price that he did, had he known that he would not be able to use the CR-V's full seating capacity and would not be able to safely transport three passengers simultaneously in the backseat of his CR-V.

Class Members' Experiences with the CR-Vs

32. Plaintiff's experience mirrors those of numerous other CR-V purchasers. The internet contains numerous complaints from purchasers who, like Plaintiff, were unable to safely seat all three backseat passengers simultaneously because the seat belts overlapped and twisted. The following is a sample of complaints appearing in several online forums:

Just picked my wife's new 2017 CRV Touring on 1/14/2017 and have issues with the 2nd row seating. The 2nd row center seat belt detachable anchor point and 2nd row left seat belt buckle seem to be crossed in the lower seat. Is this a mfg. error or poor design makes it difficult for the left seat passenger to connect or disconnect their seat belt with the center passenger buckled in. Took the CRV back to the dealer today and they checked a number of 2017 CRV's on the lot and they are all the same, crossed over. Dealer told me they would contact Honda's support center and let me know in a few days. Seems like a NTSB safety recall or Honda TSB is needed to correct the issue. Has anyone heard back from Honda on the issue? I missing the reason for the crossed over design?

buckle. This configuration causes the center belt and the left seat belt to cross one another and also makes it difficult for the left seat passenger to connect or disconnect their seat belt with the center passenger buckled in. This configuration does not allow the person sitting behind the driver to wear their seat belt when my child's infant seat is buckled into the center as the buckle cannot be accessed. This is a huge safety concern as I travel frequently with my infant daughter, son, and son's friend in the back seat. There have been multiple other complaints about this which can be googled. Something needs to be done here.

The contact owns a 2017 Honda CR-V. [W]hile attempting to use the rear passenger side seat belt, it was discovered that in order to latch and secure the buckle, the belt had to under lap the rear seat center belt. The issue made it very difficult to lock and unlock the seat belt. The vehicle was taken to the dealer ([A]utonation Honda in [W]estminster, [CO]), but the cause of the failure was unable to be determined. The manufacturer was notified of the failure. The failure mileage was 6,000.

I have the same issue. The dealer told me it's correct. But my passengers can't buckle in.

The rear left and middle seat belts overlap. The vehicle is advertised as a 5 seater vehicle but cannot safely be used for 5 passengers, or with a car seat in either of those seats with a passenger in the other one.

Where left rear passenger attaches seat belt & where center rear passenger attaches seatbelt from headliner, the fasteners in the seat are switched. If center passenger buckles up first or if carseat is in center position it is nearly impossible for left rear passenger to buckle up or unbuckle. This is due to the attachment points being switched when designed [and/]or manufactured. Honda dealer says the connections are in proper location & belt is operating as designed. This will most likely cause one of five passengers in this vehicle to not be able to buckle up or unbuckle in an emergency[.]

Posted by an anonymous CR-V owner in Baytown, TX on May 25, 2017 on https://www.carcomplaints.com/Honda/CR-V/2017/seat_belts_air_bags/seat_belts.shtml (last visited July 10, 2018).

The left rear and center rear seat belt buckles, are opposite of what they should be. This arrangement makes it impossible for the left rear passenger, to buckle up if the center seat person is buckled in, or a car seat is in place. Contacted my Honda service department and they forwarded my complaint to the district representative, his response was he is aware of the issue but there is no fix for the problem. I did some research and found that the Acura rdx is the same platform as the Honda CR-V[] so I visited the nearest Acura dealership, the seat belt buckle arrangement was correct on that Acura rdx. Looks like the anchor point and the buckles are exactly the same as the ones that are in my Honda CR-V. . . .

I just picked mine up last week and my 8 year old pointed out the seatbelt configuration. The dealer said that they were all like that but weren't sure why.

Posted by mattkc2016 on October 18, 2017 on http://www.crvownersclub.com/forums/27-miscellaneous-general-cr-v-discussions/129081-2017-crv-2nd-row-center-seat-belt-detachable-anchor-issue.html (last visited July 10, 2018).

