1           Lead Plaintiff James W. Gordley, and additional plaintiffs Steven Shaginyan 2 and Phillip Trefethen (“Plaintiffs”) submit this memorandum in support of its 3 Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement. Plaintiffs 4 request that the Court: (1) preliminarily certify the Settlement Class and appoint 5 class representative and class counsel; (2) preliminarily approve the Settlement on 6 the terms set forth in the Stipulation of Settlement dated January 27, 2022 7 (“Stipulation”), filed concurrently herewith; (3) approve the proposed form and 8 method of notice to the Settlement Class, and directing that such notice be 9 disseminated; and (4) schedule a Settlement Hearing to consider final approval of 10 the Settlement and related matters.<sup>1</sup>

11       I. PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

12           The Parties have reached a settlement to resolve the claims in the above-13 captioned securities class action (“Action”) for $1,850,000 (“Settlement”). The 14 Settlement provides a fair, reasonable, and adequate result for investors despite 15 significant risk. Plaintiffs now seek preliminary approval of the Settlement.
16 Preliminary approval does not require the Court to determine whether it should 17 grant final approval of the Settlement at this point. Rather, the Court need only 18 determine whether the Settlement is approvable, in that it falls within the range 19 that the Court reasonably could approve. If the Court grants preliminary approval, 20 Plaintiff will provide notice to the Settlement Class, soliciting claims on, objections 21 to, and exclusions from the Settlement. At the Settlement Hearing, with the 22 Settlement Class Members’ reactions in hand, the Court will determine whether to 23 finally approve the Settlement.

24           The Parties engaged in extensive arm’s-length settlement discussions over 25

26
27 <sup>1</sup> All capitalized terms not otherwise defined shall have the same meanings ascribed 28 to them in the Stipulation.

1 the phone and email. The resulting Settlement is a fair, reasonable, and adequate 2 result for the Settlement Class. Plaintiffs faced several obstacles if litigation were 3 to continue including significant disputes over the amount of potentially 4 recoverable damages, the availability of proof, Defendants’ potential defenses, the 5 risks of prosecuting this litigation through trial, and the real danger that Plaintiffs 6 would not be able to obtain a larger sum if litigation were to continue, as 7 Defendants are located outside the United States and collection of any judgment 8 would be burdensome.

9 The Court must also preliminarily certify the Settlement Class to allow for 10 notice to be distributed to Settlement Class Members. Certification of a settlement 11 class is nearly automatic in securities class actions, and this case is no outlier. The 12 Court need not decide at this stage whether to finally certify a settlement class.

13 Lastly, the Court must approve how notice of the settlement will be 14 communicated to Settlement Class Members (“Notice Plan”) and the proposed 15 documents that Plaintiff will use to communicate notice – the Long Notice, 16 Summary Notice, and Postcard Notice (together “Notice”).<sup>2</sup> The Notice and the 17 Notice Plan closely track the forms and methods routinely used to communicate 18 notice in securities class actions, and they satisfy the requirements of Rule 23. For 19 these reasons the Court should preliminarily certify the Settlement Class and 20 preliminarily approve the Settlement, Notice, and Notice Plan.

21 II. OVERVIEW OF THE LITIGATION

22 A. Plaintiff’s Allegations

23 CD Projekt, SA is a Polish video game developer. As a relatively small video 24 game developer, CD Projekt competes with larger developers by focusing almost 25 all of the company’s efforts on one single game at a time, releasing a new title once 26

27 <sup>2</sup> Proposed versions of the Long Notice, Summary Notice, and Postcard Notice are 28 attached as Exhibits A-1, A-3, and A-4, respectively, to the Stipulation. Exhibit A-2 is the proposed Proof of Claim.

1 every several years. From 2015 to 2020, that game was Cyberpunk 2077.
2 Beginning in January of 2020 CD Projekt assured the public that Cyberpunk 2077
3 was a complete and playable game and was pending final refinements before 4 release on multiple platforms, including the highly popular PlayStation 4 and Xbox 5 One gaming consoles. Throughout 2020, CD Projekt assured the public that it had 6 essentially completed versions of the game for those two consoles. In reality, 7 however, the games were virtually unplayable on the PlayStation 4 and Xbox One 8 consoles. Having delayed the game several times however, CD Projekt's 9 executives were determined to release the game in 2020 and reap the financial 10 rewards, whether or not the game was actually finished. CD Projekt attempted to 11 conceal the fact that the Sony PlayStation 4 and Microsoft Xbox One games did 12 not work until the last moment by refusing to provide advance copies of those 13 versions of the game to reviewers. However, when CD Projekt released the game, 14 the problems became immediately obvious, with fans expressing their outrage on 15 the internet and demanding refunds. Sony and Microsoft responded to this 16 customer outrage, with Microsoft placing a warning label about the game's lack of 17 functionality on their electronic Xbox store, and Sony removing the game from 18 their electronic PlayStation store altogether. As a result CD Projekt's price 19 declined by more than 25%, harming investors.

20 B. Procedural History and Settlement

21 Two putative securities class actions were filed on December 24, 2020 and 22 January 14, 2021, respectively, alleging violations of Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of 23 the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Exchange Act"). On May 14, 2021, the Court 24 consolidated the actions and appointed James Gordley as Lead Plaintiff and The 25 Rosen Law Firm, P.A. ("Rosen Law") as Lead Counsel. Dkt. No. 38. On June 28, 26 2021 Plaintiffs filed the Consolidated Amended Complaint. Dkt. No. 41. On August 27 12, 2021 Defendants filed their motion to dismiss the Consolidated Amended 28 Complaint. Dkt. No. 48. Plaintiffs filed their opposition on October 4, 2021. Dkt.

1 Nol. 51. Defendants filed their reply on November 17, 2021. Dkt No. 55. Shortly 2 thereafter, the parties began to negotiate a settlement and on November 29, 3 informed the Court that they had reached a settlement in principle. Dkt. No. 57.

