Notice of Data Security Incident

Dear REDACTED

Trusted Plans Service Corporation (“TPSC”) is writing to inform you of a recent data security incident that may have resulted in unauthorized access to your personal information. TPSC collected your information for purposes of processing custom healthcare benefit solutions for your plan sponsor/health plan, which provides certain health and welfare benefits. While we are unaware of any fraudulent misuse of your personal information at this time, we are providing you with details about the incident, steps we are taking in response, and resources available to help you protect against the potential misuse of your information.

What Happened?

On December 26, 2024, TPSC detected unusual activity within its computer environment. Upon discovery of this Incident, TPSC promptly engaged a specialized third-party cybersecurity firm to secure its computer systems and conduct a comprehensive investigation to determine the initial cause and scope of the unauthorized activity. The forensic investigation determined that an unauthorized user gained access and obtained information from within TPSC’s environment.

Based on the findings of the forensic investigation, TPSC conducted a data mining exercise with the assistance of a third-party vendor to identify the specific individuals impacted and the specific types of information that may have been acquired by the unauthorized user. The data mining exercise was completed on August 7, 2025. Following its review of the data mining results, TPSC contacted your plan sponsor/health plan to report that your information may have been impacted as a result of the incident. We are now providing you with this related notice.

Please note that, to date, the investigation has found no evidence of actual or attempted misuse of information as a result of this incident.

What Information Was Involved?

Although TPSC has no evidence that any personal information has been misused by the unauthorized user or any other third parties as a result of this incident, we are notifying you for purposes of full transparency. Based on the forensic investigation, the following information related to you may have been subject to unauthorized access:

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES TO HELP PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts We recommend that you remain vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by regularly reviewing your credit reports and financial accounts for any suspicious activity. You should contact the reporting agency using the phone number on the credit report if you find any inaccuracies with your information or if you do not recognize any of the account activity.

You may obtain a free copy of your credit report by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com, calling toll-free at 1-877-322-8228, or by mailing a completed Annual Credit Report Request Form (available at www.annualcreditreport.com) to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA, 30348-5281. You may also purchase a copy of your credit report for a fee by contacting one or more of the three national credit reporting agencies.

You have rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). The FCRA governs the collection and use of information about you that is reported by consumer reporting agencies. You can obtain additional information about your rights under the FCRA by visiting <https://www.ftc.gov/legal-library/browse/statutes/fair-credit-reporting-act>.

Credit Freeze You have the right to add, temporarily lift and remove a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit report at no cost. A credit freeze prevents all third parties, such as credit lenders or other companies, whose use is not exempt under law, from accessing your credit file without your consent. If you have a freeze, you must remove or temporarily lift it to apply for credit. Spouses can request freezes for each other as long as they pass authentication. You can also request a freeze for someone if you have a valid Power of Attorney. If you are a parent/guardian/representative you can request a freeze for a minor 15 and younger. To add a security freeze on your credit report you must make a separate request to each of the three national consumer reporting agencies by phone, online, or by mail by following the instructions found at their websites (see “Contact Information” below). The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze: (i) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (ii) Social Security number; (iii) date of birth (month, day, and year); (iv) current address and any previous addresses for the past five (5) years; (v) proof of current address (such as a copy of a government-issued identification card, a recent utility or telephone bill, or bank or insurance statement); and (vi) other personal information as required by the applicable credit reporting agency.

Fraud Alert You have the right to add, extend, or remove a fraud alert on your credit file at no cost. A fraud alert is a statement that is added to your credit file that will notify potential credit grantors that you may be or have been a victim of identity theft. Before they extend credit, they should use reasonable procedures to verify your identity. Please note that, unlike a credit freeze, a fraud alert only notifies lenders to verify your identity before extending new credit, but it does not block access to your credit report. Fraud alerts are free to add and are valid for one year. Victims of identity theft can obtain an extended fraud alert for seven years. You can add a fraud alert by sending your request to any one of the three national reporting agencies by phone, online, or by mail by following the instructions found at their websites (see “Contact Information” below). The agency you contact will then contact the other credit agencies.

Federal Trade Commission For more information about credit freezes and fraud alerts and other steps you can take to protect yourself against identity theft, you can contact the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) at 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, www.identitytheft.gov, 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338), TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. You can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above.

You should also report instances of known or suspected identity theft to local law enforcement and the Attorney General’s office in your home state and you have the right to file a police report and obtain a copy of your police report.

You may also review helpful sites to learn more about medical identity theft. Helpful information may be found in the Federal Trade Commission’s What to Know About Medical Identity Theft Article for consumers, which can be found at <https://consumer.ftc.gov/articles/what-know-about-medical-identity-theft>.