2018 is still configured this way. How in the heck is it possible to correct this issue? This is supposed to be a five passenger vehicle but the belt layout just about makes that impossible. Honda needs to come up with a solution to this problem.

Posted by Rudyjr on March 6, 2018 on http://www.crvownersclub.com/forums/27-miscellaneous-general-cr-v-discussions/129081-2017-crv-2nd-row-center-seat-belt-detachable-anchor-issue.html (last visited July 10, 2018).

The rear center passenger's left seat belt buckle anchor is reversed making it nearly impossible to properly buckle 3 passengers in the back seat. This is a safety hazard as my center passengers, finding it a herculean feat when seated, often decline to buckle up. . . . [W]hen buckled [without] a passenger, the belts overlap. Because of this the center passenger's body prevents access to the buckle as it is hidden behind the strap of the left rear passenger. I understand that [H]onda designed it this way to provide wider seating for the left rear passenger. However, this design is dangerous and is unacceptable and will eventually lead to fatalities. . . .

- 33. Defendant had knowledge that its misrepresentations regarding the 2017 model year CR-V were misleading and yet continued to make the same misrepresentations regarding the 2018 model year CR-V to Plaintiff and the class members.
- 34. Defendant's marketing and advertising practices are clearly meant to mislead consumers as to seating capacity and passive safety features of the CR-V. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's conduct, Plaintiff and the class have suffered injury in fact, ascertainable loss, and lost money. Defendant, despite having knowledge that its representations are misleading to Plaintiff and the class, continues to market and advertise the CR-Vs in a deceptive manner.
- 35. Plaintiff and the class are at risk of suffering further injury if the relief sought is not granted.

California Contacts

- 36. Defendant is headquartered in Torrance, California, located at 1919 Torrance Boulevard, Torrance, CA 90501.
- 37. Defendant does substantial business in California, with a significant portion of the proposed nationwide class located in California.
- 38. California hosts a significant portion of Defendant's U.S. operations, including sales and service offices and financial service offices, among others.
- 39. In addition, the conduct that forms the basis for each and every class member's claims against Defendant emanated from Defendant's headquarters in California and is consistent with directives of Defendant's personnel in California.
- 40. Defendant's marketing and advertising personnel are located at its California headquarters, and the advertising and marketing schemes detailing the seating capacity and passive safety features of the CR-V were made and implemented from there.
- 41. Defendant's California personnel implemented its deceptive advertising scheme and have refused to repair the seat belt misconfiguration in Plaintiff's CR-V.
- 42. Defendant's personnel responsible for communicating with dealers regarding known problems with defective vehicles are also located at the California headquarters, and the decision not to inform authorized dealers of the backseat seat belt buckle misconfiguration was made and implemented from there.
- 43. Defendant has significant contacts with the State of California, such that nationwide application of California law is appropriate. Further, the conduct at issue herein emanated from California such that application of California law nationwide is appropriate.

- 44. As a result of Defendant's conduct, Plaintiff and members of the class have suffered injury in fact and have otherwise suffered damages and been harmed and will continue to be harmed in the future unless Defendant is held accountable through this litigation.
- 45. Plaintiff seeks injunctive relief, actual damages, disgorgement of profits, statutory damages, attorneys' fees, costs, and all other relief available to the class, as defined herein.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

- 46. Plaintiff brings this lawsuit, both individually and as a class action, on behalf of similarly-situated purchasers of CR-Vs, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2) and (3).
- 47. The classes ("Class" or "Classes") that Plaintiff seeks to represent are defined as follows:

Nationwide Class:

All owners and lessees of Defendant's model year 2017 and/or 2018 CR-Vs in the United States.

Alternative Illinois State Class:

All owners and lessees of Defendant's model year 2017 and/or 2018 CR-Vs in Illinois.