4 III. THE COURT SHOULD CERTIFY THE SETTLEMENT CLASS

5 In preliminarily approving the proposed Settlement, the Court must consider 6 whether to certify the Settlement Class under Rules 23(a) and (b)(3) of the Federal 7 Rules of Civil Procedure. Plaintiff requests that the Court preliminarily certify a 8 Settlement Class consisting of “all Persons (other than those Persons identified 9 below in this paragraph) who acquired CD Projekt-related equity securities 10 publicly traded in domestic transactions from January 16, 2020, through December 11 17, 2020, both dates inclusive, and who were damaged thereby. Excluded from the 12 Settlement Class are: (a) persons who suffered no compensable losses; and (b) 13 Defendants; the present and former officers and directors of the Company at all 14 relevant times; members of their immediate families and their legal representatives, 15 heirs, successors, or assigns, and any entity in which any of the Defendants, or any 16 Person excluded under this subsection (b), has or had a majority ownership interest 17 at any time.” Stipulation ¶ 1.34 (defining “Settlement Class”). This definition of 18 the class refines the class definition set forth in the Corrected Consolidated 19 Amended Complaint of “persons or entities who purchased publicly traded CD 20 Projekt securities between January 16, 2020 and December 17, 2020, inclusive.” 21 The parties agreed to this definition to make clear that the class only applies to 22 domestic transactions in CD Projekt securities in accordance with Morrison v. Nat'l 23 Australia Bank Ltd., 561 U.S. 247 (2010), which restricts the scope of the 24 Securities and Exchange Act to transactions in domestic securities and domestic 25 transactions in other securities.

26 Courts in the Ninth Circuit, including this District, routinely certify class 27 actions such as this one, alleging violations of the federal securities laws. See, e.g., 28 Turocy v. El Pollo Loco Holdings, Inc., No. SACV151343DOCKESX, 2018 WL

1 3343493 (C.D. Cal. July 3, 2018); In re Silver Wheaton Corp. Sec. Litig., No.
2 215CV05146CASJEMX, 2017 WL 2039171 (C.D. Cal. May 11, 2017). The Court
3 should preliminarily certify the Settlement Class to permit notice to Settlement 4 Class Members.

5 A. The Settlement Class Satisfies Rules 23(a)

6 Rule 23 governs class certification and requires that: (1) the class is so 7 numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable (“numerosity”); (2) there are 8 questions of law or fact common to the class (“commonality”); (3) the claims or 9 defenses of the representative party are typical of those of the class (“typicality”); 10 and (4) the representative party will fairly and adequately protect the interests of 11 the class (“adequacy”). Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a).

12 1. Numerosity

13 For numerosity purposes, “impracticability does not mean ‘impossibility,’ 14 but only the difficulty or inconvenience of joining all members of the class.” In re 15 China Med. Corp. Sec. Litig., No. 8:11-1061-JST (ANX), 2013 WL 12126754, at 16 *2 (C.D. Cal. May 16, 2013). “As a general rule, classes of forty or more are 17 considered sufficiently numerous.” Id., 2013 WL 12126754 at *2.<sup>3</sup> In securities 18 fraud cases involving nationally traded stocks where, as here, “the exact size of the 19 proposed class is unknown, but general knowledge and common sense indicate it is 20 large, the numerosity requirement is satisfied.” Vinh Nguyen v. Radiant Pharms.
21 Corp., 287 F.R.D. 563, 569 (C.D. Cal. 2012). The Settlement Class comprises 22 purchasers of CD Projekt securities, which traded on the OTC markets in the United 23 States. Thus, the Settlement Class satisfies numerosity.

24 2. Commonality

25 The “commonality requirement is generally construed liberally,” and even 26

27 _____
28 <sup>3</sup> Emphasis is added and internal citations and quotations are omitted unless otherwise indicated.

1 one significant common issue of law or fact may suffice to show commonality.
2 Middlesex Cty. Ret. Sys. v. Semtech Corp., No. CV077114CASFMOX, 2010 WL
3 11507255, at *3 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 27, 2010). This case involves several common 4 questions of law and fact, including: (1) whether Defendants made false or 5 misleading public statements or omissions during the Class Period; (2) whether 6 Defendants acted with scienter; (3) whether Defendants’ misrepresentations
7 artificially inflated the market price of CD Projekt securities during the Settlement 8 Class Period; and (4) whether Settlement Class Members were damaged by 9 Defendants’ statements and omissions. Commonality is satisfied even though the 10 amount to which each class member is entitled will differ, because the issues 11 described above are each common to the Settlement Class. In re Zynga Inc. Sec.
12 Litig., No. 12-CV-04007-JSC, 2015 WL 6471171, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 27, 2015);
13 In re Juniper Networks, Inc. Sec. Litig., 264 F.R.D. 584, 588 (N.D. Cal. 2009) 14 (“misrepresentations by a company to its stockholders satisfy the commonality 15 requirement of Rule 23(a)(2)”). Thus, the Settlement Class satisfies commonality.

16 3. Typicality

17 The typicality requirement ensures that the interests of the representative 18 plaintiff align with those of the Class. Silver Wheaton, 2017 WL 2039171 at *7.
19 “[T]ypicality is satisfied if the plaintiff’s claims are reasonably co-extensive with 20 those of absent class members; they need not be substantially identical.” Id. Where 21 plaintiffs allege that they purchased the security in question and suffered damages 22 as a result of defendants’ misstatements or omissions, their claims are typical of the 23 class. Id. Plaintiffs’ claims are reasonably co-extensive with those of the Settlement 24 Class. Plaintiffs purchased CD Projekt securities during the Settlement Class Period
25 and suffered significant losses thereby. See Declaration of James Gordley 26 (“Gordley Dec.”) attached hereto as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Laurence Rosen 27 (Rosen Dec.) ¶9, Declaration of Steven Shaginyan (“Shaginyan Dec.”), attached 28 hereto as Exhibit 2 to the Rosen Dec. ¶9, and the Declaration of Phillip Trefethen,

1 (“Trefethen Dec.”), attached hereto as Exhibit 2 to the Rosen Dec. ¶9. There is no 2 indication that Plaintiffs’ claims are atypical of those of the Settlement Class, or 3 that a unique defense applies to Plaintiffs’ claims. See Semtech, 2010 WL 11507255
4 at *4-5 (finding typicality was met despite certain unique factors). Thus, Plaintiff 5 satisfies the typicality requirement.

