3. Wage Statement Violations (California Labor Code §226a);

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff FERNANDA TORRES, (hereinafter collectively referred to as 2 “Plaintiff”), hereby submits her Class Action Complaint (“Complaint”) against 3 Defendants AMAZON.COM SERVICES, LLC, a Delaware corporation and 4 AMAZON.COM, INC., a Delaware corporation (hereinafter collectively referred to as 5 “Amazon” or “Defendants”) on behalf of herself and the class of all other similarly 6 situated current and former employees of Defendants. Plaintiff brings this action 7 upon information and belief, except as to their own actions, the investigation of 8 Plaintiff’s counsel, and the facts that are a matter of public record, as follows:

9 INTRODUCTORY FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

10 1. This is a class action challenging Amazon’s systemic failure to provide 11 State and Federally mandated accommodations to postpartum female employees who 12 have returned to work but must pump breastmilk in order to bottle feed their babies.

13 2. As stated in the International Journal for Equity Health, April 29, 2021 14 Breastfeeding is the best source of infant nutrition and contributes to maternal health.
15 The World Health Organization (WHO) and the United Nations International 16 Children’s Emergency Fund (UNICEF) recommend to exclusively breastfeed during 17 the first six months of life and to continue breastfeeding with complementary foods at 18 least until the age of 2.

19 3. While some woman cannot breastfeed, many choose to do so to provide 20 food and nutrition to their babies.

21 4. Women with infants and children 22 are the fastest growing segment of the U.S. labor force. In 2021, 63.1 percent of 23 mothers with children under age 3 participated in the labor force<sup>1</sup>. “Maternal 24 employment without adequate support has been previously described as a barrier to 25 breastfeeding. Work-related issues have been identified as a major reason of why 26 mothers do not initiate breastfeeding or wean their babies sooner. Without safeguards 27

28 <sup>1</sup> <https://www.bls.gov/news.release/famee.nr0.htm>; <https://www.bls.gov/news.release/famee.t06.htm>

1 for mothers to effectively enforce their choice to optimally breastfeed, women in the 2 labor force and their babies will keep facing inequities in terms of infant nutrition and 3 employment choices, and the right of women to combine motherhood and 4 professional development would be jeopardized”<sup>2</sup>.

5 5. To address this issue, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, 6 amended the FLSA on March 23, 2010, to require employers to provide a nursing 7 mother reasonable break time to express breast milk after the birth of her child. The 8 amendment also requires that employers provide a place for an employee to express 9 breast milk<sup>3</sup>.

10 6. California Senate Bill No. 142 was signed by Governor Newsom on 11 October 10, 2019 and enacted in January, 2020 requiring employers to provide a 12 reasonable amount of break time to accommodate an employee desiring to express 13 breast milk for the employee’s infant child each time the employee has need to 14 express milk (Cal. Labor Code § 1030).<sup>4</sup> Employers must also make reasonable 15 efforts to provide lactating mothers with the use of a room or other location for the 16 employee to express milk in private in a location where the employee normally works 17 if it otherwise meets the requirements of this section. Furthermore, a lactation room 18 or location shall not be a bathroom and shall be in close proximity to the employee’s 19 work area, shielded from view, and free from intrusion while the employee is 20 expressing milk. Under Labor Code § 1031, a lactation room or location shall comply 21 with all of the following requirements including (1) being safe, clean, and free of 22 hazardous materials, as defined in Section 6382; (2) a surface to place a breast pump 23 and personal items; (3) a place to sit; (4) access to electricity or alternative devices, 24 including, but not limited to, extension cords or charging stations, needed to operate

1 an electric or battery-powered breast pump. An employer shall also provide access to 2 a sink with running water and a refrigerator suitable for storing milk in close 3 proximity to the employee’s workspace. If a refrigerator cannot be provided, an 4 employer may provide another cooling device suitable for storing milk, such as an 5 employer-provided cooler.

6 7. Amazon is one of the largest companies in the world, and though it 7 undoubtedly has the resources to comply with such regulations, it chooses instead to 8 blatantly flout these rules.

9 8. As set forth below, Defendants illegal and widespread conduct has led to 10 direct harm to the class of mothers working for them. Defendants’ policies have been 11 willfully implemented to harm women who breast feed their infants, resulting in lost 12 wages, discriminatory policies, and violations of the California Labor Code along with 13 the Fair Labor Standards Act.

14 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

15 9. This Court has jurisdiction over the state law claims asserted here 16 pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2), which confers 17 original jurisdiction to the district courts “of any civil action in which the matter in 18 controversy exceeds the or value of $5,000,0000, exclusive of interests and costs, 19 and is a class action in which-any member of the class of Plaintiff is a citizen of a 20 State different than the defendant.”. Plaintiff is informed and believes that there are 21 more than one hundred class members, they reside in different State from the 22 Defendant, and the amount in controversy exceeds five million dollars.

