Case No. 2:20-cv-03691

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT (JURY TRIAL DEMANDED)

Plaintiff, Carly Swartz (“Plaintiff”), by and through undersigned counsel, brings this action against University of Pittsburgh (“Defendant” or “University”) on behalf of herself and others similarly situated, and makes the following allegations based upon attorney investigation, information and belief, and upon Plaintiff’s own knowledge:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. Plaintiff brings this case as a result of Defendant’s decision not to issue appropriate refunds for the Spring 2020 semester after canceling in-person classes and changing all classes to an online/remote format, closing most campus buildings, and requiring all students who could leave campus to leave as a result of the Novel Coronavirus Disease (“COVID-19”).

2. This decision deprived Plaintiff and other members of the Classes from recognizing the benefits of on-campus enrollment, access to campus facilities, student activities, and other benefits and services in exchange for which they had already paid fees and tuition.

3. Defendant has either refused to provide reimbursement for the tuition, fees, and other costs that Defendant failed to provide during the Spring 2020 semester, or has provided inadequate and/or arbitrary reimbursement that does not fully compensate Plaintiff and members of the Classes for their losses.

4. This action seeks refunds of the amount Plaintiff and other members of the Classes are owed on a pro-rata basis, together with other damages as pled herein.

PARTIES

5. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding allegations as though fully set forth herein.

6. University of Pittsburgh is an institution of higher learning located in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

7. Upon information and belief, Defendant has an estimated endowment of approximately $4.31 billion and more than 34,000 enrolled students during the 2019-2020 academic year.

8. Moreover, upon information and belief, Defendant was allocated more than $21.26 million of federal stimulus under the CARES Act. The CARES Act directs that institutions must use at least half of the funds they receive to provide emergency financial aid grants to students for expenses related to the disruption of campus operations due to COVID-19.

9. Plaintiff is an individual and a resident and citizen of Springfield, Pennsylvania, and was a student enrolled at University of Pittsburgh during the Spring 2020 term.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

10. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding allegations as though fully set forth herein.

11. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act (“CAFA”), 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d), because at least one class member is of diverse citizenship from one Defendant, there are more than 100 Class members, and the aggregate amount in controversy exceeds $5 million, exclusive of interest and costs.

12. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Defendant conducts business in Pennsylvania and has sufficient minimum contacts with Pennsylvania.

13. Venue is proper in this District under 28 U.S.C. 1391(b) because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims occurred in this District.

BACKGROUND FACTS

14. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding allegations as though fully set forth herein.

15. Plaintiff was enrolled as a full-time student for the Spring 2020 academic semester at Defendant's institution.

16. As a precondition for enrollment, Plaintiff was required to and did pay substantial tuition for the Spring 2020 semester either out of pocket or by utilizing student loan financing, as did all members of the putative Tuition Class (defined below).

17. There are hundreds, if not thousands, of institutions of higher learning in this country.

18. Some institutions of higher learning provide curriculum and instruction that is offered on a remote basis through online programming which does not provide for physical attendance by the students.

19. Defendant's institution offers both in-person, hands-on programs, and fully online distance-learning programs, which it markets as separate and distinct products.

20. Plaintiff and members of the proposed Tuition Class (defined below) did not choose to attend another institution of higher learning, or to seek an online degree, but instead chose to attend Defendant's institution and specifically chose the on-campus program and enrolling on that basis.

21. Defendant has recognized and admitted the inherent difference between its in-person and online products, and markets them separately throughout its website and other publications and circulars, including academic catalogs.

22. Accordingly, when students pay tuition in exchange for enrollment in the on-campus program, such students expect to receive, and Defendant has promised to provide, benefits and services above and beyond basic academic instruction, which include but are not limited to:

- Face-to-face interaction with professors, mentors and peers;
- Access to facilities such as computer labs, study rooms, laboratories, libraries, etc.;
- Student governance and student unions;
- Extra-curricular activities, groups, intramurals, etc.;
- Student art, cultures, and other activities;
- Exposure to community members of diverse backgrounds, cultures, and schools of thought;
- Social development and independence;
- Hands-on learning and experimentation; and
- Networking and mentorship opportunities.

23. Plaintiff's education was changed from in-person, hands-on learning to online instruction during the Spring 2020 term.