6 4. Adequacy

7 A representative plaintiff is adequate if they have no conflicts of interest with 8 the class and show that they and their counsel will prosecute the action vigorously 9 on behalf of the class. Semtech, 2010 WL 11507255 at *5. Plaintiffs have submitted 10 declarations in connection with the filing of the instant motion indicating that they 11 have reviewed the complaint and relevant documents in this litigation and stand 12 ready and willing to represent the interests of the class. Gordley Dec. ¶11, 13 Shaginyan Dec. ¶11, Trefethen Dec. ¶11. There is no indication of any conflict of 14 interests between Plaintiff and the Settlement Class, thus Plaintiff is an adequate 15 class representative. Silver Wheaton, 2017 WL 2039171 at *7-8.

16 As to the adequacy of Lead Counsel, the Court must consider “(i) the work 17 counsel has done in identifying or investigating potential claims in the action; (ii) 18 counsel’s experience in handling class actions, other complex litigation, and the 19 types of claims asserted in the action; (iii) counsel’s knowledge of the applicable 20 law; and (iv) the resources that counsel will commit to representing the class.” Fed.
21 R. Civ. P. 23(g)(1)(A). Lead Counsel has been involved in this action from the 22 beginning, conducting a pre-filing investigation, filing an initial complaint, 23 retaining an investigator to interview former CD Projekt employees, retaining a 24 damages expert to evaluate the case, filing an amended complaint, formalizing the 25 settlement, and filing the instant motion for preliminary approval. Lead Counsel are 26 experienced securities class action attorneys who are knowledgeable and capable of 27 evaluating cases to determine when a settlement would be beneficial to the class, 28 and when to continue litigating. This Court and others around the country have

1 consistently found Rosen Law to be well-suited as class counsel in securities class 2 actions. See El Pollo Loco, 2018 WL 3343493, at *7 (appointing Rosen Law as 3 class counsel); Knox v. Yingli Green Energy Holding Co. Ltd., 136 F. Supp. 3d 4 1159, 1165 (C.D. Cal. 2015) (“The Rosen Law Firm is ‘highly qualified [and] 5 experienced’ in securities class actions”); Yedlowski v. Roka Bioscience, Inc., No.
6 14-CV-8020-FLW-TJB, 2016 WL 6661336, at *21 (D.N.J. Nov. 10, 2016)
7 (“[Rosen Law] is highly experienced in the complex field of securities fraud class 8 action litigation”). Lead Counsel will adequately represent the Settlement Class.

9 B. The Settlement Class Satisfies Rule 23(b)(3)

10 Plaintiff requests that the Court preliminarily certify the Settlement Class 11 under Rule 23(b)(3), which requires “that the questions of law or fact common to 12 class members predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, 13 and that a class action is superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently 14 adjudicating the controversy.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3) (“predominance” and 15 “superiority”).

16 1. Predominance

17 The predominance inquiry “tests whether proposed classes are sufficiently 18 cohesive to warrant adjudication by representation,” and is “readily met” in 19 securities class actions. Amchem Prod., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 623 and 20 625 (1997). Here, no question exists that issues surrounding Defendants’ alleged 21 misconduct, such as whether their statements were false or misleading, whether 22 they acted with requisite scienter, and whether their conduct caused damages to 23 Plaintiff and the Settlement Class, are common to each member of the Settlement 24 Class. Predominance is satisfied where a plaintiff alleges that, as here, “many 25 purchasers have been defrauded over time by similar misrepresentations.” Negrete 26 v. Allianz Life Ins. Co. of N. Am., 238 F.R.D. 482, 492 (C.D. Cal. 2006).

27 Allegations arising under the federal securities laws typically support a 28 finding of predominance as they arise out of common questions and issues. China

1 Med., 2013 WL 12126754, at *5 (“Plaintiff’s claims under federal securities laws
2 entail nothing but common questions and issues for the class.”); Zynga, 2015 WL 3 6471171, at *7 (for securities class actions, the “same set of operative facts and a 4 single proximate cause applies to each proposed class member.”). While the 5 amount of damages may differ among members of the Settlement Class, Plaintiff 6 contends that liability and the proper measure of damages can be determined on a 7 class-wide basis. In re Cooper Companies Inc. Sec. Litig., 254 F.R.D. 628, 640 8 (C.D. Cal. 2009) (“[T]he critical questions of what Defendants said, what they 9 knew, what they withheld, and with what intent they acted, are central to all class 10 members’ claims. ... Issues such as certain members’ damages, timing of sales 11 and purchases, or standing to file suit, do not have the same primacy”). Thus the 12 Settlement Class satisfies predominance.

13 2. Superiority

14 For a settlement class, superiority is more easily established. Amchem, 521 15 U.S. at 620 (“Confronted with a request for settlement-only class certification, a 16 district court need not inquire whether the case, if tried, would present intractable 17 management problems ... for the proposal is that there be no trial.”).

18 Other superiority factors support certification. As the Supreme Court has 19 recognized, “the policy at the very core of the class action mechanism is to 20 overcome the problem that small recoveries do not provide the incentive for any 21 individual to bring a solo action prosecuting his or her rights.” Amchem, 521 U.S.
22 at 617. Many of the Settlement Class Members are individuals for whom 23 prosecution of a costly individual action for relatively minor damages is not a 24 realistic or efficient alternative. No Settlement Class Members have brought 25 separate claims, which would likely be consolidated into this Action anyway. A 26 class action avoids the duplication of efforts and inconsistent rulings. Zynga, 2015 27 WL 6471171, at *7 (if shareholders “each brought individual actions, they would 28 each be required to prove the same wrongdoing to establish Defendants’ liability.