23 10. Furthermore, this Court has general federal question jurisdiction over the 24 FLSA claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 since Plaintiff has brought claims pursuant 25 to the federal Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 201 et seq. This Court has 26 supplemental jurisdiction over Plaintiff’s state-law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 27 1367.

28 ///

1 Venue is proper in this judicial district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391.
2 Defendants operate a business in this district, is registered to do business in this 3 district, employs numerous workers in this district, including Plaintiff, and a 4 substantial part of the events giving rise to Plaintiff’s claims occurred within 5 this judicial district. Accordingly, Defendants are subject to general personal 6 jurisdiction.

22 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

23 A. Amazon is One of the Largest Employers in the World

24 19. Amazon is the second largest employer in the United States of America 25 with 1.62 million workers<sup>5</sup>. As of 2020, Amazon had 153,000 full- and part-time 26 employees in California as of the fourth quarter of 2020, more than the 80,000

2 Amazon had added 2,500 additional employees to its California workforce. <sup>7</sup>

3 B. “Breast Milk Is Best”

4 20. While there are a number of women for whom breastfeeding is not an 5 option, according to the Center for Disease Control, “breast milk is the best source of 6 nutrition for most babies<sup>9</sup>.”

7 21. There are a number of touted benefits of breastfeeding, including:

- 8 a. Breastfeeding can help protect babies against some short- and long-9 term illnesses and diseases.
- 10 b. Breastfed babies have a lower risk of asthma, obesity, type 1 diabetes, 11 and sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS). Breastfed babies are also 12 less likely to have ear infections and stomach bugs.
- 13 c. breast milk shares antibodies from the mother with her baby.
- 14 d. Breastfeeding can reduce the mother’s risk of breast and ovarian 15 cancer, type 2 diabetes, and high blood pressure.
- 16 e. Breastfeeding can reduce by up to 64% the risk of Sudden Infant 17 Death Syndrome (SIDS), and up to 40% overall infant deaths<sup>10</sup>.

2 complementary foods until a child is 12 months old or older.<sup>11</sup>

3 C. For Many Women Work Can Be a Barrier To Breastfeeding

4 23. As the comments to SB142<sup>12</sup>, noted, “[r]esearch by the United States 5 Breastfeeding Committee suggests that approximately half of new mothers enter the 6 workforce before their child is one year old. This causes many women to stop 7 breastfeeding before the American Academy of Pediatrics recommended six months, 8 at a cost to the employee, the employer and the child.<sup>13</sup>”

9 24. As the United States Surgeon General noted in its 2011 Call to Action to 10 Support Breastfeeding, “[e]mployed mothers typically find that returning to work is a 11 significant barrier to breastfeeding.<sup>14</sup>”

12 25. As the Surgeon General observed, “[w]hen mothers who do not have a 13 private office at work do not have a place to breastfeed or express breast milk, they 14 may resort to using the restroom for these purposes, an approach that is unhygienic 15 and associated with premature weaning.<sup>15</sup>”

16 D. In Order to Meet the Nutritional Demands of Their Babies, Maintain 17 Milk Levels and Prevent Engorgement Working Mothers Must Pump 18 Breast Milk

19 26. According to the Food and Drug Administration (“FDA”), tasked with 20 regulating the devices, breast pumps are medical that can be used to maintain or 21 increase a woman's milk supply, relieve engorged breasts and plugged milk ducts, or 5 28. Pumps can be manual or powered. Powered pumps can use batteries or a

1 30. In the United States moms typically return to work between 3 and 6 2 months postpartum, which means babies that age need about 3 to 4 ounces per feed.
3 Breastfed babies tend to top off at 4 ounces around 5 to 6 months of age, and rarely 4 need more than that at one feeding<sup>20</sup>.

5 31. A typical pumping session will last at least 15-20 minutes although some 6 women need more<sup>21</sup>.

7 32. Electrical pumps typically allow a lactating mother to express more milk 8 in the same amount of time than a battery operated or manual pump, making it ideal 9 for working mothers who have limited time to pump<sup>22</sup>.

10 33. The FDA recommends cleaning and disinfection of breast pumps 11 between uses. In general, steps for cleaning include<sup>23</sup>:

- 12 a. Rinsing each piece that comes into contact with breast milk in cool 13 water as soon as possible after pumping;
- 14 b. Washing each piece separately using liquid dishwashing soap and 15 plenty of warm water;
- 16 c. Rinsing each piece thoroughly with hot water for 10 to 15 seconds; 17 and
- 18 d. Placing the pieces on a clean paper towel or in a clean drying rack and 19 allowing them to air dry.