24. When this happened, Plaintiff was forced from campus and deprived of the benefit of the bargain for which she had paid, and in exchange for which Defendant had accepted, tuition as set forth more fully above.

25. In addition to tuition, Defendant charges certain mandatory fees, including but not limited to a:

- Student Activity Fee
- Wellness Fee
- Student Health Fees
- Computing and Networks Services Fee
- Security, Safety, and Transportation Fee

26. The Student Activity Fee is assessed at each of the University's campuses. The fee amount is separately established at each campus.¹

27. The Wellness Fee formerly the "Student Health Fee," is mandatory for all full-time and part-time students at the Pittsburgh Campus.²

28. The Student Health Fees are mandatory for students enrolled at Regional Campuses. The fee amount is separately established at each campus.³

29. The Computing and Network Service Fee is mandatory each term for all full-time and part-time students. The fee applies to students enrolled at any campus; the fee amount is the same at each campus.⁴

30. The Security, Safety, and Transportation Fee is mandatory each term for all full-time and part-time Pittsburgh campus students.⁵

31. Plaintiff was required to and did pay all mandatory fees associated with her Spring 2020 enrollment at the Pittsburgh Campus.

32. The University states that the Student Activity Fee for undergraduate and graduate students are collected from all full-time and part-time students each academic term.⁶

33. The University states that the Wellness Fee provides access to Student Health Services, a campus facility staffed by medical doctors, psychiatrists, nurses, and nurse practitioners. The fee also provides access to the University's Counseling Center. This facility is staffed by psychologists, counselors, social workers, and other mental health care professionals. The fee also supports a variety of health education and promotion programming, including a Pitt-specific program called "Healthy U" that provides students with many opportunities and resources to help them maintain optimal mental, physical, and emotional health. The fee provides access to Campus Recreation facilities, including the Baierl Student Recreation Center, Pitt Sports Dome, Trees Hall, and Bellefield Hall, among others. Finally, the fee also supports intramural club sports programs, as well as recreation and fitness programs, services, and activities.⁷

34. The University states Student Health Fees gives students access to Student Health Services, a campus facility staffed by medical doctors, nurses, nurse practitioners, pharmacists, or other health care professionals.⁸

35. The University states Computing and Network Services Fee is used for upgrading and maintaining the University's computer systems, equipment, and facilities.⁹

36. The University states Security, Safety, and Transportation Fee provides funding for campus transportation services including shuttles, expanded handicapped/disabled transport services, a night on-call van service, an on-call escort service, and security lighting.¹⁰

¹⁰ Id.

37. As a result of the actions and announcements of Defendant during the Spring 2020 term, Plaintiff and members of the Fees Class (defined below) no longer had the benefit of the services for which these fees were paid. For example, University's Counseling Center and Baierl Student Recreation Center were closed, student events and activities were cancelled, student organizations were no longer operational, and students who moved home no longer had the need for or access to the various health facilities.

38. At Defendant's request and direction, Plaintiff and members of the Classes lost access to any campus facilities and services thereon throughout the remainder of the Spring 2020 term.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

39. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding allegations as though fully set forth herein.

40. Upon information and belief, Defendant's Spring term began with the first day of classes on or about January 6, 2020.¹¹

41. Upon information and belief, Defendant's Spring term was scheduled to conclude with the last day of examinations on or about April 25, 2020 and commencement ceremonies on April 26, 2020.¹²

42. Accordingly, Defendant's spring semester was scheduled and contracted to consist of approximately 110 days.

¹² Id.

43. However, as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, Defendant announced on March 11, 2020 that it would begin delivering classes via electronic channels on Monday, March 23, 2020.¹³

44. On March 11, 2020, Defendant also announced that students would be required not to return to campus from their spring break if they could do so.¹⁴

45. On March 18, 2020, Defendant announced “the closure of many on-campus academic support facilities” including, but not limited to, libraries, recreational facilities, computer labs, and study areas and group spaces.¹⁵

46. Almost immediately students demanding refunds for the fees and charges demanded in this action.

47. Based on the dates set forth above, upon information and belief, Defendant’s move to online classes and construction eviction of students on March 11, 2020 deprived Plaintiff and other members of the Classes from access to campus facilities and in-person instruction for approximately 40% of the semester for which they had contracted.