1 Different courts could interpret the claims different, resulting in inconsistent rulings 2 or unfair results.”). By avoiding repetitious litigation and efficiently resolving the 3 claims of the entire Settlement Class at once, this Action satisfies the superiority 4 requirement. The Court should preliminarily certify the Settlement Class as this 5 Action satisfies each of the Rule 23(a) and (b)(3) requirements.

6 C. Ascertainability

7 The Ninth Circuit has recognized that certification of settlement classes 8 requires “heightened attention to the definition of the class.” In re Hyundai and 9 Kia Fuel Economy Litig., 926 F.3d 539, 556-57 (9th Cir. 2019). A definition is 10 approvable “if the description of the class is definite enough so that it is 11 administratively feasible for the court to ascertain whether an individual is a 12 member.” O’Connor v. Boeing N. Am., Inc., 184 F.R.D. 311, 319 (C.D. Cal. 1998).
13 Rarely are there definitional issues for securities class action settlements as 14 proposed classes for these actions and settlements are definite and ascertainable.
15 Here, the proposed class is clearly defined as investors who acquired publicly 16 traded CD Projekt related securities in domestic transactions during the Settlement
17 Class Period. Booth v. Strategic Realty Tr., Inc., No. 13-CV-04921-JST, 2015 WL 18 3957746, at *3 (N.D. Cal. June 28, 2015) (finding the class definition “satisfies the 19 ascertainability requirement, as the class consists of individuals who purchased 20 [company] stock within a discrete time period.”). Thus, the Settlement Class 21 definition is suitable for certification and satisfies ascertainability.

22 IV. THE SETTLEMENT WARRANTS PRELIMINARY APPROVAL

23 Public policy strongly favors settlements to resolve disputes, “particularly 24 where complex class action litigation is concerned.” Hyundai, 926 F.3d at 556; In 25 re Heritage Bond Litig., No. 02-ML-1475 DT, 2005 WL 1594403, at *2 (C.D. Cal.
26 June 10, 2005) (“the Ninth Circuit has a strong judicial policy that favors 27 [approving] settlements, particularly where complex class action litigation is 28 concerned.”) (citing Officers for Just. v. Civ. Serv. Comm’n of City & Cty. of San

1 Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982) (“voluntary conciliation and 2 settlement are the preferred means of dispute resolution.”)).

3 Rule 23(e) requires judicial approval for a settlement of claims brought as a 4 class action. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e). Pursuant to Rule 23(e)(1)(B), the issue at 5 preliminary approval turns on whether the Court “will likely be able to: (i) approve 6 the proposal under Rule 23(e)(2); and (ii) certify the class for purposes of judgment
7 on the proposal.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1)(B). Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8 23(e)(2) governs final approval and requires courts to determine if a proposed 9 settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate, in that:

10 (A) the class representatives and class counsel have 11 adequately represented the class; (B) the proposal was 12 negotiated at arm’s length; (C) the relief provided for the 13 class is adequate, taking into account: (i) the costs, risks, 14 and delay of trial and appeal; (ii) the effectiveness of any 15 proposed method of distributing relief to the class, 16 including the method of processing class-member claims; 17 (iii) the terms of any proposed award of attorney’s fees, 18 including timing of payment; and (iv) any agreement required to be identified under Rule 23(e)(3); and (D) the proposal treats class members equitably relative to each other.

19 In addition, the Ninth Circuit uses the following factors for preliminary 20 approval, some of which overlap with Rule 23(e)(2): “the strength of the plaintiffs’ 21 case; the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; the risk 22 of maintaining class action status throughout the trial; the amount offered in 23 settlement; the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings; the 24 experience and views of counsel; the presence of a governmental participant; and 25 the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.” Hanlon v. Chrysler 26 Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1026 (9th Cir. 1998). Before notice of the Settlement is 27 disseminated, it is not possible to gauge the reaction of the class. Plaintiffs, 28 however, support the Settlement.

1 A preview of the factors considered by courts in granting final approval 2 demonstrates that this Settlement is well within the range of possible approval. The 3 proposed Settlement easily satisfies each of the factors identified under Rule 4 23(e)(2), as well as the applicable Ninth Circuit factors. The Court will likely be 5 able to approve the Settlement as fair, reasonable and adequate.

6 A. Plaintiff and Lead Counsel Adequately Represented the Class

7 Courts must consider whether the “class representatives and class counsel 8 have adequately represented the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(A). The Ninth 9 Circuit requires courts to resolve two questions to determine adequacy: “(1) do the 10 named plaintiffs and their counsel have any conflicts of interest with other class 11 members[;] and (2) will the named plaintiffs and their counsel prosecute the action 12 vigorously on behalf of the class?” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020.

13 Plaintiffs and Lead Counsel have adequately represented the Settlement 14 Class throughout this Action. Plaintiffs have no antagonistic interests to other class 15 members, its claims are typical of Settlement Class Members’ claims, and Plaintiff 16 shares an interest with the other Settlement Class Members in obtaining the largest 17 possible recovery for the Settlement Class. Mild v. PPG Indus., Inc., No.
18 218CV04231RGKJEM, 2019 WL 3345714, at *3 (C.D. Cal. July 25, 2019) 19 (“Because Plaintiff’s claims are typical of and coextensive with the claims of the 20 Settlement Class, his interest in obtaining the largest possible recovery is aligned 21 with the interests of the rest of the Settlement Class members.”). Further, Plaintiffs 22 have worked closely with Lead Counsel throughout the pendency of this Action to 23 achieve the best possible result for itself and the Settlement Class.

24 As discussed above, Plaintiffs retained highly experienced counsel with a 25 successful track record of representing investors in similar securities cases. See 26 also Dkt. No. 15-4 (Rosen Law Firm Resume). Lead Counsel has vigorously 27 prosecuted the Action, and will continue to do so through the settlement approval 28 and distribution process.