1 34. “It’s barbaric to expect a woman to pump in a closet or in a handicapped 2 stall,” said Senior. “The sad thing is that a small gesture from a company can go a 3 long way. All that’s really needed is a room with a locked door, a reclining chair, and 4 maybe a mini fridge. That’s really not all that much to ask.”<sup>24</sup>”

5 E. Women Who Are Impeded From Pumping Can Suffer Pain &
6 Discomforting Leading to Medical Problems and Reduced Milk Supply

7 35. If a woman experiences a sudden change in how often she can nurse, she 8 may experience engorgement. Engorgement happens when milk isn't fully removed 9 from the breast.

10 36. According to the United States Department of Agriculture, Engorgement 11 is uncomfortable, and it can lead to other issues like plugged ducts or a breast 12 infection. It also can slow or lower a woman’s milk supply, because her body is not 13 getting the message to make more milk. As such, the USDA recommends 14 “[b]reastfeeding or expressing milk every 2-3 hours” and taking good care of yourself 15 can help prevent engorgement.

16 37. Mastitis is a bacterial infection that can result from engorgement. If a 17 woman can't pump, engorgement can lead to plugged ducts, mastitis and even 18 abscesses, sometimes requiring hospitalization and intravenous antibiotics. One study 19 found that approximately 1 in 10 breast-feeding mothers experienced mastitis in the 20 first month of breast-feeding — and that was in Nepal where far fewer women had to 21 navigate work schedules or similar barriers<sup>25</sup>.

22 38. An earlier study in Australia found 27 percent of breast-feeding mothers 23 developed mastitis. Severe mastitis can develop into sepsis — blood poisoning — and 12 Plaintiff's Experience

13 40. Ms. Torres was the mother of a five-month-old infant that was primarily 14 breast fed when she began her employment with Amazon in August, 2021. She was 15 hired as a fulfillment center associate at their Beaumont, California facility.

16 41. Ms. Torres began her employment on August 2, 2021 and was classified 17 by Amazon as a non-exempt employee, pursuant to the provisions of the California 18 Labor Code, and the orders and standards promulgated by the California Department 19 of Industrial Relations, Industrial Welfare Commission, and Division of Labor 20 Standards.

21 42. On her first day, Ms. Torres reached out to her supervisors to let her 22 know she would need lactation accommodations. Ms. Torres was assured of such 23 accommodations; however, Plaintiff quickly discovered that Amazon failed to provide 24 accommodations to lactating employees. For example, the four-story, 640,000 square 25 foot fulfillment center wherein Amazon employs more than 1,000 associates only

1 dedicates one 6 foot by 6 space for its lactating employees. The Beaumont pumping 2 room is located on the ground floor of a large warehouse that is over a ten-minute 3 walk from most work stations of employees. Many employees cannot even access the 4 room in the five minutes they are permitted for breaks, let alone pump. Plaintiff 5 estimates travel time to and from the station is approximately eight minutes each way, 6 plus approximately the fifteen to twenty minutes it takes to pump and clean supplies.

7 43. Plaintiff was informed if she went over five minutes for bathroom or rest 8 break, she would be docked pay as Amazon monitored her scanning activity or face 9 termination for unaccounted time. As a result, Ms. Torres would only pump during 10 her meal break to avoid such wage penalties. However, she often suffered 11 engorgement or was unable to pump due to long lines during the thirty minutes 12 afforded for lunch so would have to take extended non paid breaks.

13 44. Ms. Torres, along with herself, is informed and believes that other 14 employees in the Plaintiff class were forced to take similar longer nonpaid breaks in 15 order to travel to areas such as their car or other isolated areas where they could 16 effectively pump. It was difficult for Plaintiff and other members of the class to find 17 suitable areas that were private and which were equipped with electrical outlets 18 necessary to operate their pumps.

19 45. Plaintiff witnessed other employees, similarly situated as herself, who 20 were unable to express milk for their infants as a result of the unlawful policies 21 promulgated by Defendant.

22 46. Plaintiff informed Human Resources several times of the untenable 23 situation in the “Lactation room” to no avail. Instead, when Plaintiff returned to work, 24 she was told she would have to work a reduced 32-hour work week instead of a 40 25 hour work week to accommodate

26 47. Defendants did not take any action to make the lactation area lawful 27 under California Labor Code Sections 1030-1034.

1 Facts Regarding Willfulness

2 48. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon allege, that 3 Defendants are and were advised by skilled lawyers, other professionals, employees 4 with human resources background and advisors with knowledge of the requirements 5 of California labor laws.

6 49. Plaintiff is informed and believe, and based thereon allege, that at all 7 relevant times, Defendants had a consistent policy or practice of failing to provide 8 lactation accommodations for the Plaintiff Class members, including Plaintiff.