Excluded from the Class are Defendant, as well as Defendant's affiliates, employees, officers and directors, and the Judge to whom this case is assigned. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend the definition of the Class if discovery and/or further investigation reveal that the Class should be expanded or otherwise modified.

48. Numerosity/Impracticability of Joinder: There are so many members of the Class that joinder of all members is impracticable. The reported sales of the Honda CR-V in the United States were 377,895 vehicles in 2017¹² and 117,951 vehicles for the first five months of 2018.¹³ Plaintiff estimates that there are thousands of members in the Class. The members of the Class are readily identifiable from information and records in Defendant's possession, custody, or control. The disposition of these claims will provide substantial benefits to the members of the Class.

- 49. Commonality and Predominance: There is a well-defined community of interest and common questions of law and fact that predominate over any question affecting only individual members of the Class. These common legal and factual questions, which do not vary from members of the Class, and which may be determined without reference to the individual circumstances of any members of the Class, include, but are not limited, to the following:
 - a) whether Defendant's marketing, advertising and promotion of its CR-Vs was false and misleading;
 - b) whether Defendant concealed facts from Plaintiff and members of the Class about the seating capacity and passive safety features of the CR-Vs;
 - c) whether Defendant knew or should have known that its representations were false, or that the representations omitted material information;
 - d) whether Defendant's conduct was a violation of the CLRA;
 - e) whether Defendant's conduct was a violation of the UCL;
 - f) whether Defendant's conduct was a violation of the FAL;
 - g) whether Defendant's conduct was a violation of the ICFDBPA;

- i) whether Defendant's conduct was a breach of express warranty;
- j) whether Defendant has been unjustly enriched by its conduct, as alleged herein;
- k) whether Defendant's conduct as alleged herein violates public policy; and
- 1) whether Plaintiff and the members of the Class are entitled to damages, restitution, equitable relief and/or other damages and other relief, and, if so, the amount and nature of such relief.
- 50. Typicality and Adequacy: Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the proposed Class, and Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the proposed Class. Plaintiff does not have any interests antagonistic to those of the Class. Plaintiff's counsel are experienced in the prosecution of this type of litigation. The questions of law and fact common to the members of the Class, some of which are set out above, predominate over any questions affecting only individual members of the Class.
- 51. Superiority: A class action is superior to all other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy. The expense and burden of individual litigation would make it impracticable or impossible for members of the Class to prosecute their claims individually. The litigation and trial of the Class-wide claims are manageable.
- 52. Unless a class is certified, Defendant will improperly retain monies from Plaintiff and members of the Class received as a result of its conduct.

 Unless Defendant is required to change its unfair and deceptive practices, it will continue to commit the violations and the members of the Class, and the general public, will continue to be misled.

Class Action Complaint

COUNT I

Violation of Consumers Legal Remedies Act – California Civil Code § 1750, et seq. On Behalf of the Nationwide Class

- 54. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every preceding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.
- 55. This cause of action is brought under the CLRA. Plaintiff and the Class are consumers as defined by California Civil Code § 1761(d), and the CR-Vs constitute goods within the meaning of the CLRA.
- 56. Defendant violated and continues to violate the CLRA by engaging in the following deceptive practices proscribed by California Civil Code § 1770(a) in connection with transactions intended to result in, and that did result in, the sale of the CR-Vs to Plaintiff and members of the Class in violation of, inter alia, the following provisions:
 - a) Representing that the goods have characteristics, uses, or benefits which they do not have (Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(5));
 - b) Representing that the goods are of a particular standard, quality, or grade if they are of another (Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(7));
 - c) Advertising goods with the intent not to sell them as advertised (Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(9));
 - d) Representing that a transaction involves rights, remedies, or obligations that it does not have or involve (Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(14)); and
 - e) Representing that the goods have been supplied in accordance with a previous representation when they have not (Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(16)).
- 57. Plaintiff and other Class members, in purchasing and using the CR-Vs, did reasonably act in response to Defendant's above representations or would have considered the omitted facts set forth herein material to their purchasing decision. Plaintiff and the Class have suffered damages by the wrongful acts and practices of Defendant that are in violation of California Civil Code § 1781.