48. Although Defendant continued to offer some level of academic instruction via online classes, Plaintiff and members of the proposed Tuition Class were deprived of the benefits of on-campus enrollment for which they paid as set forth more fully above.

49. These realities notwithstanding, Defendant has refused and continues to refuse to offer any refund whatsoever with respect to the tuition that has already been paid.

50. Likewise, Plaintiff and members of the proposed Fees Class were deprived of utilizing services for which they have already paid, such as access to campus facilities, student activities, health services and other opportunities.

51. Defendant has failed and continues to fail to offer any type of pro-rated refund on fees.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

52. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding allegations as though fully set forth herein.

53. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of herself and as a class action, pursuant to the provision of Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on behalf of the following Classes:

The Tuition Class:

All people who paid tuition for or on behalf of students enrolled in classes at University for the Spring 2020 semester but were denied live, in-person instruction and forced to use online distance learning platforms for the latter portion of that semester.

The Fees Class:

All people who paid fees for or on behalf of students enrolled in classes at the University for the Spring 2020 semester.

54. Excluded from the Classes is University of Pittsburgh, and any of their respective members, affiliates, parents, subsidiaries, officers, directors, employees, successors, or assigns; and the judicial officers, and their immediate family members, and court staff assigned to this case. Plaintiff reserves the right to modify or amend the Class definitions as appropriate during the course of this litigation.

55. Certification of Plaintiff's claims for class-wide treatment is appropriate because Plaintiff can prove the elements of her claims on a class-wide basis using the same evidence as would be used to prove those elements in individual actions alleging the same claims.

56. This action has been brought and may be properly maintained on behalf of the Classes proposed herein under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23.

Numerosity: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1)

57. The members of the Classes are so numerous and geographically dispersed that individual joinder of all members of the Classes is impracticable. Plaintiff is informed and believes that there are thousands of members of the Classes, the precise number being unknown to Plaintiff, but such number being ascertainable from Defendant's records. Members of the Classes may be notified of the pendency of this action by recognized, Court-approved noticed dissemination methods, which may include U.S. mail, electronic mail, internet postings, and/or published notice.

Commonality and Predominance: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2)

58. This action involves common questions of law and fact, which predominate over any questions affecting individual members of the Classes, including, without limitation:

- Whether Defendant engaged in the conduct alleged herein;
- Whether there is a difference in value between enrollment in an online distance learning program and enrollment in a live, on-campus instructional program;
- Whether Defendant breached its contracts with Plaintiff and other members of the Tuition Class by retaining the portion of their tuition representing the difference between the value of online distance learning and on-campus, in-person enrollment;

- Whether Defendant was unjustly enriched by retaining tuition payments of Plaintiff and the Tuition Class representing the difference between the value of online distance learning and on-campus, in-person enrollment;
- Whether Defendant breached its contracts with Plaintiff and the other members of the Fees Class by retaining fees without providing the services, benefits and/or programs the fees were intended to cover;
- Whether Defendant was unjustly enriched by retaining fees of Plaintiff and the other members of the Fees Class without provided the services, benefits and/or programs the fees were intended to cover;
- Whether certification of any or all of the Classes proposed herein is appropriate under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23;
- Whether members of the Classes are entitled to declaratory, equitable, or injunctive relief, and/or other relief; and
- The amount and nature of relief to be awarded to Plaintiff and the members of the Classes.

Typicality: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3)

59. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of other members of the Classes because, among other things, all members of the Classes were similarly situated and were comparably injured through Defendant's wrongful conduct as set forth herein.

Adequacy: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(4)

60. Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the Classes because her interests do not conflict with the interests of other members of the Classes she seeks to represent. Plaintiff has retained counsel competent and experienced in complex litigation and Plaintiff intends to prosecute the action vigorously. The interests of the Classes will be fairly and adequately protected by Plaintiff and her counsel.

Superiority: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3)

61. A class action is superior to any other available means for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy, and no unusual difficulties are likely to be encountered in the management of this class action. The damages or other financial detriment suffered by Plaintiff and other members of the Classes are relatively small compared to the burden and expense that would be required to individually litigate their claims against Defendant, so it would be impracticable for members of the Classes to individually seek redress for Defendant's wrongful conduct.