9 50. Plaintiff is informed and believe and based thereon allege that at all 10 relevant times, Defendants knew or should have known, that the Plaintiff Class 11 members, including Plaintiff, were and are entitled to lactation accommodations.

12 Plaintiff's Exhaustion of Administrative Remedies

13 51. Plaintiff has complied with the procedures for bringing suit specified in 14 California Labor Code § 2699.3.

15 52. By letter dated March 29, 2022 Plaintiff sent required notice to the Labor 16 and Workforce Development Agency ("LWDA") and Defendant of the specific 17 provisions of the California Labor Code alleged to have been violated, including the 18 facts and theories to support the alleged violations.

19 53. More than sixty-five (65) days have passed since the notice was mailed 20 to Defendant and the LWDA, and the LWDA has not notified Plaintiff of its intent to 21 investigate the allegations herein.

22 Unfair Business Practices

23 54. Defendant has engaged in, and continue to engage in, unfair business 24 practices in California by practicing, employing and utilizing the employment 25 practices and policies outlined above.

26 55. Defendants' utilization of such unfair business practices constitutes 27 unfair competition and provides an unfair advantage over Defendants' competitors.

28 56. Defendants' utilization of such unfair business practices deprives

1 Plaintiff and Plaintiff Class Members of the general minimum working standards and 2 entitlements due them under California law and the Industrial Welfare Commission 3 wage orders as described herein.

4 57. As a direct result of the wage and hour violations herein alleged, Plaintiff 5 and members of the Plaintiff Class have suffered, and continue to suffer substantial 6 losses related to the use and enjoyment of wages, lost interest on such wages, and 7 expenses and attorneys' fees in seeking to compel Defendants to fully perform its 8 obligations under state law, all to Plaintiff's respective damage in amounts according 9 to proof at the time of trial.

10 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

11 58. Plaintiff incorporates all preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth 12 herein.

13 59. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of herself and all others similarly 14 situated as a class action, pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure §382. The 15 classes which Plaintiff seeks to represent are composed of, and defined as follows:

16 Plaintiff Class

17 All persons who have been, or currently are, employed by 18 Defendant in the State of California who are lactating 19 parents, e.g., individuals who express milk for their infant 20 children. (The Class Period is defined as the period from 21 four years prior to the filing of this action through and 22 including the date judgment is rendered in this matter). The 23 term "non-exempt employee" refers to those who 24 Defendants have classified as non-exempt from the overtime 25 wage provisions of the California Labor Code.

26
27 The Plaintiff Class is so numerous that the individual 28 joinder of all members is impracticable. While the exact

1 number and identification of the Plaintiff Class is unknown
2 to Plaintiff at this time, Plaintiff is informed and believes 3 that the class includes potentially hundreds of members.

4 60. Common questions of law and fact exist as to all Class Members, and 5 predominate over any questions affecting solely individual members of the class.
6 Among the questions of law and fact, that are relevant to the adjudication of class 7 members claims are as follows:

- 8 a. Whether Plaintiff and members of the Plaintiff Class are subject to 9 and entitled to the benefits of California wage and hour statutes;
- 10 b. Whether Defendant is in violation of California Labor Code § 1030 11 and § 226.7;
- 12 c. Whether Defendants' conduct as alleged herein violates the Unfair 13 Business Practices Act of California, Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et 14 seq.
- 15 d. Whether Defendants' conduct is in violation of the Fair Labor 16 Standards Act.

17 61. The claims of the named Plaintiff are typical of the claims of the 18 members of the Plaintiff Class and the Nationwide Class. Plaintiff and Class 19 Members sustained losses, injuries and damages arising from Defendants' common 20 policies, practices, procedures, protocols, routines, and rules which were applied to 21 other class members as well as Plaintiff. Plaintiff seeks recovery for the same type of 22 losses, injuries, and damages as were suffered by other members of the proposed 23 class.

24 62. Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the proposed classes because 25 she is a member of the class, and her interests do not conflict with the interests of the 26 members she seeks to represent. Plaintiff has retained competent counsel, 27 experienced in the prosecution of complex class actions, and together Plaintiff and her 28 counsel intend to prosecute this action vigorously for the benefit of the classes. The 1 interests of the Class Members will fairly and adequately be protected by Plaintiff and 2 her attorneys.

3 63. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and 4 efficient adjudication of this litigation since individual litigation of the claims of all 5 Class Members is impracticable. It would be unduly burdensome to the courts if these 6 matters were to proceed on an individual basis, because this would potentially result in 7 hundreds of individuals, repetitive lawsuits. Further, individual litigation presents the 8 potential for inconsistent or contradictory judgments, and the prospect of a “race to the 9 courthouse,” and an inequitable allocation of recovery among those with equally 10 meritorious claims. By contrast, the class action device presents far fewer 11 management difficulties, and provides the benefit of a single adjudication, economics 12 of scale, and comprehensive supervision by a single court.