1           B.      The Settlement is the Product of Arm’s-Length Negotiations

2           Rule 23(e)(2)(B) addresses whether “the [settlement] proposal was 3 negotiated at arm’s length.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(B). The negotiations between 4 Lead Counsel and Defendants’ counsel that produced the Settlement were serious
5 and informed. Lead Counsel conducted a thorough review of CD Projekt’s 6 securities filings and publicly available information concerning the Company, 7 leading Plaintiffs to file a detailed Amended Complaint setting out a 8 straightforward theory of securities fraud. Lead Counsel then reviewed and 9 opposed Defendants’ motion to dismiss the Amended Complaint. Through the 10 motion to dismiss briefing and settlement negotiations, Plaintiffs and Lead Counsel 11 acquired “fulsome understandings” of the parties’ respective positions on the legal 12 and factual issues in the case. See Zynga, 2015 WL 6471171, at *9.

13           C.      The Relief Provided to the Class is Adequate

14           Pursuant to Rule 23(e)(2)(C), the Court must also consider whether “the 15 relief provided for the class is adequate, taking into account . . . the costs, risks, 16 and delay of trial and appeal” along with other relevant factors. Fed. R. Civ. P.
17 23(e)(2)(C)(i). This requirement incorporates three of the traditional Hanlon 18 factors: the strength of plaintiff’s case; the risk, expense, complexity, and likely 19 duration of further litigation; and the risk of maintaining class action status through 20 the trial. Wong v. Arlo Techs., Inc., No. 5:19-CV-00372-BLF, 2021 WL 1531171, 21 at *8 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 19, 2021) (citing Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026). These factors 22 support preliminary approval of the Settlement.

23           1.      The Strength of Plaintiff’s Case and the Risk, Expense, 24                       Complexity, and Likely Duration of Continued Litigation

25           In assessing whether the Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate, the 26 Court must balance the continuing risks of litigation, including the strengths and 27 weaknesses of the case, and the complexity, expense, and likely duration of 28 continued litigation, against the benefits afforded to the Settlement Class, including

1 the immediacy and certainty of a financial recovery. In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec.
2 Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 458, 459 (9th Cir. 2000), as amended (June 19, 2000); Officers
3 for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625. The risks of continued litigation here are considerable.
4 The PSLRA made the pleading stage of securities litigation a “technical and 5 demanding corner of the law.” Eminence Cap., LLC v. Aspeon, Inc., 316 F.3d 1048, 6 1052 (9th Cir. 2003).

7 The Amended Complaint has not yet been tested by a motion to dismiss, and 8 there are distinct risks here to protracted litigation. Hefler v. Wells Fargo & Co., 9 No. 16-CV-05479-JST, 2018 WL 6619983, at *13 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2018), aff’d 10 sub nom. Hefler v. Pekoc, 802 F. App’x 285 (9th Cir. 2020) (“Courts have 11 recognized that, in general, securities actions are highly complex and that securities 12 class litigation is notably difficult and notoriously uncertain.”).

13 Defendants deny any wrongdoing and would present a multi-pronged 14 defense. Plaintiffs and Lead Counsel believe that the case has merit, but they 15 recognize the significant risk and expense that would be necessary to prosecute 16 Plaintiffs’ claims successfully through a motion to dismiss, class certification, 17 extensive discovery, summary judgment, trial, and subsequent appeals, as well as 18 the inherent difficulties and delays complex litigation like this entails. In re
19 Wireless Facilities, Inc. Sec. Litig. II, 253 F.R.D. 607, 612 (S.D. Cal. 2008) 20 (preliminarily approving settlement where “[l]iability remains uncertain” as “it 21 appears to the Court that plaintiffs have a viable claim regarding the alleged 22 securities fraud and Defendants have a viable defense against such claims”); In re
23 Immune Response Sec. Litig., 497 F. Supp. 2d 1166, 1172 (S.D. Cal. 2007) 24 (approving settlement and noting that “the Court also recognizes that the issues of 25 scienter and causation are complex and difficult to establish at trial.”). Proving loss 26 causation and damages would also be risky, complicated, and uncertain, involving 27 conflicting expert testimony. In re Tyco Int’l, Ltd., 535 F. Supp. 2d 249, 260-61 28 (D.N.H. 2007) (“Proving loss causation would be complex and difficult. Moreover,

1 even if the jury agreed to impose liability, the trial would likely involve a confusing
2 ‘battle of the experts’ over damages.”); Salazar v. Midwest Servicing Grp., Inc., 3 No. 17-CV-0137-PSG-KS, 2018 WL 3031503, at *6 (C.D. Cal. June 4, 2018) (a 4 settlement agreement’s elimination of risk, delay, and further expenses weighs in 5 favor of approval).

6 Even if Plaintiffs defeated Defendants’ pending motion to dismiss, 7 continued litigation would be complex, uncertain, costly, and lengthy. Further 8 litigation would likely require extensive document discovery, including of likely 9 many documents written in Polish, depositions of numerous witnesses, many of 10 whom reside in Poland, submitting expert reports and testimony, overcoming 11 motions for summary judgment, and an expensive and risky trial. Any favorable 12 judgment for the Settlement Class would be subject to post-trial motions and 13 appeal, which could prolong the case for years without certainty of the outcome.
14 By contrast, the Settlement provides a favorable, immediate recovery and 15 eliminates the risk, delay, and expense of continued litigation. While a greater 16 recovery might be a theoretical possibility, evaluating the benefits of settlement 17 must be tempered by recognizing that any compromise involves concessions on 18 the part of all parties. “The very essence of a settlement is compromise, ‘a yielding 19 of absolutes and an abandoning of highest hopes.’” Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d 20 at 624.

21 The Settlement resulted from balancing the risks, costs, and delay inherent 22 in complex cases with respect to all parties. Thus, the benefits created by the 23 Settlement weigh heavily in favor of granting the motion for preliminary approval.
24 Considering the risks of continued litigation and the time and expense that would 25 be incurred to prosecute the Action through a trial, the $1.85 million Settlement is 26 a reasonable and adequate recovery that is in the Settlement Class’s best interests.