- 58. The representations regarding the CR-Vs were material to Plaintiff and members of the Class. Defendant intended that Plaintiff and Class members would rely on these representations and they did, in fact, rely on the representations.
- 59. In accordance with California Civil Code § 1780(a), Plaintiff and the Class seek injunctive relief for Defendant's violations of the CLRA.
- 60. In accordance with California Civil Code §§ 1782(a) and (d), Plaintiff has provided Defendant with the appropriate notice and demand, but Defendant has denied the existence of a defect and refused to provide any relief to Plaintiff or the Class.
- 61. Plaintiff seeks for himself and the Class compensatory and punitive damages under the CLRA and also to recover attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to California Civil Code §§ 1780 and 1781.

COUNT II

False and Misleading Advertising in Violation of California Business and Professions Code § 17500, et seq. On Behalf of the Nationwide Class

- 62. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every preceding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.
- 63. Defendant's acts and practices as described herein have deceived and/or are likely to deceive members of the Class and the public. Defendant has advertised and stated that the CR-Vs have a seating capacity of five and has 3-point seat belts at all seating positions, when, in fact, they do not, because all three backseat passengers cannot simultaneously buckle their seat belts safely without overlapping or twisting at least one of the seat belts, in direct contradiction to Defendant's marketing and advertisements.

- 64. By its actions, Defendant has and continues to disseminate uniform false advertising concerning the CR-Vs, which advertisements, by their nature, are unfair, deceptive, untrue, or misleading within the meaning of the FAL. Such advertisements are likely to deceive, and continue to deceive, the consuming public for the reasons detailed above.
- 65. The above-described false, misleading, and deceptive advertising Defendant disseminated continues to have the likelihood to deceive in that Defendant has failed to disclose the true and actual nature of the CR-Vs. Defendant has failed to initiate a public information campaign to alert consumers of the CR-Vs' true nature, which continues to create a misleading perception of the CR-Vs and their advertised safety features.
- 66. In making and disseminating the statements alleged herein, Defendant should have known its advertisements were untrue and misleading, in violation of the FAL. Plaintiff and the Class members based their decisions to purchase the CR-Vs, in substantial part, on Defendant's misrepresentations and omissions regarding the true nature of the seating capacity and safety features of the CR-Vs. The revenues to Defendant attributable to the CR-Vs sold using those false and misleading advertisements amount to substantial monies paid for the vehicles. Plaintiff and the Class were injured in fact and lost money as a result.
- 67. Defendant intended for Plaintiff and Class members to rely on these representations and omissions and Plaintiff and Class members consequently did rely on Defendant's misrepresentations and omissions.
- 68. The misrepresentations and non-disclosures by Defendant of the material facts detailed above constitute false and misleading advertising and, therefore, are violations of the FAL.
- 69. As a result of Defendant's wrongful conduct, Plaintiff and Class 2:18-cv-6043 Class Action Complaint 19 members request that this Court enjoin Defendant from continuing to violate the FAL. Such conduct is ongoing and continues to this date. Plaintiff and the Class are, therefore, entitled to the relief described below as appropriate for this cause of action.

COUNT III

Unlawful, Unfair, and Fraudulent Business Practices in Violation of California Business and Professions Code § 17200, et seq. On Behalf of the Nationwide Class