13 64. The various claims asserted in this action are additionally or alternatively 14 certifiable under the provisions of the California Code of Civil Procedure § 382 15 because:

- 16 a. The prosecution of separate actions by hundreds of individual class 17 members would create a risk of varying adjudications with respect to 18 individual class members, thus establishing incompatible standards of 19 conduct for Defendants; and
- 20 b. The prosecution of separate actions by individual class members 21 would also create the risk of adjudications with respect to them that, 22 as a practical matter, would be dispositive of the interest of the other 23 class members who are not a party to such adjudications and would 24 substantially impair or impede the ability of such non-party class 25 members to protect their interests.

26 65. Plaintiff hereby incorporates each and every allegation contained above 27 and realleges said allegations as if fully set forth herein.

28 ///

1 COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

2 66. Plaintiff hereby incorporates each and every allegation contained above 3 and reallege said allegations as if fully set forth herein.

4 67. Plaintiff brings Cause of Action 6, the FLSA claim, as a nationwide "opt-5 in" collective action pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b), on behalf of herself and on 6 behalf of the following Class of persons (hereinafter the "FLSA Class" or "FLSA 7 Collective Plaintiffs"):

8 FLSA Class

9 All current and former that were denied lactation accommodations 10 by Defendant working in the United States within three (3) years 11 of the filing of this class action and the entry of judgment in this 12 case.

13 68. The FLSA claim may be pursued by those who opt-in to this case, 14 pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

15 69. All claims involving the FLSA Collective Class have been brought and 16 may properly be maintained as a collective action under 29 U.S.C. § 216, because 17 there is a well-defined community of interest in the litigation, and the proposed FLSA 18 Collective Class is easily ascertainable by examination of the employment records that 19 Defendants are required to maintain by law, including but not limited to employee 20 time clock reports and payroll records.

21 70. At all relevant times, Plaintiff and the other FLSA Collective Plaintiffs 22 are and have been similarly situated, have had substantially similar job requirements, 23 and job duties, and are and have been subject to Defendants' decision, policy, plan, 24 practice, procedure, routine, and rules to willfully fail and refuse to adhere to Chapter 25 29, U.S.C. § 207 (r). The claims of Plaintiff herein are essentially the same as those of 26 the other FLSA Collective Plaintiffs. Plaintiff alleges that during the FLSA Class 27 Period, they are and were:

28 (A.) individuals who resided in the United States of America;

1 (B.) were employed as "non-exempt" employees for Defendants in the United 2 States within the three years preceding the filing of the complaint herein;

3 (C.) were not provided "a place, other than a bathroom, that is shielded from 4 view and free from intrusion from coworkers and the public, which may be 5 used by an employee to express breast milk."

6 (D.) are members of the FLSA Collective Class as defined in the preceding 7 paragraph in this Complaint; and,

8 (E.) have signed a consent to sue that shall have been filed in this court.

9 71. Amazon is required to provide "reasonable break time for an employee to 10 express breast milk for her nursing child for 1 year after the child's birth each time 11 such employee has need to express the milk." Employers are also required to provide 12 "a place, other than a bathroom, that is shielded from view and free from intrusion 13 from coworkers and the public, which may be used by an employee to express breast 14 milk." See 29 U.S.C. 207(r). Other non-exempt current or former employee of 15 Defendants should have the opportunity to have their claims for violations of the 16 FLSA heard. Certifying this action as a collective action under the FLSA will provide 17 other non-exempt employees notice of the action and allow them to opt in to such an 18 action if they so choose.

19 72. Amazon monitors the scanning activities of its workers. Pursuant to 20 Amazon policies and practices, employees who take breaks in excess of five minutes 21 may be subject to discipline such as non-payment of wages, termination, or pay 22 reduction. Plaintiff herself suffered reduced hours and thus reduction in wages as a 23 result of the policies.

24 73. This Claim for Relief is properly brought under and maintained as an 25 opt-in collective action pursuant to 29 U.S.C. 216(b). The FLSA Collective Plaintiffs 26 are readily ascertainable. For purpose of notice and other purposes related to this 27 action, their names and addresses are readily available from Defendants. Notice can 28 be provided to the FLSA Collective Plaintiffs via first class mail to the last addresses

1 known to Defendants.

2 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

3 FAILURE TO ACCOMMODATE LACTATION- VIOLATION OF

4 CALIFORNIA LABOR CODE §§ 1030-1033

5 (By Plaintiff and the Members of the Plaintiff Class Against All Defendants)

6 74. Plaintiff incorporates herein by reference the allegations set forth above.