62. Even if members of the Classes could afford individual litigation, the Court system likely could not. Individualized litigation creates a potential for inconsistent or contradictory judgments and increases the delay and expense to all parties and the court system. By contrast, the class action device presents far fewer management difficulties and provides the benefits of single adjudication, economy of scale, comprehensive supervision by a single court, and finally of the litigation.

Certification of Specific Issues: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(4)

63. To the extent that any described Class does not meet the requirements of Rules 23(b)(2) or (b)(3), Plaintiff seeks the certification of issues that will drive the litigation toward resolution.

Declaratory and Injunctive Relief: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2)

64. Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief and declaratory relief, as described herein, with respect to members of the Classes as a whole.

FOR A FIRST COLLECTIVE CAUSE OF ACTION
BREACH OF CONTRACT

(Plaintiff and Other Members of the Tuition Class)

65. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding allegations as though fully set forth herein.

66. Plaintiff brings this count on behalf of herself and other members of the Tuition Class.

67. Plaintiff and the other members of the Tuition Class entered into contracts with Defendant which provided that Plaintiff and other members of the Tuition Class would pay tuition for or on behalf of students and, in exchange, Defendant would enroll such students and admit them to campus; granting them the full rights and privileges of student status, including but not limited to access to campus facilities, access to campus activities, and live, in-person instruction in a physical classroom.

68. The rights and privileges of students at University are set forth by Defendant through its website academic catalogs, student handbooks, marketing materials and other circulars, bulletins, and publications.

69. The rights and privileges for the basis of the bargain on which prospective students agree to accept Defendant's offer of enrollment in exchange for the payment of tuition and fees.

70. One such right is the ability to be physically present on campus, and fully enjoy the facilities, services and opportunities provided thereon.

71. As can be seen from University's Registrar page, when accepted students enroll in a class, they specifically elect the course offered by Defendant, which includes the day, the time, the specific classroom, and the campus.¹⁶

72. Defendant does not deny that the physical locations of its campus are a main benefit of enrollment that attracts many students to the University. See ¶ 81.

73. Defendant's website and recruitment brochures are the primary means through which Defendant targets prospective new students and attempts to influence such students to apply for enrollment at its University as opposed to other institutions of higher learning.

74. Through these publications, Defendant markets to and enrolls students in two separate and distinct products.

75. Defendant specifically markets certain classes and degree programs as being offered on a fully-online basis.

76. Indeed, Defendant dedicates an entire section of its website to these programs, which can be accessed at <https://www.cgs.pitt.edu/online-courses>.

77. Conversely, Defendant's publications with respect to non-online classes are full of references to the on-campus experience, including numerous references to student activities; campus amenities; class size and student/teacher ratios; campus diversity, campus location, and the like.

78. When visitors enter the admissions home page on Defendant's main website (<https://admissions.pitt.edu>) they are greeted with a nearly full screen promotional video with the large caption: "It all comes together here."

79. Further down this home page, prospective students find, "At the University of Pittsburgh, whether you're diving in for the first time, joining us from another country, seeking a world-renowned graduate program, or transferring in to find your place, you'll discover a community at Pitt that is changing the world."¹⁷

80. Further down this page, prospective students find a section from Defendant titled “Living in Pittsburgh.”¹⁸

81. In this section, Defendant states: “Pittsburgh is an extraordinary American city in so many respects. The striking geography of bridges and rivers. The nationally recognized cultural scene. The pride that comes with cheering for three major league sports teams: the Penguins, Pirates, and Steelers. And the rich tapestry of 90 distinctive neighborhoods-including Pitt’s own, Oakland-that give Pittsburgh its genuineness and warmth.”¹⁹

82. Additionally, on this page, prospective students find a section titled “College Life.”²⁰

83. In this section, Defendant promises prospective students: “Members of the Pitt community will help acclimate you to college living, orient you to our campus and city, and introduce you to people you’ll work with and learn from. Pittsburgh may be a major city, but our campus is not right downtown and is quite compact so it’s easy to get around and get involved. There’s always something happening in the city or on campus.”²¹

84. Prospective students are then guided to the “Life at Pitt” page on which Defendant explicitly states: “You’re going to love it here!”²²