27 2. Risk of Maintaining Class Action Status Through Trial

28 The Settlement was reached before Plaintiffs moved for class certification.

1 While Plaintiffs believe that class certification would be appropriate (see Section 2 III, supra), it cannot be assured, and Defendants could attempt to alter or amend a 3 class certification order. See In re Omnivision Techs., Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 4 1041 (N.D. Cal. 2008) (“there is no guarantee the [class] certification would 5 survive through trial, as Defendants might have sought decertification or 6 modification of the class”). “While this may not be a particularly weighty factor, 7 on balance it somewhat favors approval of the proposed Settlement.” In re Rent- 8 Way Sec. Litig., 305 F. Supp. 2d 491, 506-07 (W.D. Pa. 2003).

9 D. The Remaining Rule 23(e)(2)(C) Factors Support Approval

10 Rule 23(e)(2)(C)(ii)-(iv) requires courts to consider whether the relief 11 provided for the class is adequate. These factors support approving the Settlement.

12 1. The Methods of Distributing Relief and Processing Claims

13 The method for distributing relief to eligible claimants and for processing 14 Settlement Class Members’ claims includes standard and effective procedures for 15 processing claims and efficiently distributing the Net Settlement Fund. Plaintiff 16 requests that the Court appoint Strategic Claims Services (“SCS”) as Claims 17 Administrator. If SCS is appointed it will, under Lead Counsel’s guidance, process 18 claims, allow Claimants an opportunity to cure any deficiencies or request the 19 Court to review a denial of their Claim(s), and pay Authorized Claimants their pro
20 rata share of the Net Settlement Fund pursuant to the Plan of Allocation set forth 21 in the Long Notice. The method proposed here is both effective and necessary, as 22 neither Plaintiff nor Defendants possess the individual investor trading data 23 required for a process to distribute the Net Settlement Fund. The Claims 24 Administrator shall be capped at $100,000 for administration fees prior to the 25 Effective Date and an additional $50,000 after the Effective Date, absent further 26 order from the Court. ¶3.3.

27 2. Proposed Attorneys’ Fees

28 The Notice explains that Lead Counsel will apply for attorneys’ fees not to 1 exceed 30% of the Settlement, or $555,000. An award of attorneys' fees of up to 2 30% of the Settlement Amount is reasonable and consistent with the fees awarded 3 in similar actions in this Circuit, including by this Court. E.g., Vinh Nguyen v.

4 Radiant Pharms. Corp., No. SACV 11-00406 DOC, 2014 WL 1802293 (C.D. Cal.
5 May 6, 2014) (Carter, J.) (awarding 28% of $2.5 million settlement); Cheng 6 Jiangchen v. Rentech, Inc., No. CV 17-1490-GW(FFMX), 2019 WL 5173771, at 7 *10 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 10, 2019) (awarding one-third of $2,050,000 settlement fund 8 where settlement was reached as a motion to dismiss was still pending). Lead 9 Counsel will receive no payment, and has not, until after the Court issues an order 10 awarding attorneys' fees following the Settlement Hearing.

11 3. Other Agreements

12 The Parties also executed a standard supplemental agreement providing that 13 if Settlement Class Members opt out such that the number of shares held by those 14 persons opting out reaches a certain threshold, CD Projekt may terminate the 15 Settlement. Stipulation ¶10.3. The terms of the supplemental agreement are kept 16 confidential to avoid incentivizing Settlement Class Members to opt out solely to 17 leverage the threshold to exact an individual settlement. Hefler v. Wells Fargo &
18 Co., No. 16-CV-05479-JST, 2018 WL 4207245, at *11 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 4, 2018) 19 (“a termination option triggered by the number of class members who opt out of 20 the Settlement does not by itself render the Settlement unfair.”); Christine Asia Co.
21 v. Yun Ma, No. 115MD02631CMSDA, 2019 WL 5257534, at *15 (S.D.N.Y. Oct.
22 16, 2019) (“This type of agreement is standard in securities class action settlements 23 and has no negative impact on the fairness of the Settlement.”)

24 E. The Proposed Settlement Does Not Unjustly Favor Any Settlement 25 Class Member, Including Plaintiff

26 Rule 23(e)(2)(D) requires courts to evaluate whether the settlement treats 27 class members equitably relative to one another. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(D). The 28 Settlement does not offer preferential treatment to any Settlement Class Member,

1 including Plaintiff. The Plan of Allocation proposed in the Long Notice provides 2 for distribution of the Net Settlement Fund to Authorized Claimants who suffered 3 losses on their transactions in CD Projekt securities during the Settlement Class 4 Period, based on when each investor purchased, acquired, and/or sold shares of CD 5 Projekt securities. The Plan of Allocation was developed by Lead Counsel after 6 consulting with the Claims Administrator and Plaintiff's damages expert.
7 Settlement Class Members' recoveries will be based upon the relative losses they 8 sustained.

9 Plaintiffs will receive a pro rata distribution from the Net Settlement Fund 10 per the plan of allocation, just like all other Settlement Class Members. Nguyen, 11 2014 WL 1802293, at *5 ("A settlement in a securities class action case can be 12 reasonable if it 'fairly treats class members by awarding a pro rata share to every 13 Authorized Claimant, but also sensibly makes interclass distinctions based upon, 14 inter alia, the relative strengths and weaknesses of class members' individual 15 claims and the timing of purchases of the securities at issue."").

16 Plaintiffs will also seek reimbursement of costs it incurred representing the 17 Settlement Class, as authorized by the PSLRA. Mego, 213 F.3d at 454 (affirming 18 reimbursement to class representative in securities class action settlement).

19 F. The Remaining Ninth Circuit Factors Favor Approval

20 In Hanlon, 150 F.3d 1011, the Ninth Circuit identified additional factors not 21 co-extensive with Rule 23(e)(2). These factors support preliminary approval.