7 75. At all times relevant herein, California Labor Code 1031 provides that 8 “[t]he employer shall make reasonable efforts to provide the employee with the use of 9 a room or other location, other than a toilet stall, in close proximity to the employee’s 10 work area, for the employee to express milk in private. The room or location may 11 include the place where the employee normally works if it otherwise meets the 12 requirements of this section.” (Id.)

13 76. “Every employer ... shall provide a reasonable amount of break time to 14 accommodate an employee desiring to express breast milk for the employee's infant 15 child. The break time shall, if possible, run concurrently with any break time already 16 provided to the employee. Break time for an employee that does not run concurrently 17 with the rest time authorized for the employee by the applicable wage order of the 18 Industrial Welfare Commission shall be unpaid.” Cal. Lab. Code §1033.

19 77. At the Amazon facility where Plaintiff performed work, Amazon 20 dedicated only one 6’x6’ room in a 640,000 square feet facility to lactation despite 21 housing thousands of employees. Additionally, the room was located far from her 22 work station. Plaintiff and other employees were trained and informed that Amazon 23 would docked pay in the event any employee exceeded five (5) minutes for rest breaks 24 as Amazon monitored all employees’ scanning activity. As a result, Ms. Torres could 25 only pump during her meal break to avoid such wage penalties. Because of Amazon’s 26 failure to comply with the provisions of the Labor Code, Plaintiff often suffered pain, 27 discomfort and engorgement and/or was unable to pump due to long lines for the 28 lactation room during the thirty minutes afforded for lunch.

1 78. Plaintiff was aware that other similarly situated employees like herself 2 were also unable to pump due to the lack of accommodations. She estimates that she 3 routinely witnessed at least 15-20 mothers who also needed to use the room at the 4 same time as her.

5 79. Defendants' failure to accommodate Plaintiff and the class with a 6 reasonable ability to express milk in private has directly and proximately resulted in 7 harm to Plaintiff and the Class.

8 80. Defendant knowingly and willfully refused to perform its obligations to 9 accommodate Plaintiff and the class, in violation of state law. As a direct result, 10 Plaintiff and the Plaintiff Class have suffered, and continue to suffer damages 11 including lost wages, and expenses and attorneys' fees in seeking to compel 12 Defendants to fully perform its obligation under state law, in accordance with 13 Plaintiff's and the Plaintiff Class's respective damage amounts according to proof at 14 time of trial.

15 81. Defendants committed such actions knowingly and willfully, with the 16 wrongful and deliberate intention of injuring Plaintiff and the Plaintiff Class, from 17 improper motives amounting to malice, and in conscious disregard of Plaintiff and the 18 Plaintiff Class's rights.

19 82. Labor Code section 1033(a) provides as follows: [a]n employer who 20 violates any provision of this chapter shall be subject to a civil penalty in the amount 21 of one hundred dollars ($100) for each violation. Plaintiff and the Plaintiff Class are 22 thus entitled to recover nominal, actual, compensatory, punitive, and exemplary 23 damages in amounts according to proof at the time of trial.

24 83. The denial of a break or adequate space to express milk may result in the 25 recovery of one hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of pay pursuant to Labor 26 Code § 226.7.

27 84. As a proximate result of the above-mentioned violations Plaintiff and the 28 Plaintiff Class have been damaged in an amount according to proof at time of trial.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
VIOLATIONS OF LABOR CODE § 226.7 FOR FAILURE TO PROVIDE
COMPLIANT LACTATION BREAKS

85. Plaintiff incorporates herein by reference the allegations set forth above.

86. As set forth above, Defendants have failed to adequately provide for its employees' lactation breaks resulting in unpaid time that breastfeeding mothers spent traveling to alternative breast-feeding locations, unpaid time using manual and electrical pumps, unpaid time waiting for other employees to finish using the limited facility provided for its employees, unpaid time to clean pumping supplies, and unpaid time devoted to breast-feeding employees returning to their stations.

87. This unpaid time would not be so significant if not for Defendants unlawful conduct in failing to comply with Sections 1030-1032 of the California Labor Code.

88. Defendants failed to administer the lactation break program to ensure that the lactation space was maintained properly, that there was an orderly and fair scheduling system established for the use of the room, and that adequate accommodations were made for lactating mothers requests for breaks, resulting in its breastfeeding employees incurring unnecessary unpaid time off.