85. In this section of the University’s website, Defendant emphasizes again, “Members of the campus community will help acclimate you to college living, orient you to our campus and city, and introduce you to the people you’ll work with and learn from.”²³

86. Further down this page, Defendant states: “Learning at Pitt takes place both in and out of the classroom and our organizations serve as the center of student involvement and engagement. We can’t wait to have you on campus!”²⁴

87. Further, Defendant distinguishes between the on-campus, in-person education product and the online, distance learning product, in a section labeled: “Outside of the Classroom Curriculum.”²⁵

88. This “Outside the Classroom Curriculum creates a guided journey with the goal of educating the whole person through a series of programs, activities, and experiences that complement [prospective student’s] academic studies.”²⁶

89. Upon information and belief, there were no references or disclaimers in any of Defendant’s websites, circulars, bulletins, publications, brochures, or other advertisements prior to January 17, 2020, that even referenced the possibility of in-person classes being changed to fully online classes at Defendant’s discretion or for any other reason whatsoever after the start of a given term.²⁷

90. In fact, it is clear that, prior to the COVID-19 interruption, Defendant had no plans whatsoever to offer its in-person classes via an online delivery model. This is evident from the fact that the University had to postpone education until March 23, 2020 while its professors hurriedly and ineffectively scrambled to make the switch.²⁸

²⁸ Email from Patrick Gallagher, chancellor@chancellor.pitt.edu, Chancellor, University of Pittsburgh, to Members of the University Community (Mar. 11, 2020, 03:11:08 PM EST).

91. Those prospective students who are interested in enrolling at the University after consuming the marketing materials described above are invited to complete applications, and some are selected for and offered admission.

92. When a student is offered admission to the University, the student receives a number of further communications and has a number of additional interactions with Defendant.

93. Admitted students were invited to attend “Admitted Student Day,” and this section of the University’s website is now taken down.²⁹

94. The Defendant offered to provide, and members of the Tuition Class expected to receive, instruction on the physical campus is further evidence by the parties’ prior course of conduct.

95. Those classes for which students expected to receive in-person instruction began the semester by offering in-person instruction.

96. Each day for the weeks and months leading up to March 11, 2020, students attended physical classrooms to receive in-person instruction.

97. Likewise, upon information and belief, most students were provided with syllabi and other documents that referenced class meeting schedules, locations, and physical attendance requirements.

98. Each day for the weeks and months prior to announced closures, students had access to the full campus.

99. Accordingly, it is clear that Defendant offered to provide live, in-person education, together with a full on-campus experience and that members of the Tuition class accepted that offer by paying tuition and attending classes during the beginning of the Spring 2020 semester.

100. Based on this mutual assent, Plaintiff and other members of the Tuition Class fulfilled their end of the bargain when they paid tuition for the Spring 2020 semester, either by paying out of pocket or by using student loan financing, or otherwise.

101. However, the University breached the contract with Plaintiff and the Tuition Class by moving all classes for the Spring 2020 semester to online distance learning platforms, and restricting the on-campus experience without reducing or refunding tuition accordingly.

102. This cause of action does not seek to allege “academic malpractice.”

103. Rather, it is clear from the facts and circumstances that Defendant offered two separate and distinct products, one be live, in-person, on-campus education, with its ancillary and related services and the other being online distance education.

104. Plaintiff and members of the Tuition Class accepted Defendant’s offer for live, in-person, on-campus education and paid valuable consideration in exchange.

105. However, after accepted such consideration from Plaintiff and the Tuition Class, Defendant provided an entirely different product, which deprived Plaintiff and the Tuition Class of the benefit of the bargain for which they had already paid.

106. Defendant retained tuition monies paid by Plaintiff and other members of the Tuition Class, without providing them the full benefit of their bargain.

107. Plaintiff and other members of the Tuition Class have suffered damage as a direct and proximate result of Defendant’s breach amounting to the difference in the fair market value of the services and access for which they contracted and the services and access which they actually received.

108. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant’s breach, Plaintiff and the Tuition Class are legally and equitably entitled to damages, to be decided by the trier of fact in this action, to include disgorgement of the difference between the fair market value of the online learning provided versus the fair market value of the live, in-person instruction in a physical classroom on a physical campus for which they contracted.