- 70. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every preceding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.
- 71. The UCL defines unfair competition to include any "unfair," "unlawful," or "fraudulent" business act or practice.
- 72. Defendant violated, and continues to violate, the UCL by misrepresenting the CR-Vs as having a seating capacity of five with 3-point seat belts at all seating positions, when, in fact, they do not, because all three backseat passengers cannot simultaneously buckle their seat belts safely without overlapping or twisting at least one of the seat belts, in direct contradiction to Defendant's marketing and advertisements.
- 73. By engaging in the above-described acts and practices, Defendant has committed an unfair business practice within the meaning of the UCL. Consumers have suffered substantial injury they could not reasonably have avoided other than by not purchasing the CR-Vs.
- 74. Defendant's acts and practices have deceived and/or are likely to deceive Class members and the public and thus constitute a fraudulent business practice. Defendant uniformly marketed and advertised CR-Vs as having a seating capacity of five and having 3-point seat belts at all seating positions, when, in fact, they do not, because all three backseat passengers cannot simultaneously buckle their seat belts safely without overlapping or twisting at least one of the seat belts, despite the fact that Defendant knew, or should have known, of the configuration of the CR-Vs' seat belt buckles.

- 75. As discussed above, Plaintiff and the members of the Class purchased CR-Vs directly from Defendant and/or its authorized agents. Plaintiff and members of the Class were injured in fact and lost money as a result of such acts of unfair competition.
- 76. The injuries suffered by Plaintiff and Class members are greatly outweighed by any potential countervailing benefit to consumers or to competition, nor are they injuries that Plaintiff and Class members should have or could have reasonably avoided.
- 77. Defendant received the funds paid by Plaintiff and the members of the Class. Defendant profited by misrepresenting the properties of the CR-Vs that it otherwise would not have sold. Defendant's revenues attributable thereto are, thus, directly traceable to the substantial dollars paid out by Plaintiff and the Class for the CR-Vs.
- 78. Unless Defendant is enjoined from continuing to engage in the unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent business acts and practices as described herein, which conduct is ongoing, Plaintiff and the Class will continue to be injured by Defendant's conduct.
- 79. Defendant, through its acts of unfair competition, has acquired money from the Class members. Plaintiff and the Class request this Court to enjoin Defendant from continuing to violate the UCL.
- 80. The unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent conduct described herein is ongoing and continues to this date. Plaintiff and the Class, therefore, are entitled to relief described below as appropriate for this cause of action.

Breach of Express Warranty On Behalf of the Nationwide Class

81. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every preceding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

- 82. As an express warrantor, manufacturer, and merchant, Defendant has certain obligations pursuant to its warranty to repair and replace defects.
- 83. When Plaintiff and the members of the Class purchased and/or leased the CR-Vs with the backseat seat belt misconfiguration, Defendant expressly warranted under its warranty that it would properly "repair or replace any part that is defective in material or workmanship under normal use" for "3 years or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first."¹⁴
- 84. The backwards configuration of the backseat seat belts at issue in this litigation was present at the time of sale and/or lease to Plaintiff and members of the Class.
- 85. Defendant breached the warranty (and continues to breach the warranty) because it wrongfully, uniformly, and repeatedly refuses to repair the backseat seat belt configuration, forcing Plaintiff and the members of the Class to either seat a maximum of two backseat passengers in their CR-Vs simultaneously or risk the safety of their passengers by having two of their backseat passengers use tangled, twisted, and overlapping seat belts.
- 86. Plaintiff and the Class members used their CR-Vs in a manner consistent with their intended use and performed each and every duty required under the terms of the warranty including presentment, except as may have been excused or prevented by the conduct of Defendant or by operation of law in light of Defendant's unconscionable conduct described throughout this Complaint.
- 87. Defendant received timely notice regarding the problems at issue in this litigation and, notwithstanding such notice, has failed and refused to offer an effective remedy.
- 88. In addition, upon information and belief, Defendant received numerous complaints, notice of the misconfiguration and resulting safety issue, and requests for warranty coverage from other members of the Class.

¹⁴ See Warranty Booklets, supra note 8.