89. Pursuant to Labor Code Section 1030 every employer must provide a reasonable amount of break time to accommodate an employee desiring to express breast milk for the employee's infant child each time the employee has a need to express milk. The break time shall, if possible, run concurrently with any break time already provided to the employee. While break time for an employee that does not run concurrently with the rest time authorized for the employee by the applicable wage order of the Industrial Welfare Commission need not be paid, the denial of a break or adequate space to express milk pursuant to Labor Code Section 1033 may result in the recovery of one hour of pay at the employee's regular rate of pay for each violation by filing a wage claim under Labor Code section 226.7.

1 90. California Labor Code Section 226.7(c) states “If an employer fails to 2 provide an employee a meal or rest or recovery period in accordance with a state law, 3 including, but not limited to, an applicable statute or applicable regulation, standard, 4 or order of the Industrial Welfare Commission, the Occupational Safety and Health 5 Standards Board, or the Division of Occupational Safety and Health, the employer 6 shall pay the employee one additional hour of pay at the employee’s regular rate of 7 compensation for each workday that the meal or rest or recovery period is not 8 provided.”

9 91. Defendants knowingly failed to comply with California Labor Code 10 §226.7 by failing to have compliant lactation accommodations as set forth in the 11 California Labor Code.

12 92. Plaintiff and Class Members request recovery and penalties according to 13 proof, as well as interest, attorneys’ fees and costs pursuant to California Labor Code.

14 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

15 WAGE STATEMENT VIOLATIONS

16 (By Plaintiffs and Members of the Plaintiff Class Against All Defendants)

17 93. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate all preceding paragraphs as though 18 fully set forth herein.

19 94. California Labor Code §226 requires that employers provide its 20 employees with itemized wage statements at the time of payment of wages. These 21 wage statements must accurately report, among other things, each of the following: (1) 22 gross wages earned; (2) total hours worked by the employee; (3) the rates of pay; (4) 23 the inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid, (5) the last four digits 24 of the employees’ social security number or employee identification number; and (6) 25 the name and address of the legal entity that is the employer.

26 95. Defendants have knowingly and intentionally failed to comply with 27 California Labor Code §226(a) on each and every wage statement that should have 28 been provided to Plaintiff and other employees. Specifically, Defendants failed to 1 accurate state the number of hours actually worked by Plaintiff and Plaintiff Class 2 Members due to the additional and unnecessary travel time Plaintiff and the class have 3 incurred waiting to pump and traveling to a remote lactation room. Defendants have 4 also failed to accurately state the gross wages earned.

5 96. By failing to keep adequate records as required by §§226 and 1174 (d) of 6 the California Labor Code, Defendants have injured Plaintiff and other the class, 7 making it difficult to calculate total wages due, causing losses and expenditures not 8 indemnified by Defendants (including wages, interest, and penalties thereon) due to 9 Plaintiff and other employees.

10 97. Specifically, § 1174 of the California Labor Code requires defendants to 11 maintain and preserve, in a centralized location, among other items, records showing 12 the names and addresses of all employees employed, payroll records showing the 13 hours worked daily by and the wages paid to its employees. Defendants have 14 knowingly and intentionally failed to comply with California Labor Code §1174.
15 Defendants' failure to comply with California Labor Code §1174 is unlawful pursuant 16 to California Labor Code §1175.

17 98. Under California Labor Code §226.3, the Court shall require payment of 18 a civil penalty for violation of California Labor Code §226(a) or for failure to provide 19 a wage deduction statement equal to two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per employee 20 per violation for the initial violation and one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each 21 subsequent violation.

22 99. Plaintiff requests relief as described herein and below.

23 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION FOR VIOLATIONS OF 24 BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONS CODE § 17200, etc.

25 (By Plaintiff and the Members of the Plaintiff Class, Against All Defendants)

26 100. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates all preceding paragraphs as though 27 fully set forth herein.

28 101. Section 17200 of the California Business and Professions Code prohibits 1 any unlawful, unfair or fraudulent business act or practice.

2 102. Plaintiff brings this cause of action in a representative capacity on behalf 3 of the general public and the persons affected by the unlawful and unfair conduct 4 described herein. Plaintiff and members of the Plaintiff Class have suffered, and 5 continue to suffer, injury in fact and monetary damages because of Defendants' 6 actions.

7 103. The actions by Defendants as herein alleged amount to conduct which is 8 unlawful and a violation of law. As such, said conduct amounts to unfair business 9 practices in violation of California Business and Professions Code § 17200, et seq.

10 104. Defendants' conduct as herein alleged has damaged Plaintiff and the 11 members of the Plaintiff Class by denying them lactation accommodations Labor 12 Code Section 1031. Defendants' actions are thus substantially injurious to Plaintiff 13 and the members of the Plaintiff Class, causing them injury and loss of money.

14 105. Because of such conduct, Defendants have unlawfully and unfairly 15 obtained monies due to the Plaintiff and the members of the Plaintiff Class.