FOR A SECOND COLLECTIVE CAUSE OF ACTION
UNJUST ENRICHMENT

(Plaintiff and Other Members of the Tuition Class)

109. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding allegation as though fully set forth herein.

110. Plaintiff brings this count on behalf of herself and other members of the Tuition Class.

111. This claim is pled in the alternative to, and to the extent it is determined a contract does not exist or otherwise apply, the contract-based claim set forth in the First Cause of Action above.

112. Plaintiff and other members of the Tuition class paid substantial tuition for live, in-person instruction in physical classrooms on a physical campus.

113. Plaintiff and other members of the Tuition Class conferred a benefit on Defendant when they paid this tuition.

114. Defendant has realized this benefit by accepting such payment.

115. However, Plaintiff and members of the Tuition Class did not receive the full benefit of their bargain.

116. Instead, Plaintiff and members of the Tuition Class conferred this benefit on Defendant in expectation of receiving one product, i.e. live, in-person, instruction in a physical classroom along with on-campus experience of campus life as described more fully above, but they were provided with a completely difference product carrying a different fair market value, i.e., online instruction devoid of the on-campus experience, access, and services.

117. Defendant has retained this benefit, even though Defendant has failed to provide the services for which the tuition was collected, making Defendant's retention unjust under the circumstances.

118. It is significantly cheaper for Defendant to provide the online product than the on-campus product.

119. As a result of closing campus and moving classes online, Defendant saved significant sums of money in the way of reduced utility costs, reduced maintenance and staffing requirements, reduced or eliminated hours for hourly employees, reduced or eliminated hours for paid work study students, and otherwise.

120. Simply put, it is significantly cheaper to operate a remote, on-line campus than a fully open physical campus. But even if it was not, it is not the product the students contracted for, and not the product that they bought.

121. Equity and good conscience require that the University return a portion of the monies paid in tuition to Plaintiff and other members of the Tuition Class.

122. This cause of action does not seek to allege "academic malpractice."

123. Defendant should be required to disgorge this unjust enrichment to the extent that Defendant has retained more than the fair market value for the product that Defendant was able to provide.

FOR A THIRD COLLECTIVE CAUSE OF ACTION
BREACH OF CONTRACT

(Plaintiff and Other Members of the Fees Class)

124. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding allegations as though fully set forth herein.

125. Plaintiff brings this count on behalf of herself and other members of the Fees Class.

126. In addition to tuition, Defendant charges a number of mandatory fees.

127. In its publications and, particularly on its website, Defendant specifically describes the nature and purpose of each fee.

128. Some fees apply broadly to all or certain groups of students, while other fees are program or course based.

129. Such fees are set forth not only in amount but also in description and purpose through the various academic catalogs and on the website.

130. As such, it is axiomatic that the monies Plaintiff and other members of the Fees Class paid toward these fees were intended by both the students and Defendant to cover the services for which the fees were described and billed.

131. The Wellness Fee is specifically stated to “provide access to Student Health Services, a campus facility staffed by medical doctors, psychiatrists, nurses, and nurse practitioners. The fee also provides access to the University’s Counseling Center. This facility is staffed by psychologists, counselors, social workers, and other mental health care professionals. The fee also supports a variety of health education and promotion programming, including a Pitt-specific program called “Healthy U” that provides students with many opportunities and resources to help them maintain optimal mental, physical, and emotional health. The fee provides access to Campus Recreation facilities, including the Baierl Student Recreation Center, Pitt Sports Dome,

Trees Hall, and Bellefield Hall, among others. Finally, the fee also supports intramural club sports programs, as well as recreation and fitness programs, services, and activities.”³⁰

132. The Student Health Fees are specifically stated to “give students access to Student Health Services, a campus facility staffed by medical doctors, nurses, nurse practitioners, pharmacists, or other health care professionals.”³¹

133. The Computing and Network Services Fee is specifically stated to be “used for upgrading and maintaining the University’s computer systems, equipment, and facilities.”³²

134. The Security, Safety, and Transportation Fee are specifically stated to “provide funding for campus transportation services including shuttles, expanded handicapped/disabled transport services, a night on-call van service, an on-call escort service, and security lighting.”³³

135. As such, in accepted these terms and paying these fees, a contract was formed between Plaintiff, including the Fees Class, and Defendant, which provided that Plaintiff and other members of the Fees Class would pay these fees for or on behalf of themselves and, in exchange, Defendant would provide or make available the services, benefits and/or programs related to those fees, as promised.