- 89. In its capacity as a supplier and/or warrantor, and by the conduct described herein, any attempt by Defendant to disclaim or otherwise limit its express warranties in a manner that would exclude or limit coverage for the seat belt misconfiguration that was present at the time of sale, which Defendant knew about prior to offering the CR-Vs for sale, and which Defendant did not disclose and did not remedy prior to sale (or afterward), is unconscionable, and Defendant should be estopped from pursuing such defenses.
- 90. Further, any such effort by Defendant to disclaim or otherwise limit liability for the defect is null and void because Defendant and its authorized agents, the dealers, have wrongfully, uniformly, and repeatedly refused and failed to properly repair or replace the seat belt buckles.
- 91. As such, Defendant should be estopped from disclaiming liability for its actions.
- 92. Accordingly, Plaintiff and the Class members have suffered damages caused by Defendant's breach of its warranty and are entitled to recover damages as set forth herein.

COUNT V

Violation of Illinois Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practices Act, 815 ILCS 505/2, In the Alternative, On Behalf of the Illinois State Class

- 93. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every preceding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.
 - 94. The ICFDBPA makes it unlawful to employ:

Unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices, including but not limited to the use or employment of any deceptive fraud, false pretense, false promise, misrepresentation or the concealment, suppression or omission of such material fact, with intent that others rely upon the concealment, suppression or omission of such material fact, or the use or employment of any practice described in Section 2 of the "Uniform Deceptive Trade Practices Act," approved August 5, 1965, in the conduct of any trade or commerce are hereby declared unlawful whether any person has in fact been misled, deceived or damage thereby.

815 ILCS 505/2.

- 95. As detailed throughout this Complaint, Defendant misrepresented that the CR-Vs have a seating capacity of five with 3-point seat belts at all seating positions, when, in fact, they do not, because all three backseat passengers cannot simultaneously buckle their seat belts safely without overlapping or twisting at least one of the seat belts, in direct contradiction to Defendant's marketing and advertisements.
- 96. Defendant violated Section 505/2 of the ICFDBPA by misrepresenting the efficacy of the passive safety features in the CR-Vs. Defendant made the misrepresentations described throughout this Complaint with the intent that Plaintiff and the Illinois State Class rely on them and purchase or lease the CR-Vs.
- 97. Plaintiff and the Illinois State Class were damaged by Defendant's violation. Plaintiff and the Illinois State Class would not have purchased the CR-Vs, or would not have paid the purchase price they did, had the facts been known.

COUNT VI

Violation of the Illinois Uniform Deceptive Trade Practices Act 815 ILCS 510/2, et seq., In the Alternative, On Behalf of the Illinois State Class

- 98. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every preceding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.
- 99. The IUDTPA makes it unlawful to "advertise[] goods or services with intent not to sell them as advertised." 815 ILCS 510/2(a)(9). It is also unlawful to "engage[] in any other conduct which similarly creates a likelihood of confusion or misunderstanding." Id. at (a)(12). A plaintiff, "[i]n order to prevail in an action under this Act . . . need not prove competition between the parties or actual confusion or misunderstanding." Id. at (b).

- 100. As detailed throughout this Complaint, Defendant deceptively marketed and advertised the CR-Vs as having a seating capacity of five with 3-point seat belts at all seating positions, when, in fact, they do not, because all three backseat passengers cannot simultaneously buckle their seat belts safely without overlapping or twisting at least one of the seat belts, in direct contradiction to Defendant's marketing and advertisements.
- 101. Defendant violated Section 510/2 of the IUDTPA by misrepresenting the availability of its passive safety features in the CR-Vs. Defendant's misrepresentation, as described throughout this Complaint, created a likelihood of confusion on the part of consumers regarding the number of passengers they could safely transport in their CR-Vs.
- 102. Plaintiff and the Illinois State Class were damaged by Defendant's violation and their subsequent purchases of CR-Vs. Plaintiff and the members of the Illinois State Class would not have purchased the CR-Vs, or would not have paid the purchase price they did, had the facts been known.

COUNT VII

Breach of Express Warranty In the Alternative, On Behalf of the Illinois State Class

- 103. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every preceding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.
- 104. As an express warrantor, manufacturer, and merchant, Defendant had certain obligations pursuant to its warranty to repair and replace defects.