22 1. The Amount Offered in Settlement

23 "To evaluate the adequacy of the settlement amount, courts primarily 24 consider plaintiffs' expected recovery balanced against the value of the settlement 25 offer." Hefler, 2018 WL 4207245, at *9. The adequacy of the amount offered in 26 settlement must be judged "not in comparison with the possible recovery in the best 27 of all possible worlds, but rather in light of the strengths and weaknesses of 28 plaintiffs' case." In re "Agent Orange" Prod. Liab. Litig., 597 F. Supp. 740, 762

1 (E.D.N.Y. 1984), aff'd, 818 F.2d 145 (2d Cir. 1987); Vikram v. First Student Mgmt.,
2 LLC, No. 17-CV-04656-KAW, 2019 WL 1084169, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 7, 2019)
3 (“This determination requires evaluating the relative strengths and weaknesses of 4 the plaintiffs’ case”). A settlement must be evaluated in the context of recognizing 5 that parties must make compromises to reach an agreement. Officers for Justice, 6 688 F.2d at 624.

7 The $1.85 million Settlement Amount is reasonable and warrants preliminary 8 approval. The Settlement recovers approximately 16.7% of the maximum estimated 9 damages of $11.02 million under Plaintiff’s best-case scenario, as estimated by 10 Plaintiff’s damages expert. This best-case scenario assumes that: (i) Plaintiff is able 11 to succeed on a motion to dismiss, at summary judgment, and at trial; (ii) the Court 12 certifies the same class period as the Settlement Class Period; and (iii) the Court 13 and jury accepted Plaintiff’s damages theory, including proof of loss causation.
14 Anything less than a complete victory would decrease, or potentially eliminate, 15 recoverable damages.

16 Moreover, the $1.85 million Settlement is an extremely favorable result 17 because Defendants are all located abroad in Poland and, had Plaintiffs achieved a 18 favorable result at trial, they would nonetheless face significant hurdles and 19 expenses enforcing any judgment abroad.

20 The percentage of maximum damages recovered is reasonable and well 21 within the range of other securities class action settlements with similar total 22 damages. Omnivision, 559 F. Supp. 2d at 1042 (approving 9% recovery); In re
23 Regulus Therapeutics Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 3:17-CV-182-BTM-RBB, 2020 WL 24 6381898, at *6 (S.D. Cal. Oct. 30, 2020) (approving 1.99% recovery); Officers for 25 Justice, 688 F.2d at 628 (“It is well-settled law that a cash settlement amounting to 26 only a fraction of the potential recovery does not per se render the settlement 27 inadequate or unfair.”). According to Cornerstone Research, approximately 13% of 28 securities class actions settled for less than $2 million in 2020, and the median

1 recovery in cases such as this one alleging Rule 10b-5 claims was approximately 2 5.3% of estimated damages in 2020, and 4.9% between 2011-2019.<sup>4</sup>

3 2. The Extent of Discovery and Stage of Proceedings

4 In considering a class action settlement, courts look for indications that the 5 parties carefully investigated the claims before reaching a resolution. In re:
6 Volkswagen “Clean Diesel” Mktg., Sales Practices, & Prod. Liab. Litig., No. 2672 7 CRB (JSC), 2016 WL 6248426, at *13-*14 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 25, 2016) (discovery is 8 “not a necessary ticket to the bargaining table where the parties have sufficient 9 information to make an informed decision about settlement”).

10 Lead Counsel conducted an extensive investigation of the claims asserted in 11 this Action, including: (i) reviewing CD Projekt’s public filings, press releases, 12 conference calls, and other public statements during the Settlement Class Period; 13 (ii) reviewing public documents, reports, announcements, and news articles 14 concerning CD Projekt including research reports by securities and financial 15 analysts; (iii) retaining an investigator to independently interview former CD 16 Projekt employees and other third parties.

17 3. Experienced Counsel’s Recommendations

18 Courts also give weight to the opinion of experienced and informed counsel 19 supporting the settlement. Nat’l Rural Telecommunications Coop. v. DIRECTV, 20 Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 528 (C.D. Cal. 2004) (“Great weight is accorded to the 21 recommendation of counsel, who are most closely acquainted with the facts of the 22 underlying litigation”). Lead Counsel have extensive securities litigation 23 experience and obtained a thorough understanding of the merits and risks of the 24 Action. Lead Counsel’s support for the reasonableness of this Settlement supports

1 preliminary approval. Defendants are represented by skilled securities practitioners 2 at Cooley LLP, who were at least as well-informed regarding the case, and their 3 representation of Defendants was equally vigorous. That experienced and informed 4 counsel agreed to the Settlement supports preliminary approval.

5 V. THE COURT SHOULD APPROVE THE NOTICE PLAN

6 A. The Notice Plan is Adequate

7 Rule 23(e) requires that notice of the Settlement be provided to Settlement 8 Class Members in such manner as the Court directs. The proposed Notice Plan 9 includes: (1) emailing links to the Long Notice and Proof of Claim, or if no email
10 address can be obtained, mailing the Postcard Notice, to Settlement Class Members 11 who can be identified with reasonable effort; (2) posting the Long Notice, Proof of 12 Claim, and Stipulation on a Settlement website maintained by SCS; (3) allowing 13 Settlement Class Members to submit their claims electronically at the Settlement 14 website; (4) upon request, mailing copies of the Long Notice and/or Proof of 15 Claim; and (5) publishing the Summary Notice over GlobeNewswire and in 16 Investor's Business Daily.

17 Courts routinely find these methods of notice sufficient. “The use of a 18 combination of a mailed post card directing class members to a more detailed online 19 notice has been approved by courts.” In re Advanced Battery Techs., Inc. Sec. Litig., 20 298 F.R.D. 171, 183 n.3 (S.D.N.Y. 2014) (citing cases); Baker v. SeaWorld Entm’t,
21 Inc., No. 14CV2129-MMA (AGS), 2020 WL 818893, at *2-*3 (S.D. Cal. Feb. 19, 22 2020) (approving postcard notice and similar notice program including website).
23 Defendants will provide notice pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C.
24 §1715 et seq.