136. It is undisputed that Defendant did not provide use of athletic facilities, the counseling center, health services, student organization activities, on-campus printing facilities, campus computer systems, shuttles, and on-call escort service.

³⁰ Tuition & Mandatory Fees, <https://payments.pitt.edu/tuition-rates-fees/>.

³¹ Id.

³² Id.

³³ Id.

137. Plaintiff and other members of the Fees Class fulfilled their end of the bargain when they paid these fees for the Spring 2020 semester, either by paying out of pocket or by using student loan financing, or otherwise.

138. However, Defendant breached the contract with Plaintiff and the Fees Class by moving all classes for the Spring 2020 semester to online distance learning platforms, constructively evicting students from campus, closing most campus buildings and facilities, and cancelling most student activities.

139. By retaining fees paid by Plaintiff and other members of the Fees Class, without providing them the full benefit of their bargain, Defendant has not performed its contractual obligations.

140. Plaintiff and other members of the Fees Class have suffered damage as a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breach, namely being deprived of the value of the benefits services and/or programs the fees were intended to cover.

141. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breach, Plaintiff and the Fees Class are legally and equitably entitled to damages, to be decided by a trier of fact in this action, to include disgorgement of the pro-rate amount of fees that were collected but for which services were not provided.

FOR A FOURTH COLLECTIVE CAUSE OF ACTION
UNJUST ENRICHMENT

(Plaintiff and Other Members of the Fees Class)

142. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all preceding allegations as though fully set forth herein.

143. Plaintiff brings this count on behalf of herself and other members of the Fees Class.

144. This claim is pled in the alternative to, and to the extent it is determined a contract does not exist or otherwise apply, the contract-based claim set forth in the Third Cause of Action above.

145. Defendant has received a benefit at the expense of Plaintiff and other members of the Fees Class to which it is not entitled.

146. Plaintiff and other members of the Fees Class paid substantial student fees for on-campus benefits, access and services and did not receive the full benefit of the bargain.

147. Plaintiff and other members of the Fees Class conferred this benefit on Defendant when they paid the fees.

148. Defendant realized this benefit by accepting such payment.

149. Defendant has retained this benefit, even though Defendant has failed to provide the services, benefits and/or programs for which the fees were collected, making Defendant's retention unjust under the circumstances.

150. It is significantly cheaper for Defendant to provide the online product than the on-campus product.

151. As a result of closing campus and moving classes online, Defendant saved significant sums of money in the way of reduced utility costs, reduced maintenance and staffing requirements, reduced or eliminated hours for hourly employees, reduced or eliminated hours for paid work study students, and otherwise.

152. Simply put, it is significantly cheaper to operate a remote, on-line campus than a fully open physical campus.

153. Equity and good conscience require that Defendant return a pro-rata portion of the monies paid in fees to Plaintiff and other members of the Fees Class.

154. Defendant should be required to disgorge this unjust enrichment to the extent that Defendant has retained more than the fair market value for the product that Defendant was able to provide.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of members of the Classes, prays for judgment in their favor and against Defendant as follows:

- A. Certifying the Classes as proposed herein, designating Plaintiff as Class representative, and appointing undersigned counsel as Class Counsel;
- B. Declaring that Defendant is financially responsible for notifying the Class members of the pendency of this action;
- C. Declaring that Defendant has wrongfully kept monies paid for in tuition and fees;
- D. Requiring Defendant disgorge amounts wrongfully obtained for tuition and fees;
- E. Awarding injunctive relief as permitted by law or equity, including enjoining Defendant from retaining the pro-rated, unused monies paid for in tuition and fees;
- F. Scheduling a trial by jury in this action;
- G. Awarding Plaintiff's reasonable attorney's fees, costs and expenses, as permitted by law;
- H. Awarding pre and post-judgment interest on any amounts awarded, as permitted by law; and
- I. Awarding such other and further relief as may be just and proper.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Pursuant to Rule 38 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Plaintiff demands trial by jury in this action of all issues so triable.