- 105. When Plaintiff and the members of the Class purchased and/or leased the CR-Vs with the backseat seat belt misconfiguration, Defendant expressly warranted, under its warranty, that it would properly "repair or replace any part that is defective in material or workmanship under normal use" for "3 years or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first." ¹⁵
- 106. The backwards configuration of the backseat seat belts at issue in this litigation was present at the time of sale and/or lease to Plaintiff and members of the Class.
- 107. Defendant breached its warranty (and continues to breach its warranty) because it wrongfully, uniformly, and repeatedly refuses to repair the CR-Vs' backseat seat belt configuration, forcing Plaintiff and the members of the Class to either only seat a maximum of two backseat passengers in their CR-Vs simultaneously, or risk the safety of their passengers by having two of their backseat passengers use tangled, twisted, and overlapping seat belts.
- 108. Plaintiff and the Class members used their CR-Vs in a manner consistent with their intended use and performed each and every duty required under the terms of the warranty including presentment, except as may have been excused or prevented by the conduct of Defendant or by operation of law in light of Defendant's unconscionable conduct described throughout this Complaint.
- 109. Defendant received timely notice regarding the problems at issue in this litigation and, notwithstanding such notice, has failed and refused to offer an effective remedy.
- 110. In addition, upon information and belief, Defendant received numerous complaints, notice of the misconfiguration and resulting safety issue, and requests for warranty coverage from other members of the Class.
- 111. In its capacity as a supplier and/or warrantor, and by the conduct described herein, any attempt by Defendant to disclaim or otherwise limit its express warranties in a manner that would exclude or limit coverage for the seat belt misconfiguration that was present as of the time of sale, which Defendant knew about prior to offering the CR-Vs for sale, and which Defendant did not disclose and did not remedy prior to sale (or afterward), is unconscionable, and Defendant should be estopped from pursuing such defenses.

- 112. Further, any such effort by Defendant to disclaim or otherwise limit liability for the defect is null and void because Defendant and its authorized agents, the dealers, have wrongfully, uniformly, and repeatedly refused and failed to properly repair or replace the seat belt buckles.
- 113. As such, Defendant should be estopped from disclaiming liability for its actions.
- 114. Accordingly, Plaintiff and Class members have suffered damages caused by Defendant's breach of the warranty and are entitled to recover damages as set forth herein

COUNT VIII

Unjust Enrichment In the Alternative, On Behalf of the Illinois State Class

- 115. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every preceding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.
- 116. This claim is asserted on behalf of Plaintiff and the members of the Illinois State Class against Defendant.
- 117. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's deceptive and misleading conduct as set forth above, Defendant has been unjustly enriched.
- 118. Specifically, by its misconduct described herein, Defendant has accepted a benefit (monies paid by Plaintiff and Illinois State Class members).
- 119. It would be inequitable for Defendant to retain the profits, benefits, compensation, consideration, and other monies obtained by and from Defendant's wrongful and deceptive conduct in marketing and selling the CR-Vs to Plaintiff and the Illinois State Class, as detailed in this Complaint.

120. Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated, seeks restitution from Defendant and an Order of this Court proportionally disgorging all profits, benefits, compensation, consideration, and other monies obtained by Defendant from its wrongful conduct.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and members of the proposed Classes, prays for judgment as follows:

- a) Certification of the Class under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 and appointment of Plaintiff as representative of the Class and his counsel as Class counsel;
- b) Compensatory and other damages for economic and noneconomic damages;
- c) Awarding restitution and disgorgement of Defendant's revenues or profits to Plaintiff and the members of the proposed Class;
- d) An Order requiring Defendant to cease and desist from engaging in the alleged wrongful conduct and to engage in a corrective advertising campaign;
- e) Statutory pre-judgment and post-judgment interest on any amounts;
- f) Payment of reasonable attorneys' fees and recoverable litigation expenses as may be allowable under applicable law; and
- g) Such other relief as the Court may deem just and proper.