16 106. During the Class Period, Defendants committed, and continue to commit, 17 acts of unfair competition as defined by § 17200, et seq., of the Business and 18 Professions Code, by and among other things, engaging in the acts and practices 19 described above.

20 107. Defendants' course of conduct, acts, and practices in violation of the 21 California law as mentioned in each paragraph above constitutes a separate and 22 independent violation of § 17200, etc., of the Business and Professions Code in that it 23 is fraudulent, improper and unfair.

24 108. The harm to Plaintiff and the members of the Plaintiff Class of being 25 wrongfully denied lactation accommodations outweighs the utility, if any, of 26 Defendants' policies and practices and therefore, Defendants' actions described herein 27 constitute an unfair business practice or act within the meaning of Business and 28 Professions Code § 17200.

1 109. Defendants’ conduct described herein threatens an incipient violation of 2 California’s wage and hour laws, and/or violates the policy or spirit of such laws, or 3 otherwise significantly threatens or harms competition.

4 110. Defendants’ course of conduct described herein further violates 5 California Business and Professions Code § 17200 in that it is fraudulent, improper, 6 and unfair.

7 111. The unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent business practices and acts of 8 Defendants as described herein-above have injured Plaintiff and members of the 9 Plaintiff Class in that they were wrongfully denied lactation accommodations.

10 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

11 CIVIL PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA LABOR CODE

12 §§ 2698-2699

13 (Against Defendants on behalf of Plaintiff

14 and All Other Aggrieved Employees)

15 112. Plaintiff incorporates all preceding paragraphs as though fully set for 16 herein.

17 113. PAGA permits Plaintiff to recover civil penalties for the violation(s) of 18 the Labor Code sections enumerated in California Labor Code §2699.5.

19 114. PAGA provides as follows: “[n]otwithstanding any other provision of 20 law, a Plaintiff may as a matter of right amend an existing complaint to add a cause of 21 action arising under this part at any time within 60 days of the time periods specified 22 in this part.”

23 115. Defendants’ conduct, as alleged herein, violates numerous sections of the 24 California Labor Code including, but not limited to, the following:

- 25 a. Failed to adhere to California Labor Code § 1030-1033 by failing to 26 provide reasonable lactation accommodations.
- 27 b. Failed to provide lawful meal or rest or recovery period in accordance 28 with California Labor Code § 226.7;

1 c. Failed to provide lawful wage statements in violation of California Labor
2 Code 226, 226.3.

3 116. Defendants, at all times relevant to this complaint, were employers or 4 persons acting on behalf of an employer(s) who violated Plaintiff and other aggrieved 5 employees' rights by violating various sections of the California Labor Code as set 6 forth above.

7 117. Pursuant to PAGA, and in particular California Labor Code §§ 2699(a), 8 2699.3, 2699.5, Plaintiff, acting in the public interest as a private attorney general, 9 seeks assessment and collection civil penalties for Plaintiff, all other aggrieved 10 employees, and the State of California against Defendants, in addition to other 11 remedies, for violations of California Labor Code Sections California Labor Code §§ 12 1030, 1031, 1032, 1033.

13 118. California Labor Code § 1198 makes it illegal to employ an employee 14 under conditions of labor that are prohibited by the applicable wage order. California 15 Labor Code § 1198 requires that “. . . the standard conditions of labor fixed by the 16 commission shall be the . . . standard conditions of labor for employees. The 17 employment of any employee . . . under conditions of labor prohibited by the order is 18 unlawful.”

19 119. Plaintiff has complied with the procedures for bringing suit specified in 20 California Labor Code § 2699.3 and SB 836. By letter dated March 29, 2022, 21 Plaintiff Torres, on behalf of herself and the other aggrieved employees, pursuant to 22 California Labor Code § 2699.3, gave written notice by electronic submission to the 23 Labor and Workforce Development Agency (“LWDA”) and certified mail to 24 Defendants of the specific provisions of the California Labor Code alleged to have 25 been violated, including the facts and theories to support the alleged violations.

26 120. More than sixty-five (65) days have passed since the March 29, 2022 27 Notice to the LWDA and no response has been received.

28 ///

1 of Plaintiff are similar to the claims of collective employees.

2 127. Plaintiff and the members of the FLSA Class are similarly situated, have 3 substantially similar job requirements and pay provisions, and are subject Defendants' 4 common and uniform policy and practice of failing to accommodate employees 5 needing lactation accommodations.

6 128. The Plaintiff Class was forced to take longer breaks in order to travel to 7 appropriate areas to take nursing breaks, and was docked pay as a result of the unpaid 8 travel and wait time necessary to express milk. Plaintiff and the Plaintiff class missed 9 paid work time, and suffered wage loss as a result of being denied breastfeeding