25 B. The Notice is Adequate

26 As required by Rule 23(c)(2), the Notice will inform Settlement Class 27 Members of the claims alleged in the Action, the terms of the Settlement, and the 28 right of Settlement Class Members to opt out or object to the Settlement, Plan of 1 Allocation, and/or the proposed attorneys’ fees and expenses. The Ninth Circuit has 2 held that “[n]otice is satisfactory if it generally describes the terms of the settlement 3 in sufficient detail to alert those with adverse viewpoints to investigate and to come 4 forward and be heard.” Rodriguez v. W. Publ’g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 962 (9th Cir.

5 2009). Moreover, the proposed notice program satisfies due process because it 6 includes both individual notice and general publication. See, e.g., In re Marsh &
7 McLennan Companies, Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 04 CIV. 8144 (CM), 2009 WL 5178546, 8 at *23–24 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 23, 2009).

9 The proposed Long Notice includes all of the information required by the 10 PSLRA, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and due process. In plain English, the 11 proposed Long Notice provides: (a) the rights of Settlement Class Members, 12 including the manner in which objections may be lodged and exclusions may be 13 requested and instructions on how to complete and submit a Proof of Claim to the 14 Claims Administrator; (b) the nature, history, progress, and status of the litigation; 15 (c) the proposed Settlement; (d) the process for filing a Proof of Claim; (e) a 16 description of the proposed Plan; (f) the maximum fees and expenses and award to 17 Plaintiff to be sought by Lead Counsel; (g) the definition of the Settlement Class; 18 (h) the reasons the Parties have proposed the Settlement; (i) the estimated 19 distribution per damaged share; (j) the Settlement Class’s claims and issues; (k) the 20 Parties’ disagreement over damages and liability; (l) contact information for all 21 counsel and the Court; and (m) the time, date, and location of the Settlement 22 Hearing. See 15 U.S.C. § 78u-4(a)(7)(A)-(F).

23 Rule 23(h)(1) requires that “[n]otice of the motion [for attorneys’ fees] must 24 be served on all parties and, for motions by class counsel, directed to class members 25 in a reasonable manner.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h)(1). The Notice alerts Settlement 26 Class Members that Lead Counsel will apply to the Court for attorneys’ fees of up 27 to 30% of the Settlement Amount, reimbursement of expenses of up to $40,000, 28 and an award to Plaintiff of up to $7,500 each, all to be paid from the Settlement

1 Fund.

2 Accordingly, the Notice Plan and the Notice each satisfy the requirements of 3 the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the PSLRA, and due process.

4 C. Incentive Award

5 At final approval, Plaintiffs will request an award up to $7,500 each based 6 on their work done on this case. As set forth in their declaration, no plaintiff has 7 conditioned their agreement to settle this case upon receipt of any incentive 8 compensation. Gordley Dec. ¶14, Shaginyan Dec. ¶14, Trefethen Dec. ¶14.

9 D. Cy Pres Award

10 The Stipulation of Settlement contemplates that any cy pres award shall be 11 paid to the Howard University School of Law Investor Justice and Education Clinic 12 (the “IJEK”). Stipulation ¶7.10. The IJEK is dedicated to providing hands-on legal 13 training and education for law students and providing representation to investors 14 in FINRA arbitrations. <http://law.howard.edu/content/investor-justice-and-education-clinic-ijec>.
15 The IJEK furthers the protection of investors through the 16 enforcement of securities laws and investor regulations. Plaintiffs’ Counsel have 17 no relationship with the IJEK.

18 E. Release

19 The Stipulation of Settlement releases known and unknown claims “that 20 have been or could have been asserted in the Action by or on behalf of any of the 21 Releasing Parties, in any capacity, which arise out of, are based upon, or concern 22 or relate in any way to the purchase, acquisition, holding, sale, or disposition of 23 any CD Projekt-related equity securities publicly traded in domestic transactions 24 during the Settlement Class Period, including but not limited to any claims alleged 25 in the Action and any claims related to the allegations, facts, transactions, events, 26 matters, occurrences, acts, disclosures, oral or written statements, representations, 27 omissions, failures to act, filings, publications, disseminations, press releases, or 28 presentations involved, related to, set forth, alleged or referred to in the Action.

1 Notwithstanding the foregoing, ‘Released Claims’ does not include claims to 2 enforce the terms of this Stipulation or orders or judgments issued by the Court in 3 connection with this Settlement.” Stipulation ¶1.29. The release is tailored to the 4 claims asserted in the Complaint by specifying that that the claims must be related 5 to domestic transactions of CD Projekt related equity securities publicly traded in 6 domestic transactions. This restriction avoids any doubt that claims related to non-7 domestic transactions, or transactions in non-equity securities, such as bonds, will 8 be restricted by this Settlement. The Settlement further restricts the settlement to 9 claims that could have been brought in this action, and that arise out of transactions 10 during the settlement class period. This provision restricts the settlement to matters 11 that were the subject matter of this action – Defendants’ statements or omissions 12 regarding CD Projekt during the class period that could be material to investors.
13 The Stipulation does contemplate a waiver pursuant to California Civil Code § 14 1542. However, because the scope of released claims is itself appropriately 15 tailored, the waiver itself does not constitute a blanket waiver of claims unrelated 16 to this action.

17 F. CAFA Notice

18 Pursuant to the Stipulation, Defendants shall provide for notice under the 19 Class Action Fairness Act. Stipulation ¶5.4.

20 VI. THE PROPOSED SCHEDULE

21 Plaintiff respectfully proposes the following procedural schedule. The 22 schedule is similar to those used in similar class action settlements and provides 23 due process for potential Settlement Class Members with respect to their rights 24 concerning the Settlement. If this schedule is not convenient for the Court, Plaintiff 25 requests the Court use at least the same or greater intervals between each event 26 listed in the schedule to allow sufficient time to comply with the Preliminary 27 Approval Order.

28
